As approved by President Wilson in his letter of November 30, 1918, accepting the resignation of the chairman of the War Industries Board, the activities of the War Industries Board, as such, will cease January 1, 1919.

Many of the divisions and sections of the board have already completed their work and have disbanded, and most of the others will wind up their affairs this week.

CAPITAL ISSUES COMMITTEE TO SUSPEND ITS ACTIVITIES THOUGH ORGANIZATION WILL CONTINUE FOR THE PRESENT

MAY RENEW FUNCTIONS IF NECESSITY ARISES

Economy in Financial Operations Urged and Public Warned to Beware of Fraudulent and Worthless Securities—Statement by Secretary Glass on the Conservation of Liberty Bonds—Restrictive Legislation to Be Asked.

Public announcement that the work of the Capital Issues Committee would be suspended on December 31 was contained in a statement given out by Charles S. Hamlin, chairman of the committee. The statement follows:

In view of the rapid changes that have taken place since the signing of the armistice, the Capital Issues Committee has voted to suspend its activities on December 31. The committee will not be dissolved, but will remain inactive unless it is found that the sale of new securities competes unduly with Government financing or for other reasons it may become desirable for the committee to resume its work pending its dissolution by the President or by operation of law.

Continued Economy Urged.

Although the war emergency which gave rise to the creation of the committee has passed, it is nevertheless imperative that capital should be saved and not wasted, and the removal of the restraining influence exerted by the committee during its existence should not be construed as approval of the financing of unnecessary public projects or private enterprises of doubtful merit. On the contrary, the financial needs of the Government and the large capital requirements of the railroads and for the readjustment of American industries to a peace basis compel strict economy in the use of new capital.

While legitimate business may safely be left to work out its own problems, the Capital Issues Committee feels that it would be unfaithful to its responsibility if it failed to warn the public respecting the enormous losses sustained by the Nation through the sale of worthless and fraudulent securities. In the opinion of the committee the sale of such securities should be restrained in times of peace as well as in war and strongly urges that Congress establish adequate machinery to put a stop to this traffic.

Restrictive Legislation Advised.

The extent of the menace, due to the issue of such securities, to the holders of Government bonds is revealed by the fact that schools are being established in some parts of the country to drill salesmen in the art of persuading investors to subscribe for unmeritorious or worthless securities. This can only be prevented by legislation vesting in some duly constituted public agency full power to restrain the offering of fraudulent or worthless securities.

The Capital Issues Committee warns the public and earnestly directs the attention of Congress to the problem. It is the intention of the committee to make a supplementary report to Congress recommending a law to prevent these existing abuses and such impositions upon the investing public.

The committee will maintain its offices in Washington until further notice.

Statement by Secretary Glass.

Secretary Glass issues the following statement:

The decision of the Capital Issues Committee to suspend its activities on December 31 should not be interpreted by the business public as a warrant for any expenditure of capital for needless or unwise purposes, whether public or private in their nature. Should it become apparent that voluntary restraints are not being exercised so as to prevent the misuse of capital, I shall request the committee to resume its control.

My chief misgiving in accepting the action of the committee arises out of the need the committee has frequently expressed and the importance of which has become increasingly obvious of protecting the public investor against the flood of worthless or doubtful securities which threaten the market when the restrictions are removed, and present conditions emphasize the importance of obtaining emergency legislation as speedily as possible so as to be able to cope effectively with this evil. The Government not only should protect itself as to future bond issues but as well owes a duty to the millions of Liberty bond buyers to restrain reckless and fraudulent promoters, particularly at this time.

Will Ask Congressional Action.

I intend to ask Congress immediately for legislation that will check the traffic in worthless securities while imposing no undue restrictions upon the financing of legitimate business, and shall urge that it be made effective before the close of the present session. Meantime, it may become necessary before such legislation is passed to reassemble the committee for the purpose of resuming its functions.

INVOICE RULE SUSPENDED.

The War Trade Board announces, in a new ruling (W. T. B. R. 460), the suspension of the requirement that applicants for bunker licenses must furnish agents of the War Trade Board and collectors of customs with suppliers' bills or invoices for ship's stores and supplies taken aboard vessels at United States ports.

ASKS PERMANENT COMMISSIONS FOR 5 HIGH-RANK ARMY OFFICERS

Secretary Baker Requests Recognition of Gens. March, Pershing, and Bliss and Lieut. Gens. Liggett and Bullard.

WAR DEPARTMENT,
Washington, D. C.,
December 21, 1918.

MY DEAR SENATOR:

Under the provisions of section 3, of the act of Congress approved October 6, 1917, the President has appointed, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, certain officers of the Army to the grades of general and lieutenant general. These officers, in order of rank, are:

Gen. Peyton C. March, Chief of Staff of the Army.

Gen. John J. Pershing, commander of the American Expeditionary Force, France.

Gen. Tasker H. Bliss, retired, former Chief of Staff, now military representative of the United States at Versailles and a member of the Peace Commission, has the brevet rank of general.

Lieut. Gen. Hunter Liggett, commanding 1st Army, American Expeditionary Force.

Lieut. Gen. Robert L. Bullard, commanding 2d Army, American Expeditionary Force.

These officers have performed tremendous tasks involving the greatest responsibility in a manner which reflects credit upon themselves and upon the country, and entitles them to permanent recognition. I believe that the sentiment of the country is strongly in favor of such recognition. At present, the commissions of these officers as general and lieutenant general, while in the Regular Army, are for the period of the emergency only. I recommend that their commissions be made permanent, with the proviso that when any one of these officers vacates his commission the office shall lapse. The Judge Advocate General has prepared a draft of a bill which will accomplish this purpose and which I inclose for the consideration of your committee.

Sincerely yours,

NEWTON D. BAKER,

Secretary of War.

Senator GEORGE E. CHAMBERLAIN,

Chairman, Senate Military Committee, United States Senate.

A copy of the foregoing letter also was sent to the chairman of the Military Affairs Committee of the House. The officers mentioned are all major generals in the Regular Army.

TAMPICO CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

Consul Claude I. Dawson, at Tampico, Mexico, reports:

An American chamber of commerce was organized in Tampico on December 13 as a result of the initiative of this consulate. Will apply for membership in the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

AMERICAN CONSUL DETAINED BY TURKESTAN BOLSHEVIKI

The State Department is exerting every effort to obtain the release of Roger Culver Tredwell, the American consul at Petrograd, who is interned in his rooms at Tashkend, Turkestan, by the Bolsheviki authorities, and Acting Secretary Phillips stated to-day the department is hopeful of the result.

Tredwell was interned in his rooms by the Bolsheviki the latter part of October and the department, immediately upon learning of his detention, cabled instructions to its representatives to spare no efforts in bringing about his release. The efforts have been made through the posts at London, Teheran, Peking, Christiania, and Calcutta, as well as through other representatives of the department, and all the foreign governments approached have taken an immediate interest and have given similar instructions in the interest of Tredwell's release. The government of India has been especially helpful in this connection.

Tredwell is not in prison, but is confined to his rooms and is being treated well, according to the department's advices. He has been in the American consular service for 10 years.

MEETING OF COPPER INDUSTRY WITH PRICE FIXING COMMITTEE

At a meeting of the Price Fixing Committee with the copper industry held on the 20th day of December, the chairman of the Price Fixing Committee explained that inasmuch as the War Industries Board would cease to function after January 1, all prices are being allowed to expire by limitation. As the maximum prices on copper, agreed upon between the industry and the Price Fixing Committee, expire by limitation December 31, this is notice to the public that the Price Fixing Committee will cease to exercise any jurisdiction over copper prices after that date.

The chairman called attention to the fact that among the vital war needs of the Government, copper ranked second only to steel, and wished to place on record the Government's appreciation of the patriotic spirit in which the copper producers had accepted maximum prices suggested by the Price Fixing Committee, and the industry's unceasing efforts to produce the abnormally large quantity of copper required to supply the war needs of ourselves and those associated with us in the war.

The industry, through its spokesman, testified to the courtesy and consideration it has always received at the hands of the Price Fixing Committee, and to the fact that the fixing of maximum prices by the Government had developed, at the numerous meetings, a vast amount of information which had been most helpful in stabilizing and standardizing the industry. There was a hopeful expression upon the part of the producers, that the present surplus stock of copper would be soon absorbed by a large foreign demand, and that the industry would assume its normal condition in the not far distant future.

NEW SPECIAL EXPORT LICENSE ISSUED BY WAR TRADE BOARD ON SHIPMENTS OF SAMPLES

OLD REGULATIONS ARE WITHDRAWN

Exportation Authorized Without Individual License of Any Commodity and Advertising Matter Whether by Mail, Freight, or Express.

The War Trade Board announces in a new ruling (W. T. B. R. 457) that W. T. B. R. 323, issued November 23, 1918, and the Special License No. RAC-55, issued in accordance therewith, have been withdrawn, and that a revised special license, under the same number (RAC-55), effective December 24, 1918, has been issued.

Granted to Post Office.

The revised Special Export License No. RAC-55 has been granted to the Post Office Department and to the Customs Service authorizing the exportation, without individual export license, of samples of any commodity and advertising matter to be used therewith, regardless of whether the same are shipped by mail (subject, however, to the postal regulations), by freight, or by express, in passengers' baggage or otherwise, when destined to any country.

Under this license the term "samples" is construed to mean articles or portions thereof intended for use in soliciting orders, and is not construed to include any article or portion thereof which is itself intended to be sold as an article of commerce.

Notations on Shipments.

Shippers should note that it is unnecessary to apply to the War Trade Board for permission to ship under Special Export License No. RAC-55, and no special document issued by the War Trade Board is necessary in connection with such shipments. It is only necessary to note on the package, if the shipment is made through the mails, or on the export declaration, if the shipment is made by express or freight, the following:

1. "Shipped under Special Export License No. RAC-55,"
2. The name and address of shipper,
3. The name and address of consignee,
4. A statement of contents.

It should further be noted that special export license No. RAC-55 is not a license to trade with the enemy and does not authorize any shipment in contravention of section 3 of the trading-with-the-enemy act.

Notice to Exporters.

The attention of exporters is called to the fact that the use of special license No. RAC-55 does not relieve the shipper of the responsibility of complying with the import restrictions of the country of destination. In order that American exporters may appreciate the importance of informing themselves in this regard, they are advised that at present the customs restrictions of the United Kingdom forbid the entry into that country, as samples, of silver, gold, and real jewelry, motorcycles and autopedes, complete motor cars, and parcels of timber exceeding 50

7,468 Sick and Wounded Landed in U. S. During the Week Ending December 20

The War Department authorizes the following statement from the Office of the Surgeon General:

During the week ended December 20, a total of 7468 wounded and sick soldiers were landed in the United States from the American Expeditionary Forces. This is the largest number received in any single week. Of this total, 5,828 were landed at New York while the balance of 1,640 were landed at Newport News. The men are being sent to various army hospitals for physical reconstruction and to convalescent camps.

OPINION ON STATUS OF FORMER MEMBERS OF NATIONAL GUARD DRAFTED INTO FEDERAL SERVICE AFTER DISCHARGE FROM U. S. ARMY

The War Department authorizes publication of the following opinion of the Acting Judge Advocate General on the subject of the status of former members of the National Guard drafted into Federal service for the emergency after discharge from the United States Army:

"1. In a memorandum dated December 20, 1918, you call attention to a purported digest of an opinion of the Judge Advocate General in January, 1918, which digest contains the following sentence with reference to the discharge of persons drafted into the Federal service as members of the National Guard:

"When mustered out of the Federal service they revert to their former status in the militia of the several States from which they were by the draft called into the Federal service, subject to the qualification that the time spent in the service of the United States will count upon their enlistment of terms of commission."

"This sentence is found in a footnote on page 307 of the supplement to the Military Laws of the United States, 5th edition. The correct digest of the opinion in question (Ops. JAG 220.84, January 29, 1918) is found on page 7 of the Digest of Opinions of the Judge Advocate General for January, 1918, and the sentence above quoted is not found therein. The quoted sentence is based upon an obiter expression contained in said opinion, which was deduced from an opinion of this office dated December 16, 1916 (Ops. JAG 58-051.1), wherein the question and answer were as follows:

"Q. What is the status of the members who have just been mustered out of the Federal Service? Do they automatically revert to the National Guard?"

"A. The muster-out is a release from Federal service under the call only, and does not affect enlistment contracts of members of the National Guard. They therefore automatically revert to the status in the National Guard or organizations of their States, in which they were at the date they were called into the service of the United States, except that the time served in the service of the United States will count upon their enlistments or terms of commission."

"Construing the sentence first above quoted in the light of the opinion upon which it is based, it is perfectly apparent that it referred to a muster out of the Federal service after a call into the Federal service and not to a discharge after a draft into the Federal service.

"2. As a matter of fact, the opinion, in the digest of which this sentence occurs, holds without qualification that the draft of a member of the National Guard into the Federal service absolutely discharges him from the militia, which includes the National Guard. Furthermore, this office has held that a commission in the temporary forces is incompatible with a commission in the National Guard and operates to cancel the commission in the National Guard. (Ops. JAG 210, 85, Nov. 22, 1918.) It is, therefore, the opinion of this office that former members of the National Guard, both officers and enlisted men, who entered the service by draft under the President's proclamation of July 3, 1917, will, when discharged from the Federal service, revert to a civilian status and will not revert to their former status as members of the National Guard.

"Approved: By order of Secretary of War: March, General, Chief of Staff.

"S. T. ANSELL,
Acting Judge Advocate General."

No Permit Now Required To Sell Coke for Export

Revocation of the ruling prohibiting the sale or delivery of coke for export by ocean transportation except upon the prior issuance of a permit by the United States Fuel Administration is announced by the Fuel Administration.

Announcement of the change in procedure was made in an official order amending a previous one relative to the "price of coke for export by ocean transportation."

pounds; also tobacco samples in unmanufactured form in weights exceeding 2½ pounds. (Tobacco samples of any size are only admitted to approved tobacco importers.) Other countries have restrictions similar to these, and it is suggested that exporters avail themselves of the facilities of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce of the Department of Commerce, Washington, D. C., in obtaining information respecting the customs regulations of foreign countries.

HONOR TO WALTER H. PAGE.

State Department Tribute to Late Former Ambassador to Great Britain.

Mr. William Phillips, the Assistant Secretary of State, has been designated to officially represent the State Department at the funeral of Walter Hines Page, the late former ambassador to Great Britain. Acting Secretary of State Polk sent the following message to Mrs. Page:

"Pinchurst, N. C.

"Permit me to express my profound sympathy and that of the Department of State in the death of your distinguished husband. We are grateful to him for the high standards which he maintained in his representative capacity in London and for his self-sacrificing devotion to the principle of complete understanding between the two Anglo-Saxon peoples. He gave his life to his country, and his memory will always be honored and revered by his fellow-countrymen.

"FRANK L. POLK,
"Acting Secretary of State."

The following statement was made public at the State Department:

"From the date of his appointment as ambassador extraordinary and plenipotentiary to Great Britain in April, 1913, until he was forced by illness to relinquish his post, Mr. Page devoted himself most assiduously to bringing about a more complete understanding between the two great English-speaking nations. Representing, as he did, the very best tradition of this country, he was peculiarly well fitted to accomplish the objects of his high mission. His interpretation of the wishes of his Government was of the highest order and his successful conduct of the many delicate negotiations intrusted to him during his tenure merited the highest approval of the Department of State. His high sense of duty, his zeal, and his self-sacrificing devotion to the service resulted in his fatal illness and his untimely death."

Gen. Bliss's Remarks in Presenting The Distinguished Service Medal Awarded Gen. Pershing by President

The War Department authorizes publication of the following:

Remarks of Gen. Bliss in handing to Gen. John J. Pershing the Distinguished Service Medal awarded to him by the President of the United States, at Great Headquarters of the American Expeditionary Force, Chaumont, France, at 4.15 p. m., Saturday, November 16, 1918:

General Pershing:

I take great pleasure in reading to you this telegram, which I have received from the Secretary of War. It is dated in Washington, October 21, 1918, and is addressed to me at Versailles. It is as follows:

"The President of the United States has awarded a Distinguished Service Medal to Gen. John J. Pershing, and directs that you act as his representative in presenting the medal. He further directs that you say to Gen. Pershing that he awards this medal to the commander of our armies in the field as a token of the gratitude of the American people for his distinguished services, and in appreciation of the success which our armies have achieved under his leadership.

"BAKER,
"HARRIS."

And now, Gen. Pershing, in complying with the instructions of the President, perhaps he and you may permit me to add a few words of my own to his simple and direct ones which come to you straight from his heart and from that of the American people. To do this I wish that there stood in my place one of the distinguished officers of the army which you have so splendidly led and which has so gallantly followed you.

At one moment it seems but yesterday, and again it seems like an echo along the misty corridors of the long distant past, when I bade you good-bye in the War Department building in Washington. You had with you a staff of some 50 or 60 officers, and I can hear now the wondering queries of those who asked, "What can Gen. Pershing do with so many staff officers?" At the same time there went one small and incomplete American division, and there were many who believed that it would be followed by no others for at least a year.

And what has happened in that short year and a little more?

You have created and organized and trained here on the soil of France an American Army of between two and two and a half million men. You have created the agencies for its reception, its transportation, and its supply. To the delight of all of us, you have consistently adhered to your ideal of an American Army under American officers and American leadership. And for months you have fought a continuous battle until, at last, victory has come.

With your aid our ancient Ally has regained her former boundaries. And you and your army have played a glorious part in a world event transcending, in its momentous importance, any other since Charles Martel beat back the flood of Moslem invasion on the plains of Tours. You, like him, have done that which came to you in crushing an evil, an aborted civilization and in preserving a nobler one.

And in doing this you have won not only the admiration of your European associates in arms, but the admiration and love of your countrymen.

And you have done it all with the thorough devotion of the American Army, its officers and men, and of all who helped to make that Army and to get it here.

All that I have said brings me to this. It is not for me to speak of history to the men who have made it. But it is for me and for all of us to speak of that loyal and affectionate devotion, from the men in the trenches to the men on the western docks of France, from the men in the shipbuilding yards and mines and logging camps from the Atlantic to the Pacific, from the men, women, and children in every factory and workshop at home, whose devotion to the great cause and whose personal devotion to you has stayed up your hands, that they faint not, from the rising to the going down of the sun.

But it is not of these alone that I would speak, when I speak of the devotion that has carried you and your army to such triumphant success. I think with sadness and pride of those who have paid the last full measure of their devotion; and of weeping American wives and mothers and mourning children. I have no doubt that many and many a gallant American soldier has, in his last breath, coupled with other names dear to him your name as the custodian and guardian of American honor and glory—honor and glory so dear to him that for them he gave his life.

Just as it is our President who hands to you this medal, so I seem to see from these thousands of glorious graves pale hands reaching out to you and your comrades the laurel wreath of victory which they did so much to win.

And I know that I speak for our President when I say that as to them the good God has given eternal rest, so may He, through their heroic death, give to us eternal peace.

BRITISH PRICES FOR BARLEY.

Consul General Robert P. Skinner, at London, reports:

Board of agriculture announces price of barley harvested in 1919 as 70s. ($17.03) per quarter of 448 pounds, in the case of brewing barley only; other barley will be 67s. ($16.30), as during current season; this applying only to England and Wales. Food controller prescribes a maximum price for flour millers' offals of all kinds of £14 10s. ($70.56) per ton in place of £13 ($63.26).

WORK OF CONGRESS BRIEFLY TOLD

SENATE.

On Monday night the Senate passed the war revenue bill, and sent it to conference. By a vote of 42 to 18 the Reed so-called "bone dry" liquor law was written into the bill as an amendment and made applicable to the District of Columbia. The action of the committee in eliminating the luxury taxes was rejected and these taxes modified were adopted. The tax of 20 per cent on the sale price above a fixed amount as provided in the House bill was reduced to 10 per cent and the proposed tax on men's, women's, and boys' clothing eliminated altogether. By a vote of 34 to 28 an amendment by Senator Thomas was adopted assessing a tax of 100 per cent or all campaign contributions in excess of $500. The proposed tax of 5 per cent on automobile trucks, automobile wagon trailers and tractors was struck out. Another amendment adopted provided for the payment of an extra month's pay to all officers and enlisted men of the Army, Navy, and Marine Corps honorably discharged from the service after November 11, the date of the signing of the armistice. On a final vote of 41 to 22 the Senate sustained its previous action repealing existing zone rates on second-class mail and substituting a rate of 1 cent a pound within 150 miles and 1½ cents beyond that distance. The bill was finally passed without a roll call.

HOUSE.

In a letter to Chairman Dent of the Military Committee Secretary of War Baker asked Congress to enact legislation bestowing upon Gens. Pershing, March, and Bliss the permanent rank of general.

Both Senate and House will take three-day recesses until January 2 with an understanding that nothing but routine business shall be considered on such days as they may be in session.

SIMPLIFIED EXPORT LICENSES TO SCANDINAVIAN COUNTRIES

Export licenses to Denmark, European Holland, Norway, and Sweden will be acted upon hereafter by the War Trade Board under a simplified procedure which in most cases will do away with the delay and expense heretofore incurred by the necessity of obtaining cable information from abroad. Vance McCormick, chairman of the board, announces.

Arrangements for export procedure now being perfected by the board and made possible because of the armistice, will permit immediate action on applications in most instances, it was stated, thus facilitating the flow of trade between these countries and the United States.

The form of procedure in making application will not be altered, import licenses from the countries of destination being necessary just as previously.

ALIEN ENEMY REGULATIONS MODIFIED BY THE PRESIDENT

The Department of Justice on December 23 issued the following statement:

On the recommendation of the Attorney General the President has directed that on and after Christmas day the Attorney General discontinue enforcement of all regulations affecting the conduct of male and female German alien enemies except those restrictions which apply to entry into and departure from the country and those effecting the power of internment.

This means that on Christmas day the permit and pass systems effective against these aliens will be abolished all over the country and that all prohibited areas and restricted zones will go out of existence. All registration regulations will likewise cease, and it will no longer be necessary for German alien enemies to obtain permits for change of residence. In short, they will be freed of all restrictions affecting places of residence and of employment.

The Attorney General, however, will continue to exercise, as heretofore, the power to intern all dangerous German alien enemies. The action of the President does not affect in any way the status of men already interned or the restrictions and obligations heretofore imposed on alien enemies now on parole. Any violation of parole will be punished as heretofore.

FOOD CONDITIONS IN FINLAND REPORTED GREATLY IMPROVED

Statement Accompanying Au- thorization by War Trade Board for Shipments from the U. S.

Authorization of shipments from the United States to Finland of 10,000 tons of cereals, 2,000 tons of pork products, 1,000 tons of industrial fats, and 1,000 tons of sugar is announced by the War Trade Board.

This food will be the first sent to Finland for civilian relief. The board's authorization followed a cablegram from Herbert Hoover recommending this action, and is under the approval of the allies.

General Conditions Improved.

The action of the board was predicated upon an infinitely improved national situation in Finland within the last few weeks. Information from Mr. Hoover and from other sources, including allied commissions, it was explained, show that this sorely tried nation, once absorbed by Russia, and more recently swallowed up by Germany, again appears to be establishing itself upon a comparatively stable basis both politically and nationally.

The rapidity with which conditions there are changing is said to be indicated by the fact that until as recently as the signing of the armistice the German forces were in full control and any food sent from allied sources was in risk of not reaching the Finns themselves, but of being reexported to the Germans or the Bolshevik forces in Russia.

Steady Progress Made.

Since the armistice was signed Finland has been able to progress steadily in the establishment of a popular government and for this reason it is possible for the United States and other countries to provide nourishment and relief to the nation heretofore deprived of it by her own internal predicament.

Government officials said the situation was in striking contrast to that of Russia, where chaotic conditions still in considerable measure bar the rest of the world from coming to her aid. The moment Russia succeeds in achieving the same degree of social and political equilibrium as Finland she will be throwing open for her own benefit a door by which food and many other necessities of life may enter freely from the outside world.

SPANISH COTTON SITUATION.

Consul General Carl Bailey Hurst, at Barcelona, reports:

Royal order has just been published empowering central cotton committee to introduce following modifications in cotton situation: (a) Spinners may run their mills six days weekly; (b) reduction of at least 25 per cent on temporary tax on raw cotton and manufactures thereof; (c) permission for free exportation cotton yarns.

ANNOUNCES WIND-UP OF WAR INDUSTRIES BOARD

Agriculture and exercised until such time as the affairs and duties of the division, uncompleted by the time, shall have been finally disposed of.

Price-Fixing Committee.

The Price-Fixing Committee of the War Industries Board will continue to function until such of the prices already fixed by the committee as will not expire on or before January 1, 1919, shall have expired.

With respect to all other functions, regulations, directions, or orders of the board or any of its divisions, sections, or committees which it may not be found possible to dispense with by January 1, 1919, such matters will be transferred on that date to the War Trade Board, with such officials or employees of the War Industries Board as may be necessary and with all the papers, records, files, etc., appertaining thereto.

In all cases of such transfer of duties to other departments, the expenses incident to the performance of these duties will be paid out of the appropriation of the War Industries Board; and upon their completion all records, files, etc., will be turned back to the liquidating officer of the War Industries Board for such final disposition as may be determined, the duties referred to thereupon ceasing.

Purpose of Activities.

Whatever other activities of the War Industries Board may continue after January 1 will be solely for the purpose of winding up the affairs of the board, disposing in lawful manner of its property and effects, and arranging, indexing, and inventorying its files and records.

In thus announcing the final wind-up of the War Industries Board, the chairman can not refrain from once more expressing his great appreciation of the devoted efforts of those associated with him in the direction of the board's activities, and of the whole-hearted and loyal cooperation of the industries of the country. Except for this devotion and loyalty and cooperation, the War Industries Board could not have met the responsibility placed upon it for the control and regulation of industry, in all its direct and indirect relations to the war and to the Nation.

The War Industries Board was established by Executive order of the President, dated May 28, 1918, under authority of the act of Congress, approved May 20, 1918, entitled "An act authorizing the President to coordinate or consolidate executive bureaus, agencies and offices, and for other purposes, in the interest of economy and more efficient concentration of the Government."

Duties of the Board.

It was charged with the duty of procuring an adequate flow of materials for the two great war making agencies of the Government—the War and Navy Departments—and for the two agencies in immediate affiliation with these military arms—the Emergency Fleet Corporation and the Railroad Administration.

Also the board was charged with the duty of providing supplies necessary to the military needs of our associates in the war and those commodities required by neutrals in exchange for materials essential to us.

Finally, it has been the duty of the board, in cooperation with the Food, Fuel, and Labor Administrations, to provide for the civilian needs of the country.

Twofold Problem.

There was the twofold problem of stimulating and expanding production in those industries making war essentials, and of protecting as far as possible those industries not immediately essential to the war program. It has been the policy of the board, where retrenchment and curtailment were necessary, to keep alive, even though it was necessary to skeletonize, the enterprises in the latter group, and not to destroy them. Wherever possible industries were converted from non-war production to essential output.

It functioned through regulation in agreement with other executive branches of the basic economic elements: (a) Facilities; (b) materials; (c) fuel; (d) transportation; (e) labor; and (f) capital. Its method of control was through a preference list on which were placed those industries whose output was essential to the war's programs. The priority indicated by the preference list was the master key to the six elements named.

Furthermore, the board regulated all, and controlled certain other, industries of first-rate war importance. It fixed prices; it created new and converted old facilities; it cleared national business requirements; and through conservation bridged the gap between the extraordinary demand and the available supply.

CABLEGRAM OF APPRECIATION SENT BY GENERAL PERSHING

Warm commendation for the work of the State Department through the War Trade Board in getting the United States Army what it needed was expressed in a cablegram from Gen. John J. Pershing, made public by the War Trade Board.

The cablegram, transmitted by the adjutant general to Vance McCormick, chairman of the board, said:

"The departure of Mr. George McFadden, representative of the War Trade Board, for the United States gives me occasion to express my great appreciation of the able, resourceful, and continuous cooperation of the State Department through the War Trade Board at Washington and its representatives here with the American Expeditionary Forces.

"We never called for assistance upon the War Trade Board without receiving instant and effective response.

"The closeness of understanding and intelligent cooperation of the board with our Army organization in France contributed in great degree to American success.

"PERSHING."

Cancellation Announced By the War Trade Board Of License Agreements

The War Trade Board announces in a new ruling (W. T. B. R. 454) that in all cases where licenses for the exportation of any commodity have been granted in consideration of an agreement that the consignment of such commodity so licensed would be used only for certain specific purposes, the parties executing such agreement are hereby released therefrom, except in the case of agreements which affect coal or coke, motion-picture films, or news-print paper. Exporters should note that this release does not in any way relieve them from the requirements of the trading-with-the-enemy act.

ENDS PERMITS TO IMPORT LABOR FROM MEXICO AND WEST INDIES

The United States Department of Labor authorizes the following:

No more permits for the importation of Mexican and West Indian labor will be granted, and permits already granted will be void after January 15. Aliens permitted to enter temporarily for war work will be repatriated gradually.

During the war, considerable numbers of Mexicans entered the country to work on the farms, on railroads, in mines, and on Government construction. Laborers who had formerly worked on Government construction in the Canal Zone came to supply war needs, and Bahamans were used for farm labor in Florida, to man small vessels of the Florida fishing fleet, and to perform manual labor on Government contracts. The need for these workers no longer exists, and reestablishment of restrictions is considered advisable.

Porto Ricans in Class by Themselves.

Porto Ricans are not classified with other types of war emergency labor. They stand in a class by themselves; the immigration law does not apply to them, and there are other reasons than war emergencies involved in their admission. No change of policy is made with respect to them.

Aliens from Canada are grouped in three classes: Harvest and lumber workers, skilled laborers and quasi-skilled laborers, and fishermen from the Maritime Provinces, with whom are included for convenience fishermen from Newfoundland. No changes immediately will be made with reference to harvesters and lumbermen, these being more or less seasonal occupations, and still necessary in the production of foodstuffs and ship timber.

The admission of quasi-skilled laborers from Canada will be discontinued at once, and the present arrangements whereby skilled laborers are admitted only when they can not be employed in their own countries, and when those countries have given their consent to their departure, will be continued for the present. Conference on this subject is underway between the two Governments.

Many alien fishermen from Canada and Newfoundland have been employed by the New England fishing fleet. It is not intended to discontinue this practice immediately.

Laborers from Bahama Islands.

As regards laborers from the Bahama Islands and Jamaica (the latter coming from the Canal Zone), as indicated above, no further permits will be granted for their importation. Those admitted as agricultural laborers will be permitted to remain for the present agricultural season, or until the particular work for which they were imported has come to an end. Those admitted for Government work will be repatriated as the supplanting of Government arrangements for their employment by transfers to private concerns is not approved.

The same order applies to Mexican laborers who came for farming, railroad, mining, and construction work. In order to avoid unnecessary hardship to laborers whose admission has heretofore been authorized, a reasonable time is fixed for the complete operation of the order.

Mexican farm laborers already in this country may remain for the present crop season, the date of repatriation to be hereafter determined.

Railroad Laborers from Mexico.

Railroad laborers admitted from Mexico may remain until further order, with the understanding that the Railroad Administration will make the best use of them by transferring those who have been working in the more northern sections to sections where the climatic conditions are better adapted to them. If that can not be done, steps will be taken to return them to Mexico. Those brought here to work in mines will be returned as promptly as individual cases will permit. The matter of their stay will be considered in conference with the Railroad Administration.

The Department of Labor aims to bring about a total abrogation of war emergency labor permits, but feels that as to such for whose admission permission has been given this must be achieved gradually, and sufficient notice given so that no just cause for complaint may arise.

Will Consider Licenses For Exportation of Milk

The War Trade Board announces in a new ruling (W. T. B. R. 461) after consultation with the United States Food Administration, that they will now consider applications for licenses to export sweetened, condensed, evaporated, and powdered milk to all countries except those in Europe.

Exporters should acquaint themselves thoroughly with the import requirements of the country of destination before shipping, as in some of these countries regulations which were in force prior to the signing of the armistice are still in effect.

All necessary transportation arrangements should be made before moving goods to seaboard. The shortage of shipping space still prevents prompt exportation and the fact that an export license has been granted should not be considered by exporters as assurance that shipping space can be secured.

Expansion of America's After-the-War Trade Discussed In Annual Report by Secretary of Commerce Redfield

Discussing after-the-war trade of the United States, Secretary of Commerce Redfield, in his annual report urges an increase in the number of commercial attaches abroad and asks that the department be furnished funds for this purpose.

It is a matter of deep regret, says Mr. Redfield, that the department has not been furnished funds with which to increase the force of commercial attaches. Each of these officers has dealt with delicate and important matters with success and self-sacrifice. The commercial interests of the country abroad would be in even better condition than they are had the request of this department for a larger force of attaches been heeded. There is now an urgent, repeated call from Italy for a commercial attache at Rome. We hope to answer this call affirmatively.

After-War Trade Discussed.

The Statistical Bureau, says the report, has undertaken careful statistical studies of the normal world markets for important lines of merchandise, the object being to enable American manufacturers to prepare themselves for trade after the war. The first study published was devoted to the quantities, values, and sources of furniture imported by countries whose transactions exceeded $500,000 in value. It is issued under the title "Furniture imports of foreign countries." It is planned to issue a series of similar studies of other lines as rapidly as they can be prepared.

Recommendations.

Measured by the economic needs of the country and by the grave responsibility of postwar competition, the bureau should be expanded substantially in every branch of its service.

New attaches should be assigned to a number of important capitals, especially Athens, Rome, Madrid, Ottawa, Mexico City, and Santiago, Chile. We should also establish at the earliest possible moment resident trade commissioners in Sweden, Norway, Great Britain, France, Greece, Switzerland, Russia, Mexico, Bolivia, Uruguay, Brazil, Colombia and Venezuela, Dutch East Indies, China, Philippine Islands, British India, Japan, Malay Peninsula, Egypt, South Africa, Australia, and New Zealand. The value of resident representatives is too obvious to require any argument for the extension of this feature of our service.

The field for European investigations by special agents immediately upon the conclusion of the war will be so extensive that the bureau will require greatly increased funds.

The Foreign Bureau.

Our country, says the report, is looking to the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce to do its share in preparing the country for economic security and prosperity after the war, when the chief industrial and commercial forces in both hemispheres will be ready to launch great organizations on the commercial seas in quest of trade. The instinct of commercial self-preservation demands organized action. This is not the time for short-sighted thrift. Other countries are looking ahead and spending money to organize for their commercial security. A wisely liberal preparation now will mean millions of income some day to this country, will mean industrial prosperity for our labor, and will mean strength for our economic structure against adverse conditions or sharper competition from any quarter. No country has excelled us in the type of commercial service which we have for six years past rendered to the business community, and this position should be maintained by us regardless of our temporary absorption in military defense.

Estimates for the Fiscal Year.

The estimates for the fiscal year 1920, aggregating $39,727,740, exceed the estimates for the fiscal year 1919, amounting to $18,156,065, by $21,571,675, and exceed the appropriations for 1919, amounting to $15,227,779.56, by the sum of $24,499,960.44.

The principal increases are shown in the estimates for the Bureau of the Census, which under the law must take up the preparation for and the taking of the fourteenth decennial census, the work in connection with which will extend over a period of three years, beginning with July 1, 1919, and ending June 30, 1922.

Personnel of Department.

A table by bureaus shows the number of permanent positions in the department on July 1, 1918, and the increase or decrease as compared with July 1, 1917, as follows:

Encouragement to Workers.

Continuing, Mr. Redfield says:

It is the aim of the department to encourage its employees to acquire, in pursuance of their duties, as thorough a knowledge of the operations of the various services as possible, in order that whenever vacancies occur in higher-grade positions they may be filled by promotion. This policy leads to efficiency. By having competent employees ready to assume the duties of higher positions under present extraordinary conditions the department has been able to prevent a serious demoralization of the work owing to the unusually heavy drain on its trained force by separations. This serious drain is shown by the fact that 1,615 out of a total force of 6,398 regularly appointed employees, over 25 per cent, left the service during the year. There were only seven transfers from other departments or independent offices at a compensation greater than the usual entrance salary, and in each case it was specifically shown that the vacancies could not be adequately filled by promotion or transfer within the department.

Before the war we could secure clerks at the low entrance salary of $900; we can not do so now. These positions are needed for our work and to have them vacant means that the work is done at the expense of clerks in the higher grades whose duties have been increased because of the war.

The remedy for this situation is a higher entrance salary, but we can not provide this without congressional authority. The Government work must go on, but if it is to be done well it will be necessary to make the entrance salary $1,200 per annum, eliminating the $900 and $1,000 salaries for first-class clerks. A certain number of minor clerical positions, carrying a $1,000 salary, should continue and can be filled by persons whose services can be utilized for work of a minor character.

Hardest on the Low-Salaried.

The cost of living bears cruelly now upon those who fill the lower-salaried positions. It is hardly too much to say that a clerk paid $1,800 has had his salary cut in half within the last two years by the advance in prices, and for all practical purposes of living he stands where he would have stood two years ago had he then received $900 per annum. The facts are too well known to require argument. A spirit of humanity alone should lead to a radical readjustment of the entrance salaries.

Development of Waterways.

Discussing the various bureaus under his department, Secretary Redfield says:

An important step forward, which will be of great advantage to our commerce, was taken when the Director General of Railroads assumed, on behalf of the Government for the period of the war, the operation of the Cape Cod and the Delaware and Raritan Canals, the latter being operated in connection with the New York State Barge Canals. Every economic, military, and naval argument points to the importance of the earliest possible development of a Government-

Annual Report Submitted by Chief of Construction and Repair Bureau

During the fiscal year ended June 30, 1918, the expansion of the Bureau of Construction and Repair kept pace with the general naval expansion incident to the war, says the annual report of the chief of bureau to the Secretary of the Navy. This fact is better illustrated by a few figures than by many words. For the fiscal year ended June 30, 1916, the total expenditures controlled entirely by the bureau, plus expenditures in connection with the construction of new vessels controlled jointly with the Bureau of Steam Engineering, amounted in round figures to $32,000,000. The same expenditures for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1917, amounted to $57,500,000. For the last fiscal year, however, they increased to $157,500,000, an increase of some 400 per cent as compared with 1916.

On July 1, 1916, the total force of the bureau—officers, clerks, and technical employees—numbered 145. The same force on July 1, 1917, numbered 233. On July 1, 1918, this force had increased to 556—an increase, as compared with 1916, of nearly 300 per cent.

The work of the bureau has increased in every phase and aspect, as indicated by the above figures, and could be accomplished only by exceptional zeal and devotion to duty of the bureau's force. It is a pleasure to report that the necessary zeal and devotion has been shown in full measure by the whole force.

Reorganization of Divisions.

The expansion of the year required some changes of organization, principally in the direction of subdivision of existing divisions into manageable sections and the formation of new divisions. The divisions of the bureau and their functions, as rearranged during the year, are as follows: Design, Production, Maintenance, Administration, Contracts, Shore establishments, Supply, Aircraft.

New Construction.

During the year naval construction was concentrated upon light vessels. First, the wooden 110-foot submarine chasers; then destroyers, mine sweepers, seagoing tugs, etc. Work was largely, but not wholly, suspended upon capital ships, and with the construction of the lighter vessels well in hand, more energy will be devoted to the larger vessels during the present year. Three hundred and fifty-five submarine chasers were completed and commissioned during the fiscal year, and repeat orders were placed for nearly 100 more. Large orders for destroyers were placed with the five largest shipyards of the country, and facilities for destroyer building were increased.

Submarine Patrol Vessels.

In December, 1917, Mr. Henry Ford, of Detroit, offered to undertake the construction for the Navy of submarine patrol vessels and to put the whole energy of his great organization back of the undertaking. The department accepted the offer and placed an order with the Ford company for a large number of steel patrol vessels upon departmental designs. These vessels were subsequently designated "Eagles." It was necessary for the Ford company to build a new plant for fabricating and assembling the hulls, in addition to arranging for building machinery in their existing plants. The Ford company has prosecuted this undertaking with the greatest energy. In view of the fact that the channels from the lakes will be frozen in December, in addition to the plant near Detroit, a supplementary erecting plant has been authorized near Newark, N. J., in order that the delivery of completed "Eagles" may continue through the winter. The first "Eagle" has just completed satisfactory trials.

Aircraft Division.

No part of the bureau has expanded more rapidly during the year than the Aircraft Division. In view of the comparatively few engineers in the country with experience in aeronautical design and production, the organization and expansion of the Aircraft Division has been a heavy strain upon the few officers of the Construction Corps with experience along these lines at the time of the outbreak of the war. The bureau has been successful, however, in obtaining for its Aircraft Division a number of experts whose experience in aircraft design and construction dated from the pioneer days of the art.

Satisfactory types of training seaplanes had been developed before the war and their production has been continued without serious difficulty. The rate of production was adequate by the 1st of January, and the flying schools now have a surplus of training seaplanes, with a reserve stock in storage.

While production has been concentrated upon standardized types of seaplanes, much design and development work has been undertaken, the nature of which it is not proper to discuss at this time.

The aircraft activities of the bureau have by no means been restricted to seaplanes. During the past year the use of the kite balloon in connection with vessels has increased, and there has developed a demand for it in our service. Since this type of aircraft had never been developed in this country, a suitable foreign type was imported and copied. This has been put into quantity production, and the supply is now in excess of the demand.

Production.

At the outbreak of the war but few concerns in this country were engaged in aircraft and motor construction, and there was great difficulty and some delay in obtaining production from the expanded concerns and the new concerns with whom it was necessary to place orders. Through the Aircraft Board certain concerns were designated to work exclusively for the Navy and others to work partly for the Navy, their remaining facilities being devoted to Army work. Attempts were made to encourage these manufacturers in every reasonable way, and their efforts toward production have finally been successful. Delays occurred due to various causes, such as lack of plans, difficulties in obtaining material, and difficulties of organization and operation of the aircraft companies themselves, which could hardly be avoided when undertaking large expansions under the conditions existing during the year.

In June, 1917, in view of the fact that the aircraft manufacturing capacity of the United States was not sufficient to take care of the country's needs, the idea of a naval aircraft factory came into being. After preliminary investigation and recommendation of the bureau, the Secretary of the Navy on July 27, 1917, authorized the construction of the naval aircraft factory in the navy yard, Philadelphia, to be under the general direction of the commandant of the navy yard, but to be operated independently of existing yard departments.

On March 27, 1918, the first factory-built boat was successfully flown, and early in June, 1918, the full capacity of the original factory was reached. At this time it employed about 2,000 men and women. The authorized expansions are now practically completed, multiplying the capacity of the factory about four times, and the number of employees, when working at full capacity, will be about 6,000.

Camouflage.

The question of painting vessels with a view of lessening the danger of successful submarine attack upon them was an important one throughout the year. This question is one that affects Shipping Board vessels as well as naval vessels, and for the purpose of avoiding the development of duplicate organizations an arrangement was made with the Emergency Fleet Corporation by which the Bureau of Construction and Repair undertook the preparation of camouflage designs for all vessels and research work on the general question of protective painting, while the Emergency Fleet Corporation formed an organization to superintend the application of camouflage designs to all vessels, the cost of painting being paid for by the department under which the vessel is operating. The Bureau, in addition to the expansion of its force as necessary for the preparation of designs and the general supervision of experimental work, has equipped a laboratory for research work at Rochester, N. Y. Up to October 1, 1918, 1,127 vessels had been specially painted with designs prepared by the bureau.

EXPANSION OF AMERICA'S AFTER-THE-WAR TRADE.

owned waterway corresponding with what is commonly known as the Atlantic intracoastal waterway, connecting all the great cities of our Atlantic seaboard with one another, with the New York State waterways, reaching to the Great Lakes and Lake Champlain, and with all the railroad terminals along our eastern coast. Such a waterway, safe alike from the effects of storms and from the acts of enemies, would be a great asset to the Nation if it were available to-day. The development of the use of our internal waterways having been taken over by the Railroad Administration, this department retains an interest in them only because of their effect in promoting our commerce.

Work of Steamboat-Inspection Service During War Reviewed in Annual Report

The annual report of the Steamboat-Inspection Service shows that the force inspected and certificated 7,015 vessels with a total gross tonnage of 8,464,696, of which 6,788 were domestic vessels with a total of 6,846,356, and 227 were foreign passenger steam vessels with a total gross tonnage of 1,618,340.

Licenses were issued to 32,458 officers of all grades. There were examined for visual defects 11,715 applicants for license, of whom 206 were found color-blind or with other visual defects and rejected. Certificates of service were issued to 8,334 able seamen, and 600 were rejected. Certificates of efficiency were issued to 5,101 lifeboat men, and 736 were rejected.

Total Lives Lost, 500.

The total number of accidents resulting in loss of life was 217. The total number of lives lost was 500, of which 77 were passengers. Of the lives lost, 147 were from suicide, accidental drowning, and other causes beyond the power of the Service to prevent, leaving a loss of 353 lives as fairly chargeable to accidents, collisions, foundering, etc. There was a decrease of 92 in the number of lives lost as compared with the previous fiscal year. Passengers to the number of 335,141,118 were carried on vessels required by law to make report of the number of passengers carried. Dividing this number by 77, the total number of passengers lost, shows that 4,352,382 passengers were carried for each passenger lost. Thirteen hundred and fifty-six lives were saved by means of life-saving appliances required by law.

Prosecution of the War.

The report continues:

The Steamboat Inspection Service has had the honor of occupying an important position in the prosecution of the war against Germany, and has done everything that it could do to make its functioning more efficient. This has been done by improving methods of administration in such manner as to avoid or relieve congested condition, by the adoption of regulations adjusted to war conditions, by the inspection of vessels, by the licensing of men, by investigation of alleged instances of disloyalty on the part of licensed officers, by securing the enactment by Congress of important legislation affecting this service, and by the personnel of the service serving on important committees of other branches of the Government.

Particular attention has been given to the adoption of regulations for the inspection of vessels that were applicable to war conditions to the end that there might not only be safety, but also that the pressure upon shipping might be intelligently relieved.

Esprit de Corps.

The bureau makes special mention of the faithful work of the employees of the service. Not only have inspectors worked day and night in the inspecting of vessels and the licensing of men, but the clerks have been quite as faithful, for it is to be remembered that the clerical work has increased enormously as result of war time conditions. The employees of the Steamboat Inspection Service may well consider, whether men or women, that they have been, in fact, soldiers of the great republic, and that while they did not wear uniforms, they were, nevertheless, engaged in work quite as important to the welfare of the Nation as the men in the trenches or on board naval ships.

When you buy war-savings stamps you do not give—you receive.
