

SHIPMENTS TO UNITED KINGDOM WITHOUT PERMITS TO PURCHASE

British Controller of Imports Announces Suspension of System Heretofore in Force.

The War Trade Board has been requested by the British War Mission to make the following announcement:

The Controller of Import Restrictions, Board of Trade, London, has, with effect from December 19, 1918, dispensed with the "permit-to-purchase" system for purchases in the United States. Permits-to-purchase are, therefore, no longer required, but articles which are prohibited imports must be covered by import licenses, which can only be obtained by the consignee.

Unable to Keep Exporters Advised.

Owing to changes being constantly made in the British import restricted list, the British War Mission is unable to keep exporters advised at all times and with any degree of accuracy of the articles requiring import licenses. Exporters are strongly advised, before they make shipment, to obtain from their consignees in the United Kingdom definite assurance that they have obtained an import license or have been informed by the Controller of Import Restrictions or other interested department, such as agricultural machinery department, paper controller, etc., that an import license is not necessary. All goods shipped in contravention of import restrictions or for greater weights and values than are authorized by import licenses are subject to confiscation on arrival.

Permits-to-Purchase.

Exporters will be in order in making shipment of goods covered by British permits-to-purchase already issued, provided the weights and values authorized are not exceeded, as import licenses for such shipments will be issued on arrival of the goods in the United Kingdom.

In view of the foregoing, the War Trade Board announces, in a new ruling (W. T. B. R. 453), that individual applications for export licenses will no longer be referred to the British War Mission.

JAMES P. ROBERTS APPOINTED.

James P. Roberts, assistant to Fuel Administrator Garfield, has been appointed assistant director of the information division of the Information and Education Service, United States Department of Labor. He will assume his duties on January 1.

DELAY IN MAKING PAYMENTS TO RETURNED SICK SOLDIERS CAUSED BY LACK OF RECORDS

STEPS TO REMEDY THE SITUATION

The War Department is in receipt of some complaints concerning delays in making payment in full to enlisted men who are sick in hospitals in this country. These complaints have reference to men who have returned from overseas, and the situation is due to the fact that only 3 per cent of these men have service records or other official papers which show the date of their last payment and the status of their accounts with respect to pay.

Partial Payments Made.

Partial payments have been regularly made to these men, both upon their arrival at ports of debarkation in the United States and at the hospitals to which they were sent, but there have been no official papers which would justify commanding officers in certifying pay rolls or final statements to cover the full pay due them.

On the 12th instant a memorandum was addressed to the Chief of Staff, pointing out that the only way in which these men could be paid in full was to arbitrarily accept their own personal affidavit as to the status of their accounts.

Approved by the Chief of Staff.

This recommendation was approved by the Chief of Staff, and all hospitals have been furnished with a copy of the approved recommendation. This approved recommendation has also been published in the form of a War Department Circular No. 148, which bears date of December 14, 1918.

Everything possible to accomplish payments to these men, either partial or in full, has been done by the department, and it is believed that the action taken toward having these men paid on their own affidavits will remedy the situation, which as stated above is due solely to the fact that the men have no official pay records.

CABLEGRAM CONFIRMATIONS NO LONGER IN PLAIN WORDING

The Censorship Board announces, under date of the 20th instant, that the instructions heretofore issued that all confirmations of cablegrams shall be in plain language have been revoked and the original freedom of action of cable users in this regard restored. Also that the voluntary transmission of cable confirmations in envelopes, separate from other correspondence, need not be continued.

ORDERS ISSUED TO DEMobilize 900,000

nent Military Officers in Charge of Aerial Service.
Number of American Pris-

Report.*

Press interview by Gen. March, Chief of Staff:

Last week I told you we had reached the point where we were discharging men at the rate of 15,000 a day. I have a weekly report up to midnight Saturday night, sent in by wire. It takes four or five days to get reports from all camps and cantonments all over the country, but I am able now to give you a definite statement as to the number of men discharged in the week ending December 14. It was 188,562. That, on a 7-day basis, means we discharged men at the rate of 27,000 a day. As a matter of fact, a good many of those discharged have been from the Student's Army Training Corps, and they did not work on Sunday, and on the 6-day basis the rate of discharge is over 30,000 per day, which is what I promised we would get.

26,903 Officers Discharged.

The number of officers discharged since the declaration of the armistice on November 11 is 26,903, and that number has some significance when you recall that in the last Army Register, published in 1916, the number of officers was 4,840.

Last week I told you that the number of troops ordered demobilized had gone over 800,000. The figures now stand at 900,000, as follows:

Air-Service Officers.

The resignation of Mr. John D. Ryan and Mr. William C. Potter from the Air Service has brought about the consideration of putting permanent military officers in charge of those facilities, and during the week I have designated Col. James A. Mars as acting director of aircraft production, to relieve Mr. Potter, and have designated Maj. Gen. Charles T. Menoher as director of Air Service. Gen. Menoher has been in France in command of the Rainbow Division for a large part of the fighting, and before the armistice was concluded had been promoted and assigned to command the 6th Corps. Gen. Menoher is on his way home.

Number of U. S. Prisoners.

The question of prisoners of war crops up sometimes and I have a dispatch here which gives figures. The dispatch is from headquarters of the American Expeditionary Forces, and is dated December 15, being received here December 16.

"Total of 2,653 American prisoners of war, including few Marines and civilians, have been repatriated through Switzerland to hospital centers at Vichy and Allery. This completes evacuation of Rastadt, excepting 3 wounded and recent arrivals, who will be brought out promptly by Swiss sanitary trains.

"In addition to foregoing, 324 prisoners have returned through front lines to our depots, 120 additional have been reported passing through Holland, and 113 through Denmark, all en route to England on British ships.

"Total number of Americans evacuated from Germany or accounted for as above but without finally checking up and official verification is 3,210.

Search for Isolated Prisoners.

"Constant search is being made for isolated prisoners, and particularly for sick and wounded, in southern Germany by our own officers, Red Cross workers, and Swiss representatives. Military attache, Berne, Switzerland, has made arrangements with Swiss to evacuate isolated hospital cases upon itineraries operating from Berne, Switzerland, into Germany three times a week.

"Third Army has been directed to make similar search for isolated cases in or near its front. Any Americans remaining in northern Germany will be cared for and evacuated by British direct to England, aided by our legation in Denmark and Holland. From best information obtainable it is believed that number of Americans now remaining in Germany is small and that they will be speedily

Questions and Answers.

Q. Is the War Department considering the taking over of the New York Harbor shipping as a means of solving the threatened situation there?

A. No.

Q. Where is the 26th Division? Is it scheduled for early return or will it go into Germany?

A. Neither. It is now located near Langres.

Q. If possible, will you please give the present location of the 83d Division; also something as to scope of activities during closing days of war?

A. Apparently this question has been brought about by letters from men in the 83d indicating that they had been in severe fighting, whereas statements given out by me have been to the effect that the division has not been in the fighting. The fact of the matter is that the 83d Division has its headquarters at Le Mans, and it has never been reported as being on the firing line. The chances are that these men writing home have been used as replacements to fill up vacancies in other divisions caused by casualties.

Q. Can you say anything relative to a division of the French Army holding a part of the Coblenz bridgehead?

A. I know nothing about it.

The "Forestry" Regiments.

Q. What are the probabilities about disbandment of the so-called forestry regiments?

A. If that means regiments on both sides of the Atlantic, the record of troops scheduled for early return, which I have given out from day to day, does not show any forestry regiments. Last week I stated that we had ordered the demobilization of the spruce division in Oregon and Washington.

Q. How should relatives address mail to soldiers designated for early convoy, instead of letting the letters go astray to the American Expeditionary Forces?

A. The mail situation is handled as follows: When information is received from France indicating that practically all of an organization is scheduled for return to the United States, the mail for that organization is held in the United States to await its arrival. Prior to departure of the organization from France a list of men left in France is prepared and their mail is sorted out upon arrival of the organization in the United States and sent to France for distribution. When only a very small fraction of an organization is scheduled to return from France; that is, where practically all of it has been used for replacement purposes, a list of those members coming to the United States is prepared and left in France, and all of the mail is sent to France for distribution. That belonging to the men sent to the United States, as shown by the prepared lists, is returned to them.

PRESIDENT FAVORS PUSHING CONSTRUCTION OF HIGHWAYS

The Department of Agriculture issues the following:

President Wilson favors the earliest possible resumption and extension of highway construction under the Federal aid road act, and has written Secretary of Agriculture Houston to that effect. The Secretary of War also has written the Secretary of Agriculture in favor of highway work.

President Wilson's Letter.

The President's letter follows:

"DEAR MR. SECRETARY: I heartily agree with you that it would be in the public interest to resume in full measure the highway construction operations under the Federal aid road act, and to do so as speedily as possible. I understand the necessity which existed for their contraction during the stress through which we have been passing, but that obstacle is now removed. I believe that it would be highly desirable to have an additional appropriation made available to the Department of Agriculture, to be used in conjunction, if possible, with any surplus State and community funds, in order that these operations may be extended. It is important not only to develop good highways throughout the country as quickly as possible, but it is also at this time especially advisable to resume and extend all such essential public works, with a view to furnishing employment for laborers who may be seeking new tasks during the period of readjustment. Knowing that the Department of Agriculture and the State highway authorities in each State have been carefully working out road systems and developing plans and specifications, I have no doubt that all activities in this field can be vigorously conducted through these two sets of existing agencies, acting in full accord.

"Faithfully, yours,

"WOODROW WILSON."

From Secretary of War.

The following letter has been received from Secretary of War Baker:

"MY DEAR MR. SECRETARY: I am in full agreement with your view that there should not only be a prompt resumption of road construction under the Federal aid road act, and under such further authority as may exist for separate State action, but also that additional funds should be made available to your department for the extension of such work. The War Department, as you know, detailed one of its officers to serve with your Bureau of Public Roads in its consideration of highways which might have a value for military purposes, and I shall be glad to have the closest possible cooperation continue as the work enlarges.

"Cordially, yours,

"NEWTON D. BAKER,
Secretary of War."

Reassignment to Duty in Postal Service of Employees Absent on Military Leave

OFFICE OF FIRST ASS'T P. M. GEN.,
Washington, Nov. 25, 1918.

The attention of postmasters at post offices of the first and second class is invited to the provision of law quoted below:

Section 9, act of July 8, 1918:

"Employees, including substitute employees, of the Postal Service who have entered the military or naval service of the United States or who shall hereafter enter it during the existence of the present war, shall, when honorably discharged from such service, be reassigned to their duties in the Postal Service at the salary to which they would have been automatically promoted had they remained in the Postal Service, provided they are physically and mentally qualified to perform the duties of such positions."

The demobilization of the military forces in this country will practically be completed by Christmas, and requests should not be made at this time for the release from the Army or Navy of any employee formerly under the jurisdiction of the Bureau of the First Assistant Postmaster General.

When these employees are mustered out of the military service, they should be reassigned to their former positions within a reasonable time from the date of their discharge. Reports should be submitted immediately on Form 1532 (in triplicate), showing their return to duty and the reduction to substitute clerk of the last clerk who entered the service, whether by appointment, reinstatement, or transfer, when the absent employee is a clerk, and the last appointed carrier when the absent employee is a carrier.

Substitute clerks and carriers absent on military leave should be reassigned to their former positions on the substitute roll. If a substitute absent on military duty was reached for advancement to a regular vacancy and the next substitute was promoted, when the absent employee returns, if no vacancy exists, the last appointed clerk, if the vacancy was in the clerical force, shall be reduced to the head of the substitute clerks' roll, or if the vacancy was in the carrier force, to the head of the substitute carriers' roll, in order that the absent employee may be given the regular position to which he is entitled.

J. C. KOONS,
First Assistant Postmaster General.

and representing 42 per cent of the total value of the mineral product. They showed an increase of about $471,316,000, or 29 per cent, over the $1,620,508,000 reported for 1916. The blast-furnace products contributed nearly 90 per cent of the total increase. Increases were also made in the value of aluminum, copper, lead, and silver, but decreases were recorded in the value of gold and zinc.

SECRETARY OF LABOR EXTENDS HOLIDAY GREETING TO WORKERS

To the employers, the workers, and the Government committees:

Christmas this year is not alone the Nation's feast day; not alone the time for family reunions; not alone the occasion for the exchange of tokens of good will, though it is well that we observe those generous customs.

Christmas of this year dawns upon a Nation that has done its duty, that has met the greatest task in the country's history, and has bravely fulfilled that task. All the people in the year now coming to a close have been called upon to sacrifice, and they have given fervid response. The Nation's industries and the Nation's workers have been put to the highest test in skill and stamina. They have been true to their trust.

Christmas this year smiles upon a new era—an era in which the people's will controls their destinies, an era in which liberty rests upon justice, an era in which might bows before the force of right.

Christmas of this year bids us forget the price we have paid for the freedom we have won; to shape our course of life to meet the grave trust which universal liberty imposes upon our people; to turn our thoughts to the glories of the Nation's future.

Christmas of this year gives vigor to the generous spirit which stirred this Nation in the trying time of war.

It binds all mankind in a firmer fellowship. It greets a universe that has been united by a common purpose.

The world has sorrowed long enough! The past is behind us; the future is ahead of us. Let us meet it with hope and courage.

WILLIAM B. WILSON,
Secretary of Labor.

FOOD BROKER PENALIZED.

Charles T. Battelle, a broker, 1108 Whitehall Building, New York City, will be unable to deal in licensed foodstuffs for an unlimited period, his license having been revoked by the United States Food Administration. Mr. Battelle was charged with unfair business practices regarding a sale of honey.

SALVAGE PLANTS AT CAMPS NOW WORKING AT FULL SPEED

The War Department authorizes the following from the office of the director of purchase and storage:

The clothing and shoe repair plants, laundries, cleaning, and pressing plants conducted by the Army in camps and cantonments throughout the country are now going at full stride, according to the report of the Conservation and Reclamation Division (now Salvage Division) for the month of September. During that month there were repaired a total of 1,776,247 articles of wearing apparel. Included in this total were: 520,361 pairs of shoes, 96,131 hats, 125,829 overcoats, 169,056 coats, 370,648 pairs of breeches, 164,844 flannel shirts, 76,918 undershirts, 80,093 pairs of drawers, 17,554 pairs of stockings, 22,268 pairs of leggings, 56,391 blankets, 4,289 sweaters, and 71,565 other articles. There were also 53,630 coats repaired and 17,676 tent and canvas repairs during the month.

Cleaning and Pressing Shops.

In the dry cleaning and pressing shops there were cleaned and pressed 628,374 articles of wearing apparel. The laundries during that month handled a total of 6,008,845 pieces and 460,082 bundles, which brought a revenue of $40,801.70. Included in this laundry total were 938,466 pieces and 454,343 bundles for officers and enlisted men, 1,989,556 pieces for base hospitals, 2,106,959 pieces for reclamation work, and 973,864 other pieces.

Waste materials collected during the month reached a large figure. The report shows that there were collected 8,677,047 pounds of iron, 541,646 pounds of old metal (aluminum, brass, copper, lead, and zinc), 335,073 pounds of rubber, 1,163,545 pounds of cotton rags, 527,043 pounds of woolen rags, 140,172 pounds of rope, 2,773,763 pounds of paper, 1,329,680 bags, 494,498 pounds of burlap, 195,505 pounds of leather, 360,474 pounds of bottles and jars, 189,969 barrels and boxes, 15,073 pounds of horse and mule hair, 1,832,820 feet of lumber, and 156,562 pounds of miscellaneous waste.

Disposition of Waste.

These waste materials were either sold or turned over to various Army organizations, the sales bringing a revenue of $106,772.05 during the month. The sales of manure brought a total of $31,650.77 and the sales of garbage and miscellaneous waste brought $61,361.94, making a total of $199,784.76 for the waste materials sold during the month.

Reports from 18 camps, fields, and proving grounds show 2,593 acres of gardens producing fruits, vegetables, and hay.

LICENSED FOR DUNNAGE.

The War Trade Board announces, in a new ruling (W. T. B. R. 443), the addition of pecky cypress to the several kinds of woods listed in W. T. B. R. 344, dated November 30, 1918, which may be licensed in usual and reasonable quantities, under bunker licenses, when intended solely for use as dunnage aboard vessel on which shipped, and not for commercial use abroad.

WAR ZONE BONUS ABOLISHED BY THE U. S. SHIPPING BOARD

The United States Shipping Board has adopted the following resolutions:

Whereas since the signing of the armistice, conditions of navigation to European ports within the range of what was formerly known as the war zone have been very materially altered, and

Whereas the discontinuance of the activities of the submarine has resulted in the practical elimination of all war risks to the ships' companies manning vessels through these waters: Now, therefore,

Be it resolved, That it is the sense of this board that the time has arrived for the discontinuance of the bonus heretofore paid to officers and seamen for ports within the war zone, and

Be it further resolved, That the bonus together with the allowance heretofore made to cover loss of effects be ordered discontinued as to all sailors, firemen, stewards, cooks, and all other members of the ship's company, excepting licensed deck and engine-room officers, signing on and after December 22, and

Be it further resolved, That the bonuses and allowances to the licensed deck and engine-room officers be continued pending the award by the wage adjustment committee appointed by the United States Shipping Board, but not beyond January 1.

WORK OF CONGRESS BRIEFLY TOLD

SENATE.

Consideration of amendments gave way yesterday for a resumption of general debate on the war revenue bill. Senator Jones, of New Mexico, Democrat, contended that the measure as it now stood contained many inequalities that should be corrected. Senator Thomas, Democratic member of the committee, addressed himself to a substitute he submitted and urged radical retrenchment and economy in public expenditures. Senator McKellar gave notice of his intention to demand a separate vote in the Senate on the amendment by which the zone system of postage on second-class mail matter was repealed.

Senator Lodge in a brief speech advocated postponement of the formation of a League of Nations until after the peace conference. He argued that the subject should be considered separately and at a later time.

The subcommittee of the Judiciary Committee continued its hearings in its investigation of German propaganda work. Alfred L. Becker, deputy attorney general of New York, was again on the stand as the chief witness.

The Democratic steering committee discussed, but without action, measures to compel department heads to reduce public expenditures. Another conference will be held on this subject.

HOUSE.

Col. Charles W. Lydecker, president of the National Security League, continued his testimony before the special committee appointed to investigate the activities of this organization. He told the committee that the aim of the league was to arouse the country to a sense of its unpreparedness for war.

Before the Interstate Commerce Committee Chairman Colver, of the Federal Trade Commission, continued his arguments in favor of the pending bill for Government control and regulation of the packing industry. He referred to certain tendencies in the industry which he said, unless they are eliminated, would make it impossible for retail and wholesale grocers to continue to operate on a competitive basis.

Consideration of the annual river and harbor appropriation bill was concluded in committee yesterday and reported to the House to-day. It carries a total of about $29,000,000, which is $6,000,000 in excess of that provided for last year.

EMPLOYMENT SERVICE DATA.

The United States Employment Service, in its estimate for the week ending December 7, reports that out of 116,521 registrations for employment the service referred 115,136 to jobs, and, of this number 84,284 were placed.

These totals are based on reports from 40 States. Nine of them show an excess of registration over help wanted as compared with four in the preceding week. Five show an excess of help wanted over registration, where the opposite was the case in the previous week's report from these same States.

Scores of Dealers Throughout Nation Penalized By Food Administration

That profiteering, in violation of the regulations of the United States Food Administration, is being constantly dealt with in the various States by representatives of the Enforcement Division, is shown by the few following reports, selected from scores received in Washington during one day:

Texas—George Gegenworth, Columbus, closed for two days, November 4 and 5, for profiteering in food commodities sold at retail; C. L. Suit, Temple, agreed to contribute $10 to the Bell County Red Cross partly as a penalty for profiteering in butter; A. Gunselman, Temple, a retail merchant, agreed to close his store for a period of three days as a voluntary penalty for profiteering in butter and flour; Montgomery Bros., Point, have contributed $100 to the drought relief fund as a voluntary contribution for paying excessive prices for cotton seed; the Georgetown Oil Mill, Georgetown, contributed $100 to the United War Work Fund and repudiated contracts made by a buyer paying excessive prices for cotton seed; M. N. Bleich, Galveston, retail merchant, agreed to close his store for three days, December 4 to 6, for profiteering in sugar and carelessly allowing food to waste.

Ready to Make Rebates.

Oklahoma—Dungan & McEffentry, James Lee, and Hancock & Son, all of Cusing, advertised in local papers that they had made overcharges for wheat mill feeds and were willing and ready to make rebates; McConnell Coal Mining Co. store, Wilburton, closed 30 days in part for profiteering on regulated articles.

Arkansas—The following merchants of Hot Springs have been penalized for profiteering, as follows: S. A. Burroughs, closed two days; J. B. Graves, closed six days; George F. Clark, closed two days; R. W. Chapman, closed two days; L. G. Reader, closed two days.

New York—Miss M. E. Westphal, Buffalo, has been permitted to contribute $10 to the American Red Cross for charging excessive prices on eggs; Jacob Clemons, Buffalo, voluntarily closed his place of business for one day because of the excess profits he had taken on sales of bacon; B. Caputa, Buffalo, was found guilty of selling bacon at an excessive price, closed his place of business for one day and placed a violation sign on his window.

Massachusetts—Globe Market, 50 Center Street, Brockton; Lithuanian Cooperative Market, Marlboro; G. W. Reid, North American Creamery Co., 25 Commercial Street, Boston, and L. Gay, Chelsea, all of whom voluntarily contributed small sums to the Italian Relief Fund.

New York—John Savas, 48 West Huron Street, and F. Rapp, 1408 Hertal Avenue, Buffalo, each closed their places of business for one day for having charged excessive prices for eggs and sugar, respectively.

Six Milwaukee Firms Penalized.

Six Milwaukee (Wis.) firms have been penalized for violations of the United States Food Administration regulations. The cases involved violations of the rules relating to substitutes, since withdrawn. The actions taken, as reported to the enforcement division, are as follows:

F. Tarantino, storekeeper, charged with utter disregard of the substitute rules; the penalty imposed being a limited unfair order, effective from December 20 to February 1.

V. Mancial, storekeeper, charged with dealing in wheat flour without any attempt to comply with the substitute rules; penalty, limited unfair order, effective December 20 to January 19.

C. Maglio, storekeeper, charged with having sold during the period from January to October about 100 barrels of flour and using rye as a substitute; penalty, limited unfair order as regards wheat flour.

Frank Balistieri, merchant, charged with selling wheat flour with insufficient substitutes; penalty, limited unfair order, effective December 20 to March 20.

Frank Italiano, storekeeper, charged with utter disregard of substitute rules; penalty, limited unfair order, effective December 20 to February 1.

Cianciolo Bros., wholesalers, jobbers, and commission merchants in fresh fruits and vegetables, charged with having been persistent and continuous violators of food regulations and the requirements in reference to the handling and unloading of cars. The penalty imposed was revocation of their food administration license, effective from December 20 to February 1.

Under the unfair orders issued licensed dealers are prohibited from dealing with the offenders in the commodities designated.

Lowell Miller Assessed.

G. O. Pease, proprietor of the Enterprise Roller Mills, of Lowell, Wis., has been found guilty of violating the milling regulations of the Food Administration.

Owing to the fact that the community is entirely dependent on this mill, it was not deemed advisable to revoke their license and Mr. Pease was, therefore, permitted to contribute $50 to the United War Work campaign at Lowell.

Virginia Exchange Loses License.

Splitting brokerage commissions with the Emery Food Co., to whom it was selling food products, has cost the Virginia Canners Exchange, Roanoke, Va., its license to deal in food commodities. The Roanoke firm acts as a brokerage merchant for fresh fruit, vegetables, and canned tomatoes.

At a hearing held by the United States Food Administration it was shown that the Exchange had violated, on more than one occasion, the rules and regulations prohibiting splitting commissions or brokerage fees.

This revocation is the first for violations for these particular rules and regulations and remains effective for ten days from December 10.

Director General in Letter Explains Why Certain Wage Increases Are Not Made Retroactive as in Other Cases

Director General McAdoo has made public the following letter written by him under date of November 27 to G. H. Sines, chairman of the board of railroad wages and working conditions:

"DEAR MR. SINES: This will acknowledge receipt of your letter of November 7, with which you inclosed communications and petitions signed by railroad employees protesting against Supplements 7 and 8 to General Order No. 27, due to the fact that such supplements are not retroactive to January 1, 1918.

Both Sides Considered.

"As I have previously stated, I am obliged to consider not only the interests of the employees of the railroads, but also the interests of the people of the United States in determining questions of wages and working conditions.

"The officers and employees of the railroads are no longer servants of private railroad corporations; they are now servants of the public. The Director General is also a servant of the public, owing a duty to the public as well as to the employees. I can not be indifferent to the interests of the public any more than I can be indifferent to the interest of the employed, and my constant effort has been to find the line of justice as represented by fair wages and working conditions and square it with the interest of the employees and the interest of the public.

Must Stay Within Reasonable Limits.

"I have not hesitated to announce decisions which involved immense increases in the wages of railroad employees throughout the country, estimated at over $500,000,000. These increased wages must be paid by the people of the United States, and in order to pay them I sometime ago announced large increases in freight and passenger rates. Numerous protests against these have been made by shippers and farmers and other organizations throughout the country, and warn us all that we must keep our demands within reasonable limits, because there is a point beyond which the public will not sustain us in raising wages.

"At my direction, on May 25, 1918 (General Order No. 27), railroad employees in all crafts were granted increases in rates of pay and for reasons with which you are familiar, these rates of pay were made retroactive to January 1, 1918.

Decisions After Full Inquiry.

"The employees named in supplements 7 and 8 to General Order 27 received increases in their rates of pay at that time, and, as stated in General Order 27, no problem so vast and intricate as that of doing practical justice to the 2,000,000 railroad employees of the country could be regarded as completely settled and disposed of by any one decision or order.

"Therefore, your board was established to take up, as presented, any phases of the general problem relating to any class of employees or any part of a class of employees which still justly call for further consideration.

"At my direction, the claims of employees mentioned in Supplements 7 and 8 to General Order No. 27 were given further consideration by your board, and after an exhaustive investigation decisions embodied in Supplements 7 and 8 were rendered.

"It is true that wages in excess of those provided for in Supplements 7 and 8 are paid in some localities and by some industries, but these are of a transient character, such as shipyards, munition plants, etc., and their work will cease or be greatly reduced upon the return of peace. It is, however, undeniably true that the wages established in Supplements 7 and 8 compare as a class favorably, and perhaps much more favorably, with those paid elsewhere.

Difference in Character of Work.

"When we consider these railroad wage questions, it must be remembered that the railroad business is not temporary, such as referred to above, but of a permanent character, and offering to employees steady work.

"It must also be remembered that the revenues of the railroads are not affected by the varying conditions which permit private enterprises to earn high profits, but, on the contrary, are limited by rates fixed by lawful authority and measured by the ability and willingness of the public to pay them.

"Railroad employment is also not affected to the same extent as are other industries by fluctuations and uncertainties due to dull periods.

"Railroad employees not only have steady work and, generally speaking, more favorable living conditions as against temporary and uncertain employment and frequently less satisfactory living conditions in war industries, but they also have a reasonable amount of free transportation for themselves and their families, as well as other privileges and advantages which are everywhere recognized as of substantial benefit to them.

"Contrasting the permanency of railroad employment, the opportunities for promotion, and other privileges enjoyed, the bases established in supplements 7 and 8, in my judgment, are fair and reasonable.

Vast Majority Satisfied.

"From reports, communications, and resolutions I have received from railroad employees in various parts of the country since supplements 7 and 8 were promulgated the vast majority of railroad men appear to be satisfied with those orders, and I am sure that they are willing to give loyal, faithful, and efficient service to their Government at the rates of pay prescribed therein.

"We can not justify to the American people the great increase in wages and the immense improvement in working conditions already granted unless every employee proves by his work that he is worthy of it. I want the men to prove themselves worthy of it, and I believe that they will.

"Your board has given all the time and thought to this particular matter which

SPAIN TAKES STEPS TO MEET POST WAR TRADE CONDITIONS

Consul General Carl Bailey Hurst, at Barcelona, Spain, reports:

A committee of Spanish civil engineers requested the Spanish Government to make an appropriation for a technical, industrial engineering exposition, in order to prepare Spanish engineers to compete efficiently with post war conditions.

To Convene Next Spring.

As a consequence the Spanish Institute of Civil Engineers has now been accorded the right to convene a Spanish congress of civil engineers in Madrid in the spring of 1919. In a circular issued by the institute it is stated that the object of the congress will be the organization of Spanish civil engineers for their mutual benefit and the development of their resources to enable them to compete efficaciously in large enterprises that will be undertaken after the war. A study will be made of Spanish production in its relation to other countries, and the growing exigencies of domestic consumption, so that if in the future another crisis like that of the present should arise, this country will be in a position to provide for itself.

Divided Into Twelve Sections.

The congress will devote its attention to 12 sections, as follows:

1. Public works and transportation.
2. Naval construction.
3. Mechanics, motors, and machinery.
4. Mines and metallurgy.
5. Physical and chemical industries.
6. Electrotechnics.
7. Agricultural industries and their derivatives.
8. Forest industries and their derivatives.
9. Application of domestic industries to the needs of the war.
10. Elementary and superior technical instruction.
11. Organization of labor, of hygiene, and of social questions.
12. Industrial economy and legislation.

it is right and proper for them to do, and it is essential that they should now give consideration to the matters arising with respect to other employees.

Way to Reopening Not Clear.

"I can not, therefore, see my way clear at this time to direct that the board should reopen this particular matter, as there has never been a time when the public interest demanded more urgently the devotion and unselfish services of all classes of railroad employees.

"It is necessary that the employees of the railroads should understand that the decisions made in Supplements 7 and 8 can not now be reviewed, as it is not practicable at this time, with the reconstruction period before us, to consider the matter, and it was not my intention following the promulgation of General Order No. 27, in granting further increases in rates of pay, that they should be retroactive to January 1, 1918.

"Cordially, yours,

"W. G. McAdoo."

RED CROSS HOME SERVICE

Information for Soldiers' and Sailors' Families, Issued by Department of Civilian Relief.

Payment of Insurance Premiums By Discharged Soldiers.

At the time of discharge of an officer or enlisted man who has taken out insurance, he is handed a memorandum of information on which is stated the amount of his monthly insurance premium until July 1, 1919, and the amount of such premium for each year thereafter for five years, commencing with July 1. This will leave no doubt as to the amount of each insurance payment. At the same time each officer or enlisted man should learn from his commanding officer or the insurance officer the date to which his premiums have been paid by deductions from his pay.

If the insured at the time of his discharge has learned the date to which his premiums have been paid, he should, on the same date of the succeeding month, send his premium to the disbursing clerk, Bureau of War-Risk Insurance, Treasury Department, Washington, D. C., making the check or money order payable to the Treasurer of the United States, and should continue such payments on the same day of each month thereafter.

If the insured has not been informed as to the date to which his premiums have been paid by checkage from his pay, then he should without fail make his first payment not later than 31 days after his discharge, sending the check to the same person and making it payable as stated above. In his letter he should ask to what date his premiums are paid by the inclosed payment, and upon receiving that information he should make his future payments each month thereafter on the date when it is due. For example, if he was honorably discharged on November 27 and made his first payment on December 27 and receives information from the bureau that such payment was due on December 15, he should make his next payment on January 15, and regularly on the 15th of each succeeding month.

On receipt of the first premium payment and of each succeeding premium payment the Bureau of War Risk Insurance will send to the insured a blank to use in making his next payment. If such blank is not received or no reply received in response to the first payment, the insured should nevertheless make his next payment not later than one month later than the preceding payment, again asking for information as to the date to which his premiums are thereby paid.

In all communications the insured should give his full name, including both first and middle names, his grade and organization at the time of applying for insurance, his Army serial number, the insurance certificate number (if he knows it), the date of discharge or separation from the service, and his present address.

This information is given notwithstanding the fact that further regulations possibly amending what has been said are under consideration because their issuance may be long delayed if they are issued at all.

What has been said in the preceding paragraphs respecting premium payments applies only to the present form of term insurance and has no application to other forms of Government insurance into which the present term insurance may be converted within five years after the date of the termination of the war as declared by proclamation of the President.

Regulations respecting the conversion of term insurance have not as yet been issued by the Bureau of War Risk Insurance.

Demobilization of Enlisted Personnel of the Navy.

The Navy has recently issued a circular letter setting forth rules for the demobilization of the enlisted personnel of the Navy, from which the following portions are quoted:

"The Navy at present is confronted with the problem of demobilizing its forces in such a manner that:

"(1) It can retain enough men to conduct such operations as may be required.

"(2) It can release as rapidly as possible all men serving temporarily on active duty.

"The present active strength of the Navy is composed of the following classes of men:

"(1) Men of the regular Navy serving under four-year enlistments or during minority.

"(2) Men of the regular Navy serving for the duration of the war.

"(3) Men in the Naval Reserve Force who have been called to active duty during the present national emergency.

"Although the armistice signed on the 11th day of November, 1918, providing for a temporary cessation of hostilities does not officially end the war or the existing national emergency which called the Naval Reserves to active duty, the conditions are such that many men serving temporarily on active duty who desire to return to civil life may be released immediately.

"The Bureau of Navigation does not desire to release before the expiration of their contracts with the Government any men who wish to remain on active duty, but is very anxious to expedite the release of all other men serving temporarily on active duty who wish to continue their education or business which they left to enter active service.

Authority is granted to disenroll all men of the Naval Reserve Force who will immediately enlist in the regular Navy for four years. Men so disenrolled will be disenrolled by special order of the Secretary of the Navy, and will not be required to make refund for clothing outfits furnished upon enrollment. Such men are entitled upon enlistment to the outfit authorized for recruits if they are making their first enlistment in the regular Navy. They are to be enlisted in first enlistment ratings only, but may immediately be given the rating held in the Naval Reserve Force if they have been confirmed in that rating. Men enlisted for the duration of the war can not extend their enlistment, but, if they so elect, may be discharged by special order of the Secretary of the Navy without refund to enlist in the regular Navy for four years. These men, however, can not be furnished a new outfit upon enlistment. Commanding officers are authorized to grant leave up to 30 days, at discretion, to all men who are disenrolled or discharged under the provisions of this paragraph immediately upon their reenlisting in the Navy.

Legislation has been requested which will provide for voluntary transfer from the Naval Reserve Force to the regular Navy, and for the voluntary extension of enlistments of those men of the regular Navy who have enlisted for the duration of the war, in order that men who desire to remain in the naval service may receive the benefits of their previous service.

Transportation and Subsistence Furnished to Their Homes.

Whenever men in the Naval Reserve Force are placed on inactive duty, they will be furnished transportation and subsistence to their homes. The name of the home city or town must be mentioned in the man's orders.

Upon receipt of this order, the bureau desires that 20 per cent of the total number of naval reserve force plus men enlisted for the duration of the war, attached to any command, be released in accordance with the provisions of the above paragraphs provided that in every case

(1) The release is requested by the man himself.

(2) The services of the man can be spared without relief, or when he can be relieved in accordance with the provisions below.

The attention of those men in the regular Navy who have enlisted for the duration of the war should be called to the following facts:

(1) In obtaining a release in accordance with these instructions, they are not entitled to the honorable discharge which they would receive if they fulfilled their contract with the Government to serve until a formal declaration of peace.

(2) The act of August 29, 1916, and amendment thereto, makes them eligible for enrollment in class 2 of the Naval Reserve Force in the rating held at the time of discharge. While transportation can not be furnished to the homes of men discharged by special order of the Secretary, it can be issued to members of the Naval Reserve Force on inactive duty. They will, however, be transferred to the naval station nearest their home and must then pay their own transportation from that point on.

Men enlisted for the duration of the war and discharged under the provisions of these instructions will be discharged by special order of the Secretary of the

FOOD ADMINISTRATION STILL EXERCISING ITS FUNCTIONS

Issues Statement Correcting the Erroneous Reports That Ac- tivities Have Ceased.

The Food Administration issues the following:

Partial demobilization of the Food Administration and the withdrawal of many of its rules and regulations have given the impression in some quarters that all activities have ceased or are shortly to cease. This is not the case. The act imposes upon the administration certain obligations which continue until presidential proclamation releases the Food Administration from the terms of the act and particularly the obligation to curb profiteering and speculation in licensed food products. This function must continue to be performed, and there is no intention of relaxing in this direction.

Principal Rules Still in Force.

It has been possible, now that peace is assured, to cancel many requirements for reports and many of the details of the regulations, but the profit margins and rules have been for the most part retained, and will be enforced by revocation of licenses and other appropriate penalties.

It is expected that it will be possible from time to time to remove certain commodities from the license list, but this will be limited to commodities which do not seem likely to be subject to possibility of speculation and profiteering.

MERCHANDISE IN THE MAILS SENT TO FOREIGN COUNTRIES

OFFICE SECOND ASSISTANT
POSTMASTER GENERAL,
Washington, December 17, 1918.

Special export license No. RAC-64 has been issued by the War Trade Board, effective December 19, to the Post Office Department for the benefit of the public concerned, authorizing the exportation without individual license of any commodity when mailed to and intended for the personal use of diplomatic, consular, or other officials or employees of the United States abroad.

Special export license No. RAC-64 shall not be construed as authorizing the exportation of any commodity by mail addressed to members of the American Expeditionary Forces or organizations affiliated therewith.

Senders will note that it is unnecessary to apply to the War Trade Board for permission to export under special export license No. RAC-64 as no special document issued by the War Trade Board is necessary in connection with the mailings of acceptable merchandise. It is necessary, however, to mark on the package the name and address of the sender and of the addressee, together with a statement of the contents of the package and the notation, "License No. RAC-64."

Second Assistant Postmaster General.

Navy and will not be required to make refund for outfits furnished them upon enlistment. They will be transferred to the naval station nearest their home or to such naval station as they may elect, provided the cost of transportation does not exceed the cost of transportation to their home, for immediate discharge with ordinary discharge by special order of the Secretary. These instructions are to be considered the necessary authority for such discharge. Should a man be transferred at his own request under the foregoing provisions to a naval station other than that nearest his home an entry shall be made in his enlistment record that he waived all further claim to transportation. Navy recruiting stations are not to be considered as naval stations.

It will be particularly noticed, as stated in paragraph V above, that men who enlisted in the Regular Navy for the duration of the war, and are discharged at their own request, can not under existing legislation be furnished with transportation to their homes, although such transportation can be issued to members of the Naval Reserve Force transferred to inactive duty. A bill has been introduced in Congress to authorize the payment of transportation of men who enlisted in the Regular Navy for the duration of the war, and who are discharged at their own request. This bill also provides that every enlisted or enrolled man who shall have served faithfully during the present emergency in the Regular Navy or Naval Reserve Force shall upon discharge or transfer to the inactive list receive a certificate of honorable service which shall have the same legal effect as a certificate of honorable discharge.

188,562 SOLDIERS DISCHARGED IN THE WEEK ENDING DEC. 14

Q. What are the facts concerning the charge that soldiers are being discharged at points at a distance from their homes and obliged to make the trip home at their own expense?

Rule Already Announced.

A. I have already announced the rule. We have tried to discharge men from the camp nearest the State from which they entered the service. They receive travel pay at the rate of 3½ cents per mile from place of discharge to place of entry into the service. The railroad rate to discharged soldiers, provided the ticket is purchased within the limit fixed in orders, is 2 cents per mile. The allowance then is sufficient to pay the railroad fare and leave 1½ cents per mile for other expenses. For example, a journey of 1,000 miles would cost the soldier $20 railroad fare. His allowance would be $35 and the difference, $15, is available for other expenses. A journey of 350 miles would cost $7, with a travel allowance of $12.25, leaving a balance of $5.25 above his railroad fare. The travel allowance is ample to cover railroad fare and all other legitimate expenses, provided the soldier travels without delay. The travel allowance is fixed by legislation.

Q. Can you say whether the air forces and the Coast Artillery Corps are being used to any extent with the Army of occupation?

A. The Coast Artillery Corps, in so far as it is with Army units and corps units, is all coming back to the United States. Wherever regiments of the Coast Artillery Corps have been used as division artillery and that division is a part of the Army of Occupation, they will remain in France. The air forces are being demobilized with the greatest rapidity, and Gen. Pershing has asked that no more aviation supplies of any kind be sent to Europe.

Q. Can you say anything with regard to the condition of men in Russia, who went in at Archangel? It seems that relatives are greatly concerned at not being able to hear from the men.

Mail from Archangel.

A. The question of getting mail from Archangel is, of course, obviously difficult. As a matter of fact, after our troops got in I found great difficulty in even getting replies to cables. I am not at all surprised that relatives are clamoring for information, but the machinery which now exists for communication is the best we can get. At one period practically all the military information we got was by way of a British officer returning to London and the information being cabled from there.

The Hindenberg Report.

Q. Have you any information with regard to the report that Hindenburg is drawing up a new line?

A. The only information I have is what appeared in the papers. We have received no information from any of our attaches on this subject yet. If it is so, during the next few days we will get something official, perhaps, and I may be able to say something.

SOLDIERS HONORED BY PERSHING FOR HEROISM

The commander in chief of the American Expeditionary Forces, in the name of the President, has awarded the Distinguished Service Cross to the following-named officers and soldiers for the acts of extraordinary heroism set forth after their names:

Mess Sergt. CHARLES GETCHELL, Battery F, 151st Field Artillery. "For extraordinary heroism in action near Pannes, France, September 21, 1918. While the terrain was under heavy artillery fire from the enemy Sergt. Getchell, observing some wounded men lying in the open without attention, ran to their aid of his own volition, and administered to their wounds and helped carry them to a place of safety, after which he again went out into the shell-swept area and made a careful reconnaissance of the fields, searching for any other casualties which he might have overlooked." Pvt. WILLIS P. SNYDER, Company D, 150th Machine Gun Battalion. "For extraordinary heroism in action east of Rheims, France, July 1, 1918. While manning a machine gun against the enemy and after all his comrades had either been killed or wounded, Pvt. Haskew was on duty with his ambulance, carrying wounded from a battalion aid station. He left with four stretcher cases and when about 2 kilometers south of Gercourt, ascending a hill, his ambulance was struck by a shell, he receiving multiple shell wounds of hands, left thigh, and feet. Although seriously wounded, Wagoner Haskew bravely remained at his post and continued with his ambulance along a shell-swept road to the crest of the hill near an aid station, when he turned his ambulance off the road and sought assistance for his wounded." Home address, Mrs. Walter Haskew, Gladstone, N. J.

First Lieut. LEWIS B. COX, 6th Infantry. "For extraordinary heroism in action during the St. Mihiel offense, September 12-15, 1918. From the beginning of the battle till evacuated from the field severely wounded, Lieut. Cox displayed exceptional heroism, bravery, and devotion to duty of the highest order. Especially courageous was his work on September 14, 1918, in the Bois-de-Bonvaux, when, facing a murderous machine-gun fire, many of his men down, himself twice wounded, he held his ground until reinforcements came up and surrounded and captured the enemy machine-gun nest. His work was a splendid example to the entire command." Home address, Mrs. John H. Latane, 1016 North Calvert Street, Baltimore, Md.

Second Lieut. JOHN W. O'DANIEL, 11th Infantry. "For extraordinary heroism in action near Bois St. Claude, in the St. Mihiel salient, September 12, 1918. After being severely wounded in the head early in the action, Lieut. O'Daniel continued in command of his platoon, leading his men for several hours until forced to give in to complete physical exhaustion, thus displaying most exceptional courage, determination, and devotion to duty." Home address, A. H. O'Daniel, Ashland, Del.

While consolidating his objective he was severely wounded by shrapnel, but remained in command of his section until overcome by weakness and sent to the rear. His example was an inspiration to every soldier of his command." Home address, Mrs. Maude Willis, Durango, Colo.

Corpl. JOHN K. IRONS, Company K, 11th Infantry. "For extraordinary heroism in action near Bois St. Claude, in the St. Mihiel salient, France, September 12, 1918. After being wounded in the foot by a machine-gun bullet and later in the leg by shrapnel, Corpl. Home address, Mrs. Harry Crowley, 317 Sixteenth Street, Monaca, Pa.

Pvt. (first class) GILBERT W. WILCOX, Company D, 4th Engineers. "For extraordinary heroism in action on the Vesle River, near Ville Savoy, France, August 11, 1918. Pvt. Wenell displayed the highest bravery and self-sacrificing spirit by voluntarily leaving shelter during a heavy hostile bombardment and going to the assistance of several wounded men of another regiment, whose position adjoined that of his own organization. Under terrific shell fire he skillfully dressed their wounds and then removed them to a place of safety, thereby saving their lives. Again returning to the shell-swept street, he made a careful reconnaissance for any other casualties which might have been overlooked." Home address, A. W. Wenell, father, 3724 Seventeenth Avenue, Minneapolis, Minn.

Maj. CHESTER A. DAVIS, 3d Machine Gun Battalion. "For extraordinary heroism in action near Hattonville, France, in the St. Mihiel salient, September 12, 1918. Sent by his brigade commander to verify the positions of the first lines of the assaulting battalions, Maj. Davis continued forward to ascertain approximate location of the enemy lines. Accompanied by only two others, he overtook a hostile formation of about 60 men, wagons, animals, and machine guns, which formed a rear guard to facilitate the retreat of the enemy convoys, and by the exercise of rare gallantry and judgment captured this entire enemy force, despite its overwhelming superiority in numbers and strength." Home address, Mrs. Thomas L. Davis, 74 Liberty Street, Salem, Mass.

Second Lieut. MAURICE S. STEAPHENSON, Infantry, A. D. C. Second Brigade. "For extraordinary heroism in action near Exermont, France, October 9, 1918. Lieut. Sgt. ROY WEIGEL, Infantry E, 16th Infantry (deceased). "For extraordinary heroism in action near St. Mihiel, France, September 12, 1918. Sgt. He was killed while leading a rush upon one of the guns which he had located." Next of kin, Mrs. Emma Kemper, R. R. No. 4, Green Forest, Ark.

First Sgt. FRANK M. BRIMER (deceased), Company B, 348th Machine Gun Battalion. "For extraordinary heroism in action near Eclesfontaine, France, September 27-30, 1918. This soldier exemplified in the highest degree the spirit of bravery, devotion to duty, and self-sacrifice. Though he had been badly gassed during the action of September 27, he maintained liaison between his company and the battalion post of command, at one time carrying an important message from the front to the artillery. On September 29, though still suffering from the effects of gas, he refused to leave his company, and on a cold rainy night brought up fresh ammunition over a rough, unfamiliar road in the dark through heavy shell fire. He took part in the action on Tfonzal Farm Hill September 30, assisting in the direction and control of fire of the machine guns of his company. In the evening of September 30 he was killed while taking a wounded soldier to the rear." Next of kin, Mrs. Ida M. Brimer, mother, 6216 San Pedro Street, Los Angeles, Cal.

First Lieut. THOMAS B. GIBSON, 18th Infantry. "For extraordinary heroism in action near Soissons, France, July 21, 1918. Lieut. Gibson displayed rare gallantry and leadership, when, all the other officers of his company having been killed or wounded, he led his men through a zone of intense bombardment, and, although badly wounded himself, he attained his objective with only five men and two machine guns, refusing to be evacuated until his guns were effectively in action." Next of kin, J. D. Gibson, 3647 Flournoy Street, Chicago, Ill.

MANDEVILLE J. BARKER, JR., Y. M. C. A., on duty with 108th Machine Gun Battalion. "For extraordinary heroism in action near Baslieux, France, September 15, 1918. Mr. Barker showed a fearless disregard of his own safety by crawling out in front of the line under heavy machine gun and sniper fire to aid wounded soldiers, whom he carried back to shelter after dressing their wounds. He also administered aid to a German within 20 yards of the enemy lines and brought him in." Home address, Mrs. M. J. Barker, mother, 6132 University Avenue, Chicago, Ill.

Sergt. ALOIS J. GEUNTHEK, Company C, 11th Infantry. "For extraordinary heroism in action west of Fismette, France, August 10, 1918. Sergt. Thompson, he attacked an enemy machine gun nest, killed the crew and turned the gun on the enemy, operating it with deadly effect on the in-

First Sergt. JOHN W. THOMPSON, Company G, 111th Infantry. "For extraordinary heroism in action near Le Grande Savart, west of Fismette, France, August 10, 1918. Sergt. Thompson showed remarkable bravery and disregard of personal danger when with two other soldiers he attacked a German machine gun, killed the crew, and then with deadly effect turned the gun upon other machine guns and hostile infantry which were in position near by. The crews of all the other German machine guns were killed, 10 machine guns were captured, and the way cleared for the further advance of the American forces." Home address, Anle Thompson, mother, 6210 Huntress Street, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Sergt. HENRY S. LAWRENCE, Company B, 108th Machine Gun Battalion. "For extraordinary heroism in action near Bastieux, France, September 5, 1918. Lawrence took a rifle and bayonet and, accompanied by another soldier, crawled under the enemy wire in the face of severe fire, drove off the crews of several enemy machine guns, and returned with two prisoners, thereby enabling his platoon to rush on. Subsequently, under heavy machine gun and sniper fire, he went along the line of his gun emplacements cheering and encouraging his men, his fearlessness affording an inspiration to them throughout the engagement." Home address, Mrs. David Lawrence, mother, 1319 Main Street, Peckville, Pa.

By courageously leading his firing line in the advance across the Vesle River from Magnoux toward Muscourt, Col. Ham exemplified the greatest heroism and truest leadership instilling in his men confidence in their undertaking. Having been severely wounded, and unable to move, he remained for 10 hours on the field of battle, directing the attack, and refused to be evacuated or receive medical attention until his men had been cared for."

Sergt. WILLIAM SCHOLLES, Company C, 131st Infantry. "For extraordinary heroism in action at Chipilly Ridge Co A, France, August 10, 1918. # Health Conditions at Army Camps Within the United States As Reported to the Surgeon General for Week Ending Dec. 13

The War Department authorizes the following:

Herewith is a detailed report on the health conditions of troops in the United States (including Porto Rico) for the week ended December 13. The report of the Division of Sanitation to the Surgeon General of the Army for that week is as follows:

1. General—Influenza continues to prevail at practically all large stations. The disease, however, appears to be again declining, the number of new cases being considerably less than last week. Pneumonia admissions also are fewer than last week. Camps Lewis, Taylor, Travis, and Funston lead all camps in the number of new cases reported. A few scattering cases of measles are occurring in the majority of large camps. The admission rate of disease (939) is slightly lower than last week (951). The noneffective rate is 38.7 as compared with 37.1; the death rate for disease 14.9 as compared with 11.7 for the preceding week. It should be noted that sick and death rates are now being affected, and will be still more affected in later reports, by the rapid demobilization now going on. The numerical strength of troops in the United States is approximately 110,000 less than that of last week, representing men who were discharged from the service during the week. Under the policy of the War Department, all sick in hospital, and those otherwise disabled, are continued in service and not discharged, while well men only are sent back to civil life. This will naturally result in relatively high noneffective and death rates as the numerical strength of troops continues to decline from week to week. Special diseases were reported as follows:

<sup>1</sup> First figure in this column for each camp gives the total number of new cases during the week; the figure in parentheses is the number of other cases which were contracted during the week by men in that camp's command at the time of contracting the disease. The difference, therefore, is the number of cases first reported during the week which were either (a) cases brought from civilian life by recruits, or (b) cases brought by men transferred from other camps to the camp under which the case is reported, or (c) old cases which have previously evaded detection. An interrogation point signifies that the report from that camp did not segregate cases contracted at the camp from other cases.

One new case of typhoid fever was reported from the Southeastern Department.

2. Divisional camps.—There were 252 admissions for pneumonia for this group as compared with 353 last week. Camp Kearny leads in the number of new cases (52), with Camps Hancock (33) and McClellan (27) next in order in this respect. Of the 67 deaths reported from camps of this group Camp Kearny is charged with 19 and Camp Hancock with 12, the two camps mentioned thus being charged with nearly one-half the total number of deaths reported from the 17 camps of this group.

3. Cantonments.—Pneumonia continues to prevail at all camps of this group. The highest incidence is reported from Camps Lewis, Taylor, Travis, and Epton in the order named. The highest mortality for the week is charged to Camps Taylor and Funston. A few cases of scarlet fever (17) are reported from Camp Funston.

4. Departmental and other troops.—Aviation stations continue with a relatively high incidence of influenza and pneumonia.

LIST OF THE MEDICAL OFFICERS, DISPENSARIES, AND HOSPITALS IN VARIOUS STATES DESIGNATED BY COMPENSATION COMMISSION TO TREAT U. S. EMPLOYEES INJURED IN PERFORMANCE OF DUTY

Section 9 of the United States employees' compensation act, approved September 7, 1916, provides that an employee of the United States sustaining an injury while in the performance of his duty shall be furnished medical or hospital treatment needed because of the injury, and that this treatment shall be furnished by United States medical officers and hospitals or by private physicians and hospitals designated by the United States Employees' Compensation Commission.

The following is a list of the United States medical officers, dispensaries, and hospitals and of the private physicians and hospitals designated by the commission pursuant to the provisions of the compensation act in the States indicated. The list of United States medical officers and hospitals includes only those which the commission has been notified are available for the treatment of injured Government employees. It does not include Army or Navy hospitals.

Civilians employed by the United States in the vicinity of a permanent or fixed Army hospital, who sustain personal injuries while in the performance of duty, will be admitted thereto when beds are available, upon the written request of the officers under whom they are employed. Such request will be addressed to the officer in charge of the hospital and will recite the facts of employment and of personal injury while in the performance of duty. Injured civilian employees thus admitted to hospital will be furnished medical and surgical care therein for a reasonable time; provided that this authority is not applicable to cases to which other United States hospitals are more convenient of access.

An injured employee should be sent to a United States medical officer or hospital if practicable, but if this is not practicable he should be sent to a designated physician or hospital, if one is available. When an injured employee is sent to a designated hospital a United States medical officer or designated physician should be notified, so that he may take charge of the case.

(The list of available facilities in Alabama, Alaska, Arkansas, and California was printed in THE OFFICIAL U. S. BULLETIN of Tuesday, Dec. 10, 1918.)

Annual Report of the Judge Advocate General of the Navy

Referring to the vast increase in the Naval Establishment during the past year, the Judge Advocate General of the Navy, Rear Admiral George R. Clark, in his annual report, says:

The personnel of the office, both naval and civilian, has continued to render most loyal and zealous service. Had their efforts been less earnestly and wholeheartedly put forth, the office would have been quite unable to dispatch the large volume of work which has been promptly sent through. The undersigned and the assistants are the only officers of the active list of the Navy remaining on duty in this office, all others having gone to sea or foreign service. There are now attached hereto the following, viz: Officers, 18; attorneys, 4; law clerks, 4; yeomen (male), 3; yeomen (female), 2; clerks, 15; messengers, 2; mess attendants, third class, 2.

Administration of Justice.

Under the heading of "Administration of justice," the report says:

Every effort is being put forth to decrease, in so far as may be practicable, the proportionate number of trials by court-martial. Such action seems particularly wise at this time inasmuch as so large an element in the service is composed of men without previous military training, who are animated by a laudable desire to serve the Republic, coupled with a lack of definite understanding of the meaning of and necessity for an exact discipline.

General courts-martial, fiscal year 1918.

|  | Navy. | Marine. | Total. |
|--|-------|---------|--------|
| Officers:                                  |       |         |        |

| By order of officers of the Navy.....      | 53    | 4       | 57     |

| Unlisted men:                              |       |         |        |
| By order of the Secretary of the Navy..... | 3,141 | 355     | 3,526  |

| Total.....                                 | 4,426 | 551     | 5,007  |
| Grand total.....                           | 4,530 | 556     | 5,116  |
| Fiscal year 1917.....                      | 1,480 | 395     | 1,875  |
| Fiscal year 1916.....                      | 1,264 | 283     | 1,547  |

The total of 5,116 trials for the fiscal year 1918 is 3,241 in excess of the total for 1917. This is, of course, simply a reflected effect of the enormous increase in the naval personnel, this being the first year during which the influence of such increase upon disciplinary matters is made apparent. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the percentage of trials by general court-martial for the fiscal year 1918 was but 1.17 per cent in the Navy and 1.2 per cent in the Marine Corps, as against 1.75 per cent in the Navy and 2.72 per cent in the Marine Corps for 1917.

Naval Prisoners.

The inspection made by the undersigned disclosed a satisfactory sanitary condition of the prisons in all their parts. The discipline was found to be good and the men seemed well in hand. There was no evidence of the hopelessness and depression usually so manifest in the appearance, manners, and bearing of those undergoing punishment in civil institutions of similar character. The records showed a gratifying absence of cases of outbreak or serious disorder.

Owing to the seriousness attaching to all offenses during war time, comparatively few sentences of general courts-martial have been remitted in accordance with General Order No. 110.

During the past year 1,456 men were restored to duty on probation, 922 of whom came from naval prisons; of this latter number 144 have already violated their probation and have been reconfined or dishonorably discharged from the service. The remaining 534 were men whose sentences were held in abeyance for one year, of which number 99 have already violated their probation. As these men were placed on probation for one year, conclusive data can not be obtained on this system until July 1, 1919.

The policy has been continued of committing to State prisons those of the personnel of the Navy found guilty of crimes for which they would have been sentenced to prison in civil life, the most common of these being theft and offenses of an immoral nature.

Clemency Letters.

The number of letters petitioning for clemency in the case of naval prisoners has greatly increased. All cases that ask for financial assistance are investigated through the Red Cross or Associated Charities, and where examination shows that financial conditions are such as to produce actual destitution, the department authorizes assistance.

The effort is a constant one to make proper allowance for the youth and inexperience of those who make up the greater proportion of the naval service of to-day. While it is essential to bear in mind the fact that an even higher state of discipline and efficiency must be maintained under war conditions than when the country is in a peace status, and that grave duties and responsibilities rest upon even the youngest members of the service in these days, yet clemency is extended whenever the conditions of the case seem to furnish any justification therefor.

Courts of Inquiry Increase.

As indicated in the table below, there has been a large increase in the volume of courts of inquiry, boards of investigation, and boards of request during the fiscal year 1918.

|   | 1918  | 1917 | 1916 |
|---|-------|------|------|
| Courts of inquiry:                                |       |      |      |
| Followed by courts-martial.....                   | 20    | 17   | 13   |
| Followed by action other than courts-martial..... | 24    | 13   | 8    |
| No further action deemed necessary.....           | 89    | 49   | 42   |
| Total.....  | 133   | 79   | 63   |
| Boards of investigation:                          |       |      |      |
| Received and revised.....                         | 675   | 299  | 209  |
| Boards of request:                                |       |      |      |
| Received and revised.....                         | 351   | 165  | 79   |
| Grand total.....                                  | 1,189 | 483  | 351  |

The title of this division is explanatory of its general duties, which cover all matters pertaining to this office that relate to the examination of officers of the Navy and Marine Corps for appointment and promotion, the proceedings of retiring boards in their cases, and the custody of the official records of all officers of the permanent Navy and Marine Corps prior to that of their current grade.

The total number of officers in all branches of the naval service has increased from 12,500 on June 30, 1917, to 25,579 on June 30, 1918. The number has been still further increased to date through the operation of the naval appropriation act of July 1, 1918. The increase in the volume of the work of this division has not been proportionate to this increase in personnel owing to the adoption some months ago of the practice whereby the Bureau of Navigation and the Marine Corps headquarters handle directly, with some minor exceptions, the non-statutory examinations for temporary appointment and promotion. This action followed a decision that the laws prescribing specific kinds of examination for promotion in the Navy are not applicable to temporary promotions, a policy adopted to avoid duplication of work, and to secure elasticity and quickness to the end that temporary appointments and promotions in the field might be promptly and speedily made whenever vacancies occur or the need for additional officers or officers of higher rank becomes imperative. The discontinuance for the period of the war of the practice of confirming appointments and promotions in the Naval Reserve Force also had an influence in this direction.

Legislation.

A considerable volume of legislation has been drafted in this office or has passed through and been commented upon by it during the year just elapsed. Every effort has been put forth to avoid the enactment of provisions which would conflict in any way in practical operation.

During the year seven questions were submitted to the Attorney General involving matters of law under the cognizance of the legal office. In six of these cases the views of this office were fully sustained by the Attorney General, including two cases in which the submission to the Attorney General resulted from disagreement with other departments also interested in the questions presented. In the remaining case additional facts were discovered after the submission which required a different opinion by the Attorney General than that which had been rendered by this office upon the facts theretofore at hand. These questions were all of special importance to the Navy.

International Law.

Assiduous attention is being given to the progress of events with relation to their effect upon international questions which are likely to develop as an outgrowth of the war. The entrance of the United States as a belligerent has involved the necessity for the consummation of working agreements with various of

Discipline and Morale of Vast U. S. Army Reflected In the Annual Report of the Judge Advocate General

Maj. Gen. E. H. Crowder, Judge Advocate General of the Army, in a brief introduction to his annual report to the Secretary of War, says:

"The rights and obligations of every man in the Army, from private to general, are well defined and established by laws exacted by Congress or by the common law. Every offender against the military code is subject to trial by court-martial according to a definite procedure prescribed by law. All this procedure is safeguarded by law, and no soldier can be punished except according to the law. Sentences awarded by general courts-martial are not effective until approved by a superior commander who has upon his staff as a legal adviser a judge advocate.

Few Death Sentences.

"Very few death sentences have been imposed by general courts-martial, and none of those imposed for purely military offenses have been carried into execution. It is one of the outstanding facts of this report that since the beginning of the war no member of the Military Establishment has been put to death because of the commission of a purely military offense."

On the subject of conscientious objectors, the report says:

"By the Executive order of March 20, 1918 (G. O. No. 28, W. D., 1918), and the subsequent creation of the board of inquiry referred to in the circular letter from The Adjutant General of the Army under date of June 1, 1918, the means have been afforded of reaching a humane solution of a problem which otherwise might have assumed a serious aspect."

Statistical Summary.

The total number of persons tried by general courts-martial was 12,357, of which 10,873, or 87.99 per cent, were convicted by the court and 1,484, or 12.01 per cent, acquitted. Of this total 11,595 were enlisted men, and against them a total of 22,081 offenses were charged, of which number the accused were found guilty of 16,307 offenses. Each enlisted man was charged with an average of about two offenses.

It may be of some interest to note that during the period covered by this report five times as many officers were tried by general courts-martial as were tried during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1917, although the number of enlisted men tried during the period covered by this report was less than twice the number of enlisted men tried during the year immediately preceding. These figures show up clearly in the following table:

|              | 1917. | 1918.  |
|--------------|-------|--------|
| Officers     | 121   | 642    |
| Enlisted men | 7,712 | 11,595 |

More first lieutenants were tried during the period covered than officers of any other single rank, as 250 of the 642 officers tried were first lieutenants. The following table shows the number of officers of each rank tried during the period:

|                     |     |

| Colonels            | 2   |

Confirmation withheld by commanding general American Expeditionary Force..... 2

The 642 officers tried were charged with a total of 1,235 offenses, or an average of about two offenses to the officer. Of this total number of 1,235 charges brought against officers the accused were convicted of 895 of the charges and acquitted of 340 of the charges.

The following table shows that almost exactly one-half of the total number of offenses charged against officers was listed under three headings, to wit: Absence without leave, drunkenness, and conduct unbecoming an officer and a gentleman:

|   |     |
|---|-----|
| Absence without leave                         | 146 |
| Drunkenness                                   | 219 |
| Conduct unbecoming an officer and a gentleman | 250 |

Decrease in Desertion Convictions.

The total number of approved convictions of the offense of desertion during the period covered was actually less than the number of approved convictions for the same offense during the preceding fiscal year, although the size of the Army was greatly increased. It may be remarked also that for the first time since desertion statistics have been kept in this office the number of approved convictions was less than one-half of the total number of charges.

|  | 1917  | 1918  |
|--|-------|-------|
| Total number of charges                          | 2,818 | 3,358 |
| True number of desertions (approved convictions) | 1,718 | 1,553 |

Dishonorable Discharges.

The figures show that 2,708 enlisted men were separated from service by a sentence of dishonorable discharge that was executed. This represents less than one-half (47.98 per cent) of the total number of dishonorable discharges given as a part of the sentence imposed by the courts. Since March 1, 1918, when records first came to this office under General Order No. 7, War Department, 1918, the number of dishonorable discharges executed has become proportionately very much less than prior to this War Department general order.

The statistics show that during the period covered enlisted men were charged with more offenses which involved a disobedience or a failure to obey orders than any other single class of offenses, the number of such offenses charged being 3,946 or about 18 per cent of the total number of offenses charged. Next in number comes the offense of desertion, of which there were 3,358 charges or 15.21 per cent of the total number of offenses charged. Absence without leave comes third, with a total of 2,927 charges or 13.26 per cent of the total. Following these three in order come larceny, 1,888 offenses, 8.55 per cent of the total; offenses by sentinels or guards, 1,850, 8.38 per cent of the total; assault, 834, or 3.78 per cent of the total; and drunkenness, 774, or 3.51 per cent of the total.

Progress from Month to Month.

The figures show some interesting progress from month to month with respect to several of these offenses. For example, during the first three months of the year about one out of every five of the offenses charged was some offense involving the misconduct of a sentinel or a guard. During the last three months the number of such offenses dropped until only about 1 offense out of every 20 involved the misconduct of a sentinel or a guard.

Likewise early in the war about 1 out of every 12 offenses charged was drunkenness, and this proportion dropped until during the last three months of the present fiscal year less than 1 in each 30 offenses charged with drunkenness.

Larceny showed a proportionate decrease also since the beginning of the war, at which time about every tenth offense charged was larceny. This was reduced to about 1 offense out of every 16 during the last three months.

The offenses of absence without leave and desertion, however, showed a more or less steady increase.

Instructions to Railroad Auditors In Circulars Issued by the Director Of Public Service and Accounting

The United States Railroad Administration Division of Public Service and Accounting, issues the following:

P. S. & A. CIRCULAR No. 51.

WASHINGTON, D. C., November 25, 1918.

Attention of Federal Auditors is again directed to General Order No. 2 and P. S. & A. Circular No. 5, which indicate the methods and rules of accounting during Federal control and continue the practices obtaining prior thereto, unless permission is obtained from the undersigned to do otherwise.

A number of such requests have been received to change the practice from that during the test period in respect to additions and betterment charges, methods of accruing and classifying revenues, depreciation, taxes, and rentals. The result of such changes, if allowed in most cases, would adversely affect the result of Federal operations when considered in connection with the proposed contract with carriers. Especially is it true in respect to amounts for rentals which, during the test period, were either correctly or incorrectly stated in the revenue accounts included in the standard return, but which it is at present claimed were erroneously accounted for and the items are claimed by the corporation to belong in account 510, miscellaneous rent income.

Federal auditors must make no changes from the method of accounting or classifying accounts during the test period that may affect the contract settlement with the corporation or that will transfer amounts in accounts from those included during the test period within those used to compute the standard return to other income accounts without submitting the proposed changes to and obtaining permission from the undersigned to make such changes.

If any such changes have been made since January 1, 1918, without the approval above referred to, Federal auditors shall at once submit a full statement thereof to the undersigned requesting permission to continue the changed methods or classifications.

C. A. PROUTY,
Director.

P. S. AND A. CIRCULAR No. 52.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 2, 1918.

The following additional instructions are given with respect to bills for the use of joint facilities:

1. When bills for the use of joint facilities are based on a flat rate per train, per ton, per passenger, or other similar unit, the average monthly charge against each tenant for a period of not less than six months ended December 31, 1917, shall hereafter be the measure of such service. If changed conditions render this measure unreasonable, adjustment may be authorized upon presentation to the Federal manager of the justifying facts.

2. If different factors, such as tons, car mileage, locomotive mileage, ownership of stock, etc., are used for the apportionment of the various expense and rental elements of the bill (maintenance of way, maintenance of equipment, transportation, general expenses, rental, or revenue), separate average per cents, based on the period ended December 31, 1917, as provided in General Order No. 31, should be developed for each such element. Bills against tenants or users shall show the distribution of the charge or credit by the several general accounts.

C. A. PROUTY,
Director.

P. S. & A. CIRCULAR No. 53.

WASHINGTON, D. C., December 2, 1918.

The proposed contract between the Director General and the railroads under Federal control provides for compensation to the company for the complete service rendered by it in connection with the movement of carload freight prior to January 1, 1918. Section 4, paragraph b, of the said contract reads as follows:

"Railway operating revenues shall be allocated between the period prior and subsequent to midnight of December 31, 1917, in accordance with the established accrual practices of the company; except that where prior to midnight of December 31, 1917, the company's part of a service on through business had been completed, or carload lots on its own line had reached destination, the revenue of the company for such service shall be allocated to it." * * *

The provisions of General Order No. 17 respecting "lap-over" revenue are not in exact accord with the terms of the proposed contract, and where the provisions of the said order on this subject are in conflict with those of the proposed contract, the latter shall govern.

The intent of the provisions of the proposed contract quoted herein is to credit and pay to the company all revenue on carload traffic on which the company had completed its service prior to January 1, 1918. Revenue on carload traffic, on which the company had not completed its service prior to January 1, 1918, if not included in the revenue for the month of December, 1917, or prior thereto, by estimate or otherwise, shall be considered as revenue of the Director General and not as "lap-over" revenue.

Car accountant's records of cars covered by December or prior month waybills reported in January or subsequent month accounts should be examined, and if such records indicate the arrival of cars at destination or junction stations where freight leaves the home lines prior to January 1, 1918, the carrier's proportion of the revenue thereon should be credited to the corporation as "lap-over" revenue.

No change is authorized in the apportionment of revenues provided for by General Order No. 17, except as outlined above for freight revenue on carload shipments.

If in any case, due to exceptional methods of accruing revenue, Federal auditors do not consider that this plan will bring about equitable results or that

SHIPPING BOARD REDUCES ITS WOODEN STEAMER PROGRAM

Announcement is made that the Shipping Board has determined to discontinue work on a considerable number of wooden steamers which are in the early stages of construction, and to cancel a considerable number of contracts for the construction of vessels of this type on which work has not yet been started. The cancellations will be made with every effort to do justice to the contractor, and the action of the board looking to cancellations will be determined by the question of the ultimate cost to the Government, taking into consideration the actual progress of the work under these contracts and the resultant cost of cancellation. Where the work is advanced and it appears that the completed ship can be disposed of by the Government at a less loss than would be involved in indemnifying the contractor upon cancellation, the vessels will be completed. Where, however, an accurate survey indicates that the loss to the Government can be held to the minimum by cancellation that will be the course pursued.

Sixty Contracts to Be Canceled.

Aside from contracts covering 60 vessels, as to which the work is in its initial stages, it can not be said at the moment how many cancellations of building contracts will result from the board's action. This depends upon the result of a survey.

Bainbridge Colby, of the Shipping Board, stated that the total number of commitments for wooden steamers is 781. These vessels were contracted for when the world tonnage situation was at its most critical point. The extent to which the Shipping Board contracted for this wooden tonnage was therefore a direct expression of the emergency, which passed only with the recent signing of the armistice. The number of wooden steamers contracted for was beyond the requirements of American trades and in excess of the possible absorption by such trades. This required a prompt decision whether to continue building wooden ships in excess of the number which could be utilized in normal trade or whether to cancel such contracts as would not involve the Government in greater loss by cancellation than by completion.

ANTHRACITE OUTPUT GREATER.

The greatest production of anthracite coal since the week ended October 12 was shown in the report on that fuel for the week ended December 14, just issued by the United States Fuel Administration. In the week ended December 14 the production was 1,923,625 net tons, an increase of 116,850 net tons, or 6.5 per cent over the production for the week ended December 7, when the net tonnage was only 1,806,775.

its expense is prohibitive, the specific facts should be reported to the undersigned before the work is undertaken.

Director.

BRITISH TRADERS ARE ADVISED TO PREPARE FOR THE FUTURE

The British (Government) Board of Trade Journal says:

Restrictions upon exports from the United Kingdom have grown more and more severe as the war has progressed, and manufacturers have become less and less able to meet the demands of oversea buyers. They are rationed in regard to most materials, and they are suffering from a shortage of labor, so that they can not in many cases execute more than a small part of the home demands upon them. Under these circumstances it might appear useless to cultivate those markets in the dominions and colonies which, though recognized to be of the highest importance for the future, can not in the present be made fruitful. Nevertheless, a policy of complete inaction would be a bad policy.

Can Not Reap Without Sowing.

There will be a great expansion in export trade after the war, especially with the dominions, colonies, and allied countries, and British manufacturers can not expect to reap where they have not tilled and sown. The least they should do, both manufacturers and merchants, during the months of restriction, is to take note of the criticisms which have been repeatedly directed against them, to examine their methods of production and distribution, to seize every opportunity of studying the rapidly changing conditions in overseas markets which the war has brought about, and to make ready for the renewal of exporting activity when the war is over.

A Common Criticism.

The most frequent charge leveled at British manufacturers is that they are—or were—unwilling to make goods in accordance with the requirements of a particular market. By constant repetition it had become almost an axiom before the war that, while British manufacturers offered for sale the goods which it suited them to make, German manufacturers offered the goods which it suited their customers to buy. It is probable that this charge had less evidence to support it than has been generally supposed. It assumes for its truth the existence of a system of standardization among British manufacturers generally which is not apparent to investigators. In fact, the conspicuous absence of standardized or mass production, whether of locomotives or buttons, is revealed and commented upon by most committees of inquiry into British methods.

Question of Standardization.

Standardization was making progress before the war, but, as a rule, excessive individualism in manufacture, and not too great a love for standardization, has been shown to be our national defect. How, then, did the belief become almost universal that British manufacturers are less adaptable to overseas conditions than their German rivals? The reply is, first, that many British manufacturers have in the past neglected to study the overseas markets with the meticulous care devoted to them by the Germans; and, second, that the overseas buyers have

Value of Exports from London to U. S. During 10 Months Ending with October

Consul General Robert P. Skinner, at London, reports:

The aggregate value of declared exports from London to the United States during the 10 months ending October, 1918, totaled $50,022,252, compared with $133,740,783 in the same period in 1917, thus showing a decrease of 63 per cent.

The principal articles comprised in the foregoing totals were:

| Articles             | 10 months,1917. | 10 months,1918. |
|----------------------|---------------------|---------------------|
| Rubber.....          | $39,770,603        | $3,743,639         |
| Precious stones..... | 15,435,592          | 13,182,117          |
| Tin.....             | 9,396,001           | 3,422,151           |
| Furs.....            | 5,434,870           | 3,558,773           |
| Art.....             | 4,464,560           | 1,812,192           |
| Hides.....           | 2,834,372           | 158,249             |
| Wool.....            | 929,047             | 26,648              |
| Tea.....             | 747,058             | .....               |

The total for the month of October, 1917, of $6,536,711 fell to $3,313,785 for the same month this year, or a decrease of approximately 50 per cent, but the latter figures showed a slight increase on September, 1918, when the aggregate reached $2,866,113. The chief items during the month, with comparative figures for September, were as follows: Precious stones, $1,072,757 against $493,296; tin, $101,037 compared with $156,361; art, $237,898 against $131,098; and furs, $155,523 against $110,720. It will be observed that the value of precious stones accounted for nearly 33 per cent of the total for October, and that in the aggregate for the 10 months furs alone have maintained an approximate level. Other items contributing to the month's total included opium, $268,631; drugs, chemicals, and acids, $397,418; and ferro-manganese, $31,535. There were no shipments of rubber, hides, wool, or tea.

EIGHT-HOUR LAW IS SUSPENDED ON CHEMISTRY BUREAU BUILDING

Executive Order.

In order to effect the expeditious construction of certain additions to the old building, used by the Bureau of Chemistry of the United States Department of Agriculture for color investigations, situate on the Arlington Experimental Farm, Arlington, Va., in which are to be located certain activities engaged on work in connection with war measures, making the completion of said additions a national emergency, and by virtue of the provisions of the act of Congress approved March 4, 1917, entitled "An act making appropriations for the naval service for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1918, and for other purposes" (39 Stat., 1192), whereby, among other things, it is provided, "That in case of national emergency the President is authorized to sus-not explored with sufficient patience the field of British production.

Faults on Both Sides.

There have been faults on both sides, which it is hoped the future will remove.

Waiting Time Not to Be Wasted.

In the new world upon which we shall enter after the war is over British firms will still have to contend against and break down a deep-rooted conviction abroad that they are rigidly conservative. Their methods have undergone great change during the last few years—and had begun to change half a dozen years before war broke out—but time must pass before the export markets find this out. Though little active business can be done at present, the waiting time need not be wasted. British manufacturers can at least emphasize in their catalogues, by advertisement and through their agents, that they are ready whenever it is practicable to make the goods which their customers want to buy.—Commerce Reports.

pend provisions of law prohibiting more than eight hours' labor in any one day of persons engaged upon work covered by contracts with the United States; provided further, that the wages of persons employed upon such contracts shall be computed on a basic day rate of eight hours' work, with overtime rates to be paid for at not less than time and one-half for all hours work in excess of eight hours." I do hereby suspend the provisions of law prohibiting more than eight hours of labor in any one day by persons, firms, or corporations engaged in the construction of the additions to the above-mentioned building, provided that there shall be no work performed on Sundays and that on no one day shall they be permitted to work more than 10 hours. This order will take effect from and after this date.

our allies, notably England, France, and Italy. This situation has obviously rendered essential close cooperation between this office and representatives of the State and War Departments; due to the cordial and helpful attitude of the departments last above mentioned combined action has been simple of attainment.

Naval Prisoners of War.

While the number of prisoners of war immediately under the jurisdiction of the Navy is not great, yet the same principles are involved, requiring equal consideration from this office as though the number were much greater.

Although naval prisoners have been taken over by the War Department, that department has looked to the Navy in all matters pertaining to prisoners which are effected by the fact that they are members of the enemy naval personnel, and close cooperation has been maintained in the consideration of such questions.
