WASHINGTON, TUESDAY, JANUARY 14, 1919.

No. 511

OFFICERS AND MEN NEEDED TO TAKE ASSIGNMENTS IN HOSPITAL WORKSHOPS TO INSTRUCT MEN IN CRAFTS

AUTHORITY IS GIVEN TO GRANT TRANSFERS

Those Who Have Technical, Trade, Commercial or Agricultural Training and Experience Especially Desired—Applications Received from Men in Any Branch Who Can Be Spared from Present Duty.

The War Department authorizes the following statement from the office of the Surgeon General:

Officers and enlisted men are needed by the Division of Physical Reconstruction for administrative and instruction work in hospitals. Men who have had technical, trade, commercial, or agricultural training and experience are especially desired as instructors in the curative workshops.

Authority to Transfer.

Authority has been granted by the War Department to transfer to the Reconstruction Division any commissioned officer, noncommissioned officer, or enlisted man from any branch of the service who is no longer needed in his present assignment and who desires the transfer.

These men will be sent to hospitals functioning in physical reconstruction. The program is now in operation in 25 hospitals with an enrollment of 10,000 disabled soldiers in bedside and ward handicrafts and studies, technical and trade work in shops, agricultural work in hospital farms and gardens, stenography, stenotype, typewriting, and other commercial work, and in general academic work.

Officers in Charge.

More than 100 commissioned officers are in charge of the administrative service and in supervisory positions, and nearly 500 enlisted men are in service as instructors.

The reconstruction work will last until the hospitals are cleared, probably by the summer of 1919.

The philosophy of the W. S. S. is save, save, save.

Purchase of Foodstuffs For Civilians in France

The War Department authorizes the following from the office of the director of purchase and storage:

Purchases of foodstuffs for civilian relief in France are being made by the subsistence division and are going forward rapidly. A recent purchase of flour for this purpose amounted to 47,906,000 pounds, comprising three cargoes. It is now en route to Gibraltar, from where it will be sent to France and distributed under the direction of Herbert Hoover. The flour will be sold to the civilian population of France at actual cost.

Asked to Observe Request Regarding Capital Issues

Secretary Glass desires to call the attention of every applicant, who received from the Capital Issues Committee a favorable opinion, to the resolution passed by that committee that after January 1, no further reference should be made in any advertisement, circular or prospectus, or by any salesman or solicitor, to the effect that the securities have been passed favorably by the committee. The Secretary desires that this resolution shall be strictly observed.

OFFERS SYMPATHY TO ITALY.

Acting Secretary Frank L. Polk, of the State Department, has expressed to the Italian Government the sincere sorrow felt by the American Government at the death of Count Miniscalchi-Erizzo, counselor of the Italian Embassy and charge d'affaires ad interim. U. S. TROOPS AT ARCHANGEL IN EXCELLENT CONDITION, COL. STEWART, COMMANDER, REPORTS AFTER INSPECTION

COMPANIES SCATTERED OVER 400-MILE FRONT

Food and Shelter Sufficient and Men Becoming Accustomed to Rigors of Climate—Temperature from 10 Above Zero to 22 Below. Total Deaths 127, Including 45 Killed and 10 Who Died of Wounds.

The War Department authorizes publication of the following cablegram, dated January 11, 1919, from Col. George E. Stewart, commanding American troops at Archangel, Russia, transmitted through Maj. Gen. John Biddle, A. E. F.:

"Having just completed tour of inspection of troops covering a period of 23 days, during which time, besides 130 miles by rail and 50 by automobile, I traveled aggregate 650 miles by horse and sled, the following brief report is submitted and, as inquiries have been received at military mission from War Department regarding the health, comfort, and condition of troops, it is requested that this report be telegraphed to Washington.

Health and Morale Excellent.

"General health, discipline, and morale of troops excellent. Billeting and living conditions good except at advanced outposts, where usual field conditions exist and improvised blockhouses are only shelter. Front line troops are rotated in order to ameliorate conditions and prevent undue hardship. Sanitary conditions and conveniences are most primitive throughout field of operations. Clothing and equipment ample and excellent. Rations good except for lack of fresh vegetables, which component of ration is unobtainable locally except occasionally in small quantities, and supplies of dried substitutes are very limited.

"Generally men have rapidly become accustomed to rigors, of lack of comforts and conveniences and existing primitive conditions of life and duty, and have performed most valiant service.

Scattered With Allied Troops.

"The command is scattered with allied troops over a front of 400 miles at distances from Archangel varying from 100 to 300 miles, with small detachments at various places on line of communication. It is exceptional to have more than one company of Americans serving intact at any one place. Temperature November and December, 10 below zero to 10 above, Fahrenheit, and on occasions about 22 below. Casualties to date: Killed in action, 2 officers, 43 enlisted men; died of wounds, 1 officer, 9 enlisted men; accidents, 4 enlisted men; drowned, 1 officer, 2 enlisted men; sickness, 2 officers, 63 enlisted men; total deaths, 6 officers, 121 enlisted men; wounded in action, 7 officers, 144 enlisted men; sick evacuated, 2 officers, 118 enlisted men; wounded evacuated, 1 officer, 33 enlisted men. Steward."

SPECIAL EXPORT LICENSE FOR PERSONAL BAGGAGE IS REVISED

The War Trade Board announces that Special Export License RAC-49, previously issued to the Customs Service, has been revised. W. T. B. R. 195, issued on August 13, 1918, is therefore rescinded. Collectors of customs are now authorized under Special Export License RAC-49 to permit the exportation, without individual export licenses, of personal baggage, including household effects, when carried as personal baggage or when shipped by or to the owner who has journeyed or is about to journey to the country of destination. Collectors of Customs are further authorized to permit the exportation under this license of reasonable quantities of foodstuffs when carried as baggage for the personal use of the passenger.

This license does not authorize the exportation of arms or ammunition.

Attention is called to the fact that Special Export License RAC-49 does not relieve the shipper or passenger of the responsibility of complying with the import restrictions of the country of destination. In order that the importance of obtaining information concerning such restrictions may be realized, it should be noted that at present the customs restrictions of England forbid the entry into that country of silver, gold, and real jewelry, and of more than 1 pound of sugar or 10 pounds of tea. The importation of other commodities is also restricted by England, and other countries have similar import restrictions. It is suggested that shippers avail themselves of the facilities of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce of the Department of Commerce, Washington, D. C., in order to obtain information respecting the customs regulations of foreign countries.

It should be noted that the exportation of samples intended for use in soliciting orders, which was formerly authorized by this license, is now authorized by Special Export License RAC-55, described in W. T. B. R. 457.

CREW OF AMERICAN SHIP SAFE.

Assistant Secretary of State Phillips announced to-day that the steamer Talapoosa has left Porte au Bay for Halifax with the crew of the wrecked American fishing schooner Arkona, which ran aground off the Quebec coast recently. All of the crew are reported safe.

The Attorney General's Letter of Resignation And President's Reply

PARIS, January 10, 1919.

MY DEAR MR. ATTORNEY GENERAL: It is with profound reluctance and regret that I accept your resignation. I do so only because you have convinced me that it is necessary in your own interest for you to retire. There has been no one with whom I have been associated in Washington whom I have learned more to trust nor to whose counsels I have attached more value and importance. Your administration of your office has been singularly able and singularly conscientious and watchful of the public interest, and I feel that it is a very serious loss indeed to the Nation that you should find yourself obliged to withdraw from public life.

My best wishes, not only, but my affectionate friendship, will follow you into retirement, and I hope with all my heart that in some way and at some time I shall again have the privilege and benefit of being associated with you.

Cordially and faithfully, yours,
WOODROW WILSON.

Letter of Resignation.

JANUARY 9, 1919.

THE PRESIDENT,
The White House.

DEAR MR. PRESIDENT: In accordance with the purpose expressed in our conversation just before you went abroad, I tender my resignation as Attorney General.

It has been not quite six years since I became connected with your administration, and more than four years ago, a few days after war was declared by the European nations, I became a member of the Cabinet. It can be fairly said that during no other six years in the history of our country have so many great problems been presented and solved. The reflection that at such a time I have been permitted to stand by your side and assist in a modest way in dealing with those national and international issues is now, and will always be, my greatest source of pride.

No man ever served a leader who was more uniformly considerate, more kindly helpful, and more generously appreciative. No subordinate was ever more deeply grateful for the numberless friendly words and acts of his superior.

Pecuniary responsibilities of a substantial nature rest upon me, and my private affairs have long demanded attention. During the continuance of actual warfare I did not feel at liberty to weigh these personal considerations in the balance against the public duties with which I was charged. By March 4 of the present year the Department of Justice will have substantially brought its war activities to a close and be working under normal conditions. I therefore ask that this resignation take effect on that date.

Faithfully yours,
T. W. GREGORY.

BRITISH TROOPS IN BATTLE WITH BOLSHEVIKI AT RIGA

Dispatches to the State Department convey the following information:

Reports from Helsingfors state that the English landed troops at Riga and fought the Bolsheviki successfully in that vicinity. The situation there is reported as generally improved.

The latest Esthonian military communique reports the Esthonian troops have reached the line at Valge River and have been successful in a number of engagements, due especially to the use of armored trains. Gen. Wetzer is reported to have left for Reval to study the situation and assume the supreme command of the Finnish army in Esthonia.

The Lithuanian Press Bureau reports the capture of Vilna by the Bolsheviki troops and the removal of the Lithuanian Government to Kovno. Further advance of the Bolsheviki troops has, however, been checked by the Lithuanian forces, according to the reports.

The Swedish press publishes official denial of the Government that it has sent a military commission to Esthonia and Livonia, and that the Government has made no concessions regarding the establishment of a recruiting bureau. The Government's declaration was that it would not object to officers of the reserve, after their dismissal from the service, to participate in the Esthonian campaign.

CONTROL OF SUGAR IMPORTS BY THE EQUALIZATION BOARD

The War Trade Board announces, in a new ruling (W. T. B. R. 504), that hereafter licenses for the importation of sugar will be issued only to the Sugar Equalization Board, Incorporated, or its nominees. Applicants for import licenses will still be required to give the guarantee now in effect as to the disposition of the sugar.

In order that importers may be informed of the attitude of the Sugar Equalization Board as to proposed shipments, it is suggested that they submit their applications for import licenses to the International Sugar Committee at 111 Wall Street, New York City, for their approval, before forwarding the same to the War Trade Board at Washington.

Soldiers Suffering from Respiratory Diseases to Go to Southern Hospitals

The War Department authorizes the following statement from the office of the Surgeon General:

The Surgeon General has directed that soldier-patients suffering from respiratory diseases, including gas cases with severe and persistent bronchial symptoms, be transferred to southern hospitals. It is believed that the warmer climate will hasten the cure of these cases. It is emphasized that only patients who have severe and persistent respiratory symptoms and whose recovery is likely to be slow be transferred.

COAL COMPANY IS PENALIZED BY THE FUEL ADMINISTRATION

The Fuel Administration issues the following:

The Cleveland & Western Coal Co., of Cleveland, Ohio, has been required by the United States Fuel Administration to contribute $1,000 to the American Red Cross as a penalty for violation of the zone regulations of the Fuel Administration.

These regulations do not permit the movement of Pocahontas coal into Ohio, except under a special permit of the Fuel Administration, designating the consignee of such coal and the use to which it may be put, and the diversion of coal shipped under such permit to any consignee, or for its use for any purpose, not designated in the permit, is prohibited unless the written consent of the Coal Zone Permit Bureau of the Fuel Administration to such diversion has been first obtained.

Shipped to Steel Company.

At a hearing before the license board of the Fuel Administration it appeared that William C. Atwater & Co. (Inc.), had shipped coal under such a permit to the McKinney Steel Co. for use in the steel company's byproduct coke ovens in Ohio. In consequence of an oversupply of Pocahontas coal, the McKinney Steel Co. rejected certain of these shipments. The Cleveland & Western Coal Co., which is the Cleveland agent of William C. Atwater & Co. (Inc.), thereupon disposed of the coal rejected by the steel company to retail dealers.

The matter was brought to the attention of the Fuel Administration when one of these dealers advertised the fact that he had Atwater Pocahontas coal for sale. No permission having been obtained from the Coal Zone Permit Bureau for this disposition of the coal, these sales clearly constituted a violation of the zone regulations, and it was deemed necessary by the Fuel Administration to take action.

As, however, there was no evidence that there was any concerted plan to ship coal into Ohio for the purpose of evading the regulations, and as it appeared that the Cleveland & Western Coal Co. had disposed of this rejected coal in the manner described to meet what it considered an emergency, instead of revocation or suspension of the company's license, the opportunity was offered of making contribution to the American Red Cross.

Steel Company Absolved.

It did not appear that the McKinney Steel Co. had any connection with the sale of this coal for retail distribution or that William C. Atwater & Co. authorized such sales or knew of them until after they had been made.

Investigations are being conducted, it was stated, to determine whether there are other violations of the zone restrictions.

OPPORTUNITY FOR INCREASING AMERICAN SHOE TRADE IN CHILE

The United States is now supplying about 80 per cent of the shoes imported into Chile, whereas before the war started the share was less than 20 per cent. The American manufacturers were gaining before hostilities commenced, and according to a report issued by the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, Department of Commerce, it is possible to retain a good share of the present business.

Depends on Manufacturers.

"The extent and permanency of any future increase in the volume of our sales of footwear to Chile," says the report, "will depend directly upon the amount of interest that manufacturers take in the Chilean market. Inasmuch as American shoes now occupy the principal place in the market, the extension of our trade in concerned chiefly with continuing and making even more mutually satisfactory the existing business relations with Chilean shoe importers, and, second, securing a larger share of the total footwear consumption of the country by demonstrating the superiority of American shoes. Well directed, consistent, and intelligent advertising can be used to advantage by American manufacturers in attaining both objects.

The report points out that the difficulties in the way of importing shoes during the last few years have greatly stimulated the development of the domestic industry, which is now a much more formidable competitor than ever before.

Conditions Described in Report.

The conditions governing the shoe trade in both Chile and Bolivia are described in detail in the Government's report, which is entitled "Markets for Boots and Shoes in Chile and Bolivia," Special Agents' Series No. 174. Copies will be sold at 25 cents each by the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C., and by all district and cooperative offices of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce.

FRANKLIN AS AN INSPIRATION TO THRIFT STAMP HOLDERS

Special observance of Benjamin Franklin's birthday this year, as part of the Government's plan to make it a special year of thrift, is urged by Secretary of the Treasury Glass in the following statement:

"I commend the celebration on January 17 of Benjamin Franklin's 213th birthday anniversary as a fitting recognition by the American people of his great precepts and example of thrift as a most auspicious beginning to the thrift year, as 1919 should become known.

"Franklin attributed his many brilliant successes to the steady practice of thrift. We must follow in his footsteps if we are to succeed in completing the task for which Americans have died; if we are to carry out our part of the peace program; if we are to acquire funds for personal as well as national prosperity.

"Franklin's likeness on the 1919 war savings stamps should be a constant inspiration to the magnificent patriotism which caused him, at the age of 70, to gather up all his available funds and turn them over to the newly-born United States, just before starting on a difficult journey to France to represent the infant Republic there.

"'Save and have' is the torch of light which Franklin sends down the centuries to us. Let all the people of our country relight the torch on Franklin's birthday by investing in the 1919 war savings stamps issued by our Government."

SAVING IN TIN CONTAINERS BY THE SUBSISTENCE DIVISION

The War Department authorizes the following from the office of the Director of Purchase and Storage:

By utilizing tin containers that had been manufactured for packing trench rations, for the packing of oatmeal and hominy, the Subsistence Division has just effected a saving of approximately $225,000. The signing of the armistice left the division with 150,000 large tin containers, each capable of holding 100 pounds of food products and costing the Government $1.50 each. These had been made ready for the large quantities of trench rations which were to have been shipped overseas.

With no need for further shipments of trench rations, however, there was no apparent use for these containers and their large size would have made storage expensive. A huge order of 10,000,000 pounds of cereals for overseas use solved the problem. All cereals shipped overseas must be packed in hermetically sealed cans and the trench ration containers are very well adapted to that purpose for which they are now being used.

WORK OF CONGRESS BRIEFLY TOLD

SENATE.

Questions relating to the peace conference again occupied the attention of the Senate yesterday afternoon. Senator Sterling, Republican of South Dakota, and Myers, Democrat, of Montana, made speeches in which they advocated postponement of the proposals for the creation of a league of nations until after the peace conference. Senator Johnson introduced a resolution designed to commit the Senate to an expression favoring the withdrawal of American troops from Russia "as soon as practicable." The resolution remained on the table, the author giving notice that he would address the Senate upon the subject later in the week, and then ask for a vote on the resolution.

Bills or resolutions were introduced as follows: By Chairman Chamberlain, of the Military Committee, modifying military court-martial procedure and enlarging the functions of the Judge Advocate General. Under this bill sentences of death, dismissal, or dishonorable discharge would be suspended pending revision of the case. Senator Phelan, of California, introduced a bill changing the name of Sequoia National Park to the Roosevelt National Park. Senator Smoot introduced a bill granting a pension and free mail privileges to the widow of former President Roosevelt. The Judiciary Committee ordered a favorable report on the bill recommended by the Federal Trade Commission intended to penalize commercial bribery. Conferees of the war-revenue bill considered various administrative features, but reached no definite conclusions. Senator Vardaman introduced a bill granting a bonus of $216 to all officers and enlisted men who served with the United States forces abroad and $180 to all those who served in the United States, the bonus to be paid in six monthly installments.

Interstate Commerce Commissioner Wooley, before the Senate committee investigating railroad problems, made an extended argument favoring the extension of Federal operation of the railroads for a period of five years.

HOUSE.

By a vote of 242 to 73 the House passed late last evening the bill appropriating $100,000,000 for supplying food to those portions of Europe outside of Germany needing relief. While the debate was proceeding Chairman Sherley, of the Appropriations Committee, and Senator Martin, chairman of the Senate committee, received a cable message from President Wilson urging immediate action upon the measure and setting forth the imperative need of such legislation.

The President's cablegram to Mr. Sherley was as follows:

I can not too earnestly or solemnly urge upon the Congress the appropriation for which Mr. Hoover has asked for the administration of food relief. Food relief is now the key to the whole European situation and to the solutions of peace. Bolshevism is steadily advancing westward, is poisoning Germany. It can not be stopped by force, but it can be stopped by food; and all the leaders with whom I am in conference agree that concerted action in this matter is of immediate and vital importance. The money will not be spent for food for Germany itself, because Germany can buy its food; but it will be spent for financing the movement of food to our real friends in Poland and to the people of the liberated units of the Austro-Hungarian Empire and to our associates in the Balkans. I beg that you will present this matter with all possible urgency and force to the Congress. I do not see how we can find definite powers with whom to conclude peace unless this means of stemming the tide of anarchism be employed.

WOODROW WILSON.

Mr. Sherley also read the following message from Mr. Henry White to Senator Lodge:

January 8, 7 p. m. For Senator Lodge from Mr. Henry White:

"Feel I should no longer delay laying before you condition which has been gradually forcing itself upon our delegation and which now dominates entire European situation above all else, namely, steady westward advance of bolshevism. It now completely controls Russia and Poland, and is spreading through Germany. Only effective barrier now apparently possible against it is food relief, as bolshevism thrives only on starvation and disorder. I consider it therefore of utmost importance that President's request for one hundred million appropriation for relief be granted at once. Impossible to inaugurate peace conference under proper auspices without previous adequate provision to cope with situation. Aside from stoppage of bolshevism, I understand there is in United States considerable surplus of food accumulated at high prices, maintenance whereof guaranteed our Government or assurance under its auspices, and that it is necessary to dispose of this surplus in order to relieve warehouse and financial facilities, as well as prevent serious fall in prices, with radical break in market, which would cost our country more than the appropriation asked for. The appropriation is not for the purpose of advancing money to Germany, which will pay on a cash basis for any food sent there. Allies are already furnishing relief to liberated territories and are disposed to assist otherwise to extent of their available resources, but most of the food must come from the United States. I can not too strongly impress upon you urgency of meeting situation herein described."

The bill now goes to the Senate.

By a vote of 223 to 91 the formal vote on the river and harbor appropriation bill was cast, and the measure sent on its way to the Senate. All efforts to send the bill back to committee with instructions or to further amend were defeated.

Secretary Daniels asked Congress to appropriate $270,400,000 to meet a deficit in naval expenses for the current fiscal year. Included in the deficit is $137,400,000 for pay of sailors, $22,808,000 for provisions, $14,390,000 for freight charges, and $18,000,000 for repairs to vessels.

LICENSE APPLICATIONS FOR THE EXPORTATION OF MILK

The War Trade Board announces in a new ruling (W. T. B. R. 508), after consultation with the United States Food Administration, that they will now consider applications for licenses to export the following commodities to all countries except the United Kingdom, France, and Italy, viz: Condensed milk, evaporated milk, powdered milk, preserved milk of all kinds.

Purchases of these commodities for shipment to the United Kingdom, France, or Italy will continue to be made by the allied provisions export commission, acting on behalf of the Governments of these countries.

Exporters should acquaint themselves thoroughly with the import requirements of countries of destination before shipping, as in some of these countries regulations which were in force prior to the signing of the armistice are still in effect.

The Food Administration announces that the withdrawal of special coffee rules and license requirements under the food control act have no bearing on the requirements of import licenses from the War Trade Board and these are still required.

Agreements in Effect Between Railroads And Officials of Organized Employees Made Basis for Adjustment of Disputes By General Order of Director General

The United States Railroad Administration issues the following:

General order No. 53.

Whereas certain of the railroads now under control of the Director General have in existence at this time agreements with the Order of Railroad Telegraphers, Switchmen's Union of North America, Brotherhood of Railway Clerks, and United Brotherhood of Maintenance-of-Way Employees which provide for basis of compensation and regulations of employment; and

Whereas in existing circumstances it is the duty of both officers and employees of the railroads under Federal control promptly and equitably to adjust any controversies which may arise, thereby eliminating misunderstandings which tend to lessen the efficiency of the service:

It is hereby ordered, That the basis arrived at in the annexed understanding between Messrs. A. H. Smith, C. H. Markham, R. H. Aishton, Hale Holden, B. F. Bush, B. L. Winchell and N. D. Maher, regional directors, representing the railroads in their respective regions, which now have, or may hereafter have, such schedules or agreements with the chief executive officers of the Order of Railroad Telegraphers, Switchmen's Union of North America, Brotherhood of Railway Clerks, and United Brotherhood of Maintenance-of-Way Employees, be and the same is hereby, adopted and put into effect as of November 12, 1918.

W. G. McADOO,

Director General of Railroads.

Heberling, president, Switchmen's Union of North America; Mr. J. J. Forrester, president, Brotherhood of Railway Clerks; Mr. A. E. Barker, president, United Brotherhood of Maintenance-of-Way Employees.

It is understood, that all controversies growing out of the interpretation or application of the provisions of the wage schedules or agreements which are not promptly adjusted by the officials and the employees on any one of the railroads operated by the Government shall be disposed of in the following manner:

1. There shall be at once created a commission, to be known as Railway Board of Adjustment No. 3, to consist of 8 members, 4 to be selected by the said regional directors and compensated by the railroads, and one each by the chief executive officer of each of the 4 organizations of employees hereinbefore named and compensated by such organizations.

2. This Board of Adjustment No. 3 shall meet in the city of Washington within 10 days after the selection of its members and elect a chairman and vice chairman, who shall be members of the board. The chairman or vice chairman will preside at meetings of the board and both will be required to vote upon the adoption of all decisions of the board.

To Hold Regular Meetings.

Unless otherwise mutually agreed, all meetings of the board shall be held in the city of Washington: Provided, That the board shall have authority to empower two or more of its members to conduct hearings and pass upon controversies, when properly submitted at any place designated by the board: Provided further, That such subdivision of the board will not be authorized to make final decision. All decisions shall be made and approved by the entire board, as herein provided.

5. Should a vacancy occur in the board for any cause, such vacancies shall be immediately filled by the same appointive authority which made the original selection.

6. (Article 6 left blank in this memorandum because Article 6 for Railway Board of Adjustment No. 1 refers to matters pertaining to the Commission of Eight. In order that all other articles in this Memorandum of Understanding may bear the same numbers as similar articles for Railway Board of Adjustment No. 1. Article 6 has been left blank.)

7. The Board of Adjustment No. 3 shall render decisions on all matters in dispute as provided in the preamble hereof, and when properly submitted to the board.

Wages and Hours.

9. Wages and hours, when fixed by the Director General, shall be incorporated into existing agreements on the several railroads, and should differences arise between the management and the employees of any of the railroads as to such incorporation, such questions of difference shall be decided by the Railway Board of Adjustment No. 3, when properly presented, subject always to review by the Director General.

10. Personal grievances or controversies arising under interpretation of wage agreements, and all other disputes arising between officials of a railroad and its employees, covered by this understanding, will be handled in their usual manner by general committee of the employees up to and including the chief operating officer of the railroad (or some one officially designated by him), when, if an agreement is not reached, the chairman of the general committee of employees may refer the matter to the chief executive officer of the organization concerned, and if the contention of the employees' committee is approved by such executive officer, then the chief operating officer of the railroad and the chief executive officer of the organization concerned shall refer the matter, with all supporting papers, to the Director of the Division of Labor of the United States Railroad Administration, who will in turn present the case to the Railway Board of Adjustment No. 3, which board shall promptly hear and decide the case, giving due notice to the chief operating officer of the railroad interested and to the chief executive officer of the organization concerned of the time set for hearing.

11. No matter will be considered by the Railway Board of Adjustment No. 3 unless officially referred to it in the manner herein proscribed.

12. Clerical and Office Expenses.

13. All clerical and office expenses will be paid by the United States Railroad Administration. The railroad directly concerned and the organization involved in a hearing will, respectively, assume any expense incurred in presenting a case.

14. In each case an effort should be made to present a joint concrete statement of facts as to any controversies, but the board is fully authorized to require information in addition to the concrete statement of facts, and may call upon the chief operating officer of the railroad or the chief executive officer of the organization concerned for additional evidence, either oral or written.

15. All decisions of the Railway Board of Adjustment No. 3 shall be approved by a majority vote of all members of the board.

16. After a matter has been considered by the board, and in the event a majority vote can not be obtained, then any six members of the board may elect to refer the matter upon which no decision has been reached to the Director General of Railroads for a final decision.

Merging of National Guard Into the United States Army Reviewed in Report of Acting Chief of Militia Bureau

In his report to Secretary of War, Brig. Gen. William A. Mann, Acting Chief of the Militia Bureau, says in part:

As the functions of the Militia Bureau, as provided by law and prescribed by regulations, pertain to the National Guard not in Federal service, it was naturally expected that when all of the National Guard was drafted into the service of the United States, under the provisions of section 111, the act of June 3, 1916, and of the act of Congress approved May 18, 1917, all administrative matters pertaining to these organizations would be transferred from this office to the office of The Adjutant General of the Army, excepting such unfinished matters as remained over for completion.

In Charge of Guard Affairs.

It was found after the National Guard had been drafted, however, that there were many matters which required intimate knowledge of its prior status and familiarity with the laws and regulations under which it was organized, armed, trained, and brought into Federal service. Since the personnel of the Militia Bureau was familiar with these matters, it was thought that the details of the administration of these organizations could for the time being be conducted to a better advantage in this bureau. It was accordingly directed by the Secretary of War that all matters relating to the administration of the National Guard in Federal service requiring action of the War Department should be referred to the Militia Bureau for action.

The handling of all administrative matters pertaining to the National Guard in Federal service was continued in this office until May 10, 1918, when it was finally turned over to The Adjutant General's office.

Mobilization.

On April 6, 1917, when Congress, by a resolution, declared that a state of war existed between the United States and the Imperial Government of Germany, the National Guard consisted of 16 tactical divisions, organized in accordance with Tables of Organization of May 3, 1917, advanced copies of which were furnished the States in January, 1917. Only two of these divisions, the 27th and 28th (6th and 7th under old nomenclature) had a recognized divisional staff. Later a divisional staff was authorized and recognized for the 37th Division (geographically a part of the 16th Division under the old nomenclature). Later another division, the 42d, was created from units selected from 27 States. Still later, another division, the 93d Division, was created from the National Guard colored troops. The number of such troops was not sufficient for a complete division, the remainder required to complete it being secured from the selective draft (colored). In all, 18 divisions of National Guard were organized and had for the most part the necessary equipment and peace personnel, except divisional headquarters and staff prescribed by Tables of Organization of May 3, 1917.

All organizations could have been recruited up to the authorized war strength by voluntary enlistments and could have been called or drafted into Federal service at a much earlier date than August 5, 1917, had there been sufficient arms, equipment, etc., and mobilization camps selected and prepared for their training.

Although more than two-thirds of the National Guard were called into Federal service prior to August 5, and all were drafted into the service August 5, some of them did not reach their mobilization camps until the early part of October. The delay was due to the use of these troops to guard railroads, etc., and to the lack of sufficient supplies and equipment and the unpreparedness of their designated camp sites, although the preparation of camp sites for the National Guard did not involve frame buildings, for tentage was utilized as shelter for this purpose.

Reorganization.

The divisional organization authorized for the National Guard prior to draft was that of maneuver armies, as authorized for the Regular Army, namely, three brigades of Infantry of three regiments each, one brigade of Field Artillery of three regiments, one regiment each of Cavalry and Engineers, and appropriate auxiliary troops.

Owing to the peculiar conditions relating to strategy, tactics, and the service of supply, which had developed during the war in Europe, and after a careful study of the conditions under which the warfare on the western front was being conducted, which necessitated our allies organizing their forces along lines which differed from our organization, the War Department directed a reorganization of the National Guard divisions in accordance with the provisions of Tables of Organization dated August, 1917, which involved the consolidation of regiments and organization of new units not theretofore existing.

To comply with these tables it was necessary to break up former National Guard organizations, some of which lost their former identity and State designations. This reorganization also resulted in a considerable excess of field officers, who were later absorbed to fill vacancies in the organization of replacement and Army corps troops. The over-sea requirement for more Artillery and less Cavalry resulted in converting all National Guard cavalry into field artillery.

Under the instructions of the War Department the reorganization of the National Guard divisions and the merging of organizations were made upon recommendations of division commanders, who were instructed to keep intact, wherever it was practicable, old State organizations of historic origin. It was natural that this merging of National Guard organizations, resulting in some cases in an organization losing its former State identity, would create some dissatisfaction, especially where, as a military necessity, it became necessary to break up a State organization with historic origin.

Change in Nomenclature.

For obvious reasons, it was necessary to adopt a new nomenclature for the National Guard organizations drafted into the Federal service, so that, in a sense, all lost their State identity when drafted into the Federal service. Under the application of General Orders, No. 73, War Department, 1918, creating one army, to be known as the United States Army, not only does the National Guard lose its distinctive State and former National Guard designation, but the Regular Army, National Army, and Reserve also lose their distinctive designations. So it would appear that former National Guard organizations and their ardent, patriotic, and sympathetic friends who were inclined to feel that they were being discriminated against and unjustly dealt with when the organizations of the National Guard in which they were interested had, for purely military efficiency, to lose their State identity, can find much consolation in reading the extract of General Orders, No. 73, War Department, 1918, which says:

"1. This country has but one army—the United States Army. It includes all the land forces in the service of the United States. These forces, however raised, lose their identity in that of the United States Army. Distinctive appellations, such as the Regular Army, Reserve Corps, National Guard, and National Army, heretofore employed in administration and command, will be discontinued, and the single term, the United States Army, will be exclusively used."

However, in order that States and those interested and concerned might be able to identify the former National Guard organizations of their respective States which were drafted into the Federal service, there was compiled in this bureau a complete tabulation of the composition of all National Guard divisions and the disposition of all former State National Guard units and detachments. This compilation indicates the designation of all former State units and detachments and also embodies a detailed statement as to the disposition of all elements of former State National Guard units and detachments prior to their departure for overseas duty.

Maximum Strength.

The maximum strength of National Guard organizations authorized by the act approved June 3, 1916, on August 5, 1917, the date of the draft, was 13,093 officers and 419,834 enlisted men.

The number of National Guard inducted into Federal service, as shown by the reports from the several State adjutants general, was 12,115 officers and 366,956 enlisted men. These figures do not include the State of Arizona, which was unable to furnish the data required by regulations as to the number of National Guard inducted into the Federal service because same was not of record in the office of the adjutant general of that State.

Discharges and Resignations.

Between August 5, 1917, and May 10, 1918, the records of this bureau show the total number of officers of the National Guard who were discharged, or resigned, or were otherwise separated from the Federal service in the several grades to be as follows:

Grades, all arms of service.	Cause of separation.				Total.

Included in the above are—

Each and every case recommended for discharge was carefully considered, all papers pro and con being carefully scrutinized, and in cases where recommendation for discharge was for physical reasons the recommendation of the Surgeon General was sought before final action was taken; so that the final action taken in each case of discharge was based upon an impartial, fair, and careful review of all papers presented to the War Department. The sole consideration in each case and the action taken therein were based on what was considered for the best interests of the service with a view to winning the war.

Complaints of Injustice.

It is a source of satisfaction to report that, except in a few instances, when the object, aim, and policy of the War Department were carefully explained to those who claimed that an injustice had been done them or their friends on account of discharge from Federal service, while manifestly deeply disappointed, they were satisfied that no injustice had been done them by the War Department.

Some newspapers and a few high officials in public life were inclined to criticize the War Department for discharging so many National Guard officers and were wont to call attention to the fact that the proportion of officers discharged from the National Guard was much greater than that discharged from the Regular Army, National Army, and Reserve Corps. While this is an undisputed fact, it can be satisfactorily explained: A large number of National Guard officers resigned, and many new ones were commissioned in the National Guard after the Mexican border service to fill vacancies and to supply officers for the new National Guard units organized just prior to the draft who were not carefully selected by the States and who had very little or no military training. Some lacked the necessary basic education and physical qualifications for officers.

The records of this bureau show that during the period, August 5, 1917, to May 10, 1918, the resignations of 648 National Guard officers were accepted by the President. Twenty-three of these were at the request of those officers concerned for the good of the service. Such a resignation always implies that same was accepted by and at the discretion of the President in lieu of trial by general court-martial on account of a breach of discipline or in lieu of the action of an efficiency board for moral or professional delinquency.

The number of resignations was rather large. The causes stated for same were not tabulated, but a large number were to avoid going before efficiency boards because of failure to qualify in their military duties. A number was because they realized, after a little experience in the practical requirements of an officer, that they were not mentally, physically, or for other causes fitted for duty as an officer; and there were others who resigned for personal reasons pertaining to their business or family affairs. In all except very few cases resignations were freely accepted without question as to motive.

Not Intended as Apology.

It is not intended that the foregoing statements explaining the policy and action of the War Department concerning officers separated from the National Guard be construed as an apology. It was deemed advisable, in view of the criticisms made, to set forth in detail the circumstances under which these officers were so discharged, not so much with the idea of refuting the criticisms but more with the idea of informing those for whom this report is intended that the War Department, through this bureau, safeguarded the interests of the National Guard drafted into the service of the United States just as much as it did the interests of the Government in its interpretation and enforcement of laws enacted by Congress directing the organization and drafting of the National Guard into the Federal service.

This bureau feels that it has performed the duties imposed upon it in connection with the reorganization and administration of the National Guard in Federal service during the period August 5, 1917, to May 10, 1918, to the best of its ability, fulfilled conscientiously its functions, and decided the many intricate problems and questions which arose, for many of which there were no precedents, in a just and impartial manner. Any mistakes can be attributed to error in judgment or decision, to which all are liable. In all military matters involving efficiency the Government is entitled to the benefit of any doubt.

The total number of officers of the National Guard, including those of the Medical Department, who were discharged from the service of the United States during the period covered by this report on account of physical unfitness is 511.

Tribute to Valor.

The report says:

The National Guard, as organized under the National Defense Act of June 3, 1916, and drafted August 5, 1917, has passed into history as a National Guard organization and is now a Federal force. In closing this part of the report, in justice to the National Guard, attention is called to the fact that two years after the passage of the act of June 3, 1916, 18 divisions, composed almost entirely of National Guard, were furnished in the present emergency. All but three of these divisions are now in France.

Many individuals have received decorations from the allied Governments for gallantry in action. From the newspaper and official reports some of these divisions since July 15 have met and defeated, in the Solissons-Rheims salient, the best forces that Germany could produce. These 18 divisions mean approximately 500,000 fighting men—a real tangible asset to this Nation. Their military value is admitted by the soldiers of Europe, both friend and foe. It is a pleasure for this bureau to tender the National Guard this acknowledgment of their services.

Synopsis of Annual Report of the Chief of Ordnance

Outlining Operations and the Principal Expenditures

Following is a synopsis of the annual report of Maj. Gen. C. C. Williams, Chief of Ordnance, to the Secretary of War:

It soon became apparent that war conditions required a reorganization of the office of the Chief of Ordnance, and after thorough study, and with the assistance of some of the best known experts in the country, the following divisions were established: The personal office of the Chief of Ordnance, the Administration Division, the Estimates and Requirements Division, the Engineering Division, the Procurement Division, the Inspection Division, the Supply Division, the Nitrate Division, and the office of the Director of Arsenals.

The Administrative Division.

The Administration Division is charged with accountability for all funds and property pertaining to the Ordnance Department; the recruitment, examination, and disposition of the commissioned, enlisted and civilian personnel; the establishment and operation of schools of instruction for this personnel; the establishment and maintenance of the ordnance courier service; the collection of data and information pertaining to ordnance matters generally, and the advertising, publicity and auxiliary functions relating to the department.

On June 30, 1917, there were commissioned and called to active duty 225 officers. On June 30, 1918, there were on duty 4,618 officers, as follows:

Rank.	Regular Army.	National Army.	Ordnance Reserve Corps.	Total.
Major generals.....				5
Brigadier generals.....		5		5
Colonels.....	13	27		40
Lieutenant colonels.....		80		80
Majors.....	6	143	255	404
Captains.....	1	593	911	1,505
First lieutenants.....	1	146	1,452	1,599
Second lieutenants.....		127	858	985
Total.....	21	1,121	3,476	4,618

It is estimated that during the year in excess of 30,000 formal and informal applications for commission in the Ordnance Department have been received; approximately 5,500 applicants were authorized to appear before examining boards.

The Civilian Personnel.

During the year 10,019 employees have been carried on the pay roll of the Ordnance office, and 6,100 appointments to positions in Schedule A have been made, exclusive of appointments made by district personnel managers. Approximately 6,200 additional positions have been allowed. At the close of the year 7,729 employees were carried on the Ordnance office pay roll. Districts have been established which include all Ordnance establishments outside of the city of Washington, excepting arsenals and ports of embarkation. All cases of transfer, promotions, separations, and reinstatements, other than those which fall within the jurisdiction of arsenal commanders, are attended to by the Washington office, or by its district representatives; there have been in excess of 50,000 such cases disposed of during the year involving a vast amount of clerical labor and correspondence.

Expenditures for 1918.

A statement of the expenditures under the various appropriations made for the service of the department, including those for experiments conducted under the direction of the Board of Ordnance and Fortifications, and for the purchase and maintenance of submarine mines, the control of which rests with the Chief of Coast Artillery, shows a grand total of $1,335,930,245.28. Estimates and Requirements Division.

This division is charged with the preparation of estimates and schedules of requirements serving as a basis for the procurement of ordnance, ordnance stores, and supplies, and with the compilation of estimates of appropriations required for submission to Congress. Through its liaison officers, it is the point of contact between the Ordnance Department and the purchase and supply section of the General Staff. Its personnel comprises 62 commissioned officers, 35 enlisted men, and 510 civilian employees.

During the period from February 5 to June 30, 1918, approximately 6,000 procurement requests were issued.

The engineering division determines upon and is responsible for the adoption of types of each article of ordnance; it prepares and distributes the drawings, specifications, and bills of lading for each article adopted; such drawings, specifications, etc., requiring the approval of this division before procurement orders may be placed. All questions of departure from approved designs or specifications must be submitted to this division for approval before being put into effect.

Procurement Division.

This division is charged with the procurement of all ordnance material and the work connected therewith, including the placing of orders with the arsenals of the department and with private manufacturers for deliveries in accordance with requirements, in connection with which it conducts all relations with the General Staff of the Army and with all other governmental agencies; it is charged with the preparation and execution of all contracts entered into by the department and with furnishing information concerning the same to the other divisions of the department interested. Its personnel consists of 201 commissioned officers, 76 enlisted men, and 1,067 civilian employees.

During the fiscal year approximately 16,000 contracts have been placed, the money value of the material contracted for amounting to approximately $5,000,000,000. This amount includes $325,000,000 expended in increasing the manufacturing facilities of the country so that the needs of the Army might be promptly and efficiently met.

Production Division.

The principal function of this division is to expedite the production of ordnance matériel by placing at the disposal of arsenals and manufacturers engaged in such work every known means to aid, stimulate, and accelerate production to the end that constantly increasing requirements may be promptly met. For the efficient accomplishment of this object all operating functions have been decentralized into 11 district offices, located in the various ordnance zones into which the country has been divided. Originally these district offices were production offices, but later they became district ordnance offices. Each has a district ordnance chief and representatives of the several divisions of the Ordnance Department among its personnel. The organization of each office is complete so far as the production division is concerned, except as to allocation of components, which function has necessarily been retained at Washington. There has been established in this division a technical section, composed of highly trained technical experts, to advise and assist manufacturers.

At the beginning of the fiscal year approximately 100 orders had been placed, and production was not fully under way; at the close of the year an excess of 11,000 orders had been placed with more than 4,000 manufacturers, many of whom have a number of subcontractors engaged in the production of component parts. During the year 59 factories were erected by the department; these are now in operation, while 171 additional are in course of construction. Through facilities secured by this division, 230 manufacturers have been assisted in the production of ordnance matériel. Funds expended during the year in the development of manufacturing facilities amounted to approximately $420,000,000.

Inspection Division.

This division is charged with the performance of all duties pertaining to the inspection and acceptance of all ordnance, ordnance stores, and supplies procured by purchase or manufacture, except those which are manufactured at or procured through certain arsenals, at which separate inspection forces are still maintained under the direction of the arsenal commander. The cost of this inspection is estimated at something over $13,000,000. The personnel of the division on June 30, 1918, consisted of 734 commissioned officers, 565 enlisted men, and 14,183 civilian employees, a total of 15,482.

The functions of the Supply Division are to take charge of all ordnance and ordnance stores for issue to the service, to arrange for the shipment of this matériel to designated points, for its storage and custody, for its preservation from deterioration, and for its issue to troops. As indices of the growth and development the following comparisons are made: On July 1, 1917, the Supply Division personnel consisted of 12 commissioned officers, no enlisted men, and 63 civilian employees (at this time the arsenals had not been divided for purposes of control by this office according to storage and manufacturing functions; the function of storage, therefore remained under the control of the arsenal commander; no personnel at arsenals—in fact, other than in Washington—is included in the figures given for 1917); on June 30, 1918, this personnel in this city and at all depots, including field depots and ports of embarkation in this country, consisted of 546 commissioned officers, 4,267 enlisted men, and 1,999 civilian employees. On July 1, 1917, the Supply Division issued 15 shipping instructions; on June 30, 1918, 300.

The Nitrate Division has as its function the establishment and operation of plants for the production of nitrates for military purposes. The personnel of this division has increased to 85 commissioned officers, 175 enlisted men, and 175 civilian employees. There are also many volunteers and gratuitous assistants, especially in research and experimental work. These include a number of eminent scientists and technologists, and staffs and facilities of several institutions of education and research have been placed at the disposal of the department.

The Director of Arsenals is charged with the control of all matters relating to the operation of the arsenals as military establishments and as manufacturing plants, the maintenance of ground, buildings and machinery, and with their general administration. The personnel of his office, in addition to himself, at present consists of eight commissioned officers, two enlisted men, and eight civilian employees.

Copper Production in the United States Increased in 1918 Over Previous Year

The production of copper in the United States in 1918 was slightly larger than in 1917, according to preliminary figures and estimates collected by B. S. Butler, of the United States Geological Survey, from all plants that make blister copper from domestic ores or that produce refined copper. At an average price of about 24.75 cents a pound the output for 1918 has a value of $473,000,000, as against values of $510,000,000 for 1917 and $190,000,000 for 1913.

The figures showing the smelter production from domestic ores represent the actual output of most of the companies for the first 11 months of the year and the estimated output for December. A few companies gave no figures for November but furnished estimates of the combined output of November and December. The production of blister and lake copper from domestic ores was 1,910,000,000 pounds in 1918, against 1,886,000,000 pounds in 1917 and 1,224,000,000 pounds in 1913.

The supply of refined copper (electrolytic, lake, casting, and pig) from primary sources, domestic and foreign, for 1918 is estimated at 2,450,000,000 pounds, compared with 2,362,000,000 pounds for 1917 and 1,615,000,000 pounds for 1913.

Foreign Trade and Domestic Consumption.

According to the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, the imports of copper in all forms for the first 11 months of 1918 amounted to 535,868,000 pounds, against 556,000,000 pounds for the 12 months of 1917.

The exports of pigs, ingots, bars, plates, sheets, rods, wire, and like copper products for the first 11 months of 1918, as determined by the same bureau, amounted to 602,759,600 pounds; the exports for the 12 months of 1917 were 1,126,082,000 pounds.

At the beginning of 1918 about 114,000,000 pounds of refined copper was in stock in the United States. Adding this quantity to the refinery output of the year shows that the total available supply of refined copper was about 2,564,000,000 pounds. Subtracting from this total the exports for the first 11 months and the estimated exports for the last month shows, on the assumption that there was no change in stocks, that the supply available for domestic consumption in 1918 was considerably more than the 1,316,000,000 pounds available in 1917.

Record by States.

Arizona produced about 777,000,000 pounds, compared with 712,000,000 pounds in 1917.

The mines of Montana produced 328,000,000 pounds, against 274,000,000 pounds in 1917.

Michigan produced 225,000,000 pounds, compared with 263,000,000 pounds produced in 1917.

Utah produced 233,000,000 pounds, compared with 245,000,000 pounds in 1917.

Nevada produced 105,000,000 pounds, compared with 122,000,000 pounds produced in 1917.

Alaska, with a production of about 60,000,000 pounds, showed a large decrease from the previous year.

New Mexico produced 98,000,000 pounds, compared with 105,000,000 pounds in 1917.

The production of California was considerably above the 48,000,000 pounds produced in 1917.

The production in Tennessee was about 14,500,000 pounds.
