

PROGRESS IN SETTLEMENT FOR MUNITIONS SUPPLIED TO THE UNITED STATES BY FRANCE AND ENGLAND

STATEMENT ISSUED BY SECRETARY OF WAR

*Details as to Artillery and Artillery Ammunition Being Satisfactorily Worked Out — "Helpful and Just Spirit" Shown by Both
British and French Governments in Dealing With Complex Problems.*

Press statement by the Secretary of War, December 30, 1918:

"Mr. Stettinius has brought me the details of two or three settlements worked out with the British and French Governments with regard to artillery and artillery ammunition.

Details Working Out.

"While these details are too intricate to be briefly explained now, they are very satisfactory and show an accommodating, helpful, and just spirit on the part of both the British and French Governments in dealing with the complex problems. This has reference to orders which had been placed with those governments for artillery and artillery ammunition manufactured by them and supplied to us. We had very large orders in both countries.

Pay for All Delivered.

"The adjustments have been satisfactory; we will pay for what has been delivered to us and for some relatively small additions still to be completed and turned over to us, and all the rest are canceled. Speaking loosely, this cancels about two-thirds of our prospective obligations."

TO ASSUME EXECUTIVE DUTIES OF TRAINING CAMP COMMISSION

The War Department authorizes the following statement:

In compliance with a request from the Commission on Training Camp Activities, and under authority given in a letter from the Secretary of War dated December 7, 1918, the Third Assistant Secretary of War has directed Maj. Jason S. Joy, F. A., U. S. A., Maj. J. H. Buell, In-

New Year Greeting of the Secretary of War To All Soldiers of the United States Army

On this first day of a new and inviting year I am happy to send by these means holiday greetings to the officers and men of the United States Army. We look forward to a realization of the objects of victory, the fine purposes of peaceful pursuits and reconstruction along lines more stable than civilization has ever known.

As rapidly as possible the men who have served in the great military enterprise are now returning to civil life, the vast majority of them better equipped physically than they were one or two years ago and all, I firmly believe, spiritually better by token of a consciousness of duty nobly done. Every citizen who thinks of the incalculable service that the uniformed forces of the Nation have accomplished will join with me in a sincere wish that our land will yield to them prosperity and plentifulness, opportunity abounding, with new sources of happiness and contentment. The future of the United States will very largely be determined by the young men who have constituted the fighting forces in this war. I have had exceptional opportunity to know them and they have confirmed in a very large way my estimate of their courage, ability, and high purposes, and on that knowledge I foresee a marvelous national development.

WAR RISK MARINE INSURANCE RATES ORDERED WITHDRAWN

The Secretary of the Treasury issues the following order:

"It is hereby directed that after five days from the date of this order (December 30, 1918) all rates of premium fixed for insurance by the Marine and Seaman's Division, Bureau of War Risk Insurance, shall be withdrawn.

"This order shall not affect the applications for insurance which have been received and accepted by the bureau prior to such withdrawal, but policies shall be issued as heretofore.

"Since it appears to the Secretary of the Treasury that vessel owners, shippers, and importers are able to secure adequate war risk insurance on reasonable terms, no further rates of premium will be fixed or published for the time being."

This action is taken in view of the disappearance of war hazards to shipping since the signing of the armistice.

These officers will function under the direction of the Third Assistant Secretary of War, as far as the War Department is concerned, and under the supervision of the Commission on Training Camp Activities, which will, on January 3, 1919, assume the status of a deliberative body.

Training camp activities will be continued during the period of demobilization and certain features will be embraced by the regular Army.

FINDS DE HAVILAND 4 PLANE UNSUITED FOR MAIL CARRYING

Structure Not Designed For Cross-Country Flight With Burden, Post Office Department Says.

The Post Office Department authorizes the following:

Extensive field tests and service tests between New York and Chicago and between New York and Washington in actual carrying of the mail have demonstrated that the De Haviland 4 is not a type of machine feasible for cross-country flying with a load of mail. The department has succeeded in sending planes through to Chicago, Bryan and Cleveland, Ohio, and Bellefonte, Pa., and making a number of successful trips carrying mail between New York and Washington, with the De Haviland planes, but its structure is not designed for carrying burdens, and machines have crumpled in making landings and in taking off for flights, because they are not adapted for cross-country work in carrying loads.

Heavier Machine.

For this reason a heavier machine will be necessary and such planes are now being set up from the parts in the possession of the Post Office Department. Such planes have proven successful on the New York-Washington route with no casualties and comparatively few had accident to the planes. The War Department has turned over to the Post Office Department the material for 12 twin-motor Handley-Page aeroplanes and these will be set up for use on the New York-Chicago route. Until this new equipment can be placed in the service the route from New York to Cleveland and Chicago, which was to have gone into effect January 2, will be postponed.

Turned Back to War Department.

The Post Office Department has tried out the De Haviland planes turned over to it by the War Department and in every way given them a thorough test, and it is found that they are not constructed so as to be serviceable for cross-country flying carrying the weight of mail. All of these planes—about 100—have been turned back to the War Department.

NEW MARINE CREW BUREAU.

Central Agency to Employ Men for Service on Shipping Board Vessels.

The United States Shipping Board announces that beginning with the new year crews for all merchant vessels operated by the board will be placed in employment through a central agency to be known as the Sea Service Bureau of the United States Shipping Board.

This agency will have offices in principal American ports, and through it not only seamen but masters, mates, and engineers; in fact, the proverbial "all hands and the cook" will be signed on for sea duty. Vessels privately operated will be given the privilege of shipping crews through the bureau on the same

SHIPPING BOARD TO RELEASE CERTAIN REQUISITIONED SHIPS

Announcement is made by Mr. John A. Donald, Acting Chairman of the United States Shipping Board, that the board has decided to release from requisition American merchant vessels of up to and including 4,000 tons deadweight capacity, with the exception of certain vessels required for military purposes. Each vessel will be released on its next arrival at a United States port. The operation of such released vessels will still be subject, until further notice, to control of rates and approval of trades, and the board, of course, retains the right to requisition the vessels anew if military or other reasons should render that course desirable.

footing as those operated by the Shipping Board.

Capt. Irving L. Evans, of Cleveland, Ohio, a former shipmaster and an admiralty lawyer, was transferred from the board's recruiting service to head the new bureau, which was formed by combining an agency of the same name in the recruiting service with the existing shipping agencies of the board's division of operations that hitherto has manned the ships operated by the board.

In addition to placing experienced seafarers in employment, the new bureau will ship out for sea duty all the graduates of the Shipping Board's training system. These include large numbers of young Americans first introduced to sea life on the board's training ships and also experienced sailors and engineers trained as officers at the board's free schools of navigation and engineering.

MEAT SELECTION AND GRADING RESUMED BY ARMY AND NAVY

Selection and grading of fresh beef for the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, and the allies, which was begun at Chicago November 4 by the Bureau of Markets and the Bureau of Animal Industry of the United States Department of Agriculture, and immediately extended to other principal packing points, was discontinued December 21 owing to the discontinuation of allotment of beef orders through the Food Administration for the fighting forces. The Army and Navy have now relieved the Department of Agriculture, which was requested to perform the service temporarily.

Modifications Recommended.

The Department of Agriculture has recommended the permanent adoption of essential modifications in the former specifications, so as to provide for acceptance of well-finished lightweight cattle and heifers of suitable quality, and for basing purchase prices on specified grades of dressed beef. The effect of these modifications is to throw the influence of Government beef purchases toward the establishment of natural differentials in market prices of live cattle.

The application of this policy to Government purchases of beef has an important bearing on the economic welfare of the cattle industry through proper recognition on the markets of the different grades of cattle, with consequent encouragement of production of the better grades.

ASKS RETURNED NAVAL OFFICERS TO ATTEND WEEKLY CONFERENCE

Secretary Daniels Invites Three Admirals and Ten Captains to Council Meeting.

Secretary Daniels announces that he has asked the three admirals and the ten captains just back from service abroad with the battleship fleet to participate in the weekly council meeting which he holds with all the bureau chiefs of the department each Thursday noon.

At the conference next Thursday, January 2, a number of matters of importance will be taken up and the Secretary, desires to have these men who took so prominent a part in the naval activities abroad to participate in the conference with the department heads in a general exchange of ideas.

The returning officers who will attend the council are:

Admiral Henry T. Mayo, Rear Admirals Hugh Rodman and T. S. Rodgers; Capts. L. M. Nulton, Victor Blue, Montgomery M. Taylor, Louis R. de Steiguer, John H. Dayton, E. L. Beach, William C. Cole, C. McVay, H. H. Christy, and F. B. Bassett.

PRECAUTIONS TAKEN TO GUARD HEALTH OF RETURNING SOLDIERS

Surg. Gen. Rupert Blue, of the United States Public Health Service, has ordered that extraordinary precautions be taken and great influence exercised in order that exotic epidemic diseases may not be carried into this country with disastrous results by the returning soldiers.

Among the diseases especially to be feared are cholera, typhus plague, and the venereal diseases.

Officers Sent to Europe.

Officers of the Public Health Service trained in quarantine procedure either have been sent to various ports in Europe, or will be sent as the occasion may arise. It is expected that compliance with the quarantine regulations, as bearing on returning troops, will be effected by the cooperation of the United States military authorities in the examination, delousing, and disinfection, when necessary, of the troops prior to embarkation.

The recently created Division of Venereal Diseases has already, with the cooperation of the Commission on Training Camp Activities and local State boards of health, established headquarters and provided regulations to prevent the spread of these diseases in the States.

Production of Both Soft And Hard Coal Decreases

The weekly report on the production and shipment of bituminous coal, shipments of anthracite coal, beehive and by-product coke compiled by the Geological Survey, Department of the Interior, December 28, 1918, shows a decrease in the production of bituminous coal in the week ended December 21 of nearly 500,000 tons compared with the previous week. The estimated average daily output decreased from 1,831,000 tons in the week ended December 14 to 1,689,000 tons in the week ended December 21. Production in the week of December 21, 1917, was greater by about 800,000 tons than that recorded in the corresponding week of 1918.

The production of anthracite in the week ended December 21 is estimated at 1,839,000 net tons, a decrease compared with 1,924,000 tons the previous week, but a gain compared with the corresponding week of 1917. The total production from April 1 to date is estimated at 72,541,000 net tons, about 1,400,000 tons less than in the corresponding period of 1917.

Little change was reported in the production of by-product coke, the output for the week ended December 21, 579,268 net tons, representing only a slight decrease below the previous week.

NEW YEAR GREETINGS TO STATE DEPARTMENT'S EMPLOYEES

The Acting Secretary of State, Mr. Polk, to-day issued the following to the officers and employees of the State Department:

As the year 1918 draws to its close, I wish, in the absence of the Secretary, to take this opportunity of wishing you a Happy New Year and also expressing the pride we who are charged with directing the various activities of the Department of State feel in the work that has been done during the period of the war by the men and women of the department. It was a temptation to many to leave and seek places in the public eye more spectacular and better paid, but you realized that there was no more essential nor more important service for the country than the service in this department, and you labored on faithfully in cramped quarters, knowing no hours and making financial sacrifices, doing your duty as patriotic men and women where you knew your duty lay. I congratulate you on your splendid record. The officers of the department appreciate what you have done and are deeply grateful to you, but above all you have the personal satisfaction of knowing your work was well done.

NORMAL TRAINING COURSE FOR EMPLOYMENT EXAMINERS

The Department of Labor issues the following:

A conference of far-reaching importance will be held in Washington, beginning January 6, when the United States Employment Service of the Department of Labor opens a two weeks' normal training course for examiners. Upon the completion of the course those who have acceptably passed through it will be sent out a trained and efficient staff to make standard the use of a common agency under the Government for labor distribution and placement.

Thirty employees of the Employment Service have been designated to take the

NATIONAL ENROLLMENT WEEK FOR BOYS' WORKING RESERVE

William B. Wilson, Secretary of Labor, has requested the governors of the various States to set aside the week beginning Monday, January 20, 1919, as National Enrollment Week for the United States Boys' Working Reserve, that branch of the United States Employment Service that aided so materially in food production on the farms last summer.

In his statement designating the week of January 20-26 as Enrollment Week, the Secretary says:

"The importance of setting aside a special week in order to bring to the attention of the young men of the Nation the all but overwhelming needs of impoverished Europe, is so obvious as to require no accentuation from me. A very large part of the task of rebuilding a devastated world belongs to the young men of this Nation. It is not enough that the whole Nation shall have been mobilized to win the great war; it is vital that the whole Nation shall be mobilized to help broken Europe to its feet and to set it once more into the paths of felicitous progress.

"I trust that the young men of the country of 16 years and over, not now permanently employed, and especially the boys in our high schools, will respond to this new appeal as they so finely responded to that other appeal made to them one year ago; that they will enter heartily into the work of bringing relief to populations appallingly destitute; and that they will join the United States Boys' Reserve to finish what has been so well begun. The war has been won. The far more difficult task remains to secure for the highest interest of mankind, the fruits of victory."

first course, on completion of which they will be returned to their own States, so far as possible, and there will train their own examiners for service.

Men from 15 States have been selected to attend this first conference and take the course, and will generally be assigned to field work in pairs.

Instructional talks on the scope and methods of the service will be given by administration officers in charge of the various divisions of the work and topics of major importance dealing with the part of the Employment Service in the whole field of industrial adjustment will be discussed at evening lectures by men who are leaders in shaping the labor program for the country.

Official Set of Instructions.

At this conference there will be issued an official set of instructions covering the same topics for the work in the States, thus gaining uniformity of instruction to local officers. The course is an intensive one, embodying thoroughness and breadth of instruction, as may be inferred from a glance at the program and plan of study. Many prominent persons will give the students the benefit of their experience and study of the subject, which, it is agreed, is one of the great vital problems with which the Government has to deal.

FARMERS CAN BUY NITRATE FROM DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

The Secretary of Agriculture has announced that, under the authority of the food control act and subsequent legislation, the Department of Agriculture during the coming season will offer nitrate of soda for sale to farmers for fertilizer use. The nitrate will be sold for cash at cost. The price to the farmers will be $81 a short ton, free on board cars at the loading point or port. In addition, the farmer will have to pay the freight charges to unloading point and any incidental expenses that he may himself incur in connection with the delivery of the nitrate.

Plan of Distribution.

The plan used in the sale and distribution of the nitrate will follow in a general way last year's plan. State directors of extension, county agricultural agents, and nitrate committees, composed of local business men, will direct farmers in filing their applications. Application blanks to be used by farmers will be sent to county agents and the members of local committees at an early date.

Under the law the nitrate will be sold only for cash, and the farmer will be required to deposit the money covering the cost of the nitrate for which he applies with the local bank, association, or individual to be designated by the department.

Through County Distributors.

In practically all counties distribution of the nitrate will be made through county distributors. If the quantity of nitrate that can be secured will fill all orders each farmer will be allotted the amount applied for; otherwise, it will be necessary to allot the nitrate proportionately to those applying for it, so that all may participate on equal terms in its distribution. Arrangements have been made to secure a large quantity of nitrate, and unless the demands should prove very much greater than anticipated there will be enough nitrate to supply all reasonable requirements. The distribution will be handled, as last year, through the Bureau of Markets.

Mail for Mesopotamia, Palestine and Syria

OFFICE OF SECOND ASSISTANT POSTMASTER GENERAL, Washington, December 26, 1918.

Based upon an announcement of the London office, letters, ordinary and registered, of a personal and domestic nature may be accepted addressed to any territory occupied by the allied military forces in Palestine or Syria.

Like articles may be accepted for Abul Khasib, Amara, Bagdad, Basra, Basra City, Fao, Nasariyeh, Qalat Saleh, Sukesh-Sheyukh, and Zubair, in Mesopotamia, although the London office states the service is not necessarily restricted to the localities mentioned (where there are agencies of the British India post office) as there have doubtless been recent extensions of the service to other places in Mesopotamia.

Secretary Glass Assumes Chairmanship Of the International High Commission; Vote of Thanks to Mr. McAdoo Adopted

Secretary Glass yesterday presided for the first time over a meeting of the United States Section of the International High Commission. Formal handing over to Secretary Glass of the chairmanship of the United States Section and of the presidency of the Central Executive Council of the commission was made by his predecessor, former Secretary McAdoo. The commission took up the questions raised in the report of the secretary-general for the last quarter of 1918.

Resolution of Thanks to Mr. McAdoo.

A resolution of thanks to Mr. McAdoo for his leadership in the work of the commission was unanimously adopted. Due to his initiative, the First Pan American Financial Conference was held in 1915 and the International High Commission was established in order to carry out the recommendations of that conference. The commission consists of all the Ministers of Finance of the American Republics, each Minister of Finance presiding over a national section comprised of eight jurists or financiers.

John Bassett Moore, vice chairman of the commission, in moving the vote of thanks and in paying special tribute to Mr. McAdoo's unremitting interest in promoting closer financial and commercial relations with the republics of this continent said:

Vice Chairman Moore's Tribute.

"Great capacity finds its opportunity in great emergencies. Out of the pent-up play of elemental forces there breaks upon the world, from time to time, a bewildering crisis, when only brilliant initiative, combining the power to see clearly, to think quickly, and to act effectively, can meet the demands of the occasion. When this combination presents itself, we recognize in its embodiment the man of the hour.

"To such a man the International High Commission owes its origin. The days following the outbreak of the Great War in 1914 were days of darkness, uncertainty, and confusion. The exchanges of the world and commercial transactions everywhere were thrown into sudden disorder. Although the main conflict of arms took place on the continent of Europe, maritime war immediately spread to all the seas, and involved the interests of the American nations not only in their intercourse with non-American powers, but also in their intercourse one with another.

Pan American Financial Conference.

"It was in these circumstances that the Pan American Financial Conference was convened, early in 1915, under the presidency of Mr. McAdoo. It was a measure of his own creation; but, with a vision extending beyond the immediate present, it was designed to meet not only the emergent, but also the future and permanent needs of the American nations. To tide over an emergency is proof of resourcefulness; to draw from it enduring benefits is the task of constructive statesmanship. International American conferences, political, commercial, economic, literary, and scientific, had come and, to a greater or less extent, had gone, leaving after them no established organization for the systematic and continuous carrying out of a definite program. This prime requisite the Pan American Financial Conference, distinctively dealing with the commercial and financial needs of the American continents, first supplied, by the constitution of the International High Commission, a composite body represented in each American Republic by a national section of not more than nine members, of which the minister of finance, or, in the United States, the Secretary of the Treasury, is ex officio the chairman. The International High Commission is the aggregate of the members of the national sections. The United States section was placed upon a regular legislative basis by the act of Congress of February 7, 1916.

First General Meeting.

"For the more effective coordination and direction of the work the International High Commission, at its first general meeting, which was held at Buenos Aires in April, 1916, created, as its common organ or agency, a central executive council, consisting of a president, a vice president, a secretary general, and an assistant secretary general, and assigned to these positions, respectively, the chairman, vice chairman, secretary, and assistant secretary of the United States section.

"The program of the International High Commission, as laid down by the Pan American Financial Conference at Washington, covered a wide but well-considered range, embracing: (1) The establishment of a gold standard of value; (2) bills of exchange, commercial paper, and bills of lading; (3) the uniform (a) classification of merchandise, (b) customs regulations, (c) consular certificates and invoices, (d) port charges; (4) uniform regulations for commercial travelers; (5) the international protection of trade-marks, patents, and copyrights; (6) the establishment of a uniform low rate of postage and the improvement of money-order and parcels-post facilities between the American countries; and (7) the extension of the process of arbitration for the adjustment of commercial disputes.

Extension of Banking Facilities.

"In addition to these subjects, the International High Commission, at its meeting in Buenos Aires, dealt with the extension of banking facilities and of credits, and the stabilization of exchange; the uniformity of laws for the protection of merchant creditors; international agreements for uniform labor legislation; the question of uniformity of national regulations and policies regarding mineral oils; improved transportation facilities between the American Republics; and the telegraph facilities and rates, including the use of wireless telegraphy for commercial purposes.

"The work prescribed by the International High Commission has been steadily and energetically carried on. Valuable publications, intended to prepare the way for the measures which the commission has in view, have been prepared, printed, and circulated, and appreciable progress has been made in obtaining the adoption of those measures. Actual ameliorations of methods of customs administration have been secured in various quarters. Efforts have been made to relieve the burdens and inconveniences caused by the war. But, with a view to practical achievement, the Central Executive Council has singled out, and has pressed with special vigor, certain measures of a comprehensive and systematic nature; and I am glad to say that the results have been most gratifying and encouraging.

Patents and Trade-Marks.

"Among these measures one of the most important is that bringing into operation the convention adopted by the International American Conference at Buenos Aires, in 1910, for the protection of patents and trade-marks. By that convention the American Republics were divided into two groups, the southern and the northern. Of the southern group, Rio de Janeiro was designated as the official center, and of the northern, Habana; and at each of these capitals there was to be established an international bureau for the registration of trade-marks, so as to secure their international protection in the Americas. This treaty, so closely related to the interests of the countries concerned and not least to those of the United States, had lain dormant and unratified. The International High Commission took it up and brought about its ratification by the requisite number of Governments of the northern group, as a result of which the International Bureau, at Habana, is now on the point of beginning operations. It is hoped and expected that a similar result will soon be attained in the southern group.

Operations of Commercial Travelers.

"Another measure specially pressed is the convention to facilitate the operations of commercial travelers. In a number of the American countries local taxes, practically prohibitive in amount, on the operations of such travelers, have for many years existed. A convention was formulated by the Central Executive Council, and, after examination and revision, was submitted by the Department of State to the American Governments, looking to the substitution for all local taxes of a single national fee. This convention, first signed and ratified by the United States and Uruguay, has so far been accepted by eleven other countries.

"Another measure preferentially dealt with, because of its significance for the future as well as for the present, is the treaty for the establishment of an international gold clearance fund, the object of this treaty being not only to assure the safety of deposited gold and to avoid the necessity of its shipment when difficulties in transportation exist, but also to facilitate and stabilize exchange through the adoption of an international unit of account. This subject was very carefully studied by the International High Commission, at Buenos Aires; and, as a result of the subsequent cooperation of the Department of State and the Central Executive Council, a draft of a treaty, designed to give effect to the plan, has been presented to the American Republics, seven of which have so far accepted it. This treaty by its terms covers only the American nations; but it contains a principle the discussion of which has lately attracted wide attention and which may prove to be of incalculable value to the world in the future."

Preparation of Reports.

"Among the other activities of the International High Commission and its Central Executive Council, we may particularly mention the preparation and distribution of reports recommending the adoption of certain uniform measures as to bills of exchange, checks, bills of lading, and warehouse receipts, with the result that steps have been taken in some of the American countries toward legislation for that purpose. Moreover, following the example set by the agreement between the Chamber of Commerce of Buenos Aires and that of the United States in 1916, an advance has been made in several other quarters in the direction of the arbitration of commercial disputes. Close attention has also been given to the subject of ocean transportation, and constant efforts have been made to preserve the interests of the American countries in that regard.

"It is gratifying to state that the Central Executive Council has had in its work the hearty and active cooperation of various bodies, such as the American Bankers' Association, the Committee on Commercial Law of the Conference of Commissioners on Uniform State Laws, the United States Chamber of Commerce, and the National Foreign Trade Council. Their assistance has been helpful and reassuring.

Transfer of Office.

"As a result of the change in the headship of our Treasury Department, we witness today the formal transfer from one hand to another of the official scepter of power and guidance in the United States Section of the International High Commission and in the Central Executive Council. The occasion is not unlike that in which a good parent, who has nurtured his offspring and conducted it through the first stages of a vigorous and prosperous career confidently commits it to the care of a well chosen and exceptionally trusted guardian, whose wisdom and capacity have been amply proved. Mr. McAdoo, we are glad to learn, will maintain an official connection with the commission as a member of the United States Section; but, in relieving himself of the main burden of his charge, he no doubt rejoices in the bright promise which the future, under the able guidance of his successor, holds out. We who have, in our humble way, shared his solicitude and endeavored to cooperate in his aims, also congratulate ourselves upon the prospect."

At the close of the meeting a farewell luncheon was tendered to Mr. McAdoo by the members of the commission.

How America Has Met the Stupendous Expense of War Reviewed in Report of the Secretary of the Treasury

The Secretary of the Treasury in his annual report to the Speaker of the House of Representatives, dated December 2, 1918, says in part regarding the finances:

During the past year the stupendous financial needs of America and the nations associated with her in the prosecution of the war have been met. From a peace basis the Nation has gradually adjusted itself to a war basis. Nonessential industry has largely given way to essential industry.

The payment into the Treasury of vast sums in war taxes and from bond sales, and the transformation of our varied and complex economic life to the supreme task of winning the war, have been accomplished without shock or financial disturbance. The credit and business structure of the Nation remains sound and strong.

America's Inflexible Spirit.

The fundamental fact underlying these great economic achievements has been the inflexible spirit and purpose of America to secure for the world the blessings of that kind of liberty and justice in which America was conceived, and without which neither America nor civilization can exist. Falsely reputed by her enemies to be a heterogeneous people incapable of united action, America has revealed herself to the world as a solidified, homogeneous, altruistic, and unselfish nation, willing to expend her blood and treasure without stint for the vindication of her ideals and the rights of mankind.

The war has been won and peace is assured. Our heroes on land and sea have illumined the pages of America's glory with immortal deeds. Their achievements, with the valorous deeds of their comrades in arms, have given a new meaning to democracy and have brought a new order into being. May their splendid triumphs be unmarred by vengeance and unswayed by injustice. May the new peace of the world be in truth that peace of justice and humanity for which America has fought.

Results of the Liberty Loans.

The results of the four Liberty loans are a tribute to the patriotism of the American people and to the economic strength of the Nation. Following the first and second loans, which were discussed in the annual report of the Secretary of the Treasury for 1917, the third and fourth Liberty loans were offered and largely oversubscribed. Unaccustomed to the purchase of Government bonds, or, indeed, to the purchase of bonds of any sort, the American people responded to the calls of the Government with the most gratifying loyalty and patriotism. In the third Liberty loan $4,176,516,850 was subscribed by more than 18,300,000 people, an oversubscription of $1,176,516,850; in the fourth Liberty loan $6,989,047,000 was subscribed by more than 21,000,000 people, an oversubscription of $989,047,000.

These figures indicate the wide distribution of the bonds and the popular character of the loans. In addition to Liberty bonds, over $800,000,000 have been invested in war-savings certificates by the American people. These securities are assets of very great value in the hands of individuals and represent the benefits of saving and economy. The hope is earnestly expressed that with the return of peace the American people will continue to foster the habits of thrift and avoidance of waste. The happiness and prosperity of every people, individually and collectively, rest upon their ability to save more than they spend. The campaign for war savings should have a permanent effect in stimulating and encouraging peace savings. The habit of thrift is one of the benefits of the war that must be permanently secured to the American people.

Strengthening the National Finances.

Every effort has been made by the Treasury and related agencies to strengthen and protect the economic and business situation, whatever the duration of the war. The special instrumentalities created to meet the exceptional conditions have proved eminently successful. The War Finance Corporation has extended assistance to war industries and exercised functions of great value. The Capital Issues Committee has exerted a beneficial influence, and, as far as possible under the present law, has regulated the issue of securities in competition with the Government's loans. Farmers have been assisted through the farm-loan system and special measures have been taken for their protection in order to preserve the food supply of the Nation.

The pressure under which this report must be written, the limited time for its publication under the requirements of law, together with the rapidly changing conditions incident to the transition from war to peace, make it impossible to do more at the moment than to give a hastily prepared narrative of the work of the Treasury during the past year. The discussion of many of the policies and questions affecting the problems of the Treasury, which I should have been glad to incorporate, must be deferred to a more favorable time and when conditions have been more fully developed.

Situation Relating to Taxation.

The situation with regard to taxation for the fiscal years 1919 and 1920, however, has developed sufficiently to permit of a review of the problem at this time and to suggest a program which it is believed will meet the requirements of the Treasury and at the same time conserve the business and prosperity of the country. In view of the assurance of peace, it has accordingly been recommended to the Congress that the pending revenue bill be modified so as to yield $6,000,000,000 payable in the calendar year 1919 and not less than $4,000,000,000 payable in the calendar year 1920. This is a reduction of $2,000,000,000 for 1919 and a further reduction of $2,000,000,000 for 1920, as compared with the original estimate of $8,000,000,000, which was submitted in June, 1918, in preparation for a long war. The changed situation justifies this reduction, and it is respectfully suggested that a bill providing for this reduced taxation be written into law as promptly as possible, in order that the Treasury may be enabled to put it into effect.

Speedy Enactment Urged.

Unless the measure becomes a law in the near future, it will not be physically possible for the Treasury to frame the necessary regulations and to print and distribute the necessary forms before the returns and taxes will be due; the enforcement of the law will thereby be imperiled. Aside from the necessity of prompt determination of the taxes for the year 1919, it is believed to be imperative that the tax law for the year 1920 be enacted now in order that the people of the country may know in advance the rates and the subjects of taxation and the dimensions of the tax burden that must be imposed and applied to the business and industry of the country for the calendar year 1919. The wisdom of such action is emphasized by every sound economic consideration and wise tax policy. It is desirable and necessary from the viewpoint of the Treasury in financing the period of readjustment and from the viewpoint of business and labor and industry generally. We must lift the burdens of taxation from the people to the greatest possible extent during the period of readjustment now at hand, and by so doing we shall make more certain the continued prosperity of the country. The situation is discussed more in detail elsewhere in this report under the heading "Internal Revenue."

The Cost of the War.

The following is a statement of revised receipts and expenditures for the fiscal years ended June 30, 1917, and June 30, 1918:

FISCAL YEAR ENDED JUNE 30, 1917.
Receipts:
Ordinary and Panama Canal.....	$1,124,324,795.02
Public debt.....	2,428,017,799.61
Total receipts.....	$3,552,342,594.63
Expenditures:
Ordinary and Panama Canal.....	$1,107,798,181.74
Purchase of obligations of foreign Governments.....	885,000,000.00
Payment for Danish West Indian Islands.....	25,000,000.00
Subscriptions to stock, Federal land banks.....	8,880,315.00
Total ordinary and special expenditures.....	2,026,678,446.74
Public debt.....	677,544,782.25
Total expenditures.....	2,704,223,228.99

How America Has Met the Stupendous Expense of the War

FISCAL YEAR ENDED JUNE 30, 1918.

Receipts:
Ordinary and Panama Canal	$4,180,425,155.99
Public debt	16,974,889,209.61
Total receipts	$21,155,314,365.60
Expenditures:
Ordinary and Panama Canal	$8,892,464,988.32
Purchase of obligations of foreign Governments	4,739,434,750.00
Purchase of farm-loan bonds	64,171,551.98
Total ordinary and special expenditures	13,196,071,287.40
Public debt	7,706,879,075.18
Total expenditures	20,902,950,362.58

An analysis of the above table for the fiscal year 1917 shows that exclusive of public debt transactions the receipts for the year amounted to $1,124,324,795.02, and expenditures for the year $2,026,678,446.74, including $885,000,000 on account of the purchase of obligations of foreign Governments. From this it will be noted that, exclusive of public debt transactions, 55 per cent of the expenditures for the year were paid from revenue receipts. If the purchase of obligations of foreign Governments is deducted from the total ordinary and special expenditures—that is, expenditures exclusive of transactions in the public debt—the result is $1,141,678,446.74, and the above figures show that over 98.5 per cent of this amount was paid from revenue receipts.

A similar analysis of the table of revised receipts and expenditures for the fiscal year 1918 shows that, exclusive of transactions in the public debt, the receipts for the year were $4,180,425,155.99, and expenditures for the year $13,196,071,287.40. These figures indicate that, exclusive of public debt transactions, 31.6 per cent of the expenditures for the year were paid from revenue receipts. If the purchase of obligations of foreign Governments is deducted from the total ordinary and special expenditures—that is, expenditures exclusive of transactions in the public debt, the result is $8,456,636,537.40, and the above figures show that 49.4 per cent of this amount was paid from revenue receipts.

Analysis on a Peace Basis.

If it is assumed that the normal expenditures of the Government for the fiscal years 1917 and 1918 on a peace basis would have been $1,000,000,000 for each year the cost of the war up to June 30, 1918, would appear to be as shown in the following table:

Total ordinary and special expenditures for the fiscal year 1917	$2,026,678,446.74
Estimated normal expenditures for the year	1,000,000,000.00
Estimated war expenditures for the fiscal year 1917	$1,026,678,446.74
Total ordinary and special expenditures for the fiscal year 1918	13,196,071,287.40
Estimated normal expenditures for the year	1,000,000,000.00
Estimated war expenditures for the fiscal year 1918	12,196,071,287.40
Total estimated war expenditures to June 30, 1918	13,222,749,734.14

Amounts Not Permanently Absorbed.

With regard to the expenditures for 1917 and 1918, it must not be assumed that the entire amounts stated have been permanently absorbed because a large part of the expense (including ordinary expenditures and war expenditures) is represented by productive investments and will be reduced by salvage, etc. It would require several months to obtain the necessary data to analyze the expenditures for 1917 and 1918 for the purpose of giving an accurate statement of capital outlays, salvage, etc. The following table, however, incomplete as it is because of the lack of available information, will serve to point out some of the Government's investments and expenditures upon property of a permanent character during the fiscal year 1918:

Navy Department, new vessels, quipage, navy yards, stations, etc.	$425,000,000
War Department, land, construction equipment and extension of buildings (not including cantonments), railroads and marine equipment shop and power machinery, etc., and river and harbor works	370,000,000
Interior Department: Reclamation fund	5,000,000
Construction and operation of Alaskan railroads	11,000,000

Department of Agriculture, nitrate of soda for resale	$6,250,000
Treasury Department, public buildings under control of Treasury Department; i. e., post offices, courthouses, customhouses, etc.	10,000,000
Grain Corporation	50,000,000
War Finance Corporation	44,929,000
United States Shipping Board Emergency Fleet Corporation	770,000,000
Panama Canal construction	4,000,000
Purchase of obligations of foreign Governments	4,739,434,750
Purchase of farm-loan bonds	64,171,000
Total	6,499,784,750

It should be remembered that the figures in the foregoing tabulation represent costs during war time and do not include any allowance for depreciation.

The cash expenditures for the fiscal years 1917 and 1918, as published in the daily Treasury statements, and classified according to Government departments, and a statement of the public debt as of June 30, 1918, are attached as exhibits.

The report gives in detail the circumstances and conditions of the four Liberty Bond issues and continues:

War-Savings Certificates.

The sale of United States war-savings certificates and thrift stamps has been continued throughout the year without interruption. Not only have these securities given every man, woman, and child in the country, however small their means, an opportunity to invest in the obligations of their Government, but they have been the means of carrying the message of thrift and economy into every city, town, and hamlet, and, it is hoped, into every home in the country. In addition to yielding over eight hundred millions of dollars to assist the Government in the prosecution of the war, the war-savings certificates and thrift stamps have been the means of showing the people a way to save, and how rapidly, by the habit of thrift, the accumulation of small sums increases their prosperity. This war-time experiment has been so successful that it is hoped that war-savings certificates will become a continuing feature of the Nation's financing even after the restoration of peace.

Opposition Gradually Fades.

The campaign for the sale of war-savings certificates and thrift stamps opened on December 3, 1917, under the immediate supervision of the national war-savings committee appointed by the Secretary of the Treasury. State, county, city, and town committees were organized throughout the country and a campaign in the interest of thrift and economy was begun on a nation-wide scale. At first progress was slow. The gospel of thrift had not as yet been preached in any systematic way. The principle of "business as usual" was the antithesis of the principle of thrift during the war. The opening of the campaign resulted in much passive and some active opposition. The message of war savings, however, slowly but steadily gathered increasing momentum. The clamor for "business as usual" was heard less and less until it entirely faded away. The appeal of the war-savings campaign was gradually understood and it exercised a great influence in the readjustment of the economic life of the Nation.

Cooperation of Post Office.

From the beginning the Treasury has received the cordial and effective cooperation of the Postmaster General and the entire Postal Service. In addition to being on sale at every post office and by every rural carrier, war-savings certificates were placed on sale throughout the entire country by agents appointed by the Secretary of the Treasury, numbering on October 31, 1918, 233,287. All of these agents patriotically offered their services without compensation. Up to November 1, 1918, 151,361 war-savings societies had been formed to foster the spirit of thrift and economy among their members. It is hoped that these societies will perform an increasingly important role in the work of stimulating savings.

The cash receipts in the Treasury from the sale of war-savings and thrift stamps by months from December, 1917, to October, 1918, were as follows:

December, 1917	$10,236,451.32
January, 1918	24,559,722.15
February, 1918	41,148,244.22
March, 1918	53,967,864.49
April, 1918	60,972,984.12
May, 1918	57,956,640.12
June, 1918	58,250,483.00
July, 1918	211,417,942.61
August, 1918	129,044,206.62
September, 1918	97,614,581.48
October, 1918	89,084,097.31

How America Has Met the Stupendous Expense of the War

Up to November 1, 1918, the cash receipts totaled $834,253,213.44, representing an average maturity value estimated as slightly in excess of $1,000,000,000. The total redemptions up to September 30, 1918, were $7,552,839.44, being only 1 per cent of the cash receipts.

Loans to Foreign Governments.

By the acts of Congress of April 24, 1917, September 24, 1917, April 4, 1918 (Exhibit 3), and July 9, 1918 (Exhibit 7), authority was vested in the Secretary of the Treasury on behalf of the United States, with the approval of the President, to establish credits in favor of foreign governments engaged in war with the enemies of the United States, and, to the extent of the credits so established, from time to time to purchase at par from such foreign governments, respectively, their several obligations. A total appropriation of $10,000,000,000 was provided for this purpose. Under these authorizations credits have been established in favor of the Governments of Belgium, Cuba, France, Great Britain, Greece, Italy, Liberia, Roumania, Russia, and Serbia, and advances have been made to these Governments as indicated in the following tabulation, which includes all such credits and advances from April 24, 1917, up to November 15, 1918, a period of a little more than 18½ months:

Country.	Credits established.	Cash advances.	Other charges against credits.	Balances under established credits.

The currencies needed in France, Great Britain, and Italy for our war expenditures in those countries have been provided by the respective foreign Governments under an arrangement whereby the dollar equivalents of the amounts so provided have been made available to the respective foreign Governments for use to meet their war expenditures in the United States, and thus the needs of these Governments for advances from the United States have been reduced by a corresponding amount. The following tabulation shows the amounts of the foreign currencies placed at the disposal of the United States and the dollar equivalents paid therefor in the United States for the period commencing during the month of January, 1918, up to November 15, 1918:

Country.	Francs.	Pounds sterling.	Lira.	Dollar equivalent.
France.....	3,571,436,076.38	$631,275,365.86
Great Britain.....	24,270,545/1/6	115,633,073.20
Italy.....	39,540,419	5,284,348.38
Total.....	752,193,092.44

On the morning of November 15, 1918, there remained an available authorization for the establishment of credits in favor of foreign Governments amounting to $1,828,023,334. To what extent these Governments will require further credits before the termination of the war depends upon factors that can not now be determined. It is important that our foreign loans be discontinued as soon as may be, having due regard to the conditions of our industries and the essential needs of the foreign Governments; in the meantime they should be held down to a minimum. Nevertheless, until certain of the allied countries can resume their normal activities the United States should be prepared to sell them on credit, even after the declaration of peace, foodstuffs, raw materials, and manufactured products of which they may be in need. I shall recommend the enactment of legislation extending the authority to establish credits in favor of foreign Governments for a reasonable period and within reasonable limits to meet needs growing out of the war.

Sergt. CARL A. HEIM, Company L, 108th Infantry (as No. 1215648). For extraordinary heroism in action east of Ronssoy, France, September 28-29, 1918. During the operations against the Hindenburg line Sergt. Heim displayed great gallantry and leadership in reorganizing and assuming command of his company and leading it into effective combat after all the officers had been killed or wounded. Home address: Miss Madeline O'hare, friend, 555 East Church Street, Elmira, N. Y.

Sergt. SAMUEL V. BOYKINS, Company B, 105th Infantry (as No. 1203478). For extraordinary heroism in action east of Ronssoy, France, September 20, 1918. During the operation against the Hindenburg line, Sergt. Boykins with an officer and two other sergeants occupied an outpost position in advance of the line, which was attacked by a superior force of the enemy. Sergeant Boykins assisted in repulsing this attack and in killing 10 Germans, capturing 5, and driving off the others. The bravery and determination displayed by this group was an inspiration to all who witnessed it. Home address, Mrs. S. Boykins, relation, 203 North First Street, Haverstraw, N. Y.

Corpl. CHESTER M. CELLAR, Company A, 108th Infantry (as No. 1213852). For extraordinary heroism in action east of Ronssoy, France, September 29, 1918. After the other members of his automatic rifle squad had been killed or wounded in an assault against an enemy machine-gun nest, Corpl. Cellar operated his gun alone, holding the fire of the machine gun until reinforcements arrived and put it out of action. His great courage and gallantry set an inspiring example to all his comrades. Home address, Watson B. Cellar, father, Agricola, Kans.

First Lieut. PAUL S. EDWARDS, Signal Corps, first, 304th Brigade, Tank Corps. For extraordinary heroism in action near Cheppy, France, September 26, 1918. During the attack on Cheppy, Lieut. Edwards displayed unusual gallantry by crossing a fire-swept area and carrying messages to tanks, coolly moving from one to another and informing the drivers of his mission under a fire so heavy and accurate that many of the tanks were struck by bullets while he was standing by. Home address, Mrs. Myrtle Edwards, wife, 3105 West Tenth Street, Little Rock, Ark.

Second Lieut. DAVID M. BOWES, 1st, 304th Brigade Tank Corps. For extraordinary heroism in action near Varennes, France, September 26, 1918. Lieut. Bowes crawled forward under heavy fire, at the risk of his own life, and rescued a wounded soldier, who was lying about 150 meters in front of the trenches occupied by the advanced infantry. Home address, M. D. Bowes, father, Bath, Steuben County, N. Y.

Capt. NELSON M. HOLDERMAN, 307th Infantry. For extraordinary heroism in action near Binarville, France, October 2-8, 1918. Capt. Holderman's company, with two battalions of another regiment, was cut off and surrounded by the enemy in the forest of Argonne. Although he was wounded, this officer remained in command of his company until after the relief was effected. During the entire period his fortitude and cheerfulness were so marked that the men under his command were encouraged to a successful resistance despite five days' hunger and exposure.

Capt. WESTON C. JENKINS, 307th Infantry. For extraordinary heroism in action in the forest of Argonne, France, October 5, 1918. Capt. Jenkins commanded the 2d battalion of his regiment with conspicuous gallantry. With utter disregard for his own safety he continued throughout the action to direct his troops personally, moving about from place to place under heavy artillery and machine-gun fire. Exposing himself to the hostile fire, he encouraged his men in their efforts to break through the enemy's line and succeeded in maintaining their aggressive spirit by his personal example of fearlessness.

First Lieut. PAUL R. KNIGHT, 308th Infantry. For extraordinary heroism in action near Binarville, France, October 3-5, 1918. Although he had been twice wounded, Lieut. Knight led his company in four attempts to cut through a heavy barbed-wire entanglement

Home address, Mrs. Albert Clinton Knight, 541 West Thirty-fourth Street, New York City. First Lieut. WILLIAM J. CULLEN, 308th Infantry. For extraordinary heroism in action near Binarville, France, October 2-8, 1918. During the advance of his regiment through the forest of Argonne, France, Lieut. Cullen led his company under intense concentration of machine-gun fire to the day's objective, steadying his men and directing the organization and entrenchment of his position. During the period in which part of the regiment was cut off by the enemy, he continued to visit his posts and encourage his men under intense concentrations of trench mortar and machine-gun fire, effectively directing the repulse of attacks on his position. On October 4, 5, and 6 this officer, observing friendly airplanes, left his shelter and went out into a cleared space in plain view of the enemy, and under intense machine-gun fire signaled the position to the air. During all this critical time, when his company as well as the battalion was entirely without food for five days, he displayed coolness, good judgment, and efficiency, furnishing an inspiring example to his men. His gallantry in action contributed materially to the holding of the left flank and the successful resistance made by his battalion. Home address, William Cullen, father, 1187 Woodcrest Avenue, New York, N. Y.

Second Lieut. HARRY ROGERS, 308th Infantry. Deceased. For extraordinary heroism in action near Binarville, France, October 2-8, 1918. Lieut. Rogers was in command of a detachment comprising part of two battalions which were cut off and surrounded by the enemy in the Argonne forest, France. During the days of the isolation from friendly troops he was on the exposed flank without food. Although under a heavy concentration of fire from enemy machine guns and snipers, by his personal example of calmness he kept his men in order and helped repel counterattacks. This intrepid officer was killed in action October 6, 1918.

On the night of October 5, 1918, he was sent to carry a message through the enemy lines to regimental headquarters. Several other attempts had been made, as this soldier knew, which had resulted in the death or capture of the runners. Sergt. ALBERT B. BROWN, Medical Detachment, 121st Field Artillery (as No. 2904957). For extraordinary heroism in action near St. Gile, south of Pismes, France, August 7-14, 1918. When a bombardment was laid down on the batteries of his regiment, Sergt. Brown, on his own initiative, rushed his detachment to the assistance of the wounded, administering first aid and evacuating the wounded in spite of continued enemy shelling. On another occasion, when Sergt. Brown was severely gassed and blinded by the explosion of a mustard-gas shell, he made his way to a telephone and summoned medical assistance for the wounded, exposing himself to the increased danger from the effect of gas in order that the other wounded might be cared for. He was himself seriously wounded while engaged in this work. Home address, Joseph H. Turley, father, Grandview, Wash.

Pvt. ROY C. MARK, Company I, 125th Infantry (as No. 2297894). For extraordinary heroism in action near Cierges, France, July 31, 1918. Though he was twice wounded during the attack on Hill 212, Pvt. Anthony was the last to leave his post, fearlessly exposing himself to fire from machine guns and snipers to bring in a wounded soldier together with his automatic rifle and ammunition. Throughout the engagement his conduct under fire furnished an example of coolness and courage to his comrades. Home address, Mrs. Mary Anthony, mother, route 5, New York, Mich.

Pvt. LONZO L. FULLER, Company H, 129th Infantry (as No. 265176). For extraordinary heroism in action near Juvisy, north of Soissons, France, September 1, 1918. During an attack on a strong enemy position, in the face of heavy fire from artillery and machine guns Pvt. Fuller, a runner, worked unceasingly throughout the attack in maintaining lateral liaison between units. The entire route which he was obliged to travel was exposed to heavy fire from the enemy, and on one of his trips he succeeded in locating a machine-gun nest which had been inflicting heavy losses on our troops. An oak leaf is awarded Lieut. Furlow for the following act of extraordinary heroism in action in the region of Verneville, France, September 17, 1918: Lieut. Furlow, while on patrol with two other companions, met and attacked an enemy formation of 8 planes. In the course of combat which ensued, Lieut. Despite the damage, he continued the attack until he had destroyed 1 hostile aircraft and with his patrol forced the remainder of the enemy to retire. Home address, Mrs. S. C. Furlow, mother, 504 West College Street, Rochester, Minn.

First Lieut. GEORGE R. PHILLIPS (pilot), as U. S. A. 56th Aero Squadron. For extraordinary heroism in action near Beffu at La Mortheville, France, October 23, 1918. Lieut. Phillips (pilot), accompanied by Lieut. M. B. Brown (observer), while on a reconnaissance for the 78th Division, attacked an enemy balloon and forced it to descend and was in turn attacked by 3 enemy planes (Fokker type). The incendiary bullets from the enemy's machines set the signal rockets in the observer's cockpit afire. Disregarding the possibility of going down in flames, Lieut. Phillips maneuvered his plane so that his observer was able to fire on and destroy one enemy plane and drive the others away. He then handled his fire extinguisher to Lieut. Brown, who extinguished the flames. They completed their mission and secured other valuable information. Home address, George W. Phillips, father, 122 West Market Street, Lewistown, Pa.

Second Lieut. MITCHELL H. BROWN (observer), as United States Army, 50th Aero Squadron. For extraordinary heroism in action near Beffu at La Mortheville, October 23, 1918. Lieut. Brown (observer), piloted by Lieut. R. Phillips, while on a reconnaissance for the 78th Division, attacked an enemy balloon and forced it to descend. They were in turn attacked by three enemy planes (Fokker type). The incendiary bullets from the enemy's machines set the signal rockets in Lieut. Brown's cockpit afire. Disregarding the flames he continued to fire, destroying one enemy plane and forcing the others to retire. He then used the extinguisher handed him by his pilot and put out the flames. They successfully completed their mission and secured valuable information. Home address, Mrs. Mitchell H. Brown, mother, Rockwall, Tex.

First Lieut. ERNEST A. GIROUX, pilot, as United States Army (deck). For extraordinary heroism in action near Aremeyeres, France, May 22, 1918. Lieut. Giroux, while on patrol with four other scout planes, attacked an enemy formation of eight monoplane machines. Two of Lieut. Giroux's companions were forced to retire when their guns became jammed. Despite numerical superiority, Lieut. Giroux continued the attack, endeavoring to protect his leader, until finally forced down and killed.

Sergt. ARTHUR SCHULTZ, Company E, 128th Infantry (as No. 284565). For extraordinary heroism in action near Juvisy, north of Soissons, France, August 30, 1918. Sergt. Sergt. RAY ROLAIN, Company L, 127th Infantry (as No. 275031). For extraordinary heroism in action at Juvisy, France, August 31, 1918. Sergt. Rolain attacked a machine-gun nest single handed after the four soldiers accompanying him had been wounded. He killed the operator of one gun and captured the remainder of two gun crews and both guns. Home address, Alfred Rolain, father, 1254 Eagle Street, Rhineclander, Wis.

Sergt. MAX P. THAEKE, Company I, 128th Infantry (as No. 284575). For extraordinary heroism in action near Juvisy, north of Soissons, France, August 30, 1918. Sergt. Thaeke displayed unusual courage and gallantry in leading his platoon forward under heavy fire from artillery and machine guns. He also gave first aid to the wounded while under fire, and when a retirement was ordered he remained behind to carry back the wounded. Home address, Mrs. Marv Balke, mother, 469 Mainfawoc, B-Menasha, Wis.

Sergt. JOHN LAMB, Company C, 107th Field Signal Battalion. For extraordinary heroism in action near Juvisy, north of Soissons, France, August 23 to September 4, 1918. When heavy shelling and machine-gun fire destroyed telephone communication, Sergt. Lamb, without orders and upon his own initiative, went out and repeatedly patrolled the line, making repairs and reestablishing communication. Thereafter he continued to patrol the line constantly, improving connections and placing line in protected places. He worked indefatigably day and night during a period of seven days, and refused to rest or seek a place of safety while he could find work to do. When he saw the body of his brother, who had been killed in action, he did not falter, but remained on duty as before. He was finally forced to go to a hospital. By reason of complete exhaustion by his bravery and devotion to duty, he so distinguished himself as to become the object of admiration by brother officers and soldiers. Home address, Mrs. F. K. Lamb, mother, Rockford, Mich.

Corpl. DONALD D. PALMER, Company C, 107th Field Signal Battalion (as No. 252135). For extraordinary heroism in action near Cierges, France, August 2, 1918. Corpl. Palmer was a member of a detachment stringing telephone wire far in advance of the front lines through the heaviest artillery fire. Connection was established at a point within 100 yards of the German lines before the American advance was begun. Corpl. Palmer volunteered to remain there until our troops had advanced far enough to establish the advance regimental post of command at that place. His devotion to duty under conditions of great danger assisted immeasurably in maintaining unity of action between the front lines and regimental post of command, and his utter indifference to his own safety made easier the capture of a strong enemy position. Home address, Mrs. F. B. Palmer, 653 Sixty-eighth Street, West Allis, Wis.

Corpl. GEORGE H. POHL, Company G, 125th Infantry (as 302397). For extraordinary heroism in action near Juvisy, north of Soissons, France, August 28, 1918. Corpl. Pohl was severely wounded during the first stage on an advance, but he remained with his company until the objective was gained. He then went to the rear, where his wound was dressed and he was ordered to a hospital when his evacuation was delayed by lack of ambulances. This soldier decided to return to the front line, where he reported to his commanding officer and volunteered to assist in carrying wounded to a dressing station. During the remainder of the operation in spite of his wounds he continued to assist in bringing the wounded in from a field constantly swept by machine-gun fire.
