VAST SAVING IN CARGO SPACE BY USE OF DRIED VEGETABLES IN SUPPLYING ARMY OVERSEA

ENORMOUS DEMAND AT BEGINNING

*Only Three Small Plants in U. S.
At First, Now Fifteen Large Concerns in Operation—Fifty Million Pounds Ordered by Gen. Pershing.*

The War Department authorizes the following from the Office of the Director of Purchase and Storage:

Up to the date of the signing of the armistice Gen. Pershing had ordered nearly 50,000,000 pounds of dehydrated vegetables for the use of the American Expeditionary Forces. To meet the enormous demand at the beginning, the subsistence division found that there were but three small plants in the entire United States that were able to supply dehydrated vegetables. Numerous food manufacturers were therefore induced to go into the business of producing dehydrated vegetables, and in addition Canadian manufacturers were also called upon to supply a portion of these commodities.

Fifteen Large Plants at Work.

The necessity of utilizing every inch of shipping space to the best advantage during the war made it impossible to ship sufficient fresh vegetables to France to meet the needs of the Army. However, the cooperation of American manufacturers was secured, with the result that all cable requirements were filled at the allotted time, and there are now 15 large dehydrating plants which have been supplying our overseas forces.

The dehydration of vegetables had been in use in Germany for many years, and at the outbreak of the war there were probably 2,500 large dehydrating plants in that country. These plants used for the manufacture of their products the major portion of the vegetables grown in Germany. England and France soon found that if their army ration was to include vegetables they must be dehydrated, and therefore production was immediately started. Several large factories in Canada were turned over to this service, and a very satisfactory food product was the result.

Process a Delicate One.

The process of dehydrating is delicate. The moisture must be removed without extracting the nutritious juices or destroying the food value. The supply for our overseas Army was handled for the most part by concerns without previous experience or knowledge of the industry, but the dehydrated products furnished have been satisfactory. After the vege-

OVERSEA INSURANCE RECORDS ARRIVE WEIGHING 26 TONS

Documents Representing Over Billion and a Half Filed Away in Washington.

Twenty-six tons of insurance records from the American Expeditionary Forces were received in Washington by the Bureau of War Risk Insurance, of the Treasury Department. They represent $1,600,000,000 of Government insurance, written on American soldiers overseas.

The records will be merged with the other records on file, representing a grand total of more than $38,000,000,000 of insurance and more than 4,000,000 allotment and allowance applications.

Almost 40,000,000 separate card records are kept on file and under statistical control by the Bureau of War-Risk Insurance.

The records from overseas left Tours on December 22, in charge of 5 officers and 24 enlisted men, and were shipped on the Mauretania, guarded by a detachment of United States Marines.

The insurance and allotment work overseas was handled by the war-risk section of the Service of Supplies of the American Expeditionary Forces, under the supervision of Col. Henry D. Lindsley, who has just been appointed by the Secretary of the Treasury as Director of the Bureau of War-Risk Insurance.

SWEDISH RELIEF EXPEDITION LEFT FOR ESTHONIA DEC. 30

The Swedish press reports from Helsingfors state that great enthusiasm prevails there in support of the relief enterprise for Esthonia, 10,000 volunteers having registered, and the first expedition left for Esthonia on December 30. Thousands of burgeois Russian fugitives are arriving in Finland to form troop detachments for an offensive against the bolshevik.

Reports from Reval state that Esthonian ships bombarded and silenced enemy batteries in the villages of Kolga and Wakko, and detachments landed and cleared the peninsulas of Jumindan and Aperispea.

New $100,000,000 Credit Established For Italy

The Secretary of the Treasury has established a credit of $100,000,000 in favor of Italy, making a total for Italy of $1,310,000,000, and for all the Allies of $8,585,523,702.

BOLSHEVIKI LOSE 60,000 MEN IN FIGHTING WITH SIBERIAN ARMY AT PERM IN DECEMBER

31,000 PRISONERS ARE CAPTURED

Ufa Generally Evacuated but Troops Hold All Fronts—English Armored Trains and French Forces Have Gone to Advanced Positions.

Advices from Russia state that during the last part of December Ufa has been very generally evacuated, but that the troops still hold all the fronts. English armored trains and French troops have gone from Ufa to the extreme fronts. On December 26, according to a belated dispatch, the Bolsheviki Army had broken through the line at Binsk, 25 miles from Ufa, but no Red Guards so far had appeared at Ufa.

From the 25th to the 28th of December the Siberian Army at Perm had taken 31,000 prisoners, 120 guns, a large number of machine guns, 30 automobiles, 9 armored trains, and the entire Bolsheviki supply train. The entire loss of the Red Army, according to these advices, which are based on current reports at Omsk and on official advices from Chelabinsk, is estimated at 60,000.

The Russian commander in charge of the victorious Siberian Army was Lieut. Gen. Pepiliev, 28 years old, who was an ordinary soldier when the European War began in 1914.

BRAZIL'S PEACE MISSION LEAVES.

Epitacio Pressoa and Raul Fernandes Head Delegation to Paris.

Epitacio Pressoa and Raul Fernandes, Brazilian delegates to the peace conference, left Rio to-day on the former German steamer Curvello, bound for Havre, which will touch at Pernambuco and Lisbon. They are accompanied by Rodrigo Octavio, legal adviser; Capt. Armando C. Durlamaqui, naval adviser; and a large number of secretaries. The official party, with ladies, comprises about 35 persons.

TRANSYLVANIA THANKS U. S.

The Transylvanian committees which brought to Roumania the documents for union of Transylvania with Roumania, called at the American Legation at Bucharest and asked Minister Vopicka to extend their hearty thanks to President Wilson and the United States "for freeing them from the Hungarian yoke."

DISTRIBUTION OF FOODSTUFFS REPORTED BY MR. HOOVER

The following cablegram has been received at the Food Administration from Mr. Hoover in Paris:

The first cargo of foodstuffs shipped through the cooperation of the War Department and Food Administration has arrived at Trieste and other cargoes should arrive at Cattaro and other points on the Adriatic Sea in the next three days. These supplies are intended for Serbia and the territory recently amalgamated with Serbia in Bosnia and Montenegro, where the distress is very acute. The only connection is by railroad from the Adriatic Sea, the Bulgarians having destroyed the railroad from Salonica, Greece, beyond the possibility of repair inside of four months.

Representatives in Charge.

Col. McIntosh has already arrived in Trieste, Austria. Col. Atwood and staff left January 1 for Ragusa en route for Belgrade, leaving representatives at Cattaro and other points. Dr. Vernon Kellogg, Col. Grove, and Hugh Gibson leave Berne to-night by special train for Warsaw, by way of Vienna, to take charge of relief measures which it is hoped to develop for Poland.

A commission representing the American, French, British, and Italian Governments, under the chairmanship of Dr. Alonzo Taylor, with the assistance of Capt. T. T. C. Gregory, of the United States Army, is leaving to-night for Vienna in response to representations as to the dangerous situation which has developed in that city. The representatives of the Viennese municipalities, now at Berne, state that food supplies for the 2,000,000 people in the city of Vienna will not last for more than 10 days. Owing to the disorganization of railroads in Austria and the separating of Hungary and Czecho-Slovakia, Vienna is practically cut off from any supplies.

So far the Bolsheviks have been kept under control in Vienna, but advices indicate that unless foodstuffs can be furnished for the city it will be impossible to maintain order. The Swiss Government is proposing to forward at once about a week's supply for the city, but the situation in Switzerland will not permit of their giving more than a few days' relief.

The American and allied ministers in Roumania have telegraphed to their respective Governments that, after investigating, they are convinced that the food supply of Roumania will not last for more than another 30 days and that immediate steps for relief must be taken if the country is not to be submerged by Bolshevism. Methods of relief are under consideration, but present extreme difficulties. The railroads of Roumania are largely broken down. There is a great deal of port destruction and there is no bunker coal in the Black Sea except what can be borrowed from the allied navies. Further, Roumania is entirely without funds to pay for food.

NONSOCIALISTS WIN ELECTION.

The result of municipal elections at Vladivostock on December 29 resulted in a victory for the nonsocialist element, who gained a full majority of the municipal council.

Attention is called to the fact that iron and steel and manufactures thereof, and pork and pork products have been added to this list.

Insofar as this list of commodities is concerned, the regulations and procedure hitherto in effect governing all exportations to these four countries are hereby rescinded, namely:

Denmark: War Trade Board Ruling 259, issued October 9, 1918, and War Trade Board Ruling 369, issued December 9, 1918.

Norway: War Trade Board Ruling 211, issued August 31, 1918.

Sweden: War Trade Board Ruling 236, issued September 23, 1918.

European Holland: War Trade Board Ruling 365, issued December 5, 1918.

Applicants who desire to ship any of these commodities to any one of these four countries should apply, using application for export license Form X, and such supplemental information sheets as are required for the commodity in question. Supplemental information sheet X-119 is no longer required for this list of commodities, but will still be required for commodities not on this list. Export licenses will be granted without the usual reference to the representative of the War Trade Board abroad. Applicants should send their applications to the nearest branch office of the War Trade Board, or directly to Washington, whichever is nearer.

Applicants are cautioned that no shipments should be made in violation of the trading with the enemy act.

Insofar as the War Trade Board is concerned, the regulations as to consignments to associations, etc., will no longer be in force as to this list of commodities, and shipments of these commodities may be consigned directly to the consignee named in the export license, or they may be consigned "to order," provided they are shipped for account of a firm not on the Enemy Trading List.

The attention of exporters is called to the fact that in some of the countries above mentioned there may be still import restrictions which must be consid-

2,000 RECRUITING AGENTS STILL WORKING FOR MERCHANT MARINE

Two thousand special recruiting agents for the merchant marine, representing all the States, have notified the United States Shipping Board of their desire to continue their work for the Government under peace conditions, the board announced to-day.

During the war the board had more than 6,000 recruiting agents stationed at drug stores, who served for $1 a year, and signed up 35,000 volunteers for service on merchant vessels. The United States Shipping Board recently asked each of these agents if he wished to continue recruiting on a permanent basis, with the result stated.

The board has asked the 2,000 "stand-bys" to send in an average of a man each in the next two weeks—that is, a total of 2,000—to take the place on its training ships of apprentices recently graduated and shipped out for deep-sea service.

The recruiting agents report renewed interest in the merchant marine and its opportunities since the Army and Navy began releasing men as a result of peace.

Shipping Preference For Commercial Samples

The War Trade Board announced on December 24, 1918 (W. T. B. R. 457), that special export license RAC-55 had been issued covering the exportation from the United States of commercial samples.

W. T. B. R. 363, issued December 8, 1918, described the manner of determining shipping preferences for exports to the east coast of South America.

In order that shipments of samples made under this special license (RAC-55) destined to Argentina, Brazil, Paraguay, and Uruguay may receive prompt shipping facilities, the War Trade Board, in a new ruling (W. T. B. R. 474), issued January 3, 1919, has instructed collectors of customs and steamship companies that Shipping Preference List No. 1 is to be accorded all such shipments.

New Year Greeting and Appreciation By Mr. Burluson to Postal Employees

OFFICE OF THE POSTMASTER GENERAL,
WASHINGTON, Dec. 31, 1918.

To All Officers and Employees Throughout the Postal Establishment:

I desire to express to all the employees of the Postal Establishment my appreciation of the splendid way they have performed their duties during the past year. Never have they been more loyal, never have they labored so incessantly or performed their duties more promptly and efficiently, notwithstanding the fact that thousands of them have responded to the call of their country and have been withdrawn from the Postal Service, and many others attracted by alluring compensation offered by industrial and commercial enterprises have been separated from the service, thereby forcing the department to enlist the aid of inexperienced help. The Postal Establishment of the United States, in the face of the great difficulties created by the war, continued to give an efficient postal service, practically without curtailment or restriction. From reports received from the Auditor for the Post Office Department, from the hundreds of post office inspectors in the field, from the superintendents of the Railway Mail Service throughout the country, and from postmasters of all the larger cities comes the same story—that the postal service has been and is being maintained at a standard of efficiency the highest known in its history. When one considers that this has been accomplished in the face of the fact that war activities have been imposed on the service, tremendous in their burdens, it is little short of marvelous that you have been able to discharge your duties so satisfactorily. For this wonderful result the American people are indebted to the hundreds of thousands of faithful postal workers who have labored hard without the glare of the spotlight and with no recompense save the knowledge and satisfaction that comes with the consciousness of duty well performed. I send this word that you may know that the head of this department is not unmindful of what you have done, but has the keenest appreciation of your unselfish efforts and the arduous and important tasks you have performed.

ALBERT S. BURLUSON,
Postmaster General.

SOLDIERS AS PROPAGANDISTS.

Discharged Men Asked to Aid in Campaign Against Social Diseases.

The United States Government is losing no opportunity to aid in the campaign being carried throughout the Nation by the United States Public Health Service under Surg. Gen. Rupert Blue for the suppression of prostitution and the eradication of venereal diseases. Each soldier and sailor as he receives his discharge is urged to remember what he has been taught, while in the service, in regard to the dangers of venereal disease. The men are given a specially prepared pamphlet on the subject and are asked to carry the Government's message of social sanitation back to their home town.

Army and Naval officers who have seen the practical value of the education on sex matters that has been given to all enlisted men are, in the opinion of the Surgeon General, particularly fitted to carry the propaganda against venereal disease back to their home communities, and a great many of the officers who have returned from abroad have signified to Surg. Gen. Blue their intention of aiding in the work in their own States.

VAST SAVING IN CARGO SPACE

tables have been peeled and sliced or cubed, they are blanched, in order that they may retain their starch components. They are then placed on trays in huge kilns, through which heated air is blown until only the small required amount of moisture is retained. The product is then packed in hermetically sealed cans and shipped to France.

Dehydrated vegetables have occupied a prominent place in the soldier's menu in France. However, where fresh vegetables can be purchased in foreign markets, they are used. The dehydrated vegetables serve the same purpose as fresh vegetables, for after they have been soaked several hours, they reabsorb the moisture which has been lost.

The use of the dehydrated product saved 66½ per cent cargo space over the amount required for fresh vegetables at the time that cargo space was almost as valuable as life itself. The dehydrated vegetables were found especially adapted for use at the front when food was carried forward from the rail heads to the kitchens at the front under shell fire.

LITTLE ROCK RESERVE BANK.

The Federal Reserve Board announces that it has been advised by the Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis that the Little Rock (Ark.) branch of that bank will be opened for business on Monday, January 6, 1919. Effective that date, Little Rock becomes a reserve city and all its banks that are members of the Federal Reserve system must maintain reserves of 10 per cent instead of 7 per cent, as heretofore, when Little Rock was a country bank point.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE CONGRESS BRIEFLY TOLD

SENATE.

In the Senate yesterday Senator Lewis, of Illinois, replied at length to the Republican critics of President Wilson and his peace policy. He charged that certain leaders who have recently discussed this question had conspired for political purposes to discredit the President in the eyes of European peace negotiators and to defeat his plans if possible. The Illinois Senator concluded his address this afternoon and was followed by Senator Borah who spoke in opposition to the proposed league of nations. The Russian situation was brought up in debate yesterday afternoon briefly when Senator Johnson, Republican, of California, voiced a protest against the further shedding of American blood in that country. Affairs in Mexico were referred to when Senator Ashurst introduced a resolution for an investigation by the War Department of claims of American citizens for damages inflicted by Mexicans since December 1, 1912. He also introduced a resolution requesting the President to begin negotiations with the Mexican Republic for the purchase of the Lower California peninsula and all that portion of the Mexican State of Sonora lying north of the parallel of 31 degrees and 20 minutes, estimated to contain about 10,000 square miles. Earlier in the day Senator Weeks, Republican, of Massachusetts, made a speech in which he criticised what he said were the delays and the errors of the War Department in giving publicity to the casualties among the American Expeditionary Forces.

Senator New, of Indiana, Republican, yesterday introduced the following resolution, to which objection was raised to immediate consideration, and it went over under the rules:

Whereas reports having reached the United States and having been given currency by publication in the columns of the newspapers to the effect that unwholesome, insanitary, and unnecessarily discomforting conditions exist in the camp occupied by the American Expeditionary Forces at Brest, France: Therefore be it

Resolved, That the Senate Committee on Military Affairs be authorized and directed to investigate the same and to report its conclusions to the Senate, together with such recommendations as it may see fit to make concerning the condition reported.

Resolution of Senator Kellogg.

Senator Kellogg, of Minnesota, introduced the following resolution:

Resolved, that the Committee on Interstate Commerce be, and it is hereby, authorized and directed to investigate the subjects listed hereafter and report to the Senate its findings and conclusion thereon, at the same time recommending such legislation as it may deem necessary or advisable:

1. Assumption by the Government of the supervision, possession, control, or operation of any or all of the telegraph, telephone, marine cable, and radio systems.

2. The future ownership, supervision, possession, or control, or operation of any or all of said systems by the Government.

3. The conditions under and the extent to which any or all of said systems should be permitted to consolidate, and authority therefor.

4. Effect of the so-called Sherman antitrust act upon the consolidation of marine cable systems extending to foreign countries and the advisability of modifying said act.

5. Necessity for the extension of marine cable systems to foreign countries, and effect thereof upon the commerce of the United States.

6. The sufficiency of the telegraph, telephone, marine cable, and radio systems to meet the business requirements of the United States.

7. All other subjects pertinent to the general question of Government ownership, supervision, possession, control, or operation of any or all telegraph, telephone, marine cable, and radio systems.

Before the Commerce committee, Director Piez, of the Emergency Fleet Corporation, further explained conditions at Hog Island shipbuilding plant. He said the corporation has not decided at this time to take over the plant but he expressed confidence in the future of the yard and held that it had been and would be a valuable asset to the Government.

HOUSE.

Secretary Daniels was again before the Naval Committee and explained the policy of the department and detailed his views with regard to the future of the Navy and the proposed three-year building plan. He urged that the United States give more attention in the future to the development of the flying machine and that the former conservative policy in this respect should be reversed. Rear Admiral Taylor explained the cost of ship construction and explained in detail the increases in cost during the past four years.

A report from the War Department showed that approximately $3,658,000 will have to be appropriated to meet the claims for private property destroyed by the explosion at the Gillespie shell-loading plant in New Jersey last October. The department estimates that 10,000 claims will be filed.

In debate Mr. Green, Republican, of Iowa, made an attack upon the War Department and charged that the maintenance of the American forces in Europe under existing conditions meant the enforcement of conscription in time of peace. Minority Leader Mann criticised the department for alleged delay in paying soldiers and in dispensing allotments to dependents. Mr. Madden, Republican, of Illinois, vigorously criticised the administration of the War Risk Insurance Bureau. Mr. Frear, Republican, of Wisconsin, renewed his recent attack upon the National Security League.

Bonus for Soldiers and Sailors.

A bill was introduced by Mr. Fuller, Republican, of Illinois, under which one month's extra pay and a bonus of $100 for honorably discharged soldiers, sailors, and marines would be granted. Mr. Gard, of Ohio, introduced a resolution extending the thanks of Congress to members of the American Protective League for services to the Government during the war. Speaker Clark received a letter from the Secretary of War asking legislation authorizing the department to prepare rolls for payment in full of soldiers who have returned from overseas for treatment in Government hospitals. The Secretary also recommended legislation to provide for the retirement of members of the Army Nurse Corps who shall have served 20 years. It is proposed to allow them 75 per cent of their normal pay at the time of retirement.

The war revenue bill was sent to conference yesterday afternoon. By bringing in a special rule protracted discussion was cut off.

Before the Interstate Commerce Committee Chairman Colver, of the Federal Trade Commission, continued his testi-

HANDBOOK ON ALL U. S. BOARDS HAVING TO DO WITH LABOR

The War Department authorizes the following:

The Army Ordnance Industrial Service Section has compiled, in comprehensive detail and convenient form, a handbook of information touching the personnel, headquarters, and functions of all of the Government boards and departmental sections dealing in any way with labor. This is the Ordnance Section which has charge, for the Ordnance Department, of all matters pertaining to labor engaged in the production of Ordnance supplies, equipment, and material, including arsenals. Its activities embrace specifically all subjects concerning hours of labor, rates of pay, housing, transportation, dilution, women in industry, community conditions affecting labor, prevention of wage or other labor disputes, and supply and distribution of labor as being essential to Ordnance production.

Edition Now Being Issued.

With an index and a directory of the handbook, a limited edition of which is now being issued by the Industrial Service Section, combines a brief but comprehensive statement of the branches and phases of governmental-industrial labor problems, dealt with by each of the boards and commissions. While not in any way a detailed history of the activities of the boards and commissions this statement shows clearly what any particular body's functions and limitations are in connection with War Department labor activities.

With the proclamation of President Wilson upon the War Labor Board's formation and the functions, powers, and duties of this board there is an appendix setting forth correspondence between Secretary of War Baker and Samuel Gompers relative to the adjustment and control of wages, hours, and conditions of labor in construction work carried on by the Government.

Fifteen Boards Dealt With.

Fifteen boards and commissions are dealt with in detail. The labor committee of the Council of National Defense, of which Samuel Gompers is chairman, heads the list, the other boards included in the handbook being the War Industries Board labor committee, the National War Labor Board, the War Labor Policies Board, the Shipbuilding Labor Adjustment Board, the Emergency Construction Adjustment Commission, the Harness and Saddlery Adjustment Commission, the Railroad Wage Commission, the Board of Railroad Wages and Working Conditions, Railway Boards of Adjustment, Nos. 1 and 2, the Arsenals and Navy Yards Commission, the United States Board of Conciliation and Mediation, the President's Mediation Commission.

Copies of the handbook, of which there is but a limited edition, may be secured from the Industrial Service Section Information Service of the Ordnance Department.

mony concerning the packing industry. He told the committee that the five leading packers controlled 665 companies whose business was not directly related to the slaughtering or packing industry and that they exercised a degree of control over other companies.

DISTRESS IN NORTH FRANCE CALLS FOR CONTINUED HELP BY U. S. RELIEF COMMISSION

MR. HOOVER REPORTS CONDITIONS PITIABLE

The work of relief and rehabilitation in northern France will fall more heavily on the Commission for Relief in Belgium than was expected, and an enlarged organization is being rapidly built up under the commission to handle the situation. A cable message from Mr. Hoover, just received at the headquarters of the commission in Washington, says that 20 men who served with the commission up to the time Americans were obliged to withdraw on account of our entry into the war and who then joined the American Army, have now been released by Gen. Pershing in order that they may take up the work in northern France where it was left. The destruction wrought by the German Army is so complete that the relief work will now include not only food and clothing but housing over a considerable area.

Former Methods of Distribution.

Since January 1, 1915, the Commission for Relief in Belgium has transported food and clothing to the occupied territory of northern France. These supplies were distributed through a French agency, the "Comite Francais," made up of representatives from various towns and districts.

From canal terminals these supplies were handed over to local committees in the towns and villages which were headed by the mayor of the commune and selected from the representative citizens of the community. These committees attended to the actual distribution of the daily ration to the inhabitants. These goods were paid for by municipal issues of paper money, back of which stood only the responsibility of the particular village of issuance.

The French Government is supplying some food from France to the relief commission, and imports required from the United States amount to about 30,000,000 pounds per month. The total food shipments from America for Belgium and northern France amount to over $30,000,000 a month in value.

Mr. Hoover's cable is as follows:

The commission for relief in Belgium had hoped to surrender the task of relief of northern France to the French Government immediately upon the German retreat. It has been found impossible, however, for the French Government to undertake the food supply of this area for some months to come, and upon the urgent request of that Government the commission had decided to continue.

After the four-year paralysis of wholesale and retail business, with the destruction of the principal towns and shops, these trades have disappeared, and the people are to-day dependent upon a ration issued directly to them just as before the German evacuation. Until transport and trade can be rehabilitated, the present system must go on, for the French distribution is done by the trades. These arrangements necessitate some reorganization of the relief work and its entire separation from Belgium.

Twenty members of the Commission for Relief in Belgium, who joined the American Army as officers, have been released by Gen. Pershing to undertake this work.

Means of Transportation.

Transportation connections with the region are maintained through Dunkirk and through one Belgian canal still operating, supplemented by motor trucks originally installed by the armies and now being gradually taken over by the Commission for Relief in Belgium.

The population of this area at the moment of the retreat was about 1,500,000, there being also about 300,000 refugees in Belgium who are returning and some 500,000 refugees in France, all of whom are anxious to return to their native soil.

The destruction of some 20 principal towns and literally hundreds of villages renders the return of these refugees a stupendous problem. Every effort is being made to restrain them from going back until some systematic provision for shelter can be completed, but they evade all official urgings and the roads are a continuous procession of these pitiable bodies. Thousands of them reach their villages to find every vestige of shelter destroyed, and finally wander into the villages farther back from the acute battle area, which are themselves already overcrowded to a heat-breaking degree.

Building Temporary Shelter.

In order to remedy this situation to some extent the Commission for Relief in Belgium has obtained the services of 150 volunteers from the American Navy and is taking over a large amount of second-hand barrack material from the Navy and Army. Those barracks are in course of erection adjacent to the destroyed villages, under the superintendence of the Navy volunteers.

A large amount of boots and shoes and warm clothing has been taken over from the Quartermaster's supplies and these are being distributed to the people. The French Government is endeavoring to obtain some cattle from Switzerland and horses from the various armies which, together with the meager supply of agricultural implements, may enable the population to get in some portion of next

RAILROAD DIRECTOR GENERAL'S INTERPRETATIONS OF ORDER 27

The United States Railroad Administration issues the following:

INTERPRETATION No. 2 TO SUPPLEMENT No. 7 TO GENERAL ORDER No. 27.

Question.—Shall employees coming under the provisions of paragraph (a), Article V, Supplement No. 7 to General Order No. 27, paid on a tonnage or piecework basis and earning in excess of 43 cents per hour (the maximum rate established) receive any portion of the increase provided for, if thereby such increase would establish a rate in excess of 43 cents per hour?

Decision.—Paragraph (2), Article V, of Supplement No. 7 to General Order No. 27, specifically states: "Provided that the maximum shall not exceed 43 cents per hour." Employees paid on a tonnage or piecework basis whose average hourly earnings, per day period, equal 43 or more cents per hour are therefore not entitled to any portion of the increase, but are guaranteed not less than 43 cents per hour.

The provisions of paragraph (2), Article VIII, Supplement No. 7 to General Order No. 27, protects higher rates and is to be observed.

W. G. McADOO,
Director General of Railroads.

INTERPRETATION No. 2 TO SUPPLEMENT No. 8 TO GENERAL ORDER No. 27.

Question.—Is it intended that house and bridge carpenters in the maintenance of way service shall receive the rates of pay and be governed by the conditions specified in Article I, section 6, of Supplement No. 4 to General Order No. 27, under the heading of Carmen?

Decision.—House and bridge carpenters in the maintenance of way service come under the provision of Supplement No. 8 to General Order No. 27, and their rates of pay are established as per paragraph (e), Article I of Supplement 8.

year's crops in such of these areas as are not too badly destroyed by battle.

The entire industrial life of the region has been destroyed by the Germans. There is scarcely a single factory that can be operated without a very large portion of new equipment. The coal mines are totally destroyed and the network of railways in this region has been rendered almost hopeless of reconstruction for many months. The German method of destruction was to bend every single rail by exploding a hand grenade under it, rendering it useless for a time. The Grand Canal du Nord, which connects this section of France from the Belgian Canal system and is the natural entrepot for goods for Antwerp or Rotterdam, was itself practically the fighting line for months and is so badly destroyed that it will take fully a year for its complete reconstruction.

The relief is based upon the allowance of food to the value of about 35 cents per day to the destitute, those having any resources or employment being required to pay. The whole extent of destitution is not yet known, but it appears to be fully 60 per cent of the people.

“Present No Time for Relaxation,” Says Federal Reserve Board Review of After-War Banking Conditions

The Federal Reserve Bulletin for the month of December contains in The Review of the Month a general discussion of the problems which must be met by American bankers in effecting the transition from the war to the peace basis. The board speaks of the armistice with Germany as foreshadowing the end of the most remarkable era in American finance and opening up another which will be replete with new and momentous problems. After sketching the financial situation of the Government and the requirements of the Treasury, the board says that the necessity of saving and conserving resources is as great to-day as it ever has been, and that:

No Time for Relaxation.

“The present is no time for relaxation, either of our financial precaution or measures which must be regarded as vitally necessary to insure the conservation of our banking and credit resources.”

It is pointed out that the liquid capital of the country must, for a long time to come, be inadequate to meet the needs of the world, and that some process of husbanding it must therefore be applied during the period of reconstruction. Of the banking situation, it says:

Transition to Peace Basis.

“That the transition of the world from a war to a peace basis must necessarily exert an important and direct influence upon banking is, of course, clearly obvious. Immediately the problem will be that of preventing credit from expanding too far and, so far as practicable, of reducing any excess that already exists. The economic history of the period immediately succeeding wars of the past has shown that in practically every instance there has been a tendency toward the use of bank funds for the purpose of promoting the development of industries and enterprises involving a considerable investment of capital.”

Reservoir of Banking Credit.

The Federal Reserve banks are referred to as the one inexhausted reservoir of banking credit in the world.

“To them,” says the board, “is assigned the function of surpassing importance to maintain the liquid character of the assets held against the demand obligations of the banks, and, by regulation of discount rates, to regulate, as conditions permit, the uses and limits of credit.”

This function has, almost of necessity, been temporarily suspended during the war, but with the return of peace a resumption of the duties of the reserve system as a regulator of credit again presents itself. Reduction of loans on war paper is a problem to be at once faced by the banks and their members, for the transition period will, it is stated, unquestionably involve new and large needs for credit and capital. Present conditions in the world are quite different to those which have existed after previous wars, because of the fact that all of the leading countries are involved. To-day banking and credit inflation is general, while there has been far-reaching alteration in the distribution of gold. A gradual redistribution of the gold supply is therefore to be looked for as one of the features of the financial future.

Aid to Foreign Countries.

With reference to the question of aid to foreign countries, the board says that:

“Coincident with the reduction of domestic war loans there may probably be expected to develop a direct demand upon our banking resources for accommodation designed to facilitate the movement of goods to other countries. Such accommodation has been extended in large measure ever since the opening of the European war—first through the extension of loans to belligerent countries privately placed with bankers in the United States; and later, when the United States itself became a belligerent, through the issue of Government bonds whose proceeds were advanced to foreign countries, and were then used by them in payment for supplies purchased in the United States. It may be possible, as has already been intimated, that additional credits may from time to time have to be opened in favor of the allied nations, but from this time forward the bulk of our foreign financing will necessarily return to a peace basis, and the services of our banks will lie in supplying the means for financing the movement of consumable goods to the foreign countries by which they are most needed.”

This problem is spoken of as opening a large and new field for American bankers.

Present Position of Reserve System.

The review of the month then outlines the present position of the Federal Reserve System and says:

“The immense requirements of war are such that they could easily impair the lending capacity of the Federal Reserve System as they have that of other strong central banking systems, were they to be indefinitely continued. But the period of such drafts is now fortunately approaching its end, notwithstanding the probability, if not certainty, of further large issues of Government bonds during the current fiscal year ending June 30, 1919. The fact that the termination of this period is approaching does not, however, mean that a period of ease or lack of demand for capital has arrived. On the contrary, the indications of the situation are all to the effect that the needs of the community and of the world at large for productive resources are likely to increase rather than grow less, and that this increase may be expected to proceed rapidly in the near future. One effect of the war has been to produce shortages of materials of production in many different directions, a fact which implies that the reserve stock of such articles, always relatively small, as compared with total consumption, has been allowed to become exhausted.

“To meet all current demands and thus to reestablish such reserve stocks will be a task calling for the increase of produetion in many lines, particularly as the current requirements of the European nations for material to be used in reconstructing their industrial systems will constitute an abnormal addition to current needs. It must be expected, therefore, that the demands of the Nation and of the world for capital and for goods will continue to be more or less active for a good while to come. The fear of depression of trade expressed in many quarters need not be entertained with respect to trade as a whole, but depression may be expected only in those lines in which demand has been suddenly suspended or curtailed in the process of readjusting consumption and production. This demand for capital must, however, be met from the ordinary sources of saving and accumulation and not through the creation of banking credit. To rely upon bank loans as the source from which to draw the means for supporting industrial operations would raise the question whether instead of resorting to intensive saving, accompanied by reduction of prices, we had resolved to fall back upon inflation of bank liabilities and of the currency.”

Regulation of Drafts.

Attention is then called to the fact that the board has endeavored during the past month to prevent some of the banks from drawing too heavily upon the resources of the Federal reserve institutions for purposes which in its judgment were in no wise essential to the welfare of the community. The attention of the board has in some instances been called to the fact that members have obtained rediscounts which have appeared to be largely in excess of their natural needs, and have used the proceeds of these rediscounts in profit-making activities. The board therefore recognizes it as a duty “to caution the bankers who have rendered and are rendering such efficient service to the Government that profit-making and business expansion must, for some time to come, be subordinate to the general welfare.”

The situation of wages and prices, and the fact that they have assumed a new relationship to one another is noted, and the effects of the movement back toward a more stable level of both is considered.

Reprint of Report.

The Bulletin contains a complete reprint of a recent report of the committee appointed some months ago, under the chairmanship of Lord Cunliffe, to investigate the question of currency and foreign exchanges after the war, and in the Review of the Month the board called attention to the position taken by the committee that nothing can contribute more to a speedy recovery from the effects of the war and to the rehabilitation of foreign exchanges than the reestablishment of currency upon a sound basis. It notes that the Cunliffe Committee advises the maintenance of the principle of the English Bank Charter Act of 1844.

RAIN DELAYS ARMY FLYERS.

Bad weather holds the four planes from the Pacific at Raleigh, N. C., stated a wire report to the Division of Military Aeronautics. The commanding officer of the squadron said that he had encountered rain all the way north from Florida; that the planes had flown in it most of the distance.

Interstate Commerce Commission Discusses in Annual Report Steps Necessarily Antecedent to Any Railroad Legislation

In dealing with the question of what may be done with the railroads in the future, the Interstate Commerce Commission, in its annual report to the Congress, says:

"The conditions, without precedent or parallel, which the war has produced now press upon the Congress matters of the gravest national and international concern.

"While we do not deem the present conditions and moment opportune in which to recommend concrete proposals for legislation, we may indicate certain lines of inquiry which must be pursued in order to reach sound conclusions.

The Fundamental Aim.

"Whatever line of policy is determined upon, the fundamental aim or purpose should be to secure transportation systems that will be adequate for the Nation's needs even in time of national stress or peril and that will furnish to the public safe, adequate, and efficient transportation at the lowest cost consistent with that service. To this end there should be provision for (1) the prompt merger without friction of all the carriers' lines, facilities, and organizations into a continental and unified system in time of stress or emergency; (2) merger within proper limits of the carriers' lines and facilities in such part and to such extent as may be necessary in the general public interest to meet the reasonable demands of our domestic and foreign commerce; (3) limitation of railway construction to the necessities and convenience of the Government and of the public, and assuring construction to the point of these limitations; and (4) development and encouragement of inland waterways and coordination of rail and water transportation systems.

Possible Plans Considered.

"Among the plans which doubtless will be proposed are the following: (1) Continuation of the present plan of Federal control; (2) public ownership of carrier property with private operation under regulation; (3) private operation under regulation with governmental guarantees; (4) resumption of private control and management under regulation; and (5) public ownership and operation. Additional plans and modifications or combinations of those enumerated might be listed.

Policy of Private Ownership.

"If the policy of private ownership and operation under regulation is continued the following subjects will require legislative consideration: (1) Revision of limitations upon united or cooperative activities among common carriers by rail or by water; (2) emancipation of railway operation from financial dictation; (3) regulation of issues of securities; (4) establishment of a relationship between Federal and State authority which will eliminate the twilight zone of jurisdiction and under which a harmonious rate structure and adequate service can be secured, State and interstate; (5) restrictions governing the treatment of competitive as compared with noncompetitive traffic; (6) the most efficient utilization of equipment and provision for distributing the burden of furnishing equipment on an equitable basis among the respective carriers; (7) a more liberal use of terminal facilities in the interest of free movement of commerce; and (8) limitations within which common-carrier facilities and services may be furnished by shippers or receivers of freight.

Contingencies in View.

"Should the policy of public ownership and operation be adopted there must be considered: (1) The just and fair price at which, and the terms under which, carrier properties are to be acquired; (2) prohibiting the operation of railways as a fiscal contrivance, insuring their administration in the interests of the convenience and commerce of the people, requiring that they shall be self-supporting, and that their rates shall be properly related to the ascertained cost of service, and retaining and extending the economies and advantages of large scale production in transportation; (3) responsibility and relationship of the railway administration to Congress and other Federal authorities and to the States; (4) guarding against the intrusion of party politics into railway management; (5) a status for railway officers and employees under which the railway service will attract and retain the best talent; and (6) maintenance of a tribunal for the determination of controversies which will inevitably arise even under public operation.

"The above outline is a mere enumeration of some important points to be considered. We will at an appropriate time report to Congress such information, suggestions, or recommendations as we believe may be of assistance in solving the many and difficult transportation problems."

Federal Control.

The report continues:

"Federal control of systems of transportation became a fact by the President's proclamation of December 26, 1917. Hon. William G. McAdoo was appointed Director General of Railroads. While the railroads were to remain subject to all existing statutes and orders of the commission and to all statutes and orders of State regulatory bodies, any order, general or special, made by the Director General was to have paramount authority. Sleeping car companies were taken over as systems of transportation along with the railroads. Wire and wireless transmission systems, under a joint resolution of Congress, approved July 16, 1918, were taken over by the President, and by proclamation, effective at midnight July 31, 1918, were placed by him under the control of the Postmaster General. Marine cable systems owned or controlled and operated by any company or companies organized and existing under the laws of the United States, or any State thereof, were taken over by the President by proclamation effective midnight November 2, 1918.

"The magnitude of the task devolving upon the Director General, no less than the war emergency which had created it, rendered imperative on our part a prompt offer to the United States Railroad Administration of any assistance that we could render. This tender was accepted by the Director General, and the individual commissioners; in addition to their regular duties, prosecuted important investigations at his request.

"Among these matters were the following: The assembling of financial information covering prospective capital requirements and security issues for the current calendar year; the maintenance of the integrity of tariff publications in substantial conformity with the commission regulations; assistance in obtaining greater uniformity in freight classification; an inquiry into the advisability of Federal control of express companies; an inquiry into the information or sources of information available to the United States Railroad Administration in the several departments or branches of the Government; an inquiry into the inter-relationships of railroads, an investigation into the matter of the wages of railway employees, for which purpose a special commission of four was appointed by the Director General, including thereon a member of this commission; an inventory of the property of carriers under Federal control; studies of possible economies in transportation by shorter routing of traffic and the avoidance of unnecessary cross hauling and by physical connection of railroads which had previously been operated under competition; the undertaking to serve as intermediary in matters before State commissions affecting carriers under Federal control; an inquiry into the proposed discontinuance of operation of certain short lines of railroad; an inquiry into methods of fuel economy; and examination of statistical and accounting problems.

Concrete Situations Investigated.

"In addition to the above list of matters, which is merely illustrative, various concrete situations affording difficulty or perplexity were, at the Director General's request, investigated by members of the commission, and recommendations submitted thereon.

"In addition the services of various bureaus of the commission have been freely utilized at the instance of the Director General, in particular the bureaus of tariffs, of carriers' accounts, of statistics, car service, and valuation.

"At the Director General's request four of the commissioners have served on a general conference committee on the drafting of the standard compensation contract provided for in the Federal control act approved March 21, 1918.

"The number of formal complaints filed is 342, a decrease of 309 as compared with the previous year. During the same period 576 cases have been decided and 77 have been dismissed by stipulations or on complainant's request, making a total of 653 disposed of, as against 852 during the previous year.

"We conducted 596 hearings and took approximately 104,983 pages of testimony, as compared with 1,228 hearings and 210,133 pages of testimony during the preceding year.

"The reduction in the number of formal complaints is attributable in large part to the patriotic motives of shippers, and in part to the amendment to the fifteenth section of the act.

Proclamation Taking Possession Of Naval Aviation Site at Cape May

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA.

A PROCLAMATION.

Whereas, the act of Congress approved October 6, 1917 (Public, No. 62, 65th Cong.), as amended by the act of July 1, 1918 (Public, No. 182, 65th Cong.), to authorize the Secretary of the Navy to provide for the acquisition of an air-station site for the United States Navy, provides as follows:

That the Secretary of the Navy be, and he is hereby, authorized to acquire, by purchase or condemnation, including all easements, riparian and other rights appurtenant thereto for use of naval purposes, the tract of land situate at Cape May, N. J., lying between Princeton and Kansas Avenues, and the water front and Cape May Avenue, comprising, exclusive of Pennsylvania Avenue, which intersects the tract and is to remain a public thoroughfare, approximately fifty-seven and seventy-three one hundredth acres, or such enlarged area for which he may be able to contract within the appropriation, and there is hereby appropriated, to be paid out of any money in the Treasury, not otherwise appropriated, for the acquisition of said property and of all easements, riparian and other rights appurtenant thereto, the sum of $150,000; Provided, That the Secretary of the Navy shall authorize the payment of no part of this sum, except for perfecting the title and dredging Cold Spring Harbor and the entrance thereto, in order to make it more available for naval purposes; And provided further, That the Secretary of the Navy be and he is hereby empowered in his discretion to acquire, if possible, additional acreage without increased cost and within the appropriation herein authorized and to exact guarantees for the maintenance of the electric railway now running through the above-described land; and power is hereby conferred upon the Secretary of the Navy to condemn the said tract of land for naval, aviation, and kindred purposes on the New Jersey coast adjacent to Cold Spring Harbor; and the Secretary of the Navy is hereby directed, in conducting his negotiations with the Cape May Real Estate Co., to maintain intact the obligation existing between the United States and the Cape May Real Estate Co., executed by the said company June 25, 1907; and that this contract shall not be regarded as a waiver of either the obligation of the company or the rights of the United States. And provided further, That in the event the Secretary of the Navy is unable satisfactorily to consummate the negotiations for the purchase thereof under the provisions of said act approved October 6, 1917, the President is hereby authorized and empowered to take over for and in behalf of the United States the immediate possession of and title to such land, including all easements, rights of way, riparian and other rights appurtenant or appertaining thereto deemed by him to be necessary for the purposes aforesaid, and to make compensation therefor under the terms and provisions of the legislation contained in this act; and the appropriation of $150,000 appropriated in said act, approved October 6, 1917, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby made available for the payment of compensation for said property so taken over by the President.

And whereas, the Secretary of the Navy has been unable satisfactorily to consummate the negotiations for the purchase of the site needed for the naval aviation station at Cape May, N. J., and

Whereas, it is necessary in the public interests for the United States to take possession of the tract of land needed for the purposes aforesaid, together with all easements, rights of way, riparian and other rights and privileges appurtenant or appertaining thereto.

Now, therefore, know all men by these presents, that I, Woodrow Wilson, President of the United States, by virtue of the power and authority vested in me by said act of Congress approved October 6, 1917, as amended by said act of Congress approved July 1, 1918, do hereby on behalf of the United States take title to and possession of all that portion of the following described tract of land not now owned by the United States:

Beginning for the same at the point of intersection of the westerly line of Yale Avenue if extended in a northerly direction, with the high-water line of Cold Spring Harbor, which said avenue is shown on a certain plan of lots of the Cape May Real Estate Co., which said plan is called "plan A," and is duly recorded in the office of the clerk of the county of Cape May, N. J., in Plan Book No. 1, pages 31 and 32; thence in a general easterly, then southerly, and then westerly direction, following the high-water line of Cold Spring Harbor, Cold Spring Inlet, and the Atlantic Ocean to its point of intersection with the westerly line of said Yale Avenue extended in a southerly direction; thence in a general northerly direction following the said westerly line of said Yale Avenue to the point of beginning. Containing in all 349 acres, more or less, together with all improvements on said tract of land not now owned by the United States, and together with all riparian rights, privileges, easements, and other rights whatsoever, appurtenant or appertaining in any way to said above-described tract of land, including all privately-owned rights in the underwater lands lying between the high-water line of said above-described tract of land and the pier-head or bulkhead lines as such lines are now or may be hereafter established. Said tract of land is more definitely shown on a certain blue print on file in the Office of the Solicitor, Department of the Navy, said blue print being marked "Exhibit No. 2," and being attached to a certain report of a board of investigation convened at section base, Cape May, N. J., October 9, 1918, to inquire into the proposed acquisition of property at Cape May, N. J.

The said above described parcel of land, together with all the aforesaid rights and privileges appurtenant or appertaining thereto, are hereby declared to be and the same are set aside for the naval purposes aforesaid and are placed under the exclusive control of the Secretary of the Navy, who is authorized and directed to take immediate possession thereof in accordance with the terms of the acts aforesaid on behalf of the United States of America.

The Secretary of the Navy is further authorized and directed to take such steps as may in his judgment be necessary for the purpose of conducting negotiations with the owners of property or rights whatsoever therein within the said above described tract of land for the purpose of ascertaining the just compensation to which said owners are entitled in order that compensation therefor may be made in accordance with the provisions of the acts aforesaid. All owners of land and improvements, title and possession of which are taken hereunder in accordance with the provisions of the acts aforesaid, and all persons having claims or liens in respect thereto, are hereby notified to appear before the board to be appointed by the Secretary of the Navy and present their claims for compensation for consideration by the said board in accordance with the provisions of the acts aforesaid.

All persons residing within the said above described tract of land or owning movable property situate thereon are hereby notified to vacate the said tract of land and to remove therefrom all mov-

RESTORING THE DEPLETED HERDS OF ENGLAND, FRANCE, AND ITALY

Larger importations of meat and pork products from the United States, thus lessening the slaughtering of native animals, will be the most effective means of restoring the depleted animal herds of the United Kingdom, France, and Italy.

This is the information recently received from Dr. Vernon Kellogg, of the United States Food Administration, while in France on official business. Dr. Kellogg declares that the losses in cattle in France and Italy are especially serious, not only on account of the meat and milk ordinarily obtained from this source, but also on account of the loss of the services of cattle, through depletion, which are used as work animals on farms in both countries.

Losses in Allied Herds.

"The most recent statistics on animal herds, indicating the number now existing in allied countries, show a loss of cattle in France of 17 per cent; in Italy of 14 per cent, with the United Kingdom showing no loss; sheep and goats, France, 41 per cent; Italy, 1 per cent; United Kingdom, 10 per cent; pigs, France, 49 per cent; Italy, 12½ per cent; United Kingdom, 25 per cent; horses and mules, France, 37½ per cent; Italy, 25 per cent; United Kingdom, not including animals not employed in agriculture, 4½ per cent.

"The losses in cattle in France and Italy are not only serious on account of the meat involved, but are especially serious on account of milk and also of work, as cattle are used largely in both countries as work animals on the farms. It is highly important that the herds be restored as rapidly as possible, which can be done most effectively by larger importations of meat and pork products from America to lessen the slaughtering of native animals.

"The French and Belgian people now being released from formerly occupied territories are demanding and needing increased amounts of food over the former relief ration in order to restore health and strength so as to be able to work, thus making larger demands on imports from America."

Dr. Kellogg's Personal Experience.

Dr. Kellogg strikingly shows the shortage of butter and sugar in France through his personal experience. "I have now been in France three weeks," he says, "eating in restaurants and hotels of all grades, and I have had butter on the table once and a total of six lumps of sugar. Saccharine is universally used in coffee and tea. The small sugar ration is mostly reserved for cooking."

Interpretation No. 1 to Supplement No. 8 to General Order No. 27, Con- cerning Railroad Wage Schedule

The United States Railroad Administration issues the following:

WASHINGTON, D. C.,
November 23, 1918.

Interpretation No. 1 to Supplement No. 8 to General Order No. 27.

OVERTIME MONTHLY, WEEKLY, OR DAILY
PAID EMPLOYEES.

ARTICLE I.—Eight consecutive hours, exclusive of the meal period, constituting a day's work from the effective date of Supplement No. 8 to General Order No. 27, the increases provided for therein and applicable to monthly, weekly, and daily paid employees specified in Article I, paragraphs (a), (b), (c), and (h), and Article II of Supplement No. 8, are based upon the recognized number of working days constituting a calendar year (including Sundays and (or) holidays where they have been considered a part of the employees assignment), and the rates of pay in effect January 1, 1918, prior to the application of General Order No. 27, exclusive of overtime. The following examples illustrate the method to be used in establishing the straight-time hourly rate as the basis of payment for overtime service:

Example (a): Employees working 30 days per month on the monthly, weekly, or daily basis, at a wage amounting to $85 per month on January 1, 1918, prior to the application of General Order No. 27, would on September 1, 1918, under Supplement No. 8, Article I (a), automatically advance to the basic rate of $90 per month, plus $25 increase, establishing the rate of $115, or $1,380 per year. In computing the pro rata rate per hour for overtime pay for monthly, weekly, or daily paid employees, take the number of working days constituting a calendar year, multiply by 8 and divide the annual salary by the total hours, exclusive of overtime and disregarding time absent on vacations, sick leave, holidays, or for any other cause. In determining the hourly rate, fractions less than one-fourth of 1 cent shall be as one-fourth of 1 cent; over one-fourth and under one-half, as one-half cent; over one-half and under three-fourths, as three-fourths; over three-fourths, as 1 cent.

Example (b).—Yearly wage, $1,380 ÷ 2,880 hours = 40.97, or 41 cents per hour.

Example (c).—Yearly wage, $1,500 ÷ 2,880 hours = 52.1, or 52.25 cents per hour.

Example (d).—Yearly wage, $1,800 ÷ 2,880 hours = 62.5 cents per hour.

Example (e).—Yearly wage, $2,100 ÷ 2,880 hours = 72.91, or 73 cents per hour.

Example (f).—Yearly wage, $2,400 ÷ 2,880 hours = 83.33, or 83.5 cents per hour.

NOTE.—It is to be understood that 2,880 hours is illustrative only; the hours per year will vary as the assigned work days in a year vary.

ART. II.—On February 21, 1918, the Director General issued General Order No. 8, paragraph 3 thereof reading as follows:

"The broad question of wages and hours will be passed upon and reported to the Director General as promptly as possible by the present railroad wage commission. Pending a disposition of these matters by the Director General, all requests of employees involving revision of schedules of general changes in conditions affecting wages and hours will be held in abeyance by both the managers and employees. Wages, when determined upon, will be made retroactive to January 1, 1918, and adjusted accordingly. Matters of controversy arising under interpretations of existing wage agreements and other matters not relating to wages and hours, will take their usual course, and in the event of inability to reach a settlement, will be referred to the Director General."

If employees coming within the scope of Supplement No. 8 to General Order No. 27 were paid a punitive rate for overtime after the regular day's work, Sundays and on holidays prior to February 21, 1918, the same conditions should apply on the eight-hour basis. Any punitive overtime rate established for employees under this interpretation since February 21, 1918, except as established by the Director General, is unauthorized and can not be recognized.

Example (a): Employees working 10 hours per day January 1, 1918, prior to the application of General Order No. 27, and who were, prior to February 21, 1918, paid at the rate of time and one-half time for overtime, should be paid as follows:

8 a. m. to 12 noon, 4 hours' work; 12 noon to 1 p. m., 1 hour for meal excluded; 1 p. m. to 5 p. m., 4 hours' work; 5 p. m. to 7 p. m., 2 hours, at rate of time and one-half time. Elapsed time, 11 hours. Time for meal, 1 hour deducted. Overtime, 2 hours. Total time to be paid for, 11 hours.

Example (b): Overtime commences immediately following the eighth consecutive hour of continuous service, after deducting the meal period.

On the basis of pro rata time for the ninth and tenth hour:

8 a. m. to 12 noon, 4 hours' work; 12 noon to 1 p. m., 1 hour for meal excluded; 1 p. m. to 5 p. m., 4 hours' work; 5 p. m. to 7 p. m., 2 hours overtime, pro rata rate; 7 p. m. to 9 p. m., 2 hours overtime, one and one-half times pro rata rate. Elapsed time, 13 hours. Time for meal, 1 hour deducted. Continuous service, 12 hours. Total time to be paid for, 13 hours.

Example (c): Employees working straight through eight consecutive hours:

6 a. m. to 2 p. m., 8 hours' work; 2 p. m. to 4 p. m., 2 hours' overtime, pro rata rate; 4 p. m. to 6 p. m., 2 hours' overtime, one and one-half times pro rata rate; elapsed time, 12 hours. Continuous service, 12 hours; total time to be paid for, 13 hours.

HOURLY RATES.

ART. III. The employees coming under the provisions of paragraphs (e), (f), and (g) of Article I of Supplement No. 8 to General Order No. 27, who were on January 1, 1918, prior to the application of General Order No. 27, paid on a basis of 10 hours or more to constitute a day, for whom hourly rates have been established as per the above-specified paragraphs, shall, on and after September 1, 1918, the effective date of Supplement No. 8, receive one-eighth of the wages received for 10 hours on January 1, 1918, prior to the application of General Order No. 27, as their basic hourly rate, to which shall be added 13 cents per hour for the employees coming under the provisions of paragraphs (e) and (f), observing the minimum rate; and 12 cents per hour for the employees coming under the provisions of paragraph (g), provided the hourly rate thus obtained shall not exceed the maximum rate of 40 cents per hour.

Example (a): Employees coming under the provisions of Article I (e), on a 10-hour basis, rate $3.75 per day; one-eighth of 375 equals 46.87, or 47 cents per hour, adding the increase of 13 cents per hour, produces a rate of 60 cents per hour.

The same method of procedure will apply to the employees coming under the provisions of Article I (f).

Example (b): Employees coming under the provisions of Article I (g), on a 10-hour basis, rate $2.35 per day; one-eighth of 235 equals 29.37, or 29.5 cents per hour, adding the increase of 12 cents per hour, produces a rate of 41.5 cents per hour, the rate would revert to the maximum of 40 cents.

NOTE.—To determine the hourly rate to be paid employees on the hourly basis and for whom 10 hours or more were the established hours of service, use the method and examples (a) and (b) of above Article III, for both classes working less than 10 hours and over 8 hours, one-eighth of the wage received for the number of hours recognized as a day's work.

PAY FOR CALLS.

ART. IV. Employees who are notified or called to work outside the 8 consecutive hours, exclusive of the meal period and continuous service, constituting their regular assignment, shall be paid a minimum allowance of 3 hours for 2 hours' work or less; if held over 2 hours, time and one-half time will be paid, computed on the minute basis.

Example (a):

8 a. m. to 12 noon, 4 hours' work; 12 noon to 1 p. m., 1 hour for meal excluded; 1 p. m. to 5 p. m., 4 hours' work; 6 p. m. to 7:30 p. m., 1½ hours overtime, one and one-half times pro rata rate. Elapsed time, 11½ hours. Time for meal, 1 hour. Break in continuous service, 1 hour; time for call, 3 hours, minimum guarantee; total time to be paid for, 11 hours.

ART. V.—Exclusive of employees whose regular assignment includes Sundays and (or) holidays, employees notified or called to work on Sundays and (or) holidays will be paid not less than the minimum allowance of three hours, and where no existing agreement or practice is more favorable, such employees will be paid as per examples (a) and (b) of Article II.

ART. VI.—Payment of overtime at a rate in excess of pro rata will be computed from and added to the pro rata rate.

ART. VII.—Unless acceptable to a majority of employees in a department or subdivision thereof, the meal period shall not be less than 30 minutes or more than 1 hour.

ART. VIII.—Where unjustifiable inequalities develop or exist in the rates of pay for relatively the same service and responsibility, as between employees of the same class within the respective groups, as specified in Supplement No. 8 to General Order No. 27, the regional directors are hereby authorized to establish uniform rates of pay by zones or districts throughout their respective regions, under the following conditions:

(a) The maximum rates established by Supplement No. 8 to General Order No. 27 must not be exceeded (note exception in (d) following).

Executive Order Prescribing Additional Regulations Respecting the Powers of the Alien Property Custodian

EXECUTIVE ORDER.

An Executive order prescribing additional rules and regulations, and making certain determinations respecting the exercise of the powers and authority and the performance of the duties of the Alien Property Custodian.

By virtue of the authority vested in me by "An act to define, regulate and punish trading with the enemy, and for other purposes," approved October 6, 1917, known as the "Trading with the enemy act," as amended, I hereby make the following orders, rules, and regulations, and determinations.

DEFINITIONS.

1. The words "Insurance company" as used herein shall be deemed to mean a partnership, association, mutual company, general agency, whether incorporated or unincorporated, group of individual underwriters, corporation, or body politic whose business in whole or in part consists of insurance or underwriting in any one or more of its branches.

2. The word "enemy" as used herein shall be deemed to mean either an "enemy" or "ally of enemy" as the case may be.

POWERS OF MANAGEMENT AND ADMINISTRATION, INCLUDING SALE OR OTHER DISPOSITION.

The Alien Property Custodian shall have power, and he is authorized and directed, to hold, manage, administer, protect, preserve, control, and to reinsure or retrocede, and to sell or otherwise dispose of, in accordance with the following rules and regulations, any and all property, other than money, of any insurance company heretofore doing business within the United States which has been or shall be conveyed, transferred, assigned, delivered, and (or) paid over to him, pursuant to the provisions of the "Trading with the enemy act" as amended, and the proclamations and Executive orders issued in pursuance thereof, or which has been or shall be required so to be conveyed, transferred, assigned, delivered, and (or) paid over to him, or which shall be seized by him.

1. The Alien Property Custodian shall have the power and authority to do any and all things reasonable and proper in or about the taking over, custody, management, administration, protection, preservation, and control of such business, property, and assets, including (but without limiting the generality of the foregoing) the power and authority to collect all premiums, commissions, agency balances, bills, notes, accounts, dividends, interest, rents, and other receivables, and income and profits, and accumulations and distribution of principal or income; to pay all leases, claims, premiums, adjustment charges, rents, interest, and other accounts and liens or charges; to vote in person or by proxy shares of stock or other beneficial interest in corporations, unincorporated associations, companies, or trusts upon any questions at all times and upon all matters upon which any owner of such stock or other beneficial interest shall have the right to vote, including the power and authority to vote for or against and to take part in any sale, dissolution, consolidation, amalgamation, or reorganization of any sort, of any such corporation, unincorporated association, company, or trust, or of its assets or any part thereof, and to exercise any rights or privileges that may be or become appurtenant to the ownership of such stock or other beneficial interest with like force and effect and under like circumstances in all respects as though the absolute owner thereof; to give any notices and file any papers or writings of any kind, proper or necessary for the creation, perfection, protection, liquidation, or otherwise in respect of any claims, demands, choses in action, or other rights of any kind, and to settle, compromise, and adjust claims, demands, and choses in action; to intervene in any suit or proceeding and to file and maintain claims, demands, and suits of all kinds in or before any court, board, commission, or other body; to determine and pay all reasonable and proper expenses incurred in or about or with respect of the exercise of any of the powers and authority vested in the Alien Property Custodian or any depository for him, including expenses that may be incurred in or about securing possession, custody, or control of any such property, and including also taxes and other charges heretofore or hereafter lawfully assessed upon or against such property, by any body politic, provided that this shall not be construed to require the payment of any stamp or other taxes upon or on account of conveyance, transfer, assignment, or delivery of property to the Alien Property Custodian or to any agent, attorney, bailee, nominee, or depository for him; and, provided further, that this shall not in any way affect the power of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue or any regulations made by him or under his authority.

2. Whenever any such property or any part or parcel thereof is or shall be subject to any claim of lien, charge, or incumbrance, or is or shall be held or retained adversely to the Alien Property Custodian, or to any requirement with respect to such property made by him, the Alien Property Custodian may compromise or settle such controversy and pay any such claim in any way that he shall decide to be proper, and as though he were the absolute owner of the property involved; and he shall have the power and authority to make any payment or payments necessary and to execute and deliver any instruments or writings necessary and proper to effect or evidence the same.

3. Whenever any such property or any part or parcel thereof shall constitute part of, or have been used in the conduct of, the business of any such insurance company, the Alien Property Custodian, in addition to the rights, powers, and authority elsewhere herein conferred upon him in respect of such property, may continue the conduct or other operation of the business of such insurance company conducted anywhere within the United States prior thereto by, or for, such company; and for such purpose, the Alien Property Custodian shall have the right, power, and authority to employ and discharge managers, agents, attorneys, servants, and other employees, to effect insurance and reinsurance, to issue policies, certificates, or other contracts of insurance or reinsurance; to adjust, compromise, settle, and pay claims of every kind arising in connection with such business; to require money owing by insurance companies, banks, trustees, trust companies, State or municipal officers, or other depositories on special or general deposit to be paid by him or upon his order; to collect debts, premiums, commissions, dues, assessments, and other receivables owing to the said business or to the former enemy owner or owners thereof and created out of or by the operation of such business, and also debts, accounts, and other receivables accruing or arising out of the conduct or other operation or such business or undertaking, by the Alien Property Custodian or under his direction or authority; to pay the wages and salaries of managers, agents, attorneys, servants, and other employees, and rents, and current accounts and other liabilities; to intervene in any suit or action pending in any court or before any board, commission, or other body, in which such business or any of the property or assets thereof shall be involved or concerned and to prosecute or defend, as the case may be; to file, prosecute, and maintain in the name of the Alien Property Custodian or otherwise as may be proper, any claim or suit arising out of or based upon transactions had prior or subsequent to the time when such business or property was demanded or taken over by the Alien Property Custodian, but growing out of the conduct or operation of such business or any other use, custody, or management of any property or assets thereof; and generally, to manage, administer, preserve, conduct, operate, and control such business and any or all parts or parcels and assets thereof as though the absolute owner, either in the name of the Alien Property Custodian or otherwise as he shall determine.

4. The Alien Property Custodian may appoint agents, attorneys, bailees, depositories, liquidators, and/or managers who, under his direction and control, within the limits of the authority conferred by him, shall be authorized and directed to hold, manage, administer, protect, preserve, and otherwise control the business, property, and assets demanded and taken over by him, or any part or parcel thereof; and they may be authorized and directed to continue the conduct of such business which the Alien Property Custodian himself, as provided elsewhere herein, could continue. Such agents, attorneys, bailees, depositories, liquidators, and managers shall have and exercise the rights, powers, and authority

PRODUCTION AND STOCKS OF BOOK PAPER FOR THE FIRST TWO WEEKS OF DECEMBER

The Federal Trade Commission issues the following statement on production and stocks of book paper for the first two weeks of December, 1918:

Weekly reports from 45 book paper manufacturers operating 77 mills for the first two weeks of December, 1918, show the following results:

	Week ended—
	Dec. 8.	Dec. 15.
Mill stocks first of week:
Total book paper.....	28,775	29,459
Periodical paper.....	3,355	3,416
Produced during week:
Total book paper.....	15,488	15,334
Periodical paper.....	4,426	4,346
Shipped during week:
Total book paper.....	14,804	15,927
Periodical paper.....	4,365	4,260
Mill stocks end of week:
Total book paper.....	29,459	28,866
Periodical paper.....	3,416	3,502

NOTE.—Periodical paper includes that known by manufacturers to be used for printing magazines and periodicals. The total figures include the periodical book paper. The stocks contain a duplication of about 5,000 tons on account of the coated paper included.

Stocks of total book paper were decreased 709 tons at the beginning of the period by corrected figures received from the mills.

Mill stocks of both periodical and total book paper increased during the period.

LOSS OF PRODUCTION.

Reports of 199 machines show the following loss of time during the first two weeks of December:

	Number of machines.	Hours idl.
Repairs:
First week.....	20	696
Second week.....	17	529
Lack of orders:
First week.....	10	1,372
Second week.....	15	2,048
Other reasons:
First week.....	17	913
Second week.....	24	694

Under "other reasons" during the first week 3 machines of the 17 were idle 432 hours on account of lack of labor and during the second week 3 machines of the 24 were idle 432 hours on account of lack of labor and 10 machines were down 156 hours on account of fire.

The above figures include machines running partial time on other grades than book paper.

The total time the machines were idle increased about 35 per cent over the preceding two-weeks' period, the principal cause being lack of orders.

LEAD AND ZINC PRODUCTION IN 1918 SHOWS DECREASE

The domestic mine output of lead and zinc decreased in 1918, according to C. E. Siebenthal, in a statement just issued by the United States Geological Survey, Department of the Interior. The lead and the recoverable zinc of ores mined was approximately 563,000 tons and 627,000 tons, as compared with 651,156 tons and 711,192 tons in 1917. The refined lead output of smelters and refineries was 645,000 tons, against 612,214 tons in 1917, and the antimonial lead output was 22,000 tons, as against 18,647 tons. The lead available in the United States is 540,000 tons, against 515,258 tons in 1917. The output of spelter from domestic and foreign ore was 525,600 tons, compared with 609,573 tons in 1917. Spelter from foreign ore decreased to 23,300 from 84,976 tons in 1917. The apparent domestic consumption of spelter was 440,000 tons, compared with 413,984 tons in 1917. The consumption figures of both lead and zinc include the metal shipped abroad for use of the American Expeditionary Forces. The average price of lead at New York was 7.6 cents a pound and of spelter at St. Louis 8 cents a pound.

Executive Order on Powers of the Alien Property Custodian which shall be from time to time conferred upon him or them by the Alien Property Custodian; and such rights, powers, and authority may be enlarged, restricted, or revoked by the Alien Property Custodian at any time and without giving any notice or reason therefor; and the remuneration of all such agents, attorneys, bailees, depositaries, liquidators, and managers shall be fixed by the Alien Property Custodian and may be increased or reduced at any time.

5. The Alien Property Custodian shall have full power and discretion with respect to the business, property, and assets of any insurance company which has been or shall be conveyed, transferred, assigned, delivered, or paid over to him, or required so to be, or which has been or shall be seized by him, and may liquidate, reinsure or retrocede, or sell or otherwise dispose of in accordance with the provisions of said "Trading with the enemy Act" as amended, the said business in whole or in part at such times and upon such terms as he may determine, and may devote so much of the property and assets of such insurance company in his possession or under his control or subject to his demand as shall be necessary to effect such reinsurance or retrocession. Where the business is reinsured in whole or in part, such reinsurance shall be effected only in insurance companies incorporated within and under the authority of the laws of the United States, or of any State or Territory of the United States.

6. The Alien Property Custodian shall have the power, in and about the conduct of such business and of its liquidation, retrocession and/or reinsurance to sell at private sale, without public or other advertisement any stocks, beneficial interest in stocks, including voting trust certificates and all other rights appurtenant to the ownership of stocks, bonds, negotiable instruments or evidences of indebtedness, and maps, in parcels, lots or quantities having a market value at the time of sale not exceeding ten thousand dollars ($10,000) for each parcel, lot, or quantity sold. Any such sale may be conducted at such place and upon such terms and conditions as to the Alien Property Custodian or his authorized agent may seem proper. The reasons in the public interest for the foregoing determination, order, rule and regulation are:

(a) The properties above described can not usually be sold to the best advantage at public sale after public or other advertisement.

(b) The sales hereby authorized may be made at the time and place of most favorable demand and upon such terms and conditions as may be necessary to secure the best market price.

(c) Unnecessary expense, delay, and inconvenience may be avoided.

Effect upon the statutory powers of the Alien Property Custodian and upon prior Executive orders.

1. Nothing herein contained shall limit or shall be construed to limit in any way the rights, powers, and authority conferred upon the Alien Property Custodian by the "Trading-with-the-enemy act" and the amendments thereto and the Executive orders heretofore issued pursuant thereto.

2. All Executive orders heretofore made are amended and modified hereby to such an extent as may be necessary to conform with the provisions hereof; but with this exception, all of such orders in force and effect at the time this order is issued are expressly ratified and continued in full force and effect.

WOODROW WILSON.

THE WHITE HOUSE,
November 12, 1918.

INTERPRETATION OF R. R. ORDER.

(b) Rates established by Supplement No. 8 to General Order No. 27 must not be reduced.

(c) The specified differentials in the established maximum rates for hourly workers to be preserved.

(d) Where differentials in wage rates existed for common labor in favor of tunnel gangs and tunnel and elevated common labor such differentials should be maintained, but in no case extended to create a greater differential than heretofore existed.

(e) All rates herein provided for shall be filed by the regional directors with the Board of Railroad Wages and Working Conditions.

Director General of Railroads.

How U. S. Convoys and Camouflage Beat the German Under Sea Boats, Told by a Merchant Marine Officer

With the cessation of fighting "on land, on the sea, and in the air," the veil of secrecy that screened the movements of shipping during the war is lifted by the United States Shipping Board, which has issued a statement written by one of the officers of a merchant ship, telling how a convoy was managed, and how a group of camouflaged ships looked at sea.

Convoy and camouflage are the two devices that enabled the merchant marine to baffle the pirate hidden beneath the wave, peering for his victims through his periscope. The Navy completed the job by protecting the merchantmen with destroyers, and furnishing them with guns and gunners; but the disguise of camouflage, and the ancient convoy system—which was employed by the Spaniards carrying treasure from the New World to the Old as protection against seventeenth century pirates—made the work of the naval men much easier than otherwise it would have been.

Opening Chapter of Sea Tales.

The Shipping Board officer's description of these two war devices—now happily a thing of the past—proves an interesting opening chapter to the sea tales that soon will be released, telling of our successful fight to keep open the ocean ferry against the pirates of the U-boat.

It begins with the ship's departure from New York, and is as follows:

"Once out in the stream we headed down the channel for the lightship, beyond which our convoy and escorts were waiting for us. All were slowly under way when we reached them. The leading ships of the different columns took their places, and after a few minutes' confusion and lively work on the signal halyards, the other ships of the convoy got into place.

"Guarded above by the dirigibles, hydroplanes, and anchored balloons, and on the surface by a fleet of patrol boats as well as our ocean escort, we proceeded, and America soon dropped below the western horizon. At sunset we were well out to sea.

"As in the Army we have turned back to medieval helmets and armor, on the water we have turned to medieval naval tactics; but, instead of convoys of Spanish galleons and frigates of the seventeenth century from the New World to the Old, our convoys were American transports and destroyers.

"Even the old sailmaker on our ship, who had been on the ocean ever since he shipped as cabin boy on a down east blue noser 50 years ago, admitted the convoy game was a new one on him, and hung over the rail watching our many war-clored neighbors.

Why Convoy System Was Effective.

"It is not hard to see why the convoy system was effective. Take the case of a convoy of 25 ships (72 is the largest number I've heard of in one convoy; our mate told me of being caught in a 72-ship convoy in a sailing ship in the Bay of Biscay). When these ships went in convoy, instead of there being 25 different units scattered all over the 'zone' for the U-boats to find, there was only one. That is, the Hun had only one chance of meeting a ship where he had 25 before. And if he did meet the convoy he found it usually with a naval escort whose sole business was sinking submarines. He found, too, 25 lookouts on watch for him, 25 sets of guns ready for him, where there was but one each before. If the Hun showed himself to a convoy and its escort, the odds were that he was due for a quick trip to the bottom.

The Usual Formation.

"The usual convoy formation was in columns in a rough square. This was the most compact and the inside ships were practically immune from attack. The escorts circled the convoy, if necessary, and the outside ships concentrated their fire on any submarine that appeared.

"Convoys were made up at different speeds, and even the rustiest old tramps were provided for, in a 6-knot class.

"In spite of this some captains' imagination always tacked a couple of knots to their ships' speed. There seemed to be a nautical version of 'Home Sweet Home'—'be it ever so humble, there's no ship like mine,' and vessels making 9 knots on Broadway make a bare 7 off Fire Island. These were the fellows who were always falling back, slowing up the convoy, and bringing gray hairs to the heads of naval escort commanders.

"It was remarkable what a snappy escort commander could do with his charges. After a day or two together he had them maneuvering in position like a second grand fleet; may be zigzagging 'dark' through a black night, not a ray of light showing anywhere, if they were in the danger zone, or a tin fish was reported near.

What Camouflage Was For.

"The war brought no stranger spectacle than that of a convoy of steamers plowing along through the middle of the ocean, streaked and bespotted indiscriminately with every color of the rainbow in a way more bizarre than the wildest dreams of a sailor's first night ashore.

"Every American ship going across was ordered camouflaged. The allies had similar orders. So one seldom saw a ship at sea, except neutrals, that was not camouflaged. After a good look at them you could see why the sea serpent had the best season last summer he has had since Baron Munchausen died.

"Most people seem to think the purpose of marine camouflage was the same as that of the land camouflage the Army used for its guns. That idea is quite mistaken. The purpose of marine camouflage was not to decrease the ship's visibility at sea—indeed the bright whites often used in camouflage sometimes made a ship much more prominent than a neutral gray would.

Enemy Deceived as to Course.

"The purpose of the camouflage was to deceive the submarine as to the true course of the ship in the distance. It figured out her course and speed in order

REPORT OF THE COMMISSIONER OF THE LIGHTHOUSE SERVICE

The annual report of the Commissioner of Lighthouses to the Secretary of Commerce for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1918, shows that the past year has been an unusually eventful and active one in the history of the Lighthouse Service. Under the Executive order issued shortly after the entering of the United States into the war, nearly all of the lighthouse tenders and a number of other units, with a total of 1,132 persons, have been serving with the Navy Department and at the same time continuing the work of maintaining the aids to Navigation. The general lighthouse act passed in June, 1918, provides a retirement system for the field force of the Lighthouse Service and more adequate compensation for the light keepers and district officers.

Statistics in Brief.

The United States Lighthouse Service maintains aids to navigation on all coasts under the jurisdiction of the United States except the Philippine Islands and Panama, and also on the principal interior rivers. This service is charged with the maintenance of aids to navigation along 47,300 statute miles of coast line and river channel.

On June 30, 1918, there were 5,899 persons employed in the Lighthouse Service.

During the fiscal year there was a net increase of 446 in the total number of aids maintained, the total at the end of the year being 15,673. Of these 5,545 are lights of all classes and 587 are fog signals. The number of aids in Alaska is 439, including 168 lights.

Life and Property Saved.

During the fiscal year 1918, services in saving life and property were rendered and acts of heroism performed by employees of the Lighthouse Service on 158 occasions.

The appropriations for the maintenance of the Lighthouse Service for the fiscal year 1919 are $6,150,430, being $811,750 in excess of those for the preceding fiscal year. In addition there are special appropriations aggregating $723,000 for various new works.

to choose the right time and place to come up or put its periscope up and fire the torpedo. If deceived as to its intended victim's course it came up in the wrong place, where it could not get off a torpedo successfully and was perhaps discovered.

"The effect of good camouflage was remarkable. I have often looked at a fellow ship in the convoy sailing on our quarter on exactly the same course we were, but on account of her camouflage she appeared to be making right for us on a course at least 45 degrees different from the one she was actually steering.

Deception Was Remarkable.

"The deception was remarkable even under such conditions as these, and of course a U-boat, with its hasty limited observation, was much more likely to be fooled.

"Each nation seemed to have a characteristic type of camouflage, and after a little practice you could usually spot a ship's nationality by her style of camouflage long before you could make out her ensign."

Removal of Mill Feed Price Regulations

The United States Food Administration has removed the special price regulations on mill feeds and those limiting wholesalers', retailers', and jobbers' margins of profit on mill-feed sales. The removal of these restrictions becomes effective at once.

The regulations on other feeding stuffs remain in force and the lifting of these special regulations dealing with wheat mill feeds does not affect the provisions limiting dealers to a reasonable profit in this commodity.

SOLDIERS HONORED BY PERSHING FOR HEROISM

The commander in chief, in the name of the President, has awarded the distinguished-service cross to the following-named officers and soldiers for the acts of extraordinary heroism described after their names:

Second Lieut. WILLIAM O. LOWE, third observation group. For extraordinary heroism in action east of Cunel, Verdun sector, France, October 7, 1918. Lieut. William Lowe, while staking the advance lines of the 80th Division, was suddenly attacked by a formation of eight enemy machines (Fokker type), which dived out of a cloud bank. Although greatly outnumbered, Lieut. Lowe succeeded in shooting down one out of control and disabled a second so that it was forced to land. Later, on the same mission, he was again attacked by a patrol of five enemy scout machines, and in a running fight he drove these off and successfully completed his mission. Home address, Mrs. Jessie G. Lowe, mother, general delivery, Fountain City, Tenn.

Second Lieut. WILBERT E. KINSLEY, Air Service pilot, third observation group. For extraordinary heroism in action east of Cunel, Verdun sector, France, October 7, 1918. While staking the advanced lines of the 18th Division he was attacked by eight enemy machines (Fokker type), who dived out of a rear-by cloud bank. Although attacked simultaneously by the enemy planes, he placed his airplane in such position that his observer, Second Lieut. WILLIAM O. LORD, was able to shoot down and crush one enemy plane and disable a second so badly that it was forced to land a few kilometers inside the German lines. Later, on the same mission, he was again attacked by a patrol of five enemy scout machines and in a running fight he drove these off and successfully completed his mission. Home address, Guy Kinsley, brother, Washington Street, Winchester, Mass.

Corpl. VAN HORTON, Company E, 366th Infantry. (No. 2168859.) For extraordinary heroism in action near Lesseux, France, September 4, 1918. During a hostile attack, preceded by a heavy minewerfer barrage, involving the entire front of the battalion, the combat group to which this courageous soldier belonged was attacked by about 20 of the enemy, using liquid fire. The sergeant in charge of the group and four other men having been killed, Corpl. Horton fearlessly rushed to receive the attack, and the persistency with which he fought resulted in stopping the attack and driving back the enemy. Home address, Mrs. Minnie Horton, mother, route 5, box 93, Athens, Ala.

Second Lieut. AARON R. FISHER, 366th Infantry. For extraordinary heroism in action near Lesseux, France, September 3, 1918. Lieut. Fisher showed exceptional bravery in action when his position was raided by a superior force of the enemy by directing his men and refusing to leave his position, although he was severely wounded. He and his men continued to fight the enemy until the latter were beaten off by counterattack. Home address, Benjamin Fisher, father, general delivery, Lyles, Ind.

Pvt. JOE WILLIAMS, Company E, 366th Infantry. (No. 2169035.) For extraordinary heroism in action near Lesseux, France, September 4, 1918. Pvt. Williams was a member of a combat group which was attacked by 20 of an enemy raiding party, advancing under a heavy barrage and using liquid. The sergeant in charge of the group was killed, and several others, including Pvt. Williams, were wounded. Nevertheless this soldier with three others fearlessly resisted the enemy until they were driven off. Home address, Mrs. Carrie Gordon, friend, Oetom, Ala.

Pvt. ROY A. BROWN, Company E, 366th Infantry. (No. 2168841.) For extraordinary heroism in action near Lesseux, France, September 4, 1918. Pvt. Brown was a member of a combat group which was attacked by 20 of an enemy raiding party, advancing under a heavy barrage and using liquid fire. The sergeant in charge of the group was killed and several others, including Pvt. Brown, were wounded. Nevertheless this soldier, with three others, fearlessly resisted the enemy until they were driven off. Home address Mrs. Ellen Brown, mother, 620 Madison Street Decatur Ala

Pvt. ED. MERRIFIELD, Company E, 366th Infantry (No. 2817823). For extraordinary heroism in action near Lesseux, France, September 4, 1918. Although he was severely wounded, Pvt. Merrifield remained at his post and continued to fight a superior enemy force which had attempted to enter our lines, thereby preventing the success of an enemy raid in force. Home address, Mrs. Lucinda Merrifield, mother, Greenville, Ill.

Pvt. ALEX. HAMMOND, Company E, 366th Infantry (No. 2169003). For extraordinary heroism in action near Lesseux, France, September 4, 1918. Although he was severely wounded, Pvt. Hammond remained at his post and continued to fight a superior force which had attempted to enter our lines, thereby preventing the success of an enemy raid in force. Home address, Will Hammond, father, route 1, Harvest, Ala.

Pvt. GEORGE BELL, Company E, 366th Infantry (No. 2168983). For extraordinary heroism in action near Lesseux, September 4, 1918. Although he was severely wounded, Pvt. Bell remained at his post and continued to fight a superior enemy force which had attempted to enter our lines, thereby preventing the success of an enemy raid in force. Home address, Mrs. Clara Bell, mother, route 2, Athens, Ala.

Pvt. (First Class) WILL CLANCY, Company E, 366th Infantry (No. 2169151). For extraordinary heroism in action near Frapelle, France, September 4, 1918. Pvt. Clancy showed exceptional bravery during an enemy raid. His teammate on an automatic rifle having been mortally wounded, and although he was himself severely wounded, he continued to serve his weapon until the raid was driven back. Home address, John Clancy, father, 2616 Sixth Avenue, North Birmingham, Ala.

Second Lieut. FRANK LUKE, Jr., deceased, 27th Aero Squadron, Air Service. For extraordinary heroism in action near St. Mihiel, France, September 12 to 15, 1918. Lieut. Luke, by skill, determination, and bravery, and in the face of heavy enemy fire, successfully destroyed eight enemy observation balloons in four days. Next of kin, Frank Luke, father, 2200 West Monroe Street, Phoenix, Ariz.

Sergt. CORNELIUS OROURKE, Company A, 15th Machine-Gun Battalion. For extraordinary heroism in action near Vieux-en-Haye, France, September 14, 1918. Seeing two wounded comrades lying exposed to heavy enemy machine-gun and artillery fire, Sergt. Oroucke went out in disregard of all danger to himself and brought them in, one at a time, to a shelter place, thus inspiring his men by his great dash and courage. Home address, sister, 45 McDonald Street, Glens Falls, N. Y.

Capt. GUSTAVE EHRHARDT, 140th French Infantry, attached to 138th United States Infantry. For extraordinary heroism in action near Cheppy, France, September 25-26, 1918. As liaison officer it was no part of Capt. Ehrhardt's duty to go into action with the forward elements of the regiment, but he insisted upon doing so. Undaunted by a wound in the left arm, caused by a bursting shell, he continued to advance in the face of very intense shell fire. He was again struck down by a shell fragment which shattered his right arm, but he rose and followed the regimental commander into the shell-swept area. He was knocked down a third time by shell fragments, from which he received wounds in the back so severe in character that he was unable to rise, later receiving additional wounds in the body. Address not given.

First Lieut. JOHN F. WILLIAMS, Jr., 120th Infantry. For extraordinary heroism in action near Ypres, Belgium, August 2, 1918. Lieut. Williams volunteered to destroy an enemy pillbox which had caused many casualties in his battalion. With much skill and daring he laid a daylight patrol under heavy shell and machine-gun fire, rushed the pillbox, killed or wounded the occupants, and accomplished his mission. Home address, John F. Williams, sr., father, 201 East Liberty Street, Charlotte, N. C.

Pvt. ROBERT MARSHALL TEACHEY, deceased, Company B, 120th Infantry (No. 1319726). For extraordinary heroism in action near Ypres, Belgium, August 2, 1918. He volunteered to accompany an officer on a daylight patrol to destroy an enemy pillbox. With great courage, under heavy shell and machine-gun fire, they rushed the pillbox, killed or wounded the occupants, and accomplished their mission. Next of kin, J. M. Teachey, father, 305 Linden Avenue, Raleigh, N. C.

First Lieut. JEAN HUGO, 36th French Infantry, attached to 28th United States Infantry. For extraordinary heroism in action at Cantigny, France, May 28-30, 1918. During the attack and defense of Cantigny, Lieut. Hugo showed utter disregard for personal danger and in critical situations inspired great confidence in those about him, contributing largely to the successful defense of the sector against repeated counterattacks. He rendered valuable assistance in placing troops in their positions, and inspired confidence in the men by his coolness.

Pvt. JOSEPH E. McVEY (deceased) (No. 58743), Company M, 28th Infantry. For extraordinary heroism in action near Soissons, France, July 18-21, 1918. After his platoon commander had been wounded Pvt. Mcvey took command of the platoon and displaced exceptional initiative, good judgment, and devotion to duty. He alone captured a machine gun which was holding up the advance and continued to lead his men forward until reaching their final objective. He himself was killed. Next of kin, Miss Elizabeth Hoy, sister, St. Marys, Kans.

Pvt. CASHEL WILSON, Company G, 28th Infantry. For extraordinary heroism in action near Soissons, France, July 18, 1918. In order to stop artillery fire which was causing heavy losses in our ranks, Pvt. Wilson, with another soldier, rushed 300 yards to the front, attacked a machine-gun strong point and a 77-millimeter artillery gun, captured the position and the gun, killed 2 and captured 13 of the enemy. Home address, Isaac Wilson, R. F. D. 9, Chillicothe, Ohio.

Pvt. GEORGE S. S. CALDWELL, Company G, 28th Infantry. For extraordinary heroism in action near Soissons, France, July 18, 1918. In order to stop artillery fire which was causing heavy losses in our ranks, Pvt. Caldwell, with another soldier, rushed 300 yards to the front, attacked a machine-gun strong point and a 77-millimeter artillery gun, captured the position and the gun, killed 2 and captured 13 of the enemy. Home address, Cyrus W. Caldwell, 900 North Evans Avenue, McKeesport, Pa.

First Lieut. HAROLD H. TITTMAN, Air Service, 94th Aero Squadron, first pursuit group. For extraordinary heroism in action near Bouches, France, July 1, 1918. Lieut. Tittman while on a patrol encountered seven machines. Despite numerical superiority and the enemy advantage of position, he immediately attacked; after firing a few rounds his guns became jammed; in the midst of a veritable hail of machine-gun fire he repaired the jam and resumed the attack. Although he was severely wounded he continued until the enemy was forced to retire behind their own lines. Home address, Mr. Harold H. Tittman, father, 5024 Westminister Place, St. Louis, Mo.

Col. ROBERT H. PECK, 11th Infantry. For extraordinary heroism in action near Liny-devant-Dun, Fontaine, Murvaux and Brandeville, France, November 6-8, 1918. Throughout the successive attacks on Liny-devant-Dun, Cote 292, Bois De Chenois, Fontaines, Murvaux, Bois Du Corrol and Bois De Brandeville, Col. Peck exhibited conspicuous gallantry, stimulating his command to a high state of enthusiasm and creating a superb morale. Placing himself in front of the leading waves, he personally led his men to the assault. Accompanied by nine men, he attacked a battery of enemy artillery near La Maissonette Farm, forcing the abandonment and subsequent capture of the battery. Under his skillful leadership his regiment captured numerous prisoners, 6 pieces of artillery, 3 antiaircraft guns, 150 machine guns, and vast quantities of ammunition and supplies. Home address, Mrs. Robert H. Peck, wife, care War Department, Washington, D. C.

Lieut. Col. R. JOHN WEST, 11th Infantry. For extraordinary heroism in action at Liny-devant-Dun and Fontaine, France, November 6-7, 1918. When his command was halted by heavy fire from an enemy position, strongly entrenched and supported by a large number of machine guns, Col. West placed himself in front of his men and gallantly led them in person to a successful attack, thereby securing a foothold on the east bank of the Meuse and insuring the safe passage of additional troops. By his disregard for personal danger he set an inspiring example to his men and played a conspicuous rôle in gaining the heights on the east bank of the Meuse held by the enemy since 1914. Home address, Mrs. Eleanor P. West, wife, Leavenworth, Kans.

First Lieut. CHARLES R. ROWAN (deceased), 110th Infantry. For extraordinary heroism in action near Apremont, France, September 29, 1918. Being familiar with ground over which an attack was to be made, Lieut. Rowan volunteered to leave his own company in the reserve and lead another company which was without officers. The enemy attacked before our own operations were begun. First Lieut. Rowan was wounded by a machine-gun bullet. Exemplifying in the highest degree the spirit of self-sacrifice and devotion to duty, Lieut. Rowan remained with his command for an hour and a half until the hostile attack was repulsed. He has since died from the wounds received in this engagement. Next of kin, Mrs. Richard M. Rowan, mother, Altoona, Pa.

Corpl. COBERT E. JEFFREY, Headquarters Company, 110th Infantry. (No. 1240588.) For extraordinary heroism in action at Apremont, France, September 29, 1918. Corpl. Jeffrey was a member of a section operating 37-millimeter guns which was attacked by the enemy. After removing the guns to safety he learned that the officer commanding the section had been captured, whereupon he organized a party of five, attacked the enemy's patrol, numbering 35, and succeeded in delivering the captured officer, killing 15 of the enemy and personally capturing 2. Later in the same evening in entire disregard for his own safety, Corpl. Jeffrey assisted a sergeant in organizing 75 men for a counterattack, which they launched in the face of heavy fire at close range, driving the enemy back for more than a kilometer. Home address, Joseph Jeffrey, father, Sagamore, Pa.

Corpl. JAMES W. POWELL, Company C, 112th Infantry. (No. 1247276.) For extraordinary heroism in action near Fismette, France, August 9, 1918. When a platoon of his company was held up by sniper fire, Corpl. Powell, undaunted, voluntarily crawled through holes in walls and over roofs, located the enemy sniper and killed him, enabling the platoon to proceed without further loss. Later in the engagement, when reinforcements and ammunition were needed, he volunteered and swam the Vesle River under machine-gun fire. Home address, Mrs. Viola P. Dougherty, friend, 98 Washington Street, Bradford, Pa.

Capt. CHARLES L. MCLAIN, 110th Infantry. For repeated acts of extraordinary heroism in action on the Marne River, France, July 15, 1918, and at Apremont, France, September 29, 1918. Capt. McLain was an observer with the French when the enemy attack on the Marne River was started July 15, 1918. All the officers of an Infantry company having been killed or wounded, he voluntarily reorganized the remainder of the company and successfully fought his way through the enemy, upon two occasions being surrounded. In this operation he was badly gassed. At Apremont, September 29, when his own company had reached its objective, Capt. McLain, finding that another company was without officers, voluntarily assumed command of it and led the first wave. In so doing Capt. McLain was wounded, but he continued in action until the objective was reached. Home address, Charles C. McLain, father, Indiana, Pa.

Pvt. (First Class) MARK E. KERR, S. S. U. 647. (No. 10384.) For extraordinary heroism in action near Fleville and St. Juvin, France, October 11-13, 1918. After 36 hours of continuous firing over heavily shelled roads, Pvt. Kerr upon his own initiative was the first to establish liaison with an advanced dressing station which had been isolated by the explosion of a tank trap. To do this he lifted his car across the mine crater with the aid of some infantrymen, and for eight hours thereafter drove his ambulance through a heavy bombardment of high explosive and gas shells between the mine crater and the dressing station. During this period his car was pierced repeatedly by shell fragments, two of his patients receiving additional wounds. Two days later when the Infantry had made a further advance his car was again the first to establish liaison with an advanced dressing station on the outskirts of St. Juvin. Home address, Miss Esther Kerr, sister, South Dodge, Dorchester, Dorset, England.

Pvt. JAMES H. RORTY, S. S. U. 647. (No. 10498.) For extraordinary heroism in action near Sommerance, France, October 11, 1918. Pvt. Rorty was relieved from duty as a mechanic in order that he might serve as aid on cars during the Argonne offensive. While engaged in evacuating wounded from a culvert not far from enemy outposts fragments of a shell pierced his clothing, and although he was suffering from shock he repeatedly ran ahead in the dark to guide the car over a road partly destroyed by shells and still under enemy machine-gun fire. Returning with relief cars, he again served as guide and as stretcher bearer until the evacuation was completed. Home address, M. C. Rorty, brother, Great Neck, Long Island, N. Y.

Pvt. (First Class) HENRY L. SIGNOR, S. S. U. 647. (No. 10401.) For extraordinary heroism in action near Sommerance, France, October 11, 1918. Following the advance of the Infantry, Pvt. Signor caused his car to be lifted across a mine crater by some infantrymen, and proceeding for 3 kilometers down a road heavily bombarded with gas and high-explosive shells he evacuated wounded from a culvert only 400 yards from enemy outposts. On the return trip his car was struck by splinters from an exploding shell which pierced the covering of his car and caused fresh wounds to one of his patients. After transferring his wounded across the crater to another car, he succeeded in driving it over a road almost destroyed by shell fire to a newly established dressing station in Sommerance. He continued to operate his car for 12 hours until he was relieved, having at all times displayed unhesitating courage and devotion to duty. Home address, John L. Signor, father, 15 Lagrange Street, Worcester, Mass.

Pvt. (First Class) CLIFFORD KIRKPATRICK, S. S. U. 647. (No. 10595.) For extraordinary heroism in action at Sommerance, France, October 13-15, 1918. While he was loading his ambulance at an advanced dressing station Pvt. Kirkpatrick was struck in the back by a shell fragment and rendered unconscious. Upon recovering, he drove his car through heavy shell fire back to the field hospital and made repeated trips until he was relieved. Two days later Pvt. Kirkpatrick, arriving at a point on the road near an advanced post, saw a shell strike in the middle of an Infantry detachment moving up to the line. He stopped his car and, despite continuous and intense shelling, loaded on three wounded soldiers, carried them to the nearest air station, returned, and continued the work of evacuation until relieved. Home address, Col. Edwin A. Kirkpatrick, father, 856 Main Street, Leominster, Mass.

Lieut. JEFFERSON B. FLETCHER, S. S. U. 517. For extraordinary heroism in action October 6, 1918. Lieut. Fletcher was on his way to establish an advance aid station during a heavy bombardment when he was wounded by a shell fragment and his right ear drum broken. Two men accompanying him were killed and the concussion of the exploding shell knocked him into a ditch full of water, where he lay for an hour. Displaying unflinching devotion to duty, Lieut. Fletcher continued on his mission, established the aid station, and remained in command of his section. Address not given.

First Lieut. FRANKLIN J. JACKSON (deceased), 106th Infantry. For extraordinary heroism in action east of Ronssoy, France, September 29, 1918. During the operations against the Hindenburg line Lieut. Jackson, trench-mortar officer of his regiment, twice volunteered to go forward under heavy shell and machine-gun fire on a personal reconnaissance. While gallantly and courageously engaged in the second reconnaissance he was killed. Next of kin, G. H. Jackson, father, 56-58 Pine Street, New York, N. Y.

Chaplain ROYAL K. TUCKER, 105th Infantry. For extraordinary heroism in action east of Ronssoy, France, September 29, 1918. During the operations against the Hindenburg line Chaplain Tucker displayed remarkable devotion to duty and courage in caring for the wounded under heavy shell and machine-gun fire. The splendid example set by this officer was an inspiration to the combat troops. Home address, Mrs. Juliet L. Tucker, 207 South Dearborn Street, Mobile, Ala.

Chaplain DAVID T. BURGH, 106th Infantry. For extraordinary heroism in action east of Ronssoy, France, September 29, 1918. During the operations against the Hindenburg line Chaplain Burgh displayed remarkable devotion to duty and courage in caring for the wounded under heavy shell and machine-gun fire. The splendid example set by this officer was an inspiration to the combat troops. Home address, Mrs. Agnes Burgh, mother, 88 Illis Street, Brockton, Mass.

Pvt. WILLIAM R. SHUGG, Company C, 102d Field Signal Battalion. (No. 407355.) For extraordinary heroism in action east of Ronssoy, France, September 29, 1918. After the commander of the Infantry platoon to which he was attached as a visual signalman had been killed, Pvt. Shugg took command of the platoon and exhibited remarkable gallantry and leadership in leading it into effective combat. Home address, Calven F. Shugg, father, 79 Home Avenue, Rutherford, N. J.

Pvt. FRANCIS C. MONK, Company A, 307th Infantry. (No. 3188521.) For extraordinary heroism in action near Grandpre, France, October 15, 1918. Pvt. Monk crawled out into an open field where another soldier lay severely wounded, under fire from machine guns and snipers, and dragged him to the shelter of a wall, where he dressed his wounds.

In so doing Pvt. Monk was himself wounded. Home address, Chris W. Anderson, half-brother, Benson, Utah.

Pvt. JAMES F. KOBERNAT (deceased), Company M, 307th Infantry. (No. 1429404.) For extraordinary heroism in action in the forest of Argonne, France, October 1, 1918. Pvt. Kobernat succeeded in establishing an automatic rifle post under heavy machine-gun fire. In the face of this heavy fire he continually advanced until he was killed. Next of kin, Joe Kobernat, brother, Hill City, Minn.

Pvt. EARL MILLSAP (deceased), Company B, 307th Infantry. (No. 2788816.) For extraordinary heroism in action near Grandpre, France, October 15, 1918. Knowing that he faced certain death, Pvt. Millsap displayed the highest gallantry and devotion to duty by four times carrying messages across a field swept by machine-gun fire. He was killed while performing this hazardous service. Next of kin, Joe Millsap, father, box 142, Aroin, Wash.

Pvt. (First Class) NEARNEY BARDEMAN (deceased), Company B, 307th Infantry. (No. 1704820.) For extraordinary heroism in action near Grandpre, France, October 15, 1918. Pvt. Bardeman, acting as scout for his platoon, was attempting to effect a crossing over the river under heavy machine-gun and sniping fire. When he was struck by a bullet and mortally wounded he called out a warning to the other five members of the platoon to take cover, thereby saving many lives. Next of kin, Shumlin Bardeman, father, Dzuren, Russia.

Corpl. LOUIS SORROW, Company B, 307th Field Signal Battalion. (No. 1919060.) For extraordinary heroism in action near Fleville, France, October 13-21, 1918. After being on duty continuously for 36 hours on October 13, 1918, Corpl. Sorrow volunteered to repair telephone lines which had been cut by shell fire. Under extremely heavy bombardment he worked all night repairing breaks in lines and thereby making possible constant communication with one of the advanced regiments. On October 21, 1918, after one of his helpers had been killed and the other wounded by heavy shell fire, Corpl. Sorrow continued on alone and repaired the telephone lines displaying unusual bravery and devotion to duty. Home address, Mrs. Minnie Lonow, sister, 835 Beck Street, Bronx, New York.

Pvt. (First Class) GEORGES GOUMAS, Company B, 307th Field Signal Battalion. (No. 1918987.) For extraordinary heroism in action near Fleville, France, October 21, 1918. This soldier was in a relay station which was struck by a shell, wounding him and five others. After assisting the other wounded men to a truck nearby he returned through the falling shells to the relay station and assisted another soldier in repairing the wire, which had been cut, remaining at his post until he had made sure that the lines were in good condition and he was ordered to come in by his commanding officer. Home address, George Isipouras, cousin, 1 Park Place, Marietta, Ga.

First Lieut. EDWARD ELSWORTH, JR. (deceased), 6th Engineers. For extraordinary heroism in action at Claires Chenes Woods, France, October 20, 1918. When two machine-gun nests were holding up the advance of his company, Lieut. Elsworth took three soldiers and by daring and skillful maneuvering captured both guns. Later in the same day Lieut. Elsworth charged another machine-gun nest and was killed. Next of kin, Edward Elsworth (father), 50 East Fifty-eighth Street, New York, N. Y.

Pvt. JACOB B. TEISETH (deceased), Medical Detachment, 6th Engineers. (No. 229197.) For extraordinary heroism in action at Claires Chenes Woods, France, September 20, 1918. Pvt. Teiseth advanced in the attack with the company to which he was attached and worked constantly under heavy machine gun and rifle fire searching for wounded and superintending their evacuation. While engaged in this work in the open under machine-gun fire he was killed. Next of kin, Mrs. Gudrun Husby (sister), box 14, East Ewan-Wood, Wash.

Capt. KENNETH S. LITTLEJOHN, 6th Engineers. For extraordinary heroism in action at Claires Chenes Wood, France, October 20, 1918. Capt. Littlejohn reorganized three Engineer companies after they had retired from the woods and by his personal example of daring and bravery successfully led his men against enemy machine guns. His gallant action resulted in the capture of the Claires Chenes Woods. Home address, Mrs. Josephine K. Littlejohn (wife), Upper Montclair, N. J.

SOLDIERS HONORED BY PERSHING FOR HEROISM

First Lieut. KNOW B. BIRNEY (deceased), 6th Engineers. For extraordinary heroism in action at Claires Chenes Woods, France, October 20, 1918. Lieut. Birney on his own initiative took 12 men from his platoon and charged a number of machine-gun nests which had been holding up the advance for two hours. Attacking them across open ground, he cleaned out the nests and captured 42 prisoners. In attacking other nests in the vicinity he lost his life. His courageous act made it possible for the attacking troops to gain and hold the woods with minimum number of casualties. Next of kin, H. H. Birney (father), 4016 Chestnut Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

Pvt. (first class) HERBERT CHAMPION, Sanitary Detachment, 105th Engineers. (No. 1328377.) For extraordinary heroism in action July 16, 1918. When an enemy airplane dropped a bomb in the camp of his organization killing one soldier and wounding seven, including himself, Pvt. Champion administered first aid to the other wounded, helped carry them to the dressing station, and there gave further assistance in dressing and evacuating the wounded men, never mentioning his own serious injuries until he knew that all the others had been cared for. Home address, Dr. C. O. Champion (father), Mooresboro, N. C.

Sergt. (First Class) GUY R. HANSON, Company F, 105th Engineers (No. 1329688). For extraordinary heroism in action August 27, 1918. Sergt. Hanson was in charge of a platoon, delivering a highly concentrated gas-cloud attack against the enemy, when the cloud unexpectedly flared back. After leading his men to a place of safety, this soldier went back into the cloud four times at imminent peril to his own life, collecting and rescuing others who had been overcome. Conducting his platoon through heavy machine-gun fire, he put them in charge of another sergeant with instructions to resume their mission, while he again returned to search for gassed men and found all but two. His excellent leadership and unusual courage prevented many casualties and at the same time effected the completion of an important mission. Home address, Mrs. Dela Hanson, 610 East Seventh Street, Charlotte, N. C.

First Lieut. LYNN B. FOLSOM, 117th Infantry. For extraordinary heroism in action near Fremont, France, October 8-20, 1918. Although he was painfully wounded on October 8, Lieut. Folsom remained on duty, taking command of his company six days later, when he was the only officer present, and effectively reorganizing the command after its strength had been greatly reduced. Still suffering from his wound, Lieut. Folsom led his company in attack on October 17 and stayed at his post for two days thereafter until his battalion was relieved. Home address, Mrs. John M. Folsom, mother, Elizabethton Tenn.

Master Engineer ALBERT L. RUST, Company D, 105th Engineers (No. 1328259). For extraordinary heroism in action at Bellcourt, France, September 29, 1918. Master Engineer Rust commanded a platoon of Engineers, following the first wave of the Infantry for the purpose of clearing a road for the Artillery. Under heavy shell and machine gun fire he directed the work with exceptional ability, at one time leading his platoon in advance of the Infantry. By organizing covering parties and utilizing two automatic riflemen, who had become separated from their own unit, he kept his platoon intact, capturing 35 prisoners and cleaning out three machine-gun nests in the course of his operations. While making a reconnaissance ahead of his platoon he personally took nine Germans, after wounding their officer. As a result of his skillful leadership and gallant conduct, his mission was successfully carried out. Home address, David L. Rust, father, Morgantown, N. C.

Sergt. JOHN H. SECOR, Company M, 310th Infantry (No. 1764412). For extraordinary heroism in action near St. Juvin, France, October 16, 1918. Having been painfully wounded in the foot, Sergt. Secor remained with his platoon and went over the top with it in the advance near St. Juvin. He gallantly assisted his platoon commander in the attack until he was again wounded and rendered unable to advance farther. His example of bravery and devotion to duty furnished an inspiring example to the other members of the platoon, many of whom were under fire for the first time. Home address, John J. Secor, father, Pearl River, N. Y.

First Lieut. AUGUST F. GEARHARD, chaplain, 328th Infantry. For repeated acts of extraordinary heroism in action at Norroy and Vandieres, France, September 15-16, 1918, and at Chatel-Chéhéry and Sommerance, France, October 20, 1918. During the advance of his regiment from Norroy to Vandieres, Chaplain Gearhard displayed exceptional bravery and fidelity to his duties by working two days and nights without sleeping, recovering and removing to the rear the killed and wounded, making frequent trips into "No Man's Land" under heavy shell fire for this purpose. In the operations at Chatel-Chéhéry and Sommerance this officer again distinguished himself by remaining constantly at the advanced-aid station, assisting the surgeon, administering aid to the wounded, cheering and comforting them.

Lieut. Col. JAMES A. SHANNON, 112th Infantry (deceased). For extraordinary heroism in action near Chatel-Chéhéry, France, October 5-6, 1918. Lieut. Col. Shannon voluntarily led an officers' patrol to a depth of 3 kilometers within the enemy lines. As a result of his exceptional bravery and skill in leading this patrol in its contact with the enemy, vital information was obtained at a critical period of the battle, to which much of the success of the next few days was due. The information thus secured was followed up by an attack the next morning, which this officer personally led and wherein he was fatally wounded. His superb leadership and personal courage furnished the necessary inspiration to an exhausted command. Next of kin, Mrs. James A. Shannon, wife, Fort Hamilton, Brooklyn, N. Y.

First Lieut. ALFRED J. HOOK, 105th Infantry (deceased). For extraordinary heroism in action east of Ronssoy, France, September 29, 1918. Lieut. Hook exhibited great courage and gallantry in taping off the line of departure for his company under a heavy shell and machine-gun fire. Later in the attack this daring officer was killed at the head of his company. Home address, Mrs. Hook, mother, 1001 Ocean Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Sergt. THOMAS ARMSTRONG, Company H, 106th Infantry. (No. 1208024.) For extraordinary heroism in action east of Ronssoy, France, September 29, 1918. During the operations against the Hindenburg line Sergt. Armstrong alone attacked and drove back an enemy patrol. Later, when his captain was wounded, Sergt. Armstrong remained with him and killed two Germans who attacked them. Home address, Mrs. Sarah Armstrong, mother, Muella Tippe, Lisbellarr, Ireland.

Second Lieut. GUY E. MORSE (deceased), observer 135th Aero Squadron. For extraordinary heroism in action near Vilcey-sur-Trey, France, September 12, 1918. Lieut. Morse, with First Lieut. WILBUR C. SUTTER, pilot, fearlessly volunteered for the perilous mission of locating the enemy's advance unit in the rear of the Hindenburg line. Disregarding the hail of machine-gun fire and bursting of anti-aircraft shells, they invaded the enemy's territory at low altitude and accomplished their mission, securing for our staff information of the greatest importance. These two gallant officers at once returned to the lines and undertook another reconnaissance mission, from which they failed to return. Lieut. Morse's body was found and buried by an artillery unit. Next of kin, Ernest Morse, father, 4328 Harrison Street, Kansas City, Mo.

First Lieut. WILBUR C. SUTTER, as pilot, 135th Aero Squadron (deceased). For extraordinary heroism in action near Vilcey-sur-Trey, France, September 12, 1918. Lieut. Sutter, with Second Lieut. GUY E. MORSE, observer, fearlessly volunteered for the perilous mission, locating the enemy's advance unit in the rear of the Hindenburg line. Disregarding the hail of machine-gun fire and bursting anti-aircraft shells, they invaded the enemy territory at low altitude and accomplished their mission, securing for our staff information of the greatest importance. These two gallant officers at once returned to the lines and undertook another reconnaissance mission, from which they failed to return. Home address, S. F. Sutter, father, Shamokin, Pa.

Pvt. (First Class) LEWIS WATKINS, Company A, 350th Machine Gun Battalion. For extraordinary heroism in action, November 4, 1918. Pvt. Watkins accompanied an infantry patrol, acting as gunner with a heavy machine gun. When a large party of the enemy had worked around the flank of the patrol and was advancing across a road along which the patrol was withdrawing, Pvt. Watkins went into action with his gun at a range of less than 100 yards, although the order to withdraw had been given. Displaying exceptional coolness and bravery under heavy rifle and machine-gun fire, he succeeded in dispersing the enemy. He was the last of the patrol to retire.

First Sergt. PERCY S. BLOND, Company C, 146th Infantry. (No. 1520648.) For extraordinary heroism near Montfaucon, France, September 26-October 1, 1918. Crossing an exposed area under heavy shell and machine-gun fire, Sergt. Blond went forward and rescued a wounded comrade, carrying him 200 yards up a steep slope. On another occasion, during a severe artillery and machine-gun bombardment, he crept alone to an advanced post and carried back another wounded soldier. During the five days' action Sergt. Blond gave first-aid treatment to 20 members of his company, inspiring everyone by his valiant conduct in ministering to the wounded. Home address, Mrs. Birdie M. Blond, mother, Washington, Pa.

Sergt. LOUIS HECHTL, Company C, 146th Infantry. (No. 1520622.) For extraordinary heroism in action near Montfaucon, France, September 26-October 1, 1918. Throughout the five days' offensive Sergt. Hechtel commanded his platoon with rare coolness and was always in the first wave of his company, facing the greatest danger. He personally took charge of a thin line of outposts on the flank and broke up a German counterattack that was forming under the protection of a barrage. On the fourth day of the drive this soldier was severely gassed, but he concealed this fact from his officers until he was exhausted. Home address, Mrs. Thersa Killian, mother, Canton, Ohio.

Mechanic FLOYD A. HUGHES (deceased), Company C, 146th Infantry. (No. 1520626.) For extraordinary heroism in action near Montfaucon, France, September 26-30, 1918. This soldier was constantly on duty as a runner during the offensive west of the Meuse River, many times carrying messages through heavy machine-gun and shell fire. On September 30, when the enemy was reported to be forming for a counterattack on the left flank, Mechanic Hughes volunteered to take the information to the battalion commander. Passing through heavy shell fire he delivered the message in time to enable the battalion commander to protect the threatened flank, but he was killed by a shell on his return trip to his company. Next of kin, Mrs. Catherine Hughes, wife, Canton Ohio.

Corpl. VINCENT C. PORTER, Company C, 146th Infantry. (No. 1520649.) For extraordinary heroism in action, France, September 26-October 1, 1918. Corpl. Porter, though he was acting as company clerk, throughout the drive west of the Meuse River, volunteered for service as a runner and also took charge of the delivery of rations under constant shell fire in a highly exposed position. He performed valuable service in giving first aid to wounded, and at one time carried a wounded soldier much heavier than himself up a hill through shell and machine-gun fire. Home address, Edgar C. Porter, 618 Wayne Avenue, Ellwood City, Pa.

Col. CHARLES E. KILBOURNE, General Staff, 89th Division. For extraordinary heroism in action near Thiaucourt, France, September 12, 1918. Col. Kilbourne as chief of staff exposed himself to artillery and machine-gun fire during the advance of his division, exercising cool judgment and strong determination in reorganizing the lines and getting troops forward to the objective. Home address, Mrs. C. E. Kilbourne, wife, Fort Riley, Kans.

Second Lieut. E. E. McDOWELL, 305th Infantry. For extraordinary heroism in action near Amblimont, France, November 8, 1918. Lieut. McDowell displayed unusual courage and determination in making a patrol under particularly hazardous circumstances, accompanied by only one soldier. Crossing the Meuse River, the east bank of which and the ridge east of it were known to be strongly held by the enemy, they proceeded through numerous machine-gun nests over the ridge, penetrating 3 kilometers into the hostile position and returning with important information concerning the enemy occupation. Home address, Mrs. Lillian M. McDowell, mother, 132½ Oxford Street, Cambridge, Mass.

Pvt. (First Class) CHARLES E. THORNE (deceased), Battery C, 147th Field Artillery. (No. 139552.) For extraordinary heroism in action near Nantillois, France, September 29, 1918. While on duty with his battery as a lineman, Pvt. Thorne saw a soldier fall wounded by shell fragments. Leaving his shelter, Pvt. Thorne went through concentrated shell fire to the assistance of the wounded soldier and in endeavoring to rescue him was himself killed by the explosion of a shell. Next of kin, Mr. Al Thorne, father, Pierre, S. Dak.

Pvt. COLUMBUS WHIPPLE, Company H, 47th Infantry. (No. 1830549.) For extraordinary heroism in action near Bazoches, France, August 7, 1918. Pvt. Whipple crossed the Vesle River in face of enemy fire and rescued a drowning comrade in the deep, swift current of the stream. Home address, Edson Whipple, father, Show Low, Ariz.

Pvt. J. B. CARPENTER (deceased), Company H, 47th Infantry. (No. 558226.) For extraordinary heroism in action near Bazoches, France, August 9, 1918. Pvt. Carpenter responded to a call for volunteers to destroy a hostile machine gun, the approach to which was covered by fire from three other machine guns. With seven other soldiers he went forward and skillfully and boldly accomplished the mission. This courageous soldier has since been killed in action. Next of kin, Lena Woods, sister, Barber, Ark.

Maj. TIMOTHY J. MOYNAHAN, 146th Infantry. For extraordinary heroism in action near Cierges, France, September 28-30, 1918. Displaying remarkable personal courage and leadership, Maj. Moynahan personally led his battalion without support. On either flank, through terrific artillery bombardment, in the face of direct machine-gun fire and enfilading fire from 1-pounder guns on the right, capturing his objective on the ridge east of Cierges and repelling four hostile counter attacks. Home address, P. A. Moynahan, brother, 249 Washington Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y.

GEORGE HOLZMAN, 3d Battalion, 362d Infantry. (No. 2788165.) For extraordinary heroism in action near Gesnes, France, October 11, 1918. Pvt. Holzman, on duty at one of the posts of a double relay of runners between battalion and regimental headquarters, carried numerous messages through heavily shelled area. Three other soldiers were killed and five seriously wounded along his route, but with unflinching devotion to duty Pvt. Holzman continued at his work of relaying messages until he was relieved. Home address, John Holzman, father, 236 Crescent Avenue, Valley City, N. Dak.

Sergt. RICHARD M. KIRK, Company H, 361st Infantry. (No. 2257820.) For extraordinary heroism in action at Audenarde, Belgium, November 1, 1918. Sergt. Kirk was a member of a patrol sent out to reconnoiter the town of Audenarde. This patrol discovered several enemy machine-gun snipers posts, located in buildings, which were enfilading the streets of the town. Taking another soldier with him, and dodging from building to building, he entered one of these houses and captured two machine gunners. Home address, Mrs. Ethel Kirk, wife, care of Kemp M. Downs, Harlan, Iowa.

Corpl. JOHN W. CARMER, Company H, 361st Infantry. (No. 2257086.) For extraordinary heroism in action at Audenarde, Belgium, November 1, 1918. Corpl. Carmer was a member of a patrol sent out to reconnoiter the town of Audenarde. This patrol discovered several enemy machine-gun snipers posts, located in buildings, which were enfilading the streets of the town. With another soldier, Corpl. Carmer dodged from building to building and, entering one of the houses containing a machine gun, captured two machine gunners. Home address, John Carmer, Halley, Idaho.

Sergt. (First Class) PERRY T. COLLINGE, Medical Detachment, 316th Engineers. (No. 2284355.) For extraordinary heroism in action near Very, France, October 1-2, 1918. Sergt. Collinge courageously and skillfully directed his men in giving aid to wounded soldiers under heavy shell fire. After being wounded he continued on duty until weariness forced him to go to the hospital. Within two days he was again with his detachment.

When orders to withdraw were received, he continued valiant services. Home address, John Pulker, father, 19 Spruce Street, Sharon, Pa.

First Lieut. HERBERT P. DUTTON, 109th Infantry. For extraordinary heroism in action near Bismette, France, September 5, 1918. When his battalion commander was wounded during the crossing of the Vesle River, Lieut. Dutton assumed command, rallied the scattered men, and reorganized them into fighting units, inspiring them by his own brave and determined spirit. His judgment in selecting strong points and making his dispositions made possible the success of the operation. In the course of the action Lieut. Dutton encountered a hostile machine-gun nest, killing the officer in command of it with a rifle, and capturing 14 prisoners. He then turned the captured gun on the enemy and expended 4,000 rounds of captured ammunition in covering an exposed flank. Home address, Sergt. Maj. William F. Dutton, brother, headquarters 83d Infantry Brigade, American Expeditionary Forces.

First Lieut. HENRY S. BLOMBERG, 127th Infantry. For extraordinary heroism in action near Juvisy, north of Soissons, France, August 30, 1918. Inspiring his men by his own personal bravery, Lieut. Blomberg vigorously led his company forward in the face of heavy machine-gun and artillery fire, capturing the heights overlooking Juvisy, with many prisoners. After reaching the objective he repeatedly exposed himself to hostile fire time after time in reorganizing the line. During the defense of the position won he personally set up and operated a captured German machine gun against the enemy while under terrific fire. Home address, C. S. Blomberg, mother, 2619 Twenty-second Street, Superior, Wis.

First Lieut. CHARLES E. WRIGHT, pilot, Air Service, 93d Aero Squadron. For extraordinary heroism in action near Keffu, France, in October, 1918. Lieut. Wright attacked an enemy observation balloon protected by four enemy planes and, despite numerical superiority, he forced the planes to withdraw and destroyed the enemy balloon. A bronze oak leaf, for extraordinary heroism in action near Bantheville, France, October 23, 1918. Lieut. Wright, accompanied by one other machine, attacked and sent down in flames an enemy plane (Fokker type), that was attacking an allied plane. He was in turn attacked by three enemy planes. His companion was forced to withdraw on account of motor trouble. Lieut. Wright continued the combat and succeeded in bringing down one of the enemy planes and forced the remaining two into their own territory. Home address, Mrs. R. W. Wright, mother, 131 Southerland Road, Brookline, Mass.

First Lieut. GERMAN DE FREEST LARNER, pilot, Air Service, 103d Aero Squadron. For extraordinary heroism in action in the region of Champeny, France, September 13, 1918. Lieut. Lerner attacked an enemy patrol of six machines (Fokker type), and fought against the great odds until he had destroyed one and forced the others to retire. A bronze oak leaf, for extraordinary heroism in action in the region of Montfaucon, France, October 4, 1918. While leading a patrol of four monoplane planes, Lieut. Lerner led his patrol in an attack on an enemy formation of seven planes. By skillfully maneuvering he crashed one of the enemy machines and with the aid of his patrol forced the remainder of the enemy formation to withdraw. Home address, Adelaide De F. Lerner, mother, Highland Apartments, Washington, D. C.

First Lieut. O. D. HUNTER, pilot, Air Service, 103d Aero Squadron. For extraordinary heroism in action in the region of Ypres, Belgium, June 22, 1918. Lieut. Hunter, while on patrol, alone attacked two enemy biplanes, destroying one and forced the other to retire. In the course of the combat Lieut. Hunter was wounded in the forehead. Despite his injuries he succeeded in returning his damaged plane to his own aerodrome. A bronze oak leaf, for extraordinary heroism in action in the region of Champeny, France, September 13, 1918. Lieut. Hunter, accompanied by one other monoplane plane, attacked an enemy patrol of six planes. Despite numerical superiority and in a decisive combat, he destroyed one enemy plane and, with the aid of his companion, forced the others within their own lines. A bronze oak leaf for extraordinary heroism in action near Verneville, France, September 17, 1918. Lieut. Hunter, leading a formation of three planes, attacked an enemy formation of eight planes. Although outnumbered, they succeeded in bringing down four of the enemy. Lieut. Hunter accounted for two of these. A bronze oak leaf for extraordinary heroism in action in the region of Ligny-Devant-Dun, France. Lieut. Hunter, while separated from his patrol, observed an allied patrol of 7 planes (Breguets) hard pressed by an enemy formation of 10 planes (Fokker type). He attacked two of the enemy that were harassing a single Breguet and in a decisive fight destroyed one of them; meanwhile five enemy planes approached and concentrated their fire upon him. Undaunted by their superiority, he attacked and brought down a second plane. A bronze oak leaf for extraordinary heroism in action in the region of Bantheville, France. Lieut. Hunter, while on patrol, encountered an enemy formation of six monoplane planes. He immediately attacked and destroyed one enemy plane and forced the others to disperse in confusion. Home address, John S. Hunter, brother, 216 East Gaston Street, Savannah, Ga.

First Lieut. DAVID H. BACKUS, pilot, Air Service, 49th Aero Squadron. For extraordinary heroism in action near Etain, France, September 26, 1918. Lieut. Backus as one of a patrol of five monoplane planes that were attacked by nine enemy planes (Fokker type) in a superior position. The American patrol leader, seeing the futility of giving combat, turned toward our lines with the enemy in close pursuit. One of our patrol, however, fell behind and the enemy planes dove upon him. Lieut. Backus, although beyond danger, on seeing the predicament of his comrade, turned and alone attacked the enemy, destroying one and dispersing the other. A bronze oak leaf for extraordinary heroism in action in the region of Landreville, France, October 23, 1918. A patrol of American monoplane planes attacked an enemy formation of superior number. Lieut. Backus, flying rear position, maneuvered above the attack to prevent other enemy planes from assisting their companions. In the midst of the combat Lieut. Backus saw three planes escaping from battle. He immediately gave chase and attacked and shot down all three of the enemy. Home address, Mr. C. J. Backus, father, 578 Holly Avenue, St. Paul, Minn.

Lieut. STEPHEN N. NOYES, pilot, Air Service, 12th Aero Squadron. For extraordinary heroism in action near Chatel Chery, France, October 15, 1918. Lieut. Noyes volunteered under the most adverse weather conditions to stake the advance lines of the 82d Division. Disregarding the fact that darkness would set in before he and his observer could complete their mission, and at the extremely low altitude of 150 feet, Lieut. Noyes proceeded, amid heavy aircraft and ground machine-gun fire until the necessary information was secured. On the return, due to darkness, he was forced to land on a shell-torn field, and proceeded on foot to headquarters with valuable information. Home address, Mrs. B. Noyes, mother, 15 Francis Street, Newport, R. I.

First Lieut. JUSTIN F. FOLLETTE, observer, Air Service, 12th Aero Squadron. For extraordinary heroism in action near Chatel Chery, France, October 15, 1918. Lieut. Follette volunteered, under the most adverse weather conditions, to stake the advance of the 82d Division. Disregarding the fact that darkness would set in before he and his pilot could complete their mission, he made observation at the extremely low altitude, 150 feet, amid a most terrific aircraft and ground machine-gun fire until the necessary information was secured. On the return, due to darkness, his pilot was forced to land on a shell-torn field, whence he proceeded on foot to headquarters with valuable information. Home address, Mrs. B. K. Follette, mother, Jamul, Cal.

Second Lieut. CHARLES P. PORTER, pilot, Air Service, 147th Aero Squadron. For extraordinary heroism in action in the region of Epips, France, July 16, 1918. While on patrol, Lieut. Porter observed two enemy planes (Fokker type) about 1,000 meters above him. He immediately maneuvered to obtain height and a position for attack. The enemy turned, and Lieut. Porter gave chase and attacked from below, destroying one and forcing the other to retire. A bronze oak leaf, for extraordinary heroism in action in the region of Forest-De-Pere, France, July 24, 1918. Lieut. Porter, while leading a patrol, attacked an enemy formation of 12 planes (Fokker type). He engaged one enemy and sent it down out of control. One of Lieut. Porter's guns jammed, and while he was repairing the gun two of the enemy planes got behind him. Unable to repair the gun and only to fire a single shot, he turned to attack, destroying a second plane and remained in the fight until the enemy retired. Home address, Mr. Charles S. Porter, father, 121-131 West Twenty-seventh Street, New York City, N. Y.

First Lieut. WILLIAM H. STOVALL, pilot, Air Service, 13th Aero Squadron. For extraordinary heroism in action in the region of Etain, France, September 26, 1918. While leading a protection patrol over a day-bombing formation, Lieut. Stovall's patrol became reduced, through motor trouble, to himself and one other pilot. When the bombing patrol was attacked by seven enemy planes, Lieut. Stovall in turn attacked the enemy and destroyed one plane. Home address, Mrs. William H. Stovall, mother, Stovall, Miss.

First Lieut. LESLIE J. RUMMELL, Air Service, 93d Aero Squadron. For extraordinary heroism in action in the region of Mosery, France, September 29, 1918. Lieut. Rummell, leading a patrol of three planes, sighted an enemy byplane, which was protected by seven machines (Fokker type). Despite the tremendous odds, he led his patrol to the attack and destroyed the D1 Nash plane. By his superior maneuvering and leadership, four more of the enemy planes were destroyed and the remaining three retired. Home address, Mr. Alfred J. Rummell, brother, Pennington and Johnson Streets, Newark, N. J.

First Lieut. ALFRED B. PATTERSON, Jr., pilot, Air Service, 93d Aero Squadron (deceased). For extraordinary heroism in action in the region of Molery, France, September 29, 1918. Lieut. Patterson, while on a patrol with two other machines, attacked an enemy formation of seven planes (Fokker type) that were protecting a biplane plane. They destroyed the biplane and four of the Fokkers, forcing the remaining three to retire. A bronze oak leaf for extraordinary heroism in action in the region of Molery, France, October 23, 1918. Lieut. Patterson led a formation for the purpose of protecting our bombing planes, the accompanying planes being obliged to return, due to engine trouble. Despite this fact, Lieut. Patterson proceeded on the mission alone. He sighted an enemy patrol of nine machines (Fokker type) and attacked them, driving one down. Home address, A. B. Patterson, father, 433 Franklin Avenue, Wilkesburg, Pa.

First Lieut. WILLIAM W. PALMER, pilot, Air Service, 94th Aero Squadron. For extraordinary heroism in action in the region of Douillon, France, October 3, 1918. Lieut. Palmer encountered three enemy planes (Fokker type). Despite their numerical superiority he attacked and, in a decisive combat, sent one down in flames and forced the others to retire. Home address, H. W. Palmer, father, Bonnettsville, S. C.

First Lieut. EDWARD P. CURTIS, pilot, Air Service, 95th Aero Squadron. For extraordinary heroism in action in the region of Steeny, France, September 27, 1918. Lieut. Curtis volunteered to perform a reconnaissance patrol of particular danger and importance 30 kilometers within the enemy's territory. He made the entire journey through a heavy anti-aircraft and machine-gun fire, and flew at an extremely low altitude to secure the desired information. Home address, Mrs. G. T. Curtis, mother, North Goodman Street, Rochester, N. Y.

Capt. JAMES A. WALLIS, observer, Air Service, 1st Army observation group. For extraordinary heroism in action in the region of Metz, France, September 13, 1918. While on a reconnaissance under the most adverse weather conditions, which necessitated flying at extremely low altitude, Capt. Wallis, with his pilot, penetrated the enemy's territory to a depth of 25 kilometers. Attacked by five enemy planes, they destroyed one and forced the others to retire. Under heavy fire from the ground, they continued on their mission until it was completed. Home address, Mrs. James A. Wallis, sr., 11 Bigelow Street, Cambridge, Mass.

First Lieut. ARTHUR F. SEEVER, pilot, Air Service, 94th Aero Squadron. For extraordinary heroism in action in the region of Etain, France, September 16, 1918. Lieut. Seever, with his squadron, started on a bombing raid. The formation was broken up because of various troubles to the machines. Lieut. Seever, with his observer, Lieut. STOKES, continued on and joined a formation of another bombing squadron. After crossing the lines their plane was struck by an anti-aircraft explosive shell, throwing the machine out of control. When Lieut. Seever gained control of the machine it had fallen away from the protection of the other planes. With their crippled plane and missing motor they continued until they had reached their objective, when their motor died completely. An enemy plane attacked, but Lieut. Stokes kept him off until his machine coasted to their own lines. Home address, Charles A. Seever, father, 12 Rue D'Aguesseau, Paris, France.

SOLDIERS HONORED BY PERSHING FOR HEROISM

First Lieut. WILLIS A. DIEKEMA, pilot, Air Service, 91st Aero Squadron. For extraordinary heroism in action in the region of Metz, France, September 15, 1918. While on a photographic mission Lieut. Diekema's formation was attacked by a superior number of enemy aircraft. In the course of the combat Lieut. Diekema's companion planes were driven off. Disregarding the fact that his machine was without protection, he continued on his mission until his observer, Lieut. Hammond, had completed the photographs. On the return they fought their way through an enemy patrol and destroyed one of the machines. Home address, G. J. Diekema, 134 West Twelfth Street, Holland, Mich.

First Lieut. LEONARD C. HAMMOND, observer, Air Service, 91st Aero Squadron. For extraordinary heroism in action in the region of Metz, France, September 15, 1918. While on a photographic mission Lieut. Hammond's formation was attacked by a superior number of enemy pursuit planes. Notwithstanding that the enemy planes succeeded in driving off the protecting planes, Lieut. Hammond and his pilot, Lieut. Diekema, continued on alone. Continually harassed by enemy aircraft, they completed their photographs, and on the return fought their way through an enemy patrol and destroyed one of the machines. Home address, A. B. Hammond, 2252 Broadway, San Francisco, Cal.

Maj. JOHN W. REYNOLDS, Air Service, commanding officer, 1st Army observation group. For extraordinary heroism in action in the region of Verdun, France, October 10, 1918. Maj. Reynolds proceeded over the enemy lines without benefit of protection planes on a mission of great urgency. He flew about 12 kilometers over the lines when he was suddenly set upon by 14 hostile planes. He fought them off and succeeded in downing one of the enemy. He continued his flight with his badly damaged plane and concluded his mission. A bronze oak leaf for extraordinary heroism in action in the region of Grand Pre, France, October 29, 1918. While on a mission Maj. Reynolds was suddenly set upon by six enemy aircraft. Although in the German territory, without protection and in danger of being cut off in the rear, he entered into combat with the hostile aircraft. He succeeded in shooting down two of the enemy and dispersing the rest of the formation. With his machine severely damaged, he continued until he had completed his mission. Home address, Mrs. John N. Reynolds, Dora Apartments, Twentieth Street and Florida Avenue, Washington, D. C.

First Lieut. ALEXANDER WE SCHENCK, pilot, Air Service, 49th Aero Squadron. For extraordinary heroism in action in the region of Doullon, France, October 4, 1918. Lieut. Schenck was one of an offensive patrol of six planes that attacked and engaged in combat 17 enemy machines (Fokker type). While he was engaging one of the enemy, he observed a comrade about to be sent down by an enemy plane that had maneuvered to an advantageous position. Lieut. Schenck immediately left off the combat he was engaged in and shot down the plane, thereby saving the life of his comrade. Home address, Mrs. R. R. Parkhurst, mother, 500 Grant Avenue, Plainfield, N. J.

First Lieut. STIRLING CAMPBELL ALEXANDER, pilot, Air Service, 99th Aero Squadron. For extraordinary heroism in action in the region of Landres-et-St. Georges, France, October 6, 1918. Lieut. Alexander, with Lieut. ATWATER, observer on a photographic mission, was forced back by seven enemy pursuit planes. A few minutes later he returned over the lines, and while deep in enemy territory was cut off by 12 enemy planes (Pfalz Scouts). He maneuvered his plane to give battle, and so effectively managed the machine that he with his observer were able to destroy one, and forced the others to withdraw. With his observer severely wounded, he managed to bring his plane safely back to his own aerodrome, with his mission completed. Home address, Mrs. Lucine Eughe Alexander, mother, Chestnut Hill, Philadelphia, Pa.

Second Lieut. FRANK K. HAYES, pilot, Air Service, 13th Aero Squadron. For extraordinary heroism in action in the region of Chambley, France, September 13, 1918. Lieut. Hayes was one of an offensive patrol of five planes, attacked by seven enemy scouts (Fokker type), that dived down on them from the clouds, catching the American patrol in a disadvantageous position. In the course of the combat which followed, both of Lieut. Hayes's machine guns jammed. By an extraordinary effort he cleared his guns and drove off the adversary. He then observed his flight commander, in a dangerous situation with two enemy planes behind him. He attacked and destroyed one and forced the other to withdraw. Home address, C. L. Hayes, father, 2000 West One hundred and first Place, Chicago, Ill.

First Lieut. HAROLD R. BUCKLEY, pilot, Air Service, 95th Squadron. For extraordinary heroism in action near Perle, France, August 10, 1918. Lieut. Buckley was on a patrol protecting a French biplane observation machine, when they were suddenly set upon by six enemy planes. Lieut. Buckley attacked and destroyed the nearest, and the remainder fled into their own territory. He then carried on with his mission until he had escorted the allied plane safely to its own aerodrome. A bronze oak leaf, for extraordinary heroism in action near Neville, France, and Bourcuilles, France, September 16-27, 1918. Lieut. Buckley dived through a violent and heavy anti-aircraft and machine-gun fire and set on fire an enemy balloon that was being lowered to its nest. On the next day, while leading a patrol, he met and sent down in flames an enemy plane while it was engaged in replane work. Home address, Daniel H. Buckley, father, Federal Street, Agawan, Mass.

Second Lieut. VALENTINE BURGER, observer, Air Service. For extraordinary heroism in action near Hill 360, over the region of the Meuse, France, October 27, 1918. Lieut. Burger, with his pilot, flying at an altitude of less than 15 meters within close range of numerous machine guns and light artillery pieces fired continually on them, staked the American advanced lines and helped silence enemy machine-gun nests, which were holding up the advance of the infantry at this point. Although the plane was riddled with over 300 bullet holes, and the pilot severely wounded, Lieut. Burger gathered valuable and accurate information and assisted his pilot to a safe landing within reach of the post of command and delivered his valuable information. Home address, Miss Katie Krauss, aunt, 135 Christie Street, Leona, N. J.

Capt. DANIEL J. MARTIN, 128th Infantry. For extraordinary heroism in action near Juvigny, north of Soissons, France, September 1, 1918. On numerous occasions Capt. Martin has personally headed every forward movement of his command, displaying superb courage in his absolute disregard for personal safety. In the attack on Juvigny the battalion commanded by this officer was called upon to execute a turning movement and effect junction with the French troops on the flank. Under the personal direction of Capt. Martin this turning movement was completed across a hill strongly held by the enemy, its success being due to his initiative. During this engagement Capt. Martin was gassed and taken from the field unconscious. Home address, Mrs. Hattie E. Martin, R. F. D. No. 9, box A1, Waukesha, Wis.

Second Lieut. RICHARD W. AUSTERMANN, 128th Infantry. For extraordinary heroism in action near Fismes, France, August 3, 1918. Lieut. Austermann collected several groups of disorganized men from different companies, organized a patrol, and, advancing across a creek, so deployed his men as to pour a cross fire on enemy machine-gun nests. Observing other nests then out of range, he led a volunteer squad and cleaned out three more machine-gun nests. He continued with the squad and put out of action three more nests. Home address, Mrs. Carrie J. Austermann, wife, Loyal, Wis.

Sergt. FRANK M. HOLT, Battery A, 120th Field Artillery. (No. 2302277.) For extraordinary heroism in action near St. Gilles, south of Fismes, France, August 4, 1918. When the men of his battery position had been ordered to shelter on account of enemy shelling, Sergt. Holt, in company with two other men, rescued a French soldier from drowning in a stream. This act was performed while the valley was filled with mustard gas. Address, C. W. Holt, father, 937 Thirty-ninth Street, Milwaukee, Wis.

Sergt. (first class) GEORGE BURR, Company C, 107th Field Signal Battalion. (No. 252092.) For extraordinary heroism in action near Cierges, France, August 2, 1918. Sergt. Burr, in charge of a detachment, strung wire far in advance of the front lines, working through a heavy artillery fire, to the point where the regimental post of command was to be situated, 100 yards from the enemy line. When he was ordered to leave one man at the instrument, while the rest of the detachment returned to the rear, Sergt. Burr himself volunteered, and remained alone at this dangerous position. Home address, Mrs. George W. Burr, 1036 Second Street, Milwaukee, Wis.

Sergt. ALEXANDER SALIK, Company K, 126th Infantry. (No. 281089.) For extraordinary heroism in action near Juvigny, north of Soissons, France, August 28, 1918. Sergt. Lieut. Col. ALFRED N. ARNOLD, 9th Infantry. For extraordinary heroism in action near Medeah Ferme, France, October 4-9, 1918. This officer displayed the most inspiring personal bravery and cool judgment under massed counter attacks, heavy machine-gun fire, and intensive artillery barrage. Performing many gallant acts beyond those in the line of his duty Lieut. Col. Arnold held his line, maintained liaison under difficult conditions with the unit on his right, and at a critical time repelled a serious counter-attack. Home address, Mrs. A. C. Arnold, wife, 256 West Ninety-seventh Street, New York, N. Y.

First Lieut. PERCY A. RIDEOUT (deceased), 1st Gas Regiment. For extraordinary heroism in action at Cierges, France, October 4, 1918. Lieut. Rideout made an extended reconnaissance in advance of the outposts, fearlessly exposed himself to enemy machine-gun fire, and being several times knocked down by exploding shells. The information he secured was valuable to the Infantry, giving them knowledge of exact location of machine-gun nests. During the action this officer directed the laying of the smoke barrage from an exposed position, remaining at his station throughout the operation in spite of severe shell and machine-gun fire and continuing to display the highest courage until he was killed by shell fire. Next of kin, Mrs. Helen P. Rideout, wife, 8 Armory Street, Springfield, Mass.

Sergt. HARRY MELVIN WOODS, Company D, 1st Gas Regiment, (No. 244914.) For extraordinary heroism in action near Montfaucon, France, September 29, 1918. While his position was under heavy and continuous bombardment of both gas and high explosive shells Sergt. Woods voluntarily left his dug-out and put gas masks on 900 soldiers, giving his own mask to one of them, and thus saving their lives. After being severely gassed by the explosion of a shell, one piece of which struck him, he continued to administer aid to the other wounded and quit only when his eyes were swollen shut and he was completely exhausted. Home address, B. H. Woods, father, Farmington, N. Mex.

Pvt. HERMAN O. HIGGS, Medical Detachment, 1st Gas Regiment, (No. 280029.) For extraordinary heroism in action near Montfaucon, France, September 26, 1918. Pvt. Higgs worked continuously and heroically under withering fire from machine guns, upon several occasions voluntarily going out ahead of the first wave to administer first aid to wounded soldiers. His untiring efforts and personal bravery saved the lives of many wounded soldiers and were a source of inspiration to the combat troops. Home address, Mrs. Fanny Higgs, mother, 1115 North Eighth Street, La Fayette, Ind.

Pvt. C. F. M. NELSON, Company F, 1st Gas Regiment, (No. 524321.) For extraordinary heroism in action near the Bois de Briuelles, France, October 9, 1918. Displaying remarkable perseverance and daring, Pvt. Nelson, a runner, made his way 300 yards through a heavy barrage with a message for the commander of a Stokes motor platoon. Later he volunteered to lead four wounded men back through the barrage to an aid station. On the way he met three other wounded soldiers, one of whom had been severely gassed and was unable to walk. Pvt. Nelson carried this man to the dressing station, knowing that his clothes were saturated with mustard gas.

Ord. Sergt. AFTON E. WHEELER (deceased), Salvage Squadron No. 1, (No. 208762.) For extraordinary heroism in connection with military operations against an armed enemy near Bezu St. Germain, France, September 7, 1918. When a fire broke out in a wood where a salvage detachment was encamped, seriously endangering the lives of 200 men because of their proximity to a pile of salvaged German high-explosive 155-millimeter shells, Sergt. Wheeler and Pvt. Willie J. Walker voluntarily ran to the scene of the fire and attempted to extinguish the flames, fully aware of the grave danger to themselves; they fought the fire with blankets and sticks, but in spite of their heroic and self-sacrificing efforts the fire quickly spread to the shells. Both men were killed by the explosion which followed. Next of kin, Clarence E. Wheeler, father, 3 Orchard Street, Cambridge, Mass.

Pvt. (First Class) WILLIE J. WALKER (deceased), Salvage Squad No. 1, (No. 18176.) First Lieut. ALBERT B. SIMPSON, 11th Machine Gun Battalion (deceased). For extraordinary heroism in action near Nantillois, France, September 27-28, 1918. Lieut. Simpson, though he was wounded, remained with his company and by skillful arrangement of his machine gun covered a retirement of the infantry. Next day he was again wounded, and, although urged by the surgeon to go to the rear, this gallant officer replied that there was too much work yet to be done at the front. He left to rejoin his command and had gone about half the distance when he was killed by a high-explosive shell. Next of kin, Robert N. Simpson, father, Waverly Hall, Ga. Corpl. CORNELIUS J. O'BRIEN (deceased), Company D, 4th Engineers. For extraordinary heroism in action near Valle Savoy, France, August 11, 1918. While engaged on the construction of a bridge over the Valle River

Corpl. O'Brien voluntarily left shelter during intense fire and carried one of his wounded officers through a heavy machine-gun and artillery barrage to a dressing station. Home address, Mrs. Kate Mullins O'Brien, mother, Churchill, Innistymon, County Clare, Ireland.

Corpl. RAYMOND R. SMITH, Company C, 11th Machine Gun Battalion. (No. 559162.) For extraordinary heroism in action northeast of Cunel, France, October 12, 1918. During a heavy bombardment after a shell had struck his machine gun, knocking it and his squad completely out of action, Corpl. Smith assembled three men from another squad and, obtaining another gun, again took up a position on the line and remained throughout the action, as the front was at that time thinly held and in constant danger of counterattack; the prompt initiative and splendid courage on the part of this soldier not only inspired and encouraged his men but aided materially in the success of the action. Home address, Jones Smith, father, 227 Harrison Avenue, Burlington, Iowa.

First Lieut. EARL MCKINLEY, 11th Machine Gun Battalion. For extraordinary heroism in action near Nantillois, France, September 26, 1918. Lieut. McKinley, with another officer, and a soldier, using captured German Maxim guns, pushed forward to a heavily shelled area from which other troops had withdrawn, and by their accurate and effective fire kept groups of the enemy from occupying advantageous positions, maintaining fire superiority all afternoon. Lieut. McKinley withdrew from his dangerous position when it became too dark to see. Home address, Mrs. Mabel McKinley, wife, Rural Route No. 1, Buffalo, W. Va.

First Lieut. HOMER S. JARVIS, 11th Machine Gun Battalion. For extraordinary heroism in action near Nantillois, France, September 26, 1918. Lieut. Jarvis, with another officer and a soldier, using captured German Maxim guns, pushed forward to a heavily shelled area from which the Infantry had withdrawn, and by their accurate and effective fire kept groups of the enemy from occupying advantageous positions. Maintaining fire superiority all afternoon, Lieut. Jarvis withdrew from his dangerous position only when it became too dark to see. Home address not given.

Sergt. GLENN M. GROVE, Company D, 11th Machine Gun Battalion. (No. 567696.) For extraordinary heroism in action near Nantillois, France, September 26, 1918. Sergt. Grove, with two officers, using captured German Maxim guns, pushed forward to a heavily shelled area from which the other troops had withdrawn, and by their accurate and effective fire kept groups of the enemy from occupying advantageous positions. When given permission to withdraw, Sergt. Grove declined to do so, but maintained fire superiority all afternoon until it became too dark to see. His conspicuous gallantry furnished an inspiration to the other members of the command. Home address, Mrs. John H. Grove, 314 Mifflin Street, Huntington, Pa.

Second Lieut. ORVAL KLINE, 11th Machine Gun Battalion. For extraordinary heroism in action northeast of Nantillois, France, October 12, 1918. While the Infantry was falling back 200 meters to take cover from heavy artillery and machine-gun fire, Lieut. Kline with his platoon sergeant stayed at their one remaining machine gun, which they continued to operate for 45 minutes until the Infantry position was reestablished. They did not only successfully cover the withdrawal of the Infantry, but also captured a German machine gun and three prisoners.

Sergt. MORTON OSBORN, Company H, 47th Infantry. (No. 73987.) For extraordinary heroism in action southeast of Bazoché, France, August 7-9, 1918. Wounded in the head and shoulder, Sergt. Osborn rejoined his platoon as soon as his wounds had been dressed and remained with it until the command was relieved, displaying rare qualities of leadership and judgment under heavy machine-gun and rifle fire. Home address, Nathan Osborn, Lead, Ky.

Pvt. MAX S. KOSS, Company K, 47th Infantry. (No. 2004446.) For extraordinary heroism in action near St. Thibaut, France, August 8-9, 1918. Pvt. Koss volunteered to patrol the valley along the railroad tracks north of St. Thibaut for the purpose of locating machine-gun nests. He was wounded early in the morning, but he remained in the valley until the next night, securing the information for which he was sent, and killing two Germans. Home address, Mrs. Josephine W. Koss, mother, Normandie Hotel, Columbus, Ohio.

Pvt. (First Class) OTTO A. A. SCHWANKE, Company B, 47th Infantry. (No. 2024343.) For extraordinary heroism in action at Sergy, France, August 1, 1918. This soldier displayed the greatest devotion to duty, loyalty, and courage by repeatedly volunteering, night and day, to carry messages under the heaviest machine-gun and shell fire from his battalion commander to the company commanders, thereby maintaining efficient liaison at all times. Home address, Mrs. Ella Schwanke, mother, Potter, Wis.

Pvt. CHARLES H. CARBAUGH, Company F, 47th Infantry. (No. 558049.) For extraordinary heroism in action southeast of Bazoché, France, October 9, 1918. Pvt. Carbaugh was sent as a runner to direct a platoon of his company to assemble and return to its position. He displayed unusual leadership in performing his mission by himself, taking command of the disorganized unit, getting it well in hand, and leading it back under a hostile shelling without losses and without confusion. Home address, James P. Carbaugh, father, Stephens City, Va.

Pvt. LESLIE C. DILL, Company B, 47th Infantry. (No. 557748.) For extraordinary heroism in action at Sergy, France, August 1, 1918. After being wounded twice while he was carrying a message, Pvt. Dill bandaged his wounds under fire and delivered his message. Home address, Louis E. Dill, father, 508 William Street, Towanda, Pa.

Second Lieut. ARNO S. MCCLELLAND, 47th Infantry. For extraordinary heroism in action at Sergy, France, August 1, 1918. This officer fearlessly led his platoon in locating and successfully attacking German machine guns, thereby facilitating the advance of his company. He also led a combat patrol in front of his position for the purpose of driving out hostile snipers. Later, when his company was forced to retire to a more sheltered zone, Lieut. McClelland, with one soldier, remained in an exposed position and rendered valuable service by covering the withdrawal with accurate fire from an automatic rifle. Home address, Mrs. Cora Alta McClelland, wife, Harveys, Green County, Pa.

First Lieut. ROBERT H. MURDOCH, deceased, Medical Corps, 47th Infantry. For repeated acts of extraordinary heroism in action at Sergy, France, July 29-31, 1918; and at St. Thibaut, France, August 6-12, 1918. Accompanying his battalion in the attack on Sergy, Lieut. Murdoch advanced for more than a mile under heavy shell fire, and as soon as the southern half of the town had been taken he established his dressing station, maintaining it during the three days of fighting under constant and severe bombardment. When his battalion went into action at St. Thibaut this faithful officer again displayed heroic devotion to duty by working in his dressing station under the most trying conditions for six days while the town was bombarded with gas and high-explosive shells. Home address, Mrs. N. Ophelia Murdoch, 17 West South Street, Wilkes-Barre, Pa.

Second Lieut. JOHN H. PRATT, Jr., 47th Infantry. For extraordinary heroism in action near Bazoché, France, August 7-9, 1918. Lieut. Pratt was untiring and fearless at all times in performance of his duties as liaison officer. Under heavy fire he made three exceptionally hazardous trips with messages of vital importance, when other means of communication had failed, volunteering for this service. Home address, J. H. Pratt, sr., 432 Fourth Avenue, New York City.

Corpl. GEORGE N. BRIGHAM, Company I, 47th Infantry. (No. 558268.) For extraordinary heroism in action at St. Thibaut, France, August 10, 1918. Accompanied by another soldier, Corpl. Brigham penetrated the enemy's lines and patrolled a sector from the north bank of the River Vesle to the town of Bazoché. These two men entered an enemy dugout and killed two Germans, at the same time locating a machine-gun emplacement. Corpl. Brigham, though wounded, completed his mission before obtaining first aid. Home address, Mrs. Minnie Brigham, mother, 36 North Park Street, Hittsville, Conn.

Pvt. JACOB KAELS, deceased, Company I, 47th Infantry. (No. 2024430.) For extraordinary heroism in action at St. Thibaut, France, August 10, 1918. Accompanied by another soldier Pvt.
