

Statement by the President On Adjournment of Congress

On the adjournment of the Congress, the President issued the following statement:

A group of men in the Senate have deliberately chosen to embarrass the administration of the government, to imperil the financial interests of the railways systems of the country, and to make arbitrary use of powers intended to be employed in the interests of the people.

It is plainly my present duty to attend the Peace Conference in Paris. It is also my duty to be in close contact with the public business during a session of the Congress. I must make my choice between these two duties, and I confidently hope that the people of the country will think that I am making the right choice. It is not in the interest of the right conduct of public affairs that I should call the Congress in special session while it is impossible for me to be in Washington, because of a more pressing duty elsewhere, to cooperate with the Houses.

I take it for granted that the men who have obstructed and prevented the passage of necessary legislation have taken all of this into consideration and are willing to assume the responsibility of the impaired efficiency of the government and the embarrassed finances of the country during the time of my enforced absence.

MR. F. P. GARVAN SELECTED ALIEN PROPERTY CUSTODIAN

Mr. Francis P. Garvan has been selected by President Wilson to succeed Mr. A. Mitchell Palmer as Alien Property Custodian. Mr. Garvan has been the Director of Investigations under this department of the Government since June 1918, serving without salary. It was upon Mr. Garvan's initiative and under his supervision that millions of dollars worth of German property were found in this country and thus brought under the jurisdiction and control of the Alien Property Custodian.

Mr. Garvan is a leading lawyer of New York; the son of Patrick and Mary Garvan, of Connecticut; and a graduate of Yale, class of '97. He was an assistant United States attorney under District Attorney Jerome and acted in many celebrated cases, notably, the famous homicide cases of Albert T. Patrick and Roland Molineaux. He is a member of the executive committee of the Bar Association; a trustee of the Catholic University, and a member of the University, Manhattan and Democratic Clubs. He married Miss Mary Brady, daughter of Anthony T. Brady, of New York.

The War Trade Board has also been informed that the importation of aluminum ingots into the United Kingdom is not prohibited, but that aluminum sheets require an import license, as they are included under the head of aluminum manufactures.

WAR SERVICE CERTIFICATES FOR NAVY MEN AND WOMEN, REGULAR AND RESERVE FORCE

FOR ALL WITH HONORABLE RECORD

Includes Those Discharged or Disenrolled Prior to Nov. 11, 1918—Issue Through Various Bureaus and Commanding Officers.

Secretary Daniels authorizes the following:

The Bureau of Navigation has prepared a war service certificate for issue to all enlisted men who have served honorably in the naval service during the present war with Germany. Books containing these certificates will be issued by the bureau to the commandants of naval districts and to commanding officers of ships and of independent shore stations for issue to men.

A certificate shall be issued to each man of the regular Navy and to each man and woman of the Naval Reserve Force who has had honorable active service at any time between the dates April 5, 1917, and November 11, 1918, upon discharge, disenrollment, or release from active duty in accordance with orders on demobilization issued from time to time by the Bureau of Navigation. The term "honorable" shall be construed to mean that the man has a record such as would entitle him to an honorable discharge had he completed his full term of enlistment. (Bureau of Navigation Annual Circular of January 1, 1918, pp. 24, 25.)

The certificates will be issued as follows:

BY THE BUREAU OF NAVIGATION.

To all men of the regular Navy who have been discharged between the dates April 6, 1917, and March 14, 1919, inclusive, and have not reenlisted.

BY THE COMMANDANTS OF NAVAL DISTRICTS.

To all men of the Naval Reserve Force residing within their respective districts who have been disenrolled or placed on inactive duty, between the dates April 6, 1917, and March 14, 1919, inclusive, and to all members of the Naval Reserve Force under their command when disenrolled or placed upon inactive duty on March 15, 1919, and thereafter.

To all men of the regular Navy when discharged from their command on March 15, 1919, and thereafter; and to all men of the regular Navy under their command on the date of formal proclamation of peace.

BY COMMANDING OFFICERS OF SHIPS AND OF INDEPENDENT SHORE STATIONS NOT UNDER THE COMMAND OF A COMMANDANT OF A DISTRICT.

To all men of the regular Navy and of the Naval Reserve Force when discharged, disenrolled, or placed upon inactive duty from their commands on March 15, 1919, and thereafter, and to all men of the regular Navy under their command on the date of a formal proclamation of peace.

Nothing in the above shall be construed to set aside the requirements of paragraph 2 above, nor to authorize issuing to any man more than one certificate.

Each certificate issued will bear the seal of the issuing ship or station.

To avoid duplication of issues each certificate has been serially numbered and is attached to a stub, on which certain information must be entered. Issuing officers will see that all information indicated on the stub is entered and will also cause to be entered on both the certificate and the stub the service number of the enlisted man to whom the certificate is issued. The number of the certificate issued must be entered in ink on the service record of the man to whom issued, on the discharge line of the inside of the back cover of the record.

A sufficient supply of certificates will be forwarded to commandants of districts to care for all men heretofore discharged or placed on inactive duty by the districts and to care for the immediate future demand. Independent shore stations and ships having complements of 500 and above will be issued two books, each containing 50 certificates. Ships and stations having one complement of less than 500 will be issued one book.

As the supply of certificates becomes depleted applications for an additional supply may be made to the Bureau of Navigation.

RESUMPTION OF MONEY ORDER EXCHANGE WITH BELGIUM

OFFICE OF THIRD ASST. P. M. GEN.,
Washington, February 27, 1919.

The exchange of money orders between the United States and Belgium, which was temporarily suspended in August, 1914, will be resumed on Monday, March 10, next. On and after that day postmasters at international money-order offices in the United States will, upon proper application, issue orders for payment in Belgium, and will pay Belgian orders reissued by the exchange office in New York and drawn upon them when duly presented by the rightful owners.

The transaction of money-order business with Belgium will, as heretofore, be conducted in conformity with the existing treaty with that country and the regulations previously in force. The fees to be collected in the United States from remitters of orders payable in Belgium will be the same as those for orders on other European countries appearing in Table No. 2, page 80, of the Annual Postal Guide, and at page 5 of the Register of Money-Order Post Offices for July, 1918.

In converting the money of the United States into that of Belgium, postmasters at international money-order offices will consult the "conversion table" with which all such offices are supplied. Unless and until otherwise announced, the conversions are to be made at the rate of $1=francs 5.15.

TAX EXEMPTION IS EXTENDED ON CERTAIN LIBERTY BONDS

Statement by Secretary Glass on Provisions of the Victory Liberty Loan Act.

Statement by Secretary Glass:

"It is perhaps not generally understood that, under the terms of section 2 (a) of the Victory Liberty Loan Act, the interest received on and after January 1, 1919, until the expiration of five years after the termination of the war, on an amount of bonds of the First Liberty Loan converted, the Second Liberty Loan, converted and unconverted, the Third Liberty Loan, and the Fourth Liberty Loan, the principal of which does not exceed $30,000 in the aggregate, owned by any individual, partnership, association, or corporation will be exempt from surtaxes, excess-profits and war-profits taxes now or hereafter imposed by the United States upon the income or profits of individuals, partnerships, associations, or corporations, not only is this exemption in addition to all other exemptions heretofore conferred, but it is independent of any subscription to the Victory Liberty Loan, and is immediately effective.

"The Victory Liberty Loan Act also contains a provision authorizing the Secretary of the Treasury to extend the privilege of converting 4 per cent bonds of the First Liberty Loan converted and 4 per cent bonds of the Second Liberty Loan into 4½ per cent bonds, the higher interest rate to be effective from the semi-annual interest payment date next succeeding the date of presentation for conversion. Having recommended that this conversion privilege be so extended, I shall, of course, very promptly exercise the authority thus conferred upon me and issue regulations covering the details."

DISCHARGED DISABLED ARMY MEN ENTITLED TO HOSPITAL CARE

The War Department authorizes the following statement from the office of the Surgeon General:

The Medical Department of the Army has been advised by the Bureau of War-Risk Insurance that any soldier who has been honorably discharged since October 6, 1917, for disability incurred in line of duty and whose present condition is a reactivation of that disability or is consequent upon it, is entitled to hospital or sanatorium care under the provisions of the war-risk insurance act.

If the case is one of emergency, the chief medical adviser of the War-Risk Bureau should be informed by telegraph, giving the name, rank, and organization, and character of the disability, with suggestions for treatment needed. The nearest representative of the United States Public Health Service may also be notified, as these officials are authorized to take action in such cases. If there be no such official in the vicinity, arrangements may be made with local physicians or institutions to take temporary charge of the case. When the case applying for hospital treatment is not one of emergency, the information called for above should be furnished the chief medical adviser of the War-Risk Bureau by letter.

SPEAK AT THE LYONS FAIR.

Ambassadors Sharp and Jusserand Greeted By French People.

The American Ambassador to France, Mr. William G. Sharp, and the French Ambassador to the United States, Mr. J. J. Jusserand, on Saturday last addressed the Annual Industrial and Trade Fair at Lyons, France, of which Mr. Sharp has been made an honorary member. The exhibits at this opening session amounted to more than 20,000,000 francs in value and various American concerns had upward of 500 samples on exhibit. Ambassador Jusserand devoted practically his whole address to the self-denial which the American people imposed on themselves in order to assist France in supplying food and war material, and his references to America were given generous applause.

Army hospitals have been placed at the disposal of the War-Risk Bureau for treatment of discharged soldiers entitled to such attention under the terms of the war-risk act. Such patients will be treated in Army hospitals at the expense of the War-Risk Bureau on a per diem basis covering the cost of subsistence plus 10 cents plus 25 cents.

The Surgeon General of the Army has directed commanding officers of hospitals to admit former soldiers on the official request of authorized representatives of the War-Risk Bureau. The Medical Department of the Army will be reimbursed monthly by the War-Risk Bureau on the basis as above stated.

NEW VICTORY POSTAGE STAMP TO COMMEMORATE WAR'S ENDING

Bears Figure of Liberty, Flanked by United States, British,
French, Italian, and Belgian Flags.

OFFICE OF THIRD ASSISTANT
POSTMASTER GENERAL,
Washington, March 1, 1919.

Notice is hereby given of a new postage stamp of 3-cent denomination, issued to commemorate the successful outcome of the war.

Description.

The stamp is of 3-cent denomination; color, purple; size of design, $\frac{3}{4}$ by $\frac{1}{2}$ inch, the longer dimension being horizontal. The design presents a standing figure of Liberty Victorious, with a background composed of the flags of the five countries which were most actively engaged in the cause.

The figure of Liberty is helmeted, the upper part of the body is incased in scale armor, and a flowing skirt falls to the feet. The right hand grasps a sword, the point of which rests on the ground at the feet of the figure; the left arm is partially extended, and the hand holds a balance scale, representing justice.

The whole design appears upon a shaded panel. Extending across the top, in a straight line of Roman capital letters, is the inscription "U. S. Postage." At the bottom, directly beneath the figure, in a straight line of Roman capitals, is the word "Cents," flanked by circles containing the numeral "3" in each lower corner of the stamp.

The department will send all central-accounting and direct-accounting postmasters a supply of the Victory stamps without requisition. It will probably take about three to four weeks to complete the distribution to the entire country.

After receiving the first supply, postmasters may draw requisition upon the department on Form 3201 for additional Victory stamps. The requisition must not include any other item of stamp stock. It must report last quarter's sales of postage-stamp stock in the space above the postmaster's signature, must be indorsed as to protection against burglary as directed in sections 50 to 52, page 37, 1918 Postal Guide, and must bear the written words "Victory stamps." Such requisitions will be filled in the order of receipt at the department after the initial distribution has been completed.

District postmasters may obtain Victory stamps by requisition on Form 3338 upon the central-accounting postmaster, with remittance of postal cash or as a part of the net credit at the close of the quarter.

The issue of Victory stamps is not sufficiently large to take the place of the regular issue of 3-cent stamps, and postmasters will therefore supply them only to patrons who request them.

A. M. DOCKERY,
Third Asst. Postmaster General.

STATE AND LOCAL OFFICIALS EXEMPT FROM TAX ON SALARY

The Internal Revenue Bureau issues the following:

Officers and employees of a State or a political subdivision of a State, such as a county, city, or town, will not be required to pay income tax on their salaries, wages, and official fees received in 1918. In determining his liability to file return and to pay income tax under the new revenue law, any such officer or employee may omit such compensation from his gross income. With respect to any taxable income he may have received in 1918 from other sources, he is subject to all the provisions of the law, and must file a return if such other income amounted to $1,000 or more, or $2,000 or more, according to his status as a single or married person.

Many Inquiries Received.

Many inquiries are being received by the bureau from all parts of the United States, indicating that there is a doubt as to whether officers and employees of States or political subdivisions must consider their compensation as taxable income. The view of the bureau that such income is exempt is determined by the reading of the law, by the apparent intention of Congress, and by the fundamental law governing the relation between the Federal Government and the States.

The conference committee which considered the views of the Senate and the House of Representatives with respect to the new revenue act, and revised the bill as passed by both Houses, wrote into section 213 special clauses which included in taxable income the compensation of the President, the Federal Court judges, and all other officials and employees of the United States, or of any State, Alaska, Hawaii, or any political subdivision thereof, or the District of Columbia. Before reporting the bill back to the Senate and the House, the words "or of any State" were stricken out, and with this revision of the conference committee's special clauses in article 213, the act was accepted and passed by Congress.

DISTINGUISHED SERVICE MEDALS AWARDED FOUR ARMY OFFICERS

The War Department authorizes the publication of the following General Orders:

By direction of the President, under the provisions of the act of Congress approved July 9, 1918 (Bulletin No. 43, W. D. 1918), the Distinguished Service Medal is awarded for exceptionally meritorious and conspicuous service, to the following-named officers:

Col. Theodore C. Lyster, United States Army, for exceptionally meritorious and conspicuous service; for duty rendered in the office of the Surgeon General as Chief, Air Service Division.

Brig. Gen. Edward L. Munson, United States Army, for exceptionally meritorious and conspicuous service. He developed the scheme of field training for officers and enlisted men of the Medical Department, directed the organization and administration of the medical officers' training camps and organized and administered the Morale Branch of the General Staff.

Col. John T. Thompson, U. S. Army (retired), for exceptionally meritorious and conspicuous service as Chief of the Small Arms Division of the office of the Chief of Ordnance, in which capacity he was charged with the design and production of all small arms and ammunition thereby supplied to the U. S. Army, which results he achieved with such signal success that serviceable rifles and ample ammunition therefor were at all times available for all troops ready to receive and use them.

Lieut. Col. Herman J. Koehler, U. S. Army, for exceptionally meritorious and conspicuous service. At the beginning of the war he was placed in charge of the physical training in officers' training camps. These and also four divisional camps were personally visited by him. He personally instructed 200,000 officers and enlisted men of the new army.

Secretary Baker's Remarks At Medal Presentation

Remarks of the Secretary of War at presentation of distinguished-service medals, March 2, 1919:

The institution of the distinguished-service medal in the Army of the United States is in recognition of the fact that in an army of modern times, all the fighting is not done on the fighting front, but that those who served by way of preparing others, and those whose services were especially necessary in association with military operations, are equally serving in the cause. This medal is also awarded to civilians, because under conditions of modern warfare it has been discovered, of course, that the civilian side is inseparably connected with actual fighting side; that modern war engages all the power of the Nation, military, industrial, financial, and moral. The distinguished-service medal is, therefore, awarded not for technical, military, or combat service, but is awarded to those who in positions of great responsibility have conferred distinguished service upon their country

ANNOUNCEMENT BY DIVISION OF INLAND TRAFFIC OF NAVY

The Division of Inland Traffic, Bureau of Supplies and Accounts, Navy Department, issues the following:

CIRCULAR No. 30.

To: All bureaus; commandant, headquarters, Marine Corps; commodore commandant, Coast Guard; commandants and supply officers, naval districts, yards, and stations; transportation lines.

Subject: Inland transportation.

Reference: Letter 28953, 7 February, 1918, from the Secretary of the Navy.

Transportation matters will continue to be handled by and under the direction of the Bureau of Supplies and Accounts but by Navy personnel exclusively; proper assistance will continue to be rendered. The manner of address will be: To the Bureau of Supplies and Accounts, Navy Department, Washington, D. C.

through the Military Establishment and in association with it.

I have very great pleasure to-day, on behalf of the Government, in the name of the Congress, though not by its specific direction, and in the name of the President, the Commander in Chief of the Army of the United States, to award distinguished service medals to the four medalists who are here.

After reading the citation for Lieut. Col. H. J. Koehler, the Secretary said:

The Chief of Staff, Gen. March, was a member of the first class at the military academy instructed by Col. Koehler. The Colonel's career in the Army has, of course, been long and distinguished, and I have great pleasure in asking a member of his first class, now the Chief of the General Staff of the United States Army, to place the medal on his coat.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE CONGRESS OF THE UNITED STATES BRIEFLY TOLD

The Sixty-fifth Congress expired by constitutional limitation at noon to-day, leaving a large number of important appropriation bills and other legislative matters unaccomplished. In the House, following the announcement of adjournment without day by Speaker Clarke, there were the usual scenes of festivity, with music by a band and singing by Members and occupants of crowded galleries.

The Senate ended its proceedings in the midst of an admitted filibuster. Although Republican leaders expressed their desire to have the deficiency bill, carrying the $750,000,000 revolving fund for the Railroad Administration, enacted into law, and conferred with the majority leaders to that end, managers on both sides were unable to accomplish anything, due to protracted speeches by Senators La Follette, France, and Sherman, who held the floor from early in the morning until the hour of adjournment. The usual committee to wait upon the President was not appointed and the customary resolutions of thanks were omitted as a result of these speeches. The President was at the Capitol to sign bills that reached him, and later he issued a statement concerning the failure of Congress to pass the legislation which failed of passage:

The following bills failed to pass: Army, Navy, sundry civil, District of Columbia, Indian, general deficiency, public buildings appropriation measures, civil service retirement, to end Federal control of wire systems of communication, water-power, oil-land leasing, $100,000,000 reclamation project to provide homes for discharged soldiers, immigration restriction, joint resolution to repeal the luxury taxes imposed by the war-revenue act, joint resolution appropriating $5,000,000 for the expenses of the peace commissioners. The conference reports on the wheat-price guarantee bill, the diplomatic and consular, and Military Academy, and the hospital construction bills were agreed to and the measures sent to the President. It was impossible to hold an executive session and a large number of nominations, including many Army and Navy promotions, remained unconfirmed. Among the more prominent nominations that failed of confirmation were: A. Mitchell Palmer to be Attorney General, John Skelton Williams to be Comptroller of the Currency, Maj. Gen. Robert E. Noble, of the Medical Corps, American Expeditionary Forces, to be a brigadier general in the Regular Army.

SENATE.

The last full working day of the Senate this session, which began at 10 o'clock yesterday morning, found the proposed constitution for the league of nations under discussion from the time of convening until early evening. Senator Sherman, Republican, of Illinois, delivered a prepared address in opposition to the league. He also criticized the President and his policies. Senator McCumber, of North Dakota, Republican member of the Foreign Relations Committee, addressed the Senate for more than four hours on the same subject. He approved of the league of nations plan, but advocated amendments that would insure American sovereignty and the perpetuation of the Monroe Doctrine. Mr. McCumber defended the President against some of the attacks that have been made and appealed to the Senate to discuss the whole subject in a calm and deliberate manner and not from a partisan point of view. During the late afternoon and evening Republican Senators opposed to the league of nations circulated a resolution to which Senators-elect who are opposed to the league of nations as at present understood were asked to attach their names.

Mr. Lodge's Resolution.

After midnight Senator Lodge submitted it and asked for its immediate consideration, to which objection was made. Mr. Lodge then had it read with the signatures attached. The text of the resolution follows:

Whereas, under the Constitution it is the function of the Senate to advise and consent to or dissent from the ratification of any treaty of the United States and no such treaty can become operative without the consent of the Senate expressed by the affirmative vote of two-thirds of the Senators present, and

Whereas, owing to the victory of the arms of the United States and of the nations with whom it is associated, a Peace Conference was convened and is now in session at Paris for the purpose of settling the terms of peace; and

Whereas, a committee of the conference has proposed a constitution for a League of Nations and the proposal is now before the Peace Conference for its consideration;

Now, therefore, be it resolved by the Senate of the United States in the discharge of its constitutional duty of advice in regard to treaties, that it is the sense of the Senate that while it is their sincere desire that the nations of the world should unite to promote peace and general disarmament, the constitution of the League of Nations in the form now proposed to the Peace Conference should not be accepted by the United States;

And be it resolved further, That it is the sense of the Senate that the negotiations on the part of the United States should immediately be directed to the utmost expedition of the urgent business of negotiating peace terms with Germany satisfactory to the United States and the nations with whom the United States is associated in the war against the German Government and the proposal for a League of Nations to insure the permanent peace of the world should be then taken up for careful and serious consideration."

Mr. Lewis's Resolution.

Senator Lewis, Democrat, of Illinois, during the early hours of the morning endeavored to obtain the floor to submit a resolution indorsing the work of the President, but was blocked until just before the hour of adjournment. At that time he succeeded in presenting his resolution, but consideration of it was denied. The resolution of Mr. Lewis follows:

Whereas the Senate notes with interest that the President of the United States returns at once to resume his labors for the peace of the world and the adjustment of the terms of the obligations on Germany as a just penalty for the war it waged; now therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Senate expresses by this resolution its wish for the safe journey of the President, the safe return to his own country, and for every success in any undertaking that makes for the welfare of the United States and its people and the betterment of the world; and be it further

Resolved, That the Senate earnestly approves all proper efforts of the President to effect a league of peace that can bring an arrangement guaranteeing the tranquillity of nations and the mutual friendship of the world.

When discussion of the league of nations ceased the bill providing for the reclamation of public lands to make them available for homes for discharged soldiers was called up, but this started a protracted discussion and those in charge of the measure realizing that it could not be finally acted upon withdrew it. During the late afternoon final action was taken on conference reports on the Indian, diplomatic and consular, and military academy appropriation bills, as well as on the bill providing for hospital construction. Late in the evening Senator Martin called up the general deficiency bill and the debate on that measure continued throughout the night session.

Among minor matters disposed of yesterday were the following, which were adopted: A resolution directing the Federal Trade Commission to investigate the milk industry, with particular reference to condensed milk, the alleged control of the prices of that product, and what connection with the industry, if any, any member of the Food Administration may have had. A resolution authorizing the Judiciary Committee to continue during the recess its investigation of unlawful propaganda. A resolution for an investigation of charges that bad wheat and flour were shipped by the Belgian Relief Commission to war sufferers, the author of the resolution, Senator Calder, explaining that it did not refer to acts of the members of the commission, but was aimed at alleged fraudulent transactions of certain dealers in wheat and flour who sold the inferior products to the commission.

The Judiciary Committee decided not to attempt to obtain action at this session on the bill providing the machinery for the enforcement of war-time prohibition, for the reason that it would be impossible to make any headway. Senator Simmons, chairman of the Finance Committee, reported favorably the House resolution for the repeal of the so-called luxury taxes in the war-revenue act and asked for its consideration, but Senator Curtis objected last evening. Democratic leaders withdrew their objections, and the credentials of Truman H. Newberry, Senator-elect from Michigan, were filed. Senator Pomerene gave notice that when the Senate reconvened he would attempt to have the Michigan senatorial election question reopened for a full investigation. In lieu of a report, which he said was impossible because all the testimony has not been printed, Chairman Vandaman, of the Manufactures Committee, which investigated the coal situation, submitted a statement to the Senate. This statement charged that production of anthracite coal in the United States is controlled by eight large transportation companies which, through an almost complete monopoly, were able to fix prices and determine the rate of production.

Nominations sent to the Senate yesterday afternoon were as follows: To be register of lands at Waterville, Wash., Benjamin Speer; to be receiver of public moneys at Waterville, Wash., Sydney S.

HARD AND SOFT COAL PRODUCTION FOR THE WEEK ENDING FEB. 22

The production of bituminous coal during the week ended February 22, according to the United States Geological Survey, is estimated at 7,696,000 net tons, and is a slight decrease compared with the week preceding, and a decrease of 3,420,000 net tons, or 30 per cent, compared with the week of February 22, 1918. In previous years the occurrence of Washington's Birthday, like all other holidays, was quite a limiting factor in the production of bituminous coal, but with the lack of demand at this time the observance of the holiday had practically no effect on the week's output. The average production per working day, estimated at 1,283,000 net tons, not only fell below that of the preceding week and corresponding week of 1918 but also fell considerably below the daily average for the coal year to date, estimated at 1,835,000 net tons, and the daily average for a similar period of last year, estimated at 1,751,000 net tons. For the coal year to date production of bituminous coal now totals to 517,479,000 net tons, and is now in excess of the production for the same period of last year by 23,737,000 net tons, or 4.8 per cent.

Practically no change occurred in the production of anthracite during the week ended February 22, the output being estimated at 1,113,000 net tons and but 13,000 net tons in excess of the output of the week of February 15. Compared with the corresponding week of 1918, the current week's output is extremely low, falling 741,000 net tons, or 40 per cent, behind. The daily average per working day during the week of February 22 is estimated at 186,000 net tons, as compared with 305,000 net tons during the coal year to date and 316,000 net tons for the same period of 1918.

TREASURY DECISION ON TAX RETURNS OF INFORMATION AND LIKE PURPOSE

The Treasury Department issues the following:

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
OFFICE OF COMMISSIONER OF INTERNAL REVENUE,
Washington, D. C.

To collectors of internal revenue and others concerned:

In view of the delay in the final passage of the revenue act of 1918 and of the preparation of the forms required thereunder, an extension of time to include May 15, 1919, is hereby granted for the filing of returns of information (Forms 1099 and 1096), fiduciary returns (Form 1041), annual withholding returns (Form 1042, accompanied by Form 1098, and Form 1013), returns of partnerships which are required to file returns on the calendar year basis, and all other returns which are not the basis for the assessment of the tax.

This decision shall not be construed as relieving taxpayers from filing returns which serve as a basis for assessment, even though the person making the return is not taxable thereon, nor as relieving beneficiaries, partners, and stockholders of personal service corporations from including in their personal returns their distributive share of the income accruing to the trust or estate or the partnership or personal service corporation, whether distributed or not.

Partnerships and corporations having a fiscal year ending in 1918 which have secured extensions of time which have not expired are hereby granted an extension of time to March 15, 1919, for the filing of such returns. When the returns are filed two forms should be used and two computations made, one showing on the return form used for 1917 the tax calculated on the whole income for the entire period under the provisions and at the rates prescribed by the act of October 3, 1917, the other showing on the form for 1918 the tax on the whole income for the entire period, calculated under the provisions and at the rates prescribed by the revenue act of 1918. The tax due will be the sum of so many twelfths of the first amount as there are months in 1917 covered by the return, and of the second amount as there are months in 1918.

In view of the disturbed conditions abroad and the consequent interference with the usual channels of communication, an extension of time for filing returns of income for 1918 and subsequent years is hereby granted in the case of alien individuals actually living beyond the boundaries of the United States and corporations, or their proper representatives in the United States, and of American citizens residing or traveling abroad, including persons in military or naval service on duty outside the United States, for such period as may be necessary, not exceeding 90 days after proclamation by the President of the end of the war with Germany. In all such cases an affidavit must be attached to the return, stating the causes of the delay in filing it, in order that the commissioner may determine whether the failure to file the return in time was due to a reasonable cause and not to wilful neglect. If the showing justifies the conclusion that the failure to file the return in time was excusable, no penalty by way of addition to the tax will be imposed, except interest as provided by the statute.

DANIEL C. ROPEL,
Commissioner.

Approved February 27, 1919.

CARTER GLASS,
Secretary.

WORK OF CONGRESS BRIEFLY TOLD

Baggs; at Spokane, Wash., William F. Page; at Yakima, Wash., Claude E. Rusk. The following nomination was submitted to-day:

C. F. McIntosh, of Spencer, Ind., to be a member of the Federal Board for Vocational Education.

HOUSE.

The House remained in constant session waiting chiefly on the Senate. During the evening an informal recess was held during which testimonials of esteem were given by members of the House to retiring leaders. Minority Leader Mann, on behalf of the House, made the speech in presenting to Speaker Clark a silver punch bowl and tea service. Speaker Clark presented Mr. Mann with a chest of silver. Mr. Fordney, ranking Republican on the Ways and Means Committee, presented Majority Leader Kitchin, retiring chairman, with a silver tea set, while Mr. Gillette, who is to be Speaker, made the speech accompanying the presentation to Retiring Chairman Sherley, of the Appropriations Committee, of a handsome gold watch, a set of law books, and encyclopedias. Former Speaker Cannon, of Illinois, presided during the ceremonies.

The proposed league of nations was under discussion in the House for a short time. Minority Leader Mann said the war would have been fought in vain if something is not done to make future wars impossible. During last night's session Mr. LaGuardia, of New York, who served in the flying corps, supported the league and declared that the men of the Expeditionary Forces who have seen the horrors of war all favored the league in the belief that it will insure peace for the future.

The conference report on the bill for taking the census of 1920 was agreed to and that measure now goes to the President. The conference report also was adopted on a bill that validates a large number of land claims in the West and Southwest.

Mr. McFadden, of Pennsylvania, in a speech renewed his criticism of the official acts of Comptroller of the Currency Williams.

Chairman Johnson, of the special committee appointed to investigate the pre-election activities of the National Security League, submitted an exhaustive report on the committee's work, in which it was charged that the league violated the corrupt practices act by failing to file an itemized account of its expenditures with the Clerk of the House.

EXCHANGE OF HOSTAGES.

British Government Action Involving American Consul Tredwell.

The Department of State was advised to-day that the British Government has requested the Government of India to release one of the Bolshevik hostages arrested by the British at Meshed, Persia, in exchange for the American consul, Roger Culver Tredwell, who is being held by the Bolshevik authorities at Tashkend in Turkestan.

Last Formal Statement from the Red Cross War Council On the Things Accomplished and of Greater Work Ahead

Under date of February 28, the war council of the American Red Cross issued the following statement:

To the American people:

The war council of the American Red Cross appointed by President Wilson on May 10, 1917, to carry on the work of the American Red Cross during the war, will, at their request and by vote of the central committee, cease to exist to-morrow.

Immediately the armistice was signed the war council instituted studies to determine when the strictly war work of the organization would have been sufficiently matured to enable the direction of affairs to be resumed by the permanent staff. Henry P. Davison, being in Paris when the armistice was signed, summoned a conference there of the heads of all the Red Cross commissions in Europe to canvass the situation. After considering all the factors it was concluded to make the transition on March 1. The very fortunate choice of Dr. Livingston Farrand as the new chairman of the central committee, and thereby the permanent chief executive of the Red Cross, makes possible the consummation of this plan under the most favorable conditions.

Accounts Audited by War Department.

Detailed reports to Congress and a complete audit of its accounts by the War Department will constitute the final record of Red Cross activity during the war. Although it has been the rule to make public all expenditures when authorized and to give detailed information relative to all work undertaken, the war council in turning over its responsibilities to Dr. Farrand and his associates desire to give a brief resume of Red Cross war-time activities to the American people, to whom the Red Cross belongs and whose generous contributions have made possible all that has been accomplished.

During the past nearly 21 months the American people have given in cash and supplies to the American Red Cross more than $400,000,000. No value can be placed upon the contributions of service which have been given without stint and oftentimes at great sacrifice by millions of our people.

The effort of the American Red Cross in this war has constituted by far the largest voluntary gifts of money, of hand and heart, ever contributed purely for the relief of human suffering. Through the Red Cross the heart and spirit of the whole American people have been mobilized to take care of our own, to relieve the misery incident to the war, and also to reveal to the world the supreme ideals of our national life.

Everyone who has had any part in this war effort of the Red Cross is entitled to congratulate himself. No thanks from anyone could be equal in value to the self-satisfaction everyone should feel for the part taken. Fully 8,000,000 American women have exerted themselves in Red Cross service.

Has Over 17,000,000 Adult Members.

When we entered the war the American Red Cross had about 500,000 members. To-day, as the result of the recent Christmas membership roll call, there are upwards of 17,000,000 full-paid members, outside of the members of the junior Red Cross, numbering, perhaps, 9,000,000 school children additional.

The chief effort of the Red Cross during the war has been to care for our men in service and to aid our Army and Navy wherever the Red Cross may be called on to assist. As to this phase of the work, Surg. Gen. Ireland, of the United States Army, recently said: "The Red Cross has been an enterprise as vast as the war itself. From the beginning it has done those things which the Army Medical Corps wanted done but could not do itself."

Red Cross Endeavor in France.

The Red Cross endeavor in France has naturally been upon an exceptionally large scale where service has been rendered to the American Army and to the French Army and the French people as well, the latter particularly during the trying period when the allied world was waiting for the American Army to arise in force and power. Hospital emergency service for our Army in France has greatly diminished, but the Red Cross is still being called upon for service upon a large scale in the great base hospitals, where thousands of American sick and wounded are still receiving attention. At these hospitals the Red Cross supplies huts and facilities for the amusement and recreation of the men as they become convalescent. Our army of occupation in Germany was followed with medical units prepared to render the same emergency aid and supply service which was the primary business of the Red Cross during hostilities. The Army canteen service along the lines of travel has actually increased since the armistice.

Present Conditions in France.

As for work among the French people, now that hostilities have ceased, the French themselves naturally prefer as far as possible to provide for their own. It has accordingly been determined that the guiding principle of Red Cross policy in France henceforth shall be to have punctilious regard to its every responsibility, but to direct its efforts primarily to assisting French relief societies. The liberated and devastated regions of France have been divided by the Government into small districts, each officially assigned to a designated French relief organization.

The American Red Cross work in France was initiated by a commission of 18 men who landed on French shores June 13, 1917. Since then some 9,000 persons have been upon the rolls in France, of whom 7,000 were actively engaged when the armistice was signed. An indication of the present scale of the work will be obtained from the fact that the services of 6,000 persons are still required.

Activities in England.

Our American Expeditionary Force having largely evacuated England, the activities of the Red Cross commission there are naturally upon a diminishing scale period. Active operations are still in progress in Archangel and Siberia.

The work in Italy has been almost entirely on behalf of the civilian population of that country. In the critical hours of Italy's struggle the American people, through their Red Cross, sent a practical message of sympathy and relief, for which the government and people of Italy have never ceased to express their gratitude.

Supplies and Personnel to Near East.

The occasion for such concentration of effort in Italy, England, Belgium, and even in France, having naturally and normally diminished, it has been possible to divert supplies and personnel in large measure to the aid of those people in the Near East who have hitherto been inaccessible to outside assistance, but whose sufferings have been upon an appalling scale. The needs of these people are so vast that government alone can meet them, but the American Red Cross is making an effort to relieve immediately the more acute distress.

An extensive group of American workers has been dispatched to carry vitally needed supplies, and to work this winter in the various Balkan countries. In order to coordinate their activities, a Balkan commission has been established, with headquarters at Rome, Italy, from which point alone all the Balkan centers can be reached promptly.

Commission to Poland.

A commission has just reached Poland with doctors and nurses, medical supplies, and food for sick children and invalids. An American Red Cross commission has also been appointed to aid in relieving the suffering of Russian prisoners still confined in German prison camps.

An important commission is still working in Palestine. Through the war special cooperation has been given to the Armenian and Syrian relief commission, which was the only agency able to carry relief in the interior of Turkish dominions.

Red Cross Will Continue.

Red Cross effort is thus far flung. It will continue to be so. But the movement represented in this work has likewise assumed an intimate place in the daily life of our people at home. The army of workers which has been recruited and trained during the war must not be demobilized. All our experience in the war shows clearly that there is an unlimited field for service of the kind which can be performed with peculiar effectiveness by the Red Cross. What its future tasks may be it is yet impossible to forecast. We know that so long as there is an American Army in the field the Red Cross will have a special function to perform.

Important Plans in Motion.

Nothing could be of greater importance to the American Red Cross than the plans just set in motion by the five great Red Cross societies of the world to develop a program of extended activities in the interest of humanity. The conception involves not alone efforts to relieve human suffering, but to prevent it; not

NAVY MEN COMMENDED FOR BRAVERY IN EMERGENCIES DUE TO ACCIDENTS

Secretary Daniels has commended the following men of the Navy, members of the crew of the U. S. S. Westgate when that vessel was sunk October 7, following a collision with the U. S. S. American. These men distinguished themselves by remaining at their posts in the engine and firerooms until the last moment when engine room bulkheads carried away, taking every precaution to prevent the boilers exploding.

Peter Kujawa, water-tender, United States Navy; mother, Mrs. Mary Kujawa, 1055 Second Avenue, Milwaukee, Wis.

Harold A. Peterson, machinist's mate, second class, United States Navy; father, Axel Peterson, Greenwood, R. I.

Cleveland's Men Praised.

Secretary Daniels has commended the below named men of the Navy for their bravery and excellent seamanship displayed on October 2 and October 6, when the starboard stern tube shaft of the U. S. S. Cleveland broke, while the ship was in dangerous waters:

It was absolutely necessary to lash this shaft with wire hawsers and secure it promptly to avoid the shaft thrashing about and putting a hole in the stern of the ship. The weather conditions were a moderate sea with moderate fresh breezes blowing. An attempt was made to put over the only diver the ship had, but failed on account of the sea being too rough, and the commanding officer feared he would be killed, so he was hauled aboard. These men volunteered to go over the side in bowlines and run the lines by means of a dip rope, and notwithstanding the fact that the sea frequently washed completely over them they successfully accomplished the work and allowed the ship to proceed. Later the ship passed through a very severe storm, which broke the wire lashings, again endangering the ship. These men again volunteered to go over the side and secured the shaft with wire lashing, which enabled the vessel to complete her voyage.

Ben Winslow, boatswain's mate, first class, United States Navy. Mother, Mrs. Jennie Winslow, Sawtelle, Cal.

LAST FORMAL STATEMENT OF RED CROSS WAR COUNCIL

alone a movement by the people of an individual nation, but an attempt to arouse all people to a sense of their responsibility for the welfare of their fellow beings throughout the world. It is a program both ideal and practical. Ideal in that its supreme aim is nothing less than veritable "Peace on earth, good will to men," and practical in that it seeks to take means and measures which are actually available and make them effective in meeting without delay the crisis which is daily recurrent in the lives of all peoples.

Years of Peace Ahead.

For accomplishing its mission in the years of peace which must lie ahead of us the Red Cross will require the ablest possible leadership, and must enjoy the continued support, sympathy, and participation in its work of the whole American people. It is particularly fortunate that such a man as Dr. Livingston Farrand should have been selected as the permanent head of the organization. The unstinted fashion in which all our people gave of themselves throughout the war is the best assurance that our Red Cross will continue to receive that cooperation which will make its work a source of pride and inspiration to every American.

Mr. Davison, as chairman of the International Commission of the American Red Cross, has undertaken to represent the American Red Cross in the preparation of the program for extended Red Cross activities, and will spend the next several months in Europe in consultation with other Red Cross societies for that purpose.

THE WAR COUNCIL OF THE
