

ORDERS FOR DEMOBILIZING OF ALL COMBATANT TROOPS IN U. S. EXCEPT REGULARS ISSUED, SAYS GEN. MARCH

TOTAL OF 1,177,000
NOW PLACED ON LIST

Medical Detachments and Other Certain Units to Be Retained Sufficient to Conduct Work of Discharging Men—Total of 768,626 Discharged.

Press statement by the Chief of Staff
January 18, 1919.

"During the past week I have issued orders for the demobilization of the remaining half of the combatant divisions, so that now the demobilization orders for the United States include all the troops except those of a permanent character which I will enumerate.

"In each infantry division, as I announced at the time of their formation, we put two Regular regiments of infantry as a nucleus about which these divisions were to be formed, and these Regular regiments will be, of course, in the permanent military establishment and will not be demobilized as regiments. In addition to that we still have in the United States the greater part of the cavalry of the Regular Army, which is along the border, and Coast Artillery troops in the seacoast defenses. There will be retained, besides, a large medical personnel which will handle all the hospital facilities which we have constructed all over the United States for the use of the sick and convalescents who return from abroad, and the number of officers and men necessary to handle those plants are excepted from the demobilization orders at this time.

"Demobilization Detachments."

"There is also at each camp what we might call a demobilization detachment of men who are selected to make the physical examinations of men, fix their papers and records, check up their property, handle their accounts, and handle the demobilization generally. These detachments are of selected men and, as far as possible, of men who want to stay in the service, and their number of course will be quite large, because of the number of demobilization camps which are retained for the purpose of receiving the men who came back from France and attend to the details of demobilization.

LICENSES FOR SUGAR EXPORT CONSIDERED AFTER FEBRUARY 1, WAR TRADE BOARD ANNOUNCES SUPPLY NOW AMPLE FOR ALL NEEDS

The War Trade Board announces, in a ruling (W. T. B. R. 527), after consultation with the United States Food Administration, that applications will be considered for licenses to export sugar after February 1, 1919, to all destinations except the United Kingdom, France, and Italy. Purchases of sugar for shipment to the United Kingdom, France, and Italy will continue to be made by the Allied Provisions Export Commission, acting in behalf of the Governments of these countries.

Exporters should acquaint themselves with the import requirements of the country of destination before consummation of their business, as in some countries the regulations which were in force prior to the signing of the armistice are still in effect.

VANCE C. McCORMICK,
Chairman.

Food Administration Statement.

In connection with the announcement by the War Trade Board that applications for licenses to export sugar will be entertained after February 1, the Food Administration makes the following statement:

The situation which makes it possible for sugar to be exported from the United States is largely due to the conservation accomplishments of the American people in this commodity.

The plan for the distribution of sugar and the appeals for voluntary conservation in sugar were designed to meet the obligation of this Nation to share with

COAL PRICE RESTRICTIONS AND ZONE REGULATIONS ARE SUSPENDED EXCEPT AS TO PENNSYLVANIA ANTHRACITE

FEBRUARY 1 THE DATE RULING IS EFFECTIVE

Accumulation of Stocks of Bituminous Sufficient to Guarantee Consumers a Full Winter's Supply Is Given as One of Basic Reasons for Action Taken.

Governmental restrictions on the prices of coke and all coal, except Pennsylvania anthracite, and the zone regulations covering the movement of these fuels by rail will be suspended February 1, 1919, it is announced by the United States Fuel Administration. Restoration of both zone and price regulations will be immediately liable, should changing price, wage, labor, production, or other conditions command it, the announcement said.

Winter's Supply Assured.

The accumulation of stocks of bituminous coal sufficient to guarantee consumers a full winter's supply is one of the basic reasons for the suspension of the regulations.

On January 1 the average stocks of bituminous coal for the country were approximately sufficient for seven weeks' consumption and in the regions farthest from the mines 20 weeks' supply was on hand.

Maximum prices at the mine for bituminous coal were fixed by presidential order of August 21, 1917, with a range of from $1.90 to $3.25 per ton in various districts. Unprecedented demand early in that year had sent the market up to $5, $6 and even $7.50 per ton, to the extreme demoralization of business. Adjustments subsequently were made, the prices at present ranging from $2.35 to $4.95 per ton.

Zone Regulations.

Zone regulations were announced in March, 1913, dividing the country into 14 districts, and are credited with having saved the railroad 160,000,000 car miles by eliminating cross hauls and allotting consumers to the nearest mines. The relation of this saving to the enormously increased production of coal in the United States is obvious when it is understood that storage of coal at the mine is not possible, that is, that cars must move continually from the mine if production is to be maintained.

Under the spur of war demand production of bituminous coal in the United States in 1917 increased some 50,000,000 net tons over 1916, and there was a 12,000,000 ton increase in anthracite production. The railroads were required in 1917 to handle more than 60,000,000 tons of coal in excess of their 1916 load.

Under the high pressure production campaign maintained by the United States Fuel Administration the bituminous output in 1918 by the end of September registered an increase of more than 36,000,000 tons over the corresponding months of 1917.

Different Relation Between Prices.

The Fuel Administration called special attention to-day to the fact that the prices established under the provisions of the Lever Act have been maximum prices, based on the cost of production rather than on quality of coal, and that in the return to normal a different relation between prices in the several fields, based as in normal times on quality of coal, may fairly be expected to obtain.

The Fuel Administration also stated that in the light of the so-called "Washington Wage Agreement" of October, 1917, whereby it was agreed to continue the wage scale then agreed upon during the war, but not beyond April 1, 1920, the wages of mine workers should not now be reduced and it is expected that whatever prices are asked or secured for bituminous coal between now and the promulgation of peace will be based upon the present wage scale.

Attention is also called to the fact that the maximum prices and zone regulations on Pennsylvania anthracite coal, which is largely domestic, are not affected by the above announcement.

SHIPPING BOARD REMOVES ADDITIONAL RESTRICTIONS

The restrictions which had been imposed upon steam vessels of less than 2,500 tons, whereby these were prohibited from making trans-Atlantic voyages, were moved Friday by a resolution adopted by the United States Shipping Board. These restrictions had been imposed in February, 1918, for the reason that vessels of that small tonnage did not have sufficient speed to keep pace with convoys.

An older restriction, one dating back to October, 1917, which prohibited sailing vessels from going trans-Atlantic, was also removed by the board at the meeting. This restriction had been imposed for the reason that so many sailing vessels were being sunk in the war zone.

Solution of the Jewish Question in Roumania

Advices reaching the State Department state that the Jewish question in Roumania has been solved from a legal point of view. A legal decree appearing in the Official Monitor grants nationality to all aliens matriculated and residing in Roumania who are not dependent upon any alien government. The only exceptions to this measure are those who have been guilty of treason, crimes, spying, and desertion.

ALLIED VICE CONSULS PROTEST AGAINST HOLDING OF HOSTAGES BY THE RUSSIANS AT SAMARA

RELEASE OF WOMEN IS REQUESTED

U. S. and British Officials Join in Asking That Wives of Bolshevik Commissars at Ufa Be Liberated. Definite Information Lacking.

The American and British vice consuls in Samara, Russia, have formally protested to the Russian authorities at Samara against the taking of hostages, particularly of women, and requesting the immediate release of nine women, wives of bolshevik commissars in Ufa. These women, according to information submitted to the American, British, and French vice consuls, were seized by the Russian authorities last summer followed by the capture of Ufa by the Czechs and were held as hostages, it is stated, to insure the safety of some of the prisoners taken by the bolsheviks in Ufa.

Although the three vice consuls agreed on their attitude with respect to the seizure of the hostages, the French vice consul did not join in the protest because of absence from the city at the time. The protesting consuls have been unable to obtain definite information relative to these women hostages because of lack of communication and the disturbed state at Ufa.

MR. THELEN MADE DIRECTOR OF PUBLIC SERVICE DIVISION

Walker D. Hines, Director General of Railroads, announces the appointment, effective February 1, of Mr. Max Thelen as Director of the Division of Public Service.

The Director General has decided to divide the existing Division of Public Service and Accounting, which has been under the jurisdiction of Judge C. A. Prouty, into two divisions, the Division of Accounting and the Division of Public Service, because of the desire of Judge Prouty to be relieved of some of the very numerous duties devolving upon him. In order to continue his valuation work for the Interstate Commerce Commission, Judge Prouty decided that it was necessary for him to give up some of his work for the Railroad Administration. At the request of the Director General, he has consented to continue as Director of the Division of Accounting. The new status of the two divisions will also become effective February 1.

Mr. Thelen is a man of very wide experience in dealing with the relationship between the public and the railroads. After serving as attorney for the Western Pacific Railway from 1906 to 1911, he became attorney for the California Railroad Commission, serving in that capacity until 1915. In 1912 he became a member of the California Railroad Commission, and served as chairman of the commission from January, 1915, to June, 1918. In 1916 he was president of the National Association of Railroad Commissioners.

Leaving the California Railroad Commission, he came to Washington in June,

PLANS MADE FOR THE DISPOSAL OF SURPLUS MACHINE TOOLS

Quantity on Government's Haands
Said Not to Be So Great as Has Been Reported.

The War Department authorizes the following from the Office of the Director of Sales:

Arrangements for the disposition of surplus machine tools were made at a meeting of representatives of the machine tool industry of the country and officials of the War Department. It was brought out at this meeting that the immense and vague figures which have recently been printed as the value of the surplus Government-owned machine tools which would soon be put on the market were not warranted. It is hoped that the industries can absorb within a reasonable time all the surplus Government-owned standard machine tool equipment without serious di arrangement.

Tentative Agreement Made.

The following tentative agreement, which is satisfactory both to the representatives of the War Department and to the machine tool industry, has been made:

1. The inventory of all machine tools and equipment which is being made will be expedited to the greatest possible extent.

2. As soon as it is known that a quantity of machine tools is available for disposal, the manufacturers of these tools will be given an opportunity to purchase them at a price and on terms of settlement which will be satisfactory to all parties concerned.

3. In case it is impossible for the manufacturer to purchase his product outright, an effort will be made to arrange for the marketing of the product by the manufacturer in an equitable manner, securing for the Government and the manufacturer alike the best possible terms.

4. In case both these methods of disposition fail, the material will be offered for sale to the general public in a manner prescribed by law.

Settlement of Plant Contracts.

In the settlement of plant contracts, which involve the sale of large groups of various kinds of tools and equipment, an effort will be made to prevent the sale for resale of any equipment, as it is realized that considerable injury might be done by indiscriminate sales of this character.

Present at the meeting were: C. W. Hare, director of sales; Lieut. Col. A. La Mar, and George E. Merryweather, of the office of the director of sales; A. E. Newton, of the Reed-Prentice Co., Worcester, Mass., president of the National Machine Tool Builders' Association; W. A. Viall, of Brown & Sharpe Manufacturing Co., Providence, R. I.; C. Wood Walter, of the Cincinnati Milling Machine Co., representing the National Machine Tool Builders' Association; M. A. Sherritt, of Sherritt & Storer; and H. W. Strong, of Strong, Carlisle & Hammond, representing the National Supply and Machine Dealers' Association.

APPLICATIONS BY SOLDIERS TO ENTER MERCHANT MARINE

Three hundred applications a day from soldiers of the selective Army wishing to enter the merchant marine on getting their discharge are being received by United States Shipping Board recruiting agents at Army camps, the board announces.

By authority of the War Department the board last week sent a representative of its merchant marine recruiting service to each of 30 cantonments to present to the soldiers there waiting release from military service official facts about opportunities for a career in the merchant marine.

Many Experienced Seamen.

Many of the responses are from men who followed the sea before being selected for military duty. A majority, however, are from youths who have never been to sea, but are drawn to a seafaring life by a spirit of adventure and a desire to embark on a career promising substantial rewards.

No actual recruiting of these men is done at the camps, on behalf of the Shipping Board, but each applicant for sea service signs a card, given his qualifications and age. After his discharge he will be directed to a Shipping Board agency for actual enrollment as a sailor.

Simon-Pure Americans.

The board expects to secure by this means a large number of Simon-pure American sailors for the new merchant Marine, as well as youths who may make seagoing a stepping-stone to life work as steamship agents or trade representatives.

COST TO ARMY IN LOST DAYS DUE TO VENEREAL DISEASES

The Public Health Service authorizes the following:

Surg. Gen. Rupert Blue, of the United States Public Health Service, has just given out some startling extracts from the official medical reports made from our Army in France, illustrating the high cost of the venereal diseases in the Army. These reports show that during the year 1917 over three-quarters of a million days were lost to the Army because of venereal disease. In the 53 weeks up to and including October 16, 1918, no less than 2,067,000 days were lost to the Army through this cause.

"One note in this Chief Surgeon's report that should particularly appeal to American citizens facing the problems of demobilization is this," says Surg. Gen. Blue, "when 1,000 odd cases of venereal disease, which develop each week, are held at ports of embarkation, while the rest of the American Expeditionary Force goes merrily up the gangplank on board ships, there will be still more interest in the quickest methods of treatment and the most effective abbreviation of the communicable stages of these diseases. And yet," adds Surg. Gen. Blue, "it must not be forgotten that the statistics show that of all the armies in the field the American Army was the cleanest and the freest from disease."

CUTTING DOWN CLERICAL WORK IN KEEPING THE ARMY RECORDS

The War Department authorizes the following statement:

Relative to the announced policy of Gen. P. C. Harris, The Adjutant General of the Army, to reduce in every possible way the clerical work required in administration and keeping of records in the Army, the reasons for the recent modifications in the method of reporting changes in the status of officers and enlisted men are of interest.

Prior to July 1, 1918, all changes were entered on muster rolls and reported on these rolls every two months. If an inquiry was made with reference to the record of an individual the labor of tracing the record through these rolls was heavy, especially if the individual had been transferred from organization to organization. Also the record of a change of status in an individual, if made at the beginning of the muster period, might be two months old before the roll was received at the War Department.

Muster Rolls Abolished.

On July 1, 1918, muster rolls were abolished and the reports of changes were reported daily by each organization on prepared forms which eliminated much unnecessary data entered on the old muster roll.

Each enlisted man already had an envelope jacket in which was filed certain other records pertaining to him. In order that his record would be complete, all data concerning an individual contained on the new report of changes was to be transcribed on slips and placed in the jacket of the individual concerned.

Assuming that there were approximately 4,000,000 men in the Army, and that only 1 per cent were affected in the daily report, there would be 40,000 slips daily to be prepared and placed in the jackets. However, the changes actually were many times 1 per cent and the clerical work required in compiling and filing became so great in the office of The Adjutant General that a remedy was sought.

Saving in Work.

After practical trial in certain organizations, and in the filing divisions of the office of The Adjutant General, it was determined that by making out the report of change for each man concerned in a form suitable for direct filing, instead of consolidating the daily report of changes on one form from which the data had to be transcribed, one complete step in the work of compiling the records for reference, amounting to at least one-third of the whole, could be eliminated. This would not increase the work of preparation of the records in organizations to an appreciable extent, but would release hundreds of clerks in the office of The Adjutant General who were employed to transcribe the data. Another great advantage, as a result of the modification, was that the data upon receipt in the War Department go at once to file, where they become available for answering inquiries with reference to individuals from Members of Congress or relatives, the delay incident to transcribing from the consolidated reports being eliminated.

U. S. Sympathy to Brazil On Death of Dr. Alves.

The Vice President of the United States sent the following message to the President of Brazil:

"I tender to Your Excellency and through you to the Brazilian Nation, a very sincere expression of sympathy and sorrow for the death of that eminent statesman and patriot, President-elect Conselheiro Rodrigues Alves.

"The national loss is the greater at this time when the voice of the people had again called upon their trusted leader to guide the high destinies of the Brazilian Republic.

"May I add my personal tribute of condolence and of deep regret.

"THOMAS R. MARSHALL,"

The following message of condolence by the Acting Secretary of State, Mr. Polk, upon the death of President-elect Alves, of Brazil, was transmitted to the Brazilian minister for foreign affairs:

"It is with deep regret that I offer to your excellency and to the Brazilian nation the sympathy of the American Government and people for their great loss which they have suffered through the death of Conselheiro Rodrigues Alves, President-elect and former President of the Republic, whose illustrious services assure him a high place of honor among statesmen both at home and abroad. Permit to add my personal word of condolence in this hour of national mourning."

CAN KEEP ARTIFICIAL LIMBS.

Permanently Disabled Soldiers to Retain Appliances Given Them at Hospitals.

The War Department authorizes the following from the office of the Surgeon General:

All permanently disabled soldiers will be allowed to retain the artificial limbs, trusses, and other appliances of a similar nature upon their discharge from the hospital. This was ordered to-day by Surg. Gen. Ireland.

250 SCHOOLS WILL MAINTAIN OFFICERS' TRAINING UNITS

The War Department authorizes the following statement:

A recent report of the Committee on Education and Special Training shows that the educational institutions of this country are ready and eager to cooperate with the War Department in the training of reserve officers for the Army. Requests for the privilege of establishing units of the Reserve Officers' Training Corps have been received from more than 350 institutions, including practically all the larger universities and colleges as well as many of the smaller schools and high schools. About 250 of these schools have been authorized to maintain these schools, and officers are being assigned as Professors of Military Science and Tactics.

Theoretical Military Work.

Special emphasis is to be placed upon the theoretical military work during the school year. Field Artillery, Coast Artillery, Chemical Warfare, Ordnance, Engineer, Quartermaster, Motor Transport, Aviation and Signal Corps units are to be established in the schools qualified to do such work, and the corps of the Army interested will detail the most efficient men to direct the work. The special equipment needed will be furnished by the Government. However, it is not intended that this work shall create a highly specialized program for the schools, but that it shall be supplementary to the regular courses in the various fields.

Physical Program.

Another line of effort in the R. O. T. C. work will be a program to keep every young man physically fit for service at all time. It is generally admitted that the physical program for our schools has been too highly specialized and restricted and, while it is recognized that the men that have been on athletic teams as a rule were highly qualified for officers so far as physique is concerned, an effort will be made to increase the number of physically trained men. The fact that 30 per cent of the young men that took the physical examination for the Army failed to qualify for military service has focused attention upon this subject.

Summer Camps.

The summer camp is another phase of the work that is already attracting attention. Special maneuvers for the members of the Reserve Officers' Training Corps will be held during the coming summer vacation period. Infantry students will be sent to several of the big cantonments; Field Artillery students, Coast Artillery students, Ordnance students, and Signal Corps students, etc., will be sent to special schools for the particular work which they are doing. The proposed summer maneuvers will continue for a period of six weeks, to begin at the opening of the summer vacation. Transportation to and from the camps, and subsistence, uniforms, etc., while there will be furnished by the Government.

LICENSE CONSIDERED TO EXPORT COAL TO CERTAIN DESTINATIONS

The War Trade Board announces in a new ruling (W. T. B. R. 517) that applications will now be considered for licenses to export coal to the Argentine and Uruguay and to all destinations in Europe, shipments to the different countries contiguous to Germany to be limited, however, to the amounts prescribed in the various rationing agreements with those countries.

Filed in Regular Way.

Applications should be filed in the regular way required for the filing of applications for the exportation of other commodities to the particular country.

Licenses for the exportation of coal to the Argentine and Uruguay will provide as a condition thereof that the shipment must be consigned in care of the War Trade Board representative at Buenos Aires or Montevideo, as the case may be.

Coal Orders Vacated By the Administrator

The United States Fuel Administration issues the following:

WASHINGTON, D. C.,
December 31, 1918.

The United States Fuel Administration, acting under authority of an Executive order of the President of the United States, dated August 23, 1917, appointing said Administrator, and of subsequent Executive orders, and in furtherance of the purpose of said orders and of the act of Congress therein referred to and approved August 10, 1917,

Hereby orders and directs that the orders of said Administrator restricting the consumption of fuel, dated, respectively, May 29, 1918, July 3, 1918, and July 15, 1918, be and each of said orders hereby is vacated and set aside as of the 31st day of December, 1918.

H. A. GARFIELD,
United States Fuel Administrator.

Deaths in the Navy

The Navy Department reports the following deaths:

Lieut. Lewis Gouverneur Smith, United States Navy, was drowned from the U. S. S. Yarnell, January 7, 1919. Father, Lewis Smith, Strafford, Pa.

Joseph John Moll, pharmacist's mate (second class), United States Navy, was severely wounded in France, November 6, while attached to Company G, 5th Marines. Mother, Mrs. Katherine Moll, Bardonia, N. Y.

Joseph Earle Harley, fireman (first class), United States Navy, was lost overboard from the U. S. S. Winslow, January 11. Mother, Mrs. Mary Alice Harley, Allendale, S. C.

Gordon Higdon, seaman, United States Navy, was lost overboard from the U. S. S. Chester, January 10. Father, Sam Higdon, Cisco, Ga.

WORK OF CONGRESS BRIEFLY TOLD

SENATE.

Several speeches were made yesterday afternoon protesting against the action of the peace conference with respect to making its proceedings public. Senators Borah and Johnson of California, Republicans, and Williams and Lewis spoke in protest against secrecy at the peace conference.

The Senate passed the bill for the taking of the 1920 census after amending it so as to require an enumeration of industry every five years and the registration of unemployed persons with an immediate report of any labor surplus in the country. The bill now goes to conference. The latter part of the afternoon was devoted to consideration of the House bill intended to increase the compensation of Federal judges. The Senate, at the instance of Mr. Kellogg, of Minnesota, tentatively accepted an amendment that would fix the maximum allowance of a district judge at $9,000 a year and of a circuit judge at $10,000. Senator Martin reported the $100,000,000 European food relief bill and gave notice that he would call it up for consideration to-day. The printed hearings on the bill made public yesterday afternoon showed that Senator Hollis, of New Hampshire, gave the committee an extended report of his investigations during his six months' sojourn in Europe and pointed out the very great dangers from the spread of bolshevism. Much of the menace of this danger, he said, would be removed through providing food for the starving.

The Agricultural Committee continued its investigation of the meat packing industry and had before it Hugh McIsaacs, one of the investigators of the Federal Trade Commission, and Sturat Chase, an expert accountant who aided the commission in its investigations. Before the Interstate Commerce Committee A. P. Thom continued his argument against the proposed continuance of Government operation of the railroads for a period of five years. He favored a department of transportation, with a cabinet officer at its head. The elections committee heard arguments of counsel representing Henry Ford and Truman H. Newberry in the recent Michigan senatorial election case. A resolution was submitted and later introduced in the Senate providing for possession by the Senate through its committee of all the ballots cast in that election and other evidence. Before the committee investigating German propaganda, J. J. Dickinson was the witness. Maj. Humes, attorney of the committee, submitted a number of letters alleged to have been written by Dickinson to George Sylvester Vierick. The witness admitted having been the representative in Washington of Vierick before the United States entered the war.

Senator Curtis, of Kansas, introduced a bill directing the Secretary of War to restore to their former rank 18 noncommissioned officers of the 139th Regiment of Infantry, 35th Division, reduced to the ranks for infraction of rules in celebrating the signing of the armistice. The men were members of a Kansas regiment.

MADE DIRECTOR OF DIVISION OF CAPITAL EXPENDITURES

The Railroad Administration issues the following:

Director General of Railroads, Walter D. Hines, announces the appointment of Mr. T. C. Powell as director of the Division of Capital Expenditures, succeeding Judge Robert S. Lovett, who resigned recently to become president of the Union Pacific. Mr. Powell will assume his new post immediately.

Mr. Powell is a man of wide railroad experience and in addition to his service on railroads, has performed important war work for the Government since the entrance of the United States into the European war. He formerly assisted on the Government Priorities Committee of which Judge Lovett was chairman.

Born in 1865, Thomas Carr Powell, with the exception of his recent Governmental work, has been in the railroad business since 1884. From 1905 to July, 1918, he was vice president of the Southern Railway System and from 1908 to 1916 he was also vice president of the Cincinnati, New Orleans and Texas Pacific, and Alabama Great Southern railroads, in charge of all departments including operation. In November, 1917, he was detailed by the Southern Railway to assist on the Priorities Committee of which Judge Lovett was chairman. On July 1, 1918, he was appointed by Mr. McAdoo as special representative of the Railroad Administration with the War Industries Board and remained a member of the Priorities Committee until the War Industries Board was discontinued.

HOUSE.

Debate was continued throughout the day on the legislative, judicial, and executive appropriation bill. An amendment was adopted abolishing the Sub-treasuries in Baltimore, Boston, Chicago, Cincinnati, New Orleans, New York, Philadelphia, St. Louis, and San Francisco. In the course of the debate Mr. Rowe, of New York, charged in a speech that public funds used by the Secretary of the Navy in the purchase of ship-to-shore wireless stations were misapplied without authority of law, and contended that they should be turned into the Treasury.

Assistant Secretary of Labor Post and Tariff Commissioner Kent, before the Labor Committee, urged a conference of Cabinet members and House committee chairmen to frame a comprehensive plan for colonization and development of lands in the interest of returning soldiers. The War Department asked Congress to appropriate $40,126,500 for expenditures, beginning July 1, on fortifications, and $27,120,000 for sundry expenses. These sums are additional to those provided in the Regular Army appropriation bill, but Secretary Baker said they would not increase the department's total estimates.

A bill was introduced by Representative Charles B. Smith, of New York, providing for the creation of a board of three members to be appointed by the Secretary of Commerce to examine and license persons operating aircraft for commercial purposes.

GENERAL MARCH'S WEEKLY STATEMENT TO PRESS

"There will be at the ports of debarkation, embarkation personnel, which will remain there also for the obvious purpose of handling the debarkation of troops as they come in. Certain staff corps personnel—Quartermaster men and men of that character—who are necessary in the demobilization problem, are also excluded from this order, which we have now brought up to include everybody who can be spared. The number of men who are still under enlistment contracts in the United States after all the classes I have indicated have been mustered out, will be gone over very carefully with the idea of bringing down the number to the minimum necessary to handle the demobilization of troops who are coming home from abroad.

"The actual number of men now listed for demobilization in the United States is 1,177,000, and the classes are as follows:

Reports show that, according to latest data on hand, up to and including January 11, 1919, the discharge of 736,704 men was accomplished as follows:

"The number of men actually returned from France is 504,000; in other words, we have before us for demobilization 1,281,000 men, of whom we have actually discharged, up to the last reports received, 768,626. The number of officers whom we have now dispensed with is 51,393.

Methods Here and in France.

"Last week I said something about the different methods used in England and the United States in the demobilization of troops. We have a report now of the method used in France, which is still a third method, being different from either the United States or Great Britain. In France, as they have universal military service, demobilization for them means going back from the colors to the reserve, not back to civil life as here and in Great Britain. Their idea is to demobilize by classes, beginning with the oldest men. They ordered the demobilization of the classes of 1887, 1888, and 1889 to start with, men who came into the service in that year, passed back into the reserve, and were called back for the war, men of approximately 50 years of age. Then an order was issued demobilizing the class of 1890, and they are working down, apparently, by classes of service, if we can call it that, releasing men from military service with the active list and putting them back for service in the reserve. In the classes they give priority to men on the basis of the number of children they have. A man who has four children or more is given priority in his class in demobilization; a widower with three children is advanced in the order in which he is passed out. French papers, of which we now have copies, indicate that they are having about the same difficulty with public opinions as in Great Britain as to the slowness of demobilization. The newspaper comments are sharp, and interpellations in the French Chamber of Deputies follow up the same complaint as to the necessity for more rapid demobilization."

Q. "Have you heard any complaints that we are demobilizing too fast?"

A. "Yes. There are apparently two shades of opinion in America, one of which thinks the War Department is demobilizing too fast and the other thinks it is too slow. The War Department is going forward, with the results which I have given to you to-day, and the machinery which we have now organized in our demobilization camps has practically a maximum capacity of 1,000 men per day per camp, and as there are about 30 camps the maximum capacity is about 30,000 men per day. We reached that number two weeks in December, but in Christmas and New Year's weeks, because of the holidays and Sundays we fell back markedly, but then picked up, and while demobilization is not now proceeding at the maximum rate it is proceeding very rapidly. The figures which I have given you are very largely in excess of what has been done in any other country on which we have figures.

Handling of Casualty List.

"Some statement has been made in the press that the War Department had directed the American Expeditionary Force to hold up the casualties toward the end of the war. At the opening of Congress in December the Senate Military Affairs Committee had a hearing on the subject of casualties, and the War Department placed before them, and in the presence of representatives of the press, all the cablegrams that had been exchanged with Gen. Pershing for a period of six months in which orders were given to him in the most mandatory form to send in all casualties, and in every case the replies which were read indicated he was doing the best he could.

"Dr. Keppel, Third Assistant Secretary of War, was sent over by the War Department to find out why we were not receiving the reports more rapidly, and the facts that he developed in his experience in France were then given to the Senate Military Affairs Committee, also in the presence of representatives of the press, and the facts of the case are perfectly well known to the people of the country and to all the journals, and of course it is not a fact that the War Department issued any such order.

"The Surgeon General called me up this morning and directed my attention to a newspaper editorial which states that the wounded men who are under reconstruction processes, being taught useful employments, had to buy their yarn or other things which they were learning to use so that they would be self-supporting citizens when they got back to private life. The Surgeon General says the statement is absolutely untrue, and that the Government pays for everything of that kind. If any man has been buying yarn he has done it because he wanted to."

Q. Sometime ago there was a statement that 30 divisions would be allowed to remain abroad for the time being. Has there been any change in that figure?

A. The War Department does not contemplate keeping in France any such

Details of Thrilling Air Battles Fought by U. S. and British Flyers Many Miles Over German Territory

The War Department authorizes the following:

During the last weeks of the allied offensive, prior to the cessation of hostilities, squadrons of de Haviland 9's from both British and American air forces were bombing military objectives in the German towns back of the Hun lines every day and night, despite the opposition put up by the German air squadrons and anti-aircraft batteries. This was particularly true in the neighborhood of Saarbrücken, Kaiserslautern, Treves, and Mannheim. Here the British and American planes often had to fight their way 100 miles to their objective through squadron after squadron of fighting Hun machines; and then, after dropping their bombs, have had to fight their way back the whole 100 miles to their own lines.

Fought Their Way Out and Back.

Recent reports received at the headquarters of the Division of Military Aeronautics, at Washington, tell of 12 De Haviland 9's attached to the Independent force of the British R. A. F. sent over the lines in two formations at 11,000 feet to bomb the factory at Mannheim at a distance of well over 100 miles from the aerodrome. This necessitated a trip, out and back and allowing for divergence to follow routes and pick up bearings, of from 250 to 260 miles. About 5 miles beyond the line eight enemy scouts determinedly attacked the formation. The leader, however, proceeded to Mannheim, being all the time attacked by enemy aircraft which continued to be reinforced. Over the objective, 15 more enemy machines came and attacked the formation with determination while the bombs were being dropped. Notwithstanding the presence of the enemy machines, 16 bombs were dropped with good effect; a large number of these bombs were heavyweights. Seven direct hits on the factory were obtained and four fires were caused. In addition, another factory a short distance away was also hit and set on fire. The report, continuing, said:

Five Get Home Safely.

"Just after leaving the target to return home, the enemy machines came right into our formation, and one of them succeeded in hitting the radiator of one of our machines. This caused the engine to 'seize up,' and the pilot proceeded to spiral downward. The whole formation followed him from 12,000 to 6,000 feet down to prevent him from being further attacked by the enemy machines, and a determined fight followed between the De Haviland 9's and the enemy scouts. As a result of this fight, which lasted about 20 minutes (and 100 miles over German territory), a number of enemy machines were shot down and were seen to crash. When the fight was over only five of our machines were left in the air, and by extraordinary bad luck, all the experienced pilots went down. The pilots of the remaining five machines were all new, and to many of them this was their first raid. One pilot, who had only four raids to his credit at this time, realized the situation and got his observer to tie a white handkerchief to the Lewis gun, indicating that he was their leader, and having collected the formation brought them safely back to the aerodrome. Had it not been for this pilot's presence of mind, some of these five machines would never have got back. For this act he was awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross.

Daring Rescue by Pilot.

"A few days later, while a formation of De Haviland 9's was attacking the railway station at Metz, the pilot saw a machine (which had apparently dropped out of another squadron's formation unnoticed) 6,000 feet below, being heavily attacked by a number of enemy air craft and firing red lights for assistance. One pilot immediately dived into these scouts and took this straggling machine up in his formation and escorted it safely back to the lines.

"The next day, while carrying out bombing raid operations in conjunction with the First American Army in the St. Mihiel salient, one of the squadron's formation got slightly separated from the other machines over Metz. Fifteen enemy scouts immediately attacked the formation and in the first burst wounded three of the observers so that they were unable to fire their guns, and put a bullet in the radiator of one of the machines which was leading the raid, and also through the engine of another. These two machines were then attacked by seven enemy scouts each.

Pursuing Enemy Downed.

"Although the engines were 'seizing up,' the pilots kept them going and prevented the enemy scouts from getting a steady aim on their machines by banking, stalling, 'S' turning, and spinning, and in this way fought their way to the lines—a distance of 12 miles. One Hun was very close on the tail of one of our machines, and when he stalled and zoomed up underneath to fire from his forward gun our observer shot him down and he was seen to crash on the ground."

FUTURE OF ARMY AIRPLANES AS PICTURED BY A WRITER

An editorial from "Plane News," the Air Service paper of the American Expeditionary Forces, reads in part as follows:

AVIATORS AFTER THE WAR.

After the war what about the aviators? The pilots themselves want to know, likewise all persons interested in aviation.

The "Après la Guerre" period has not reached such a stage of development that this can be answered definitely by any one at this time.

It is certain, however, that aviation is about to receive the biggest boom it has ever had. The war has demonstrated that piloting an aeroplane is not a fad, nor a trick known only to a few. Aviation stunts that formerly were heralded like the world's greatest circus advertises its headline act, nowadays attract no attention—at least in the aviation atmosphere we breathe here and in other aviation centers in France, England, and the United States. * * *

The close of the war finds the United States Government the owner of several hundred million dollars worth of splendid aeroplanes and parts, likewise the director of the destinies of thousands of keen, clean-cut, high-class, young athletes who have been trained to pilot these ships.

That aviation will have a tremendous vogue when we go home is indicated by the steps now being taken to map out * * * air routes between all of the principal cities in the States. This will demand many ships and pilots. But that isn't all. The war has accentuated instead of diminished the well-known desire of the United States for speed. Until 11 a. m. on November 11, 1918, the motto of the Nation was: "Speed-up." This indicates fast traveling is still in vogue. Therefore it appears as if hundreds of the big ships will be put into the passenger service de luxe. England is already developing its Handley-Page's for the London-Paris-Rome aerial express service. Surely the New York-Chicago-Denver-San Francisco Air Limiteds are possibilities of the immediate future; likewise the Chicago-St. Louis-San Antonio Flyer, and the Boston-Washington-New Orleans Eagle.

Aviation is soon coming into its own, and the man with the high-powered automobile will be "common folks." * * *

Assistant Director of Division of Operation

Mr. J. H. Young has been appointed Senior Assistant Director of the Division of Operation, succeeding Mr. W. T. Tyler, recently appointed director of the division, following the resignation of Mr. Carl R. Gray.

Mr. Young formerly was president of the Norfolk Southern Railway, and later became Federal manager of the Virginian and the Norfolk Southern Railways under the United States Railroad Administration.

Board, office Chief Signal Officer, Eighteenth and Virginia Avenue.

Labor Conditions Throughout Nation Indicated by Reports to Department

The following statement as to labor conditions throughout the country is made up from the weekly reports obtained by the Department of Labor. Their reports are received by telegraph from local representatives of the United States Employment Service.

New England Section.

Boston reports continued decreases, due to the laying off of men, and also a surplus of 4,200. Practically all the cities in the State show a slight reduction of employees. Lynn indicates a surplus of 1,000, Worcester 2,500. There is a surplus of 3,000 machinists, 1,000 clerical workers, and a slight surplus of carpenters reported in the State. Bridgeport, Conn., reports a surplus of 5,000, which is a reduction from last week's report. Other cities in the State show supply and demand about equal. There is not as marked a decrease in employees as before, several cities showing slight increases. There is a demand for textile cotton workers. A surplus of 2,500 is indicated in machine-tool hands, with slight surpluses in hotel and restaurant employees, painters, electricians, and farm labor, with a moderate demand for molders. In Maine the supply and demand are reported to be about equal. Rhode Island shows a slight surplus.

In New York City firms are increasing the number of employees, but supply and demand are reported as about equal. Buffalo still shows a large surplus. Surpluses are also indicated in Albany, Kingston, Rochester, and Syracuse. The surpluses in Rochester show an increase over the previous week. Railroad workers are needed in Buffalo and New York City. A shortage of laborers, machinists, machine-tool hands, ship workers, woodmen, and agricultural labor are indicated in reports from the State.

New Jersey.—Supply and demand are reported as being about equal, with surpluses indicated in Newark and New Brunswick, there having been some reduction in employees in the latter city.

Pennsylvania.—Shortages are still reported all over the State, though somewhat reduced in spots. Philadelphia's shortage of 10,000 in the previous report has been reduced to 7,500; Pittsburgh from 10,000 to 7,000. Scranton's shortage is about 4,000. Plants are increasing their forces in all of the cities except in South Bethlehem. The heaviest demands are for laborers, coal miners, brick masons, and ship workers. Lesser demands are indicated for auto mechanics, blacksmiths, machinists, and pipe-fitters.

Ohio.—Conditions in the State are similar to those noted in the previous report. Akron shows a shortage of 2,000. Cincinnati, Cleveland, Dayton, and Toledo continue to show shortages. Cincinnati, Cleveland, and Toledo are laying off, while Dayton is increasing slightly. Coal miners, machinists, molders, and plumbers are needed in the State.

Middle Western.—Detroit reports a surplus of 20,000 as against 15,000 last week. Surpluses are also reported from Grand Rapids and Port Huron. Indiana remains stationary except in Indianapolis, where a surplus of about 2,000 is reported. Supply and demand are about equal in Illinois. In Rock Island, quite a number of men have been laid off on account of inventory. In Chicago 2,700 men are reported to have been laid off probably for the same reason. There has been a slight reduction of forces in St. Paul, Duluth, and Minneapolis. In Illinois, the heaviest demand is for agricultural and railroad labor; in Minnesota for woodsmen.

Western.—Kansas City and St. Louis indicate a considerable reduction in forces and a growing surplus. A considerable surplus in the building trade is reported in Missouri. Reports from Utah indicate a surplus of about 400. In Butte, Mont., a surplus is also shown, plants reducing their forces. There is also a reduction in Denver, otherwise the supply and demand are about equal in Colorado.

The South and Pacific Coast.

Alabama reports indicate supply and demand about equal. Florida shows an increase in employment; in fact, men are greatly needed, especially ship workers and colored labor. Reports indicate that graduate nurses are needed there in large numbers. Georgia needs textile workers, and plants throughout the State are reported to be adding to their forces. Louisville, Ky., reports a similar condition. In Louisiana supply and demand are about equal. North Carolina shows a shortage, and plants are taking back their employees. The demand for unskilled labor there is far beyond supply. Surpluses are still indicated in Nashville, Tenn., supply and demand being about equal in the rest of the State. Shortages continue in Virginia, plants now increasing their forces. Factories in Richmond are still closed down for inventory. Shortages are reported in West Virginia.

Seattle indicates a shortage and their plants are increasing their forces. Supply and demand in Spokane are about equal. Seattle is said to show the healthiest tone of any city on the coast. Portland is stationary, Los Angeles shows a slight surplus, Oakland, a slight increase, but the surplus of 2,500 still remains. San Francisco surplus stands at 7,500. Oregon needs agriculturists, carpenters, laborers, clerical workers, and woodsmen.

Attorney General Gregory's Opinion Sustains Sugar Refiners' Agreement With the U. S. Food Administration

The Department of Justice issues the following:

U. S. FOOD ADMINISTRATION,
Washington, D. C.

SIR: I have your letter of December 23, 1918, requesting my opinion upon the question whether a certain agreement negotiated by the United States Food Administration with the leading refiners of sugar in the United States, and providing in substance that until December 31, 1919, the refiners shall purchase their entire requirements of raw sugar from the United States Sugar Equalization Board, Incorporated (an agency of the Food Administration), and that during such period the refiners shall observe a fixed maximum price on all sugar manufactured by them, is in violation of any law of the United States and particularly the Sherman Anti-trust Act (26 Stat. 209).

Letter to the President.

1. In a letter to the President dated August 23, 1917, the Attorney General considered generally the authority of the United States Food Administrator, under the so-called food control act (40 Stat. 276), to enter into agreements with persons in the various trades and industries which would have the effect of fixing prices or pooling output—in short, agreements which if made between private traders would violate the Sherman Act. On that occasion the Attorney General expressed the view, to which I now adhere, that such agreements are authorized provided they have a reasonable relation to the objects of the food control act as expressed in section 1.

Attorney General's Opinion.

The Attorney General said:

"I am of the opinion that any agreement made with producers or traders by the Government itself (through the Food Administrator, acting by direction of the President), under authority of section 2 of the act, and having a reasonable relation to the objects enumerated in section 1, for example, to assure an adequate supply and equitable distribution of necessaries and to establish and maintain governmental control of necessaries during the war, would not fall within the operation of the Sherman antitrust law, even though the effect of the agreement or agreements were to fix a uniform price or to accomplish a pooling of output. This, because governmental action with respect to prices or methods of distribution is obviously not within the mischief at which the Sherman law was aimed. On the contrary, when natural laws of trade break down, governmental action in this regard may become essential to prevent the private control of markets. For, when natural laws of trade can no longer be depended upon to regulate markets, the only choice is between artificial control imposed by private interests and artificial control imposed by public agencies. In these circumstances, therefore, such governmental action, so far from running counter to the purpose of the Sherman law, is directly in line with it." (Italics in original.)

The validity of such an agreement, therefore, depends not upon whether it may be said to constitute a violation of the Sherman Act, but upon whether it bears a reasonable relation to the declared objects of the food-control act. Let the agreement be one with the Government through a duly authorized agency, let it have a reasonable relation to the declared objects of the food-control act, and it is at once removed from the purpose and operation of the Sherman Act and other statutes governing restraints of trade by private persons.

2. So far as germane to the present inquiry, the objects of the food control act as declared in section 1 are:

To assure an adequate supply and equitable distribution * * * of foods, feeds, and fuel * * * hereafter in this act called necessaries;

To prevent locally or generally, scarcity * * * affecting such supply * * *;

and
To establish and maintain governmental control of such necessaries during the war.

The same section further declares that it was to carry into effect these objects that the "powers * * * hereinafter set forth are * * * conferred."

Broad Grant of Authority.

The section concludes with a broad grant of authority to the President "to make such regulations and to issue such orders as are essential effectively to carry out the provisions of this act." Not content with this general authority, however, section 2 specifically provides that in carrying out the objects of the act (those declared in sec. 1, among others) "the President is authorized to enter into any voluntary arrangements or agreements, to create and use any agency or agencies, * * * to cooperate with any agency or person, to utilize any department or agency of the Government. * * *

Section 19 provides:

That for the purposes of this act the sum of $150,000,000 is hereby appropriated. * * *

It is apparent that under these several provisions the President has power through such appropriate agencies as he may choose to enter into agreements with producers or traders having a reasonable relation to the ends (1) of assuring an adequate supply of necessaries; (2) of assuring an equitable distribution thereof; (3) of preventing scarcity thereof; and (4) of establishing and maintaining Government control thereof during the war.

Does the present agreement come within this description? The agreement was negotiated under the following circumstances as gathered from your letter and the data submitted therewith:

Confronted with a threatened shortage in the sugar supply for the crop year 1918-19 the President, acting through the Food Administration, deemed it expedient to stimulate the production of sugar beets and sugar cane in this country by assuring to the producers a stable, certain, and remunerative price.

An exhaustive investigation of the cost per ton of producing sugar beets having disclosed that $10 per ton was a fair price therefor in view of all the circumstances, the President, acting as aforesaid, urged the beet sugar refiners to enter into contracts with the farmers for beets on that basis, which they did.

Later the President entered into voluntary agreements with the Louisiana cane sugar producers (who for the most part refine their own sugar) and the manufacturers of beet sugar, fixing the price of refined domestic sugar for the crop year 1918-19 at 9 cents per pound wholesale, which after thorough investigation was found to be a fair price in view of the increased cost and the necessity for stimulating production.

Means of Handling Cuban Sugar.

To protect the price thus established for domestic sugar it was necessary to provide a means for handling the Cuban sugar, which is the main reservoir from which the supply of the United States is drawn.

Accordingly the President, under the authority vested in him by the food-control act to "create and use any agency or agencies," caused to be organized the United States Sugar Equalization Board (Inc.) and subscribed for its entire capital stock in the name of the United States.

Thereafter, on October 24, 1918, the Equalization Board entered into an agreement with a commission appointed by the President of the Republic of Cuba and with the agents of the Cuban producers by the terms of which the Equalization Board obligates itself to purchase and the parties of the second part obligate themselves to furnish and sell the entire Cuban crop of raw sugar for the year 1918-19 at prices therein set forth.

The Agreement in Question.

There has now been negotiated the agreement in question, also dated October 24, 1918, between the Equalization Board, Herbert Hoover, United States Food Administrator, and the leading refiners of sugar of the United States (other than the refiners of domestic cane and beet sugars) the pertinent provisions of which may be summarized as follows:

(a) The refiners agree that during the period from October 1, 1918, to December 31, 1919, they will purchase their entire requirements of raw sugar of all kinds from the Equalization Board.

(b) The Equalization Board in turn agrees to furnish and sell to the refiners their entire requirements of raw sugar during the period in question at 7.23 cents per pound.

(c) While the agreement relates principally to Cuban sugar, the main source of supply, the refiners agree to accept at the same price any other sugars which the Equalization Board may provide for their requirements.

(d) The sugars provided by the Equalization Board are to be distributed among the refiners in stated proportions set forth in Exhibit B to the agreement.

(e) The refiners agree that they will not charge more than 1.54 cents net per pound for their refining margin.

The effect of this agreement is to stabilize the price of sugar refined from Cuban raw sugar at the same price agreed upon with the Louisiana cane-

Development of Airplane Wing Fabrics At the U. S. Bureau of Standards Resulting in the Use of Cotton Cloths

The following statement descriptive of the development of airplane fabrics is authorized by the United States Bureau of Standards:

The design of heavier-than-air machines during their early stages of development was arrived at by cut-and-try methods. The wings of such machines were covered with plain cotton fabric, much the same as an ordinary sheeting material, coated with a beeswax compound or some form of glue. The wing surfaces were then rubbed and polished to present a surface having a comparatively low skin friction. Such a covering was not very strong and sagged very materially when subjected to pressure and when exposed to weather.

Loading and Wing Surface.

As the application of science produced planes which were capable of much higher speeds, smaller wing surfaces, and a consequently increased loading per square foot of wing surface, it became necessary to cover them with a material having a high strength and a low weight.

It was generally known that flax spun into yarns and subsequently woven into fabrics produced a very tough material having little stretch and the property of withstanding shocks with very little permanent set.

Accordingly unbleached linen fabric was used to cover the wings of planes and found to be very satisfactory. The structure of the linen fabric is that of an ordinary fine linen sheeting. No attempts had been made to study the requirements of the covering material or to design a fabric meeting those requirements which might possibly be lighter and more resistant than the linen fabrics.

Substitute for Linen.

During the present crisis it became evident that the available supply of linen would not suffice the demands of the military programs of the countries at war, and it became necessary to find materials which could be used in place of the satisfactory linen.

As early as January, 1916, at the request of the National Advisory Committee of Aeronautics, the Bureau of Standards started investigating the possibilities of substituting cotton for linen airplane fabrics, and found that the general consensus of opinion among airplane man-

This squadron has again been cited in general orders, previously by the 2d Army and now by the 1st Army with which we have all served so enthusiastically in the past and of which it has been our great privilege and good fortune to have been a part, in those days in the past when it was preparing for and afterwards delivering the great blows that helped get all nations free and brought credit to all Americans.

Captain, A. S., U. S. A.,
Commanding.

ufacturers and investigators here and abroad was that the use of cotton fabric for wing coverings was out of the question, as many experiments had already been made to substantiate these opinions.

However, the bureau was certain that not all the possibilities of structure of fabric had been considered, and it began an investigation to study the stresses in a fabric on a plane and to thoroughly determine by actual measurement the properties of the linen in a cotton fabric suited for the purpose.

Difficulties in Experiments.

The difficulties experienced in the experiments on cotton fabrics previous to the time of our investigations were: (a) Low strength per unit of weight; (b) low tearing resistance; (c) little shrinkage upon application of dope; (d) little tendency to retain what little shrinkage they had after dopping.

It was not until March 18, 1917, that the Bureau of Standards was in a position to issue instructions covering the construction of cotton fabrics for the experimental fabrics which proved to be quite successful. These instructions were sent to the various fine-goods cotton mills and were supplemented by visits of the bureau's textile experts to the mills.

Taken Up in Conference.

At the mills the bureau's textile men sat down with the practical men and evolved the present cotton airplane fabrics. At this point it is desired to mention the name of Mr. Ricketson, agent of the Ponemah Mills, as he did much to make cotton fabrics a success.

The first fabrics of this series were received at the Bureau of Standards on or about the 1st of April, 1917, and as the series progressed it suggested changes, and during the early part of May, 1917, a fabric had successfully passed its laboratory standards. The next important problem was to determine the actual performance of these fabrics. To this end samples were placed on Army planes at Langley Field and Navy Planes at Pensacola during August, 1917. Similar fabrics were later sent by the Signal Corps to the Canadian Aeroplane Co., of Toronto, Canada, and they were placed on planes the middle of October, 1917.

Result of Tests.

The results of the service tests demonstrated that the fabrics were satisfactory and that service results could be reliably predicted in the laboratory.

It was not until August that the military authorities were becoming concerned with the scarcity of linen, and on or about the 23d of August the Joint Army and Navy Aircraft Board called the Bureau of Standards into a conference regarding cotton fabrics for airplanes, and the bureau was able to say with a great degree of certainty that it had a fabric ready for their needs.

On August 24, 1917, a conference held between the military authorities and representatives of the Bureau of Standards

The Official Bulletin Mail Circulation Largest of Any U. S. Daily Newspaper, Says the Washington City Postmaster, In Report on Postal Service Increase

THE NATIONAL CAPITAL LEADS ALL OTHER CITIES

Vast Expansion of Local Post-Office Business Due to War and Sudden Growth of City's Population—Receipts for 1918 Over a Million in Excess of Those for 1916—Tons of Correspondence Handled for Permanent Departments and Emergency Administrations.

The enormous growth of business of the Washington city post office in the past fiscal year due to the war is summarized in a report submitted by Postmaster Chance to the First Assistant Postmaster General. The total receipts for 1918 were $3,120,452.45, or $1,081,604.96 greater than for 1916, an increase of 53.05 per cent, and expenditures $3,277,869.61, as against $2,103,132.99 in 1916.

The assembled data, the report says, shows an increase in business believed to be unequalled by any other post office. This increase in business is accounted for principally by two closely associated factors, namely, the war and the large increase in population of Washington incident thereto. It is estimated that the population of Washington has increased from about 350,000 at the time war was declared to nearly 500,000 on July 1, 1918. The advent of the United States in the war resulted in the immediate speeding up of all Government activities and the establishment in this city of many new official and semiofficial bureaus and offices to assist in the conduct of the war. An immediate increase in outgoing and incoming mail resulted, the growth being so fast as to tax the post office to the limit in providing sufficient labor and working space.

Some of the Large Mailing Lists.

Continuing the report says:

During the past fiscal year the tonnage and number of pieces of free mail dispatched was unprecedented. The Provost Marshal General mailed all the draft literature, including registration cards and questionnaires for the entire country through the Washington office. Probably next in volume was the propaganda for the Liberty loans. The National Liberty Loan Committee has informed this office that since December 17, 1917, 340,000,000 separate pieces of Liberty loan letters, circulars, pamphlets, etc., have passed through this post office. While these mailings extended over a period of several weeks prior to each loan, the millions of pieces to be handled represented a stupendous task, notwithstanding which all of such matter cleared the Washington office in time to serve its purpose. The War Risk Bureau of the Treasury Department is sending allotment checks amounting to over a million monthly. Cooperation of that bureau in the segregation of the checks by States before mailing is productive of splendid results. Similar cooperation is being obtained from the Treasury Department in the matter of State segregation of interest checks for registered Liberty bonds. Vast mailings are also being made by the War, Navy, and Agricultural Departments, War Industries Board, War Trade Board, Fuel Administration, Food Administration, and the American Red Cross.

Official Bulletin's Mail Circulation.

The OFFICIAL U. S. BULLETIN, with a circulation of over 100,000, mailed by the Committee on Public Information, has added a material amount of work to the Washington office. That publication has probably a larger daily mail circulation than any newspaper in the United States. Considerable labor is, therefore, involved in affording it the prompt dispatch that its importance warrants. It is estimated that whereas about 50 tons of free matter was dispatched daily by this post office before the war, approximately 150 tons is handled daily now. The volume of such matter not only taxed the capacity of the post office, but that of the Washington Terminal Co. In fact, it was frequently difficult to get sufficient car space to haul the mail out of Washington.

The Parcel Post Service.

The congestion of railroads, freight and express service during the summer and fall of 1917 caused many patrons of these services to resort to the parcel post for handling of their shipments. This in itself resulted in a tremendous increase in the quantity of parcel post matter received for delivery here, and it was further augmented by the increase in the weight limit of parcel post matter which became effective on March 15, 1918.

The following statistics show the number of parcel post packages delivered during the months of December, 1916 and 1917, as compared with the number of packages delivered in October, 1918.

December, 1916	67,253
December, 1917	128,565
October, 1918	137,828

In the fiscal year 1916 we delivered 383,353 special delivery letters and parcels, whereas for the fiscal year 1918 there were 1,175,596 pieces delivered, an increase of 792,243 pieces, or 206.66 per cent.

The Air Mail Service.

One of the most interesting events of the past year from a postal viewpoint was the establishment on May 15, 1918, of the Air Mail Service between Washington, D. C., and New York, N. Y. The wonderful success attending the operation of this new service indicates its entire practicability and bespeaks for it a great future. It affords a most valuable opportunity for speeding up important mail matter. On the first trip there were 3,600 pieces dispatched from the Washington office. At the installation of the service the rate of postage, which provided for special-delivery service, was 24 cents per ounce, but on July 15, 1918, this rate was reduced to 6 cents per ounce with 10 cents additional for special-delivery service.

Carrier Service.

The principal changes affecting the carrier service were the substitution of automobiles for foot collectors in the business district and the use of automobiles by the Georgetown Station in lieu of four horse-drawn vehicles for parcel post delivery and collection service. Eight new city delivery routes were established during the past fiscal year. One route was established at Chevy Chase and another at Takoma Park. The most noteworthy item affecting the letter carriers is their use as a means for the dissemination of various propaganda, particularly with reference to Liberty Loans, War Savings and Thrift Stamps, Red Cross work, and other worthy causes. Wide publicity was obtained and valuable assistance rendered by their efforts.

From December 1, 1917, to June 30, 1918, this office sold, principally to individuals and not for resale, $1,402,308.05 worth of war savings stamps. I believe that the letter carriers of this office have disposed of more stamps than those of any other post office in the country. Through the cooperation of local newspapers several competitions for prizes have been held, during each of which over $100,000 worth of stamps have been sold by the carriers within a period of a few days.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION ON SUGAR REFINER AGREEMENT

of beet sugar, to wit, 9 cents per pound wholesale. Between the price paid for the Cuban raw sugar and the price at which it is sold by the Equalization Board, there is a margin of profit of from 25 cents to 33 cents per hundred pounds, which, after discharging the liabilities of the Equalization Board, will be turned into the Treasury of the United States as miscellaneous receipts.

The immediate purpose of the agreement was thus to give effect to a plan formulated by the Food Administration to assure an adequate supply and prevent scarcity of a necessary of life—one of the principal objects of the food-control act as declared in section 1. I have no difficulty in saying that in my opinion the agreement bears a clear and substantial relation to that object and also to the further object expressed in section 1 of establishing and maintaining governmental control of necessities during the war, and that therefore it is authorized by the food-control act and is not prohibited by the Sherman Act.

Respectfully,

T. W. GREGORY,
Attorney General.

DEVELOPMENT OF AIRPLANE COTTON FABRICS REVIEWED

resulted in the Signal Corps Equipment Division ordering that the bureau supply the necessary specifications covering the purchase of 500,000 yards of airplane cotton fabric. The specifications were transmitted by the Bureau of Standards on September 5, 1917, covering the fabrics now known as Grade A and Grade B as used by the Signal Corps and Navy. A few days later the bureau supplied the necessary information regarding the apparatus and methods of testing and inspection.

During April, 1918, the Signal Corps submitted samples which the Bureau of Standards understood to be the result of these investigations. They dealt with the use of the various cottons and the experiments were very valuable.

Indorsed by Italian Mission.

At the time the Bureau of Standards was making its field tests at Langley the Italian Aviation Mission was there. One of their planes was covered with a cotton fabric which they had used successfully on the battle front, and the members of that mission offered the opinion that the fabrics of the bureau were better than their own successful fabric. It is a peculiar thing that upon analysis this fabric differed but slightly from our own as far as thread count and yarn number were concerned. Here were two people working on the same problems on opposite sides of the water, and having no information regarding each other's work, and the results were practically the same.

Recently the standard fabrics were submitted to the English airplane authorities, and their comments were to the effect that the results were astonishingly successful. Since that time the English have adopted the standard grade A fabric.

LICENSES FOR SUGAR EXPORT CONSIDERED AFTER FEBRUARY 1

the nations associated with us in war the available world supply of sugar, practically all of which lay within our control.

There was at the time these measures were taken barely enough in prospect, under the war conditions on which we had to base all plans, to supply those who depended on us for even a limited ration. The new Cuban crop that is coming in is the largest in history. That crop last year was 3,500,000 long tons, which was a half million tons larger than any previous crop. This year's crop is expected to be nearly if not quite 4,000,000 tons.

Since July conservation measures taken by the American people have resulted in the saving of at least a half million tons and some estimates make the saving much larger than that. Except for these efforts there would have been a shortage for two months, but the new crop from Cuba and the fact that the beet sugar refiners in the West are now operating relieves the whole situation.

GENERAL MARCH'S WEEKLY STATEMENT TO THE PRESS

force as 30 divisions. We propose to reduce the force to the lowest figure consistent with international obligations and to bring back the men from France to the limit of available shipping. In that connection, I will say that negotiations for the use of British, French, and Dutch ships are proceeding very satisfactorily, and we have secured a number of ships from all those nations and have a very good chance to get a large proportion of the German ships which are being turned over to the allied powers. We have transformed some cargo ships in the United States—our own ships—into troop ships by putting in bunks and cutting holes for ventilation. We will bring back our men from France as rapidly as possible. We have no intention of keeping any such force as 30 divisions in France.

Q. Can you indicate about how many divisions will be held there?

A. The matter is in adjustment between Gen. Foch and our own people, and while the number is not yet definitely determined upon, I can say definitely that it will not be anything like 30 divisions.

Q. Have you any report as to there being a trade with regard to the German ships?

A. I don't know exactly what you mean by "trade," but I have a report from abroad indicating exactly what German ships we asked for, and while the negotiations are not completed the indications are, as I have stated, that we will get a very substantial part of that tonnage.

Q. Have you received any report with regard to the conditions in the hospital at Camp Mills, Mineola? A report from New York is that it is in very bad condition.

A. I do not recall that the hospital at Camp Mills has ever been mentioned to me. I would suggest that you ask the Surgeon General.

Q. There was a dispatch from London a few days ago saying that the British thought they might have to revise their intentions with respect to demobilization, the fear being that there was going to be a resumption of warfare somewhere. They did not indicate where, but thought they would not be able to demobilize as speedily as they had expected. Have you any light to be thrown on that?

A. No. I saw what was in the papers, but we have absolutely nothing official on that business. The force which the allied powers have in France is wholly able to handle any military problem which may arise. It would be absolutely impossible for Germany to do anything in face of the force we now have there, and, of course, Marshal Foch would not allow the force to be cut down to the point where we could not handle any emergency. We have nothing official on England's attitude.

ADMITTED TO RESERVE SYSTEM.

The following State institution has been admitted to the Federal reserve system as of date January 14, 1919: Northern Westchester Bank, Katonah, N. Y. Capital, $50,000; surplus, $25,000; total resources, $75,000.

THE WEEKLY WEATHER FORECAST

The Weather Bureau has issued the following forecast for the period January 20 to 25, inclusive:

North and Middle Atlantic States: The coming week will be one with temperature near or above the normal and considerable cloudiness and occasional rains or snows.

South Atlantic and East Gulf States: The coming week will be one of mild temperature and generally fair weather, although unsettled weather and rains are probable Thursday or Friday.

West Gulf States: The coming week will be one of relatively high temperatures first half and colder weather second half of week. Except for rains Wednesday or Thursday, the weather will be generally fair.

Ohio Valley and Tennessee: Temperatures will be high first and near normal second half of coming week. Considerable cloudiness and occasional rains and snows are probable.

Region of Great Lakes: Temperature above normal first half and near normal latter half of week. Weather will be generally unsettled with occasional snows.

Upper Mississippi and Lower Missouri Valleys: Temperatures will be high first half and near the normal second half of week. Except for local snows about Wednesday, the week will be one of generally fair weather.

Northern Rocky Mountain and Plateau Regions: Temperature during the week will be high first half and normal second half of coming week. Considerable cloudiness and occasional snows are probable.

Southern Rocky Mountain and Plateau Regions: Temperature will average near or above the normal, with generally fair weather, except that local snows are probable over Nevada and Utah first half of week.

Pacific States: Temperature will be above normal with frequent rains except in Southern California.

CONSUL SILLIMAN DEAD.

U. S. Official at Guadalajara, Mexico,
Victim of Clot on Heart.

The Department of State has received a telegram reporting the death at Guadalajara, Mexico, on January 17, 1919, of Mr. John R. Silliman, American consul at that post. Mr. Silliman's death is reported as having resulted from a clot on the heart after he had partially recovered from an attack of influenza.

Mr. Silliman was born in Green County, Ala., December 7, 1855; graduated from Princeton University with the degree of A. B. in 1879. He was for a short time in the railway and insurance business in Texas, and from 1897 to 1907 he was engaged in the farming industry in Mexico, living most of the time at and near Saltillo. Mr. Silliman was appointed American vice and deputy consul at Saltillo December 13, 1907; was made a consul of class 9 on February 22, 1915, under Executive order of July 3, 1914; and was assigned to special duty in Mexico during 1915 and 1916. On July 12, 1916, he was promoted to consul of class 7 and was assigned to Guadalajara, Mexico.

TO ATTEND PEACE CONFERENCE.

Secretary Glass announces that with the approval of the President, Mr. Albert Strauss and Mr. Thomas W. Lamont will shortly leave for Europe for the Treasury in an advisory capacity in connection with the armistice discussions and other financial questions arising at the peace conference.

Mr. Strauss has been voted a leave of absence by the Federal Reserve Board to enable him to undertake these duties.

RED CROSS HOME SERVICE

Information for Soldiers' and Sailors' Families, Issued by Department of Civilian Relief.

Arrangements for Paying Men Detached from Service Records and Pay Cards.

Attention is called to the following order, known as Circular No. 1-18, issued by the War Department under date of December 13:

"When enlisted men who are without complete records of service are ordered discharged they will be discharged on supplementary service records and pay cards and paid in full, including travel pay. The supplementary service record and pay card will be based on affidavits sworn to by the soldier. Each soldier will be informed that false affidavit makes him liable to prosecution for fraudulent claim and that any arrears in pay due to lack of information may be obtained by making claim to the Auditor for the War Department."

Discharged soldiers frequently request financial assistance from the Red Cross, stating that they were discharged without being paid in full. In each such case the home service section, in addition to rendering such assistance, if any, as may seem advisable, should assist the man to write, as follows, to the War Department (for example):

John Howard Smith, Formerly private,
Company L, 125th Infantry, Army
Serial No. 85634.

DIRECTOR OF FINANCE,
UNITED STATES ARMY,
Washington, D. C.

SIR: On January 5, 1919, I was honorably discharged from service at the United States general hospital at -----, receiving pay and travel pay as follows: ----- To the best of my belief there is still due me from the United States pay as follows: ----- I ask that this amount be remitted to me at the address given below.

Yours, very truly,

JOHN HOWARD SMITH,
132 Willow Street, Rockford, Ill.

Regular Payment of Men Returned from Overseas Wounded.

Difficulty has been experienced in the regular payment of men returned from overseas because of wounds or sickness contracted while at the front. This results from the fact that soldiers are detached and returned to this country without service records, pay cards, or other papers from which their accounts can be computed, notwithstanding that every possible precaution has been taken by the military authorities in France to prevent such a situation. In many cases, also, these men, through the exigencies of the service overseas, arrive in this country without funds and with pay due for previous months.

We are informed that when soldiers are returned to hospitals in this country without their service records or pay cards it has been the practice of the personnel adjutant of the hospital to make out a "partial-payment roll," based on soldier's unsupported statement, on which payments were made until the service record or pay card could be obtained. This practice was followed until the early part of December, when instructions were issued by the director of finance, by authority of the Chief of Staff, as follows:

"(a) For all men whose original-service records or pay cards have not been received: The commanding officer of each hospital will obtain from the enlisted patient now in hospital and from those hereafter arriving without such records a statement in the form of an affidavit, with respect to date to which last paid in full, together with any partial payments received since date of last payment in full; allotments, including class and amount; insurance and place of acceptance for enlistment as determined by conditions outlined in paragraph 6, circular 85, War Department, November 23, 1918. Pay cards or other official information to be accepted in establishing the pay status of soldier for the purpose of effecting payment in full, and travel allowances in case of discharge.

"(b) Upon the execution of the above affidavit, pay rolls will be prepared and certified and soldier paid without unnecessary delay.

"(c) * * * * *

"(d) The above procedure will also apply to all men returned from overseas without original-service records."

The above-quoted instructions will allow the payment in full of all men from the date of last payment and in case of discharge insure the payment as well of travel pay at 8½ cents per mile.

Transportation for discharged officers and enlisted men has been authorized by the Railroad Administration at two-thirds of the regular rate.

The Adjutant General of the Army has issued instructions to all posts, camps, and hospitals to report date of payment of all troops, any delay in payment of organizations or detachments, together with cause for delay or nonpayment, if there be such, to be reported. It is realized by the War Department that prompt payment of troops is essential to the contentment and welfare of the Army, and every effort is being made with a view to accomplishing prompt settlement of every soldier's account.

The following statement has been made as to wounded soldiers in French and British hospitals in different parts of France:

"Our wounded soldiers in French and British hospitals in different parts of France are also looked after. Disbursing quartermasters last August commenced making periodical visits to all hospitals at which American soldiers receive treatment; they prepare the pay rolls themselves and pay 45 francs to each patient. The disbursing officers also carry a supply of smoking tobacco and cigarettes and make gratuitous issue of same, not to exceed the amount the soldiers would have been entitled to had they been in our hospitals. It appears that the greatest difficulty as to nonpayments occurred prior to the period when the plan was adopted of paying incapacitated soldiers partial pay."

Conscientious Objectors on Furlough Not Entitled to Continue Allotments.

By Circular 161, issued by the War Department, the following opinion of the Judge Advocate General dated October 31, 1918, is published for the information and guidance of all concerned:

"The attached papers raise the questions (a) whether conscientious objectors furloughed for agricultural purposes or for service with the Friends Reconstruction Unit, who have performed no military service and who announced upon reporting for duty that they would not perform any military service, are entitled to the benefits of the war-risk insurance act, and (b) whether the allotments made by such conscientious objectors may be canceled by the War Department when the conscientious objectors are furloughed without pay.

"(a) The term 'enlisted man' is defined in section 22 of the war-risk insurance act as including persons whether enlisted, enrolled, or drafted into active service in the military or naval forces of the United States. The 'conscientious objectors' who are the subject of the present discussion have been drafted into active military service. In truth, the necessity for their disposition into noncombatant work through the means of furlough arises only because they have been so drafted. This office is strongly of the opinion that it is contrary to the principle and purpose of the war-risk insurance act that conscientious objectors should be entitled to any benefits thereunder. The act was passed for the benefit of persons serving the Nation in the pending war—not for the benefit of persons who protest that they will not serve, and in fact do not serve, the Nation in a true military sense. But the Congress has declared that discharge from the service is the test as to whether a conscientious objector will be deprived of his rights to insurance and compensation under the war-risk insurance act. (See Sec. 29, added by Pub. 175, 65th Cong.) This office feels bound under the law to express the opinion, and it does so reluctantly, that conscientious objectors come within the above-named definition of 'enlisted man,' and thus are entitled to the benefits of the war-risk insurance act until they are discharged on one of the grounds specified in section 29 of the act.

"(b) Construing together the instructions from The Adjutant General under date of June 10, 1918, July 30, 1918, and G. O. 21, War Department, 1918, this office is of the opinion that conscientious objectors are furloughed without pay and allowances, and that consequently all war-risk and other allotments will be discontinued when the conscientious objectors are so furloughed.

"BACK TO LAND" MOVEMENT STARTED IN CENTRAL FRANCE

Consul William H. Hunt, St. Etienne, France, reports:

At its August session, the Conseil Général of the Loire Department voted a sum of 600,000 francs to be issued for the purpose of encouraging agricultural enterprises and the repopulation of the farming districts.

A minimum of 8 to 10 hectares (1 hectare=2.471 acres) may be allotted to each agriculturist not over 30 years of age, if not mobilized, and not over 35 years of age, if mobilized, who will promise to remain 10 years at the head of his farm. The resolution further provides:

Premiums and Loans.

1. A fixed premium of 1,000 francs worth of farming implements of the latest model, which is not to be refunded.

2. A loan of 500 francs worth of agricultural implements for each 10 hectares or fraction over and above the first 10. This loan, which must be refunded in 15 years, may be increased to 2,000 francs for a farm of 40 to 60 hectares.

However, in order to encourage large families, part of this loan will be canceled according to the number of children born after the farmer has taken possession of his allotment of land.

In order to benefit by the loans above indicated, the applicant must apply to the Préfet of the Loire Department, stating: Age, situation of family, residence, the farm on which they intend to settle, with a statement relative to the areas of land to be cultivated, kind of culture, and implements required.

Aim to Interest Young Farmers.

The aim of the resolution of the Conseil Général is to interest many young farmers in this scheme, and to induce those to return to the soil who have heretofore hesitated for want of financial assistance. Their reasons for deserting the farms for the mills and factories of the cities will no longer have the same force. They will be given every encouragement to stick to the soil, which sorely needs their skill and labor, and thus, by their efforts, they may contribute to the restoration of their native country.

OFFICE OPENED AT ST. LOUIS.

The Working Conditions Service, Department of Labor, has opened a St. Louis office, as an extension of its regional activities. Similar offices have already been established in Chicago, Philadelphia, Boston, and New York.

Disabled Soldiers of Allied Forces Residing in This Country.

Conferences have been held between representatives of the Canadian and American governmental authorities to consider arrangements for dealing with disabled members of the Canadian expeditionary force who may secure official assistance in this country. It is expected that proposals will be made by Canadian authorities to the Treasury Department for reciprocal action in the care of ex-soldiers of Canada and the United States. In the event of such an arrangement being made the question of reciprocity in the case of vocational training may also be included. No definite arrangements have yet been made, but in the meantime the Federal Board for Vocational Education has issued a circular letter (K2), on December 30, as follows:

"Pending the possible settling up of some international arrangements for dealing with disabled ex-members of the allied forces with whom you may come in contact, please direct any disabled ex-members of the Canadian expeditionary force who may make inquiries of you regarding vocational training to apply to the district vocational officer of the department of soldiers' civil reestablishment in the Province of Canada, in which the man received his hospital treatment. Every disabled Canadian soldier is surveyed by a vocational officer before receiving his military discharge, and it is therefore probable that a copy of the man's survey will be on file in the district office concerned, which would thus have full information of the case."

The following is a list of the territory and addresses of the Canadian D. V. O's.:

Province of Ontario, 185 Spadina Avenue, Toronto, Ontario.

Province of Quebec, 109, Drummond Building, Montreal, Quebec.
