

GOVERNMENT COOPERATION WITH OIL INDUSTRY URGED BY GARFIELD IN LETTER TO THE PETROLEUM COMMITTEE

VALUE DURING WAR TO U. S. AND ALLIES

Wisdom and Necessity of Continued Cordial Relationship Pointed To—It Would Help "to Make Safe the Democracy for Which We Have Fought"—Dinner to Chairman.

A message urging continuance "in some effective way" of the cooperation between the Nation's oil industry and the Government, and emphasizing the value to the allies of such cooperation during the war, by the industry under the supervision of the Fuel Administration, was contained in a letter sent to-day by the United States Fuel Administrator, Harry A. Garfield, to the national petroleum war service committee.

Mr. Garfield's Letter.

The letter conveyed Mr. Garfield's regrets that important conferences previously arranged in Washington prevented his attendance at a dinner to-night in New York given by the committee to A. C. Bedford, its chairman, upon whom the French Government has conferred the title of chevalier de la legion d'honneur. It said in part:

"Permit me to take this occasion to express to the committee my appreciation of its services, and to convey to Mr. Bedford my felicitations upon the honor paid to him. I can well understand the desire of the French Government to recognize the services of Mr. Bedford and his committee. It is unnecessary to recite the important part played by petroleum in the war.

Great Basic Industry.

"Abundant testimony has been offered by the chiefs of the naval and military forces to justify those immediately engaged in the production and distribution of petroleum and its products in claiming a place among the few great basic industries which furnished the supplies necessary to winning the war.

"The national petroleum committee was in existence prior to the creation of the Fuel Administration. It had brought together in effective cooperation the competing elements of the industry. But to

DEPORTATION ORDER AFFIRMED IN 19 OUT OF 31 ALIEN CASES

The Department of Labor this morning decided the cases of the 31 aliens in whose behalf attorneys representing the Industrial Workers of the World recently submitted applications for reopening and reconsideration. In 19 of the cases the previous decisions ordering deportation were reaffirmed, and the Commissioner of Immigration at New York was directed to proceed with deportation as promptly as shipping conditions will permit. In the other 12 cases the applications for reopening were granted, and on reconsidering the contents of the records in the light of additional matter presented and representations made by the attorneys the Commissioner of Immigration at New York was directed to parole the aliens.

Paroles Previously Refused.

In most of these 12 cases parole had been offered the aliens on the basis of their original hearings and before they were removed from the State of Washington, but they refused to accept parole.

Thus the department has disposed of 31 of the 54 aliens who were some time ago brought to New York from the far West under orders of deportation, and in whose behalf a writ of habeas corpus was applied for at New York, such writ being refused by the court with the understanding that the attorneys would be allowed to take the cases up with the department at Washington.

The 23 cases not accounted for in the foregoing were not reconsidered by the department either because the attorneys who had applied for the writ of habeas corpus found on taking the matter up with the department that they were not interested in the aliens or because the aliens themselves asked the attorneys to withdraw the appeal in their behalf. Some of these have already been deported; the remainder will be deported as promptly as shipping facilities will permit.

NEW CREDIT TO ITALY.

The Treasury Department has extended an additional credit of $16,500,000 to Italy, making the total loaned to Italy by the United States $1,421,500,000. The grand total of credits extended the allies is $8,857,157,836.

NATIONAL DEFENSE COUNCIL EMERGENCY COMMITTEE IS ORGANIZED TO LOOK AFTER EMPLOYMENT OF SOLDIERS

WILL TAKE UP WORK OF THE U. S. SERVICE

Action Taken by Director Clarkson and Approved by Secretaries of War and Labor Intended to Meet Problem Caused by Lack of Federal Funds—Col. Woods, Chairman.

For the purpose of meeting the emergency caused by the radical curtailment of the machinery of the United States Employment Service, due to lack of funds, Grosvenor B. Clarkson, Director of the United States Council of National Defense, with the concurrence of the Secretaries of War and Labor, announced today the formation by the council of the emergency committee on employment for soldiers and sailors, with the following personnel:

Col. Woods, Chairman.

Col. Arthur Woods, special assistant to the Secretary of War, to handle employment of discharged soldiers, chairman.

Franklin D. Roosevelt, Assistant Secretary of the Navy.

E. N. Hurley, chairman, United States Shipping Board.

Nathan S. Smyth, Department of Labor.

G. I. Cristie, Assistant Secretary of Agriculture.

B. S. Cutler, Chief, Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce.

Mathew Woll, American Federation of Labor.

Elliot Goodwin, general secretary, Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

S. P. Bush, Industrial Board of the Department of Commerce and president of the Buckeye Steel Casting Co., of Columbus, Ohio.

E. J. Ayers, Interior Department.

John W. Hollowell, of Boston.

Grosvenor B. Clarkson, Director, Council of National Defense.

The secretary of the committee will be E. H. Greenwood, who has been associated with the Department of Labor in its employment work.

A representative of the Railroad Administration probably will be designated later.

The organization of this committee has been made necessary by the lack of appropriations for the continuance of the Federal Employment Service on its present basis to the close of the fiscal year. No funds from any other source being available at the present time, the service has been forced to order the closing of all of its branch offices except those in 56 important industrial centers and reduce its entire organization in all sections to about 15 per cent of its normal working force. Except in a comparatively few parts of the country the conduct of the work of finding employment for war and other civilian workers by the Department of Labor will have to be entirely discontinued, and to some extent the work of finding suitable occupations for discharged soldiers and sailors will be greatly hampered.

For this reason the emergency committee on employment for soldiers and sailors will endeavor to supplement and assist the present organization of the Federal Employment Service to such an extent that the work which it has performed in the past will continue.

Bureau Not Seriously Affected.

The Bureau for Returning Soldiers and Sailors of the Employment Service, which has nearly 2,000 branch bureaus, should not be seriously affected by the present situation for the reason that many of these are supported either by the communities in which they are located, by one or more of the great welfare organizations, or by private subscription. It will be the task of the committee to endeavor to secure the continuance of every such bureau and in every community where there is no bureau the financial support of the community for the establishment and maintenance of at least one such agency.

Inasmuch as the offices of the Federal Employment Service in the demobilization camps will not be discontinued this will make possible the carrying on of this work through the same clearance and administrative machinery now being operated by the service.

Telegrams to Mayors and Governors.

Director Clarkson has telegraphed all governors, the mayors of principal cities, and chairman of all State councils of defense, requesting their cooperation in the work of the committee.

Through Nathan A. Smyth, chairman of the central board on bureaus for returning soldiers and sailors (which is made up of representatives of the Red Cross, the War Camp Community Service, the Y. M. C. A., the Y. W. C. A., the Knights of Columbus, the Jewish Welfare Board, the Salvation Army, the American Library Association, and church organizations), the cooperation of the great welfare organizations will be retained and the splendid work which they have been doing by coordinating their efforts with the Federal Employment Service continued. This cooperation has involved not only the finding of employment for soldiers and sailors, but the clearance through the service of all applications for assistance from civilians of every class.

Campaign of Education.

The committee under the leadership of Col. Woods will also assist in forwarding the campaign of education already started for the stimulation of industry and to keep before employers the advantages and necessity of listing their employment

MARITIME CONTROL OF TRADE TO TURKEY AND ASIA MINOR

Rules for Shipments Destined to Mediterranean and Black Sea Ports.

The War Trade Board announces (W. T. B. R. 647) that the following plan is in effect for the control of maritime traffic to Constantinople, Asia Minor, the Black Sea (including the Sea of Azof), the coast of Asia Minor, whether occupied or unoccupied by allied troops, and the Bulgarian coast of the Mediterranean Sea.

The allied naval authorities in Constantinople will examine the manifests of all ships destined to Constantinople and the Black Sea (including the Sea of Azof), and in the case of any ships having prohibited cargo (see W. T. B. R. 641, issued March 12, 1919, giving list of commodities the shipment of which to Black Sea ports is restricted), said authorities will take the necessary measures to prevent the unloading or the transit of the prohibited merchandise.

Naval authorities, in agreement with the military authorities of the associated governments in Constantinople, will prepare the list of ports of the Black Sea and of the Sea of Azof, with which all communications may be forbidden for military reasons, and will consequently refuse to grant permission to ships to go to said ports.

At all points along the coast of Asia Minor not occupied by allied troops the control of prohibited merchandise above referred to will be governed by the local naval authorities of the associated governments.

On the Bulgarian coast of the Mediterranean and on the coast of Asia occupied by the military forces of the associated governments, the control of prohibited merchandise will be exercised by the allied naval authorities.

RESIGNS FROM RED CROSS.

Lieut. Col. William Endicott has resigned as Red Cross commissioner for Great Britain, to take effect March 15, when he will return to his home in Boston to take up his private interests as a member of the firm of Kidder, Peabody & Co. He has been the head of the American Red Cross commission for Great Britain since October, 1917. Maj. R. Stuart Smith, who has served as deputy commissioner for Great Britain, will become head of the commission to close up the work.

needs with the Federal Employment Service, the bureaus for returning soldiers and sailors, or such other agencies as the committee may be instrumental in establishing.

In this way it is believed that the work of the Employment Service, which up to the present time has involved the finding of employment for approximately 100,000 workers a week, can carry on without interruption.

Col. Woods and his staff have already established headquarters in the Council of National Defense Building.

WILL ASK LAWYERS TO HELP PROTECT LIBERTY BOND OWNERS

The Federal Trade Commission authorizes the following:-

Thousands of attorneys throughout the United States are to be asked to volunteer their efforts in the Government campaign to protect liberty bond holders from fake stock investment schemes.

One large organization already has proceeded to notify its membership to this end.

The lawyers will be asked to send at once to the Federal Trade Commission the names, addresses, and "literature" of stock peddlers seeking to induce liberty bond holders to "exchange" their bonds for questionable securities.

GOVERNMENT COOPERATION WITH OIL INDUSTRY URGED

my mind a more significant fact was the ready response of the committee to the call to service by the Government. The supervision of the industry required under the provisions of the Lever Act and by Executive order of the President might have been rendered exceedingly difficult, but the relations established between Mr. Requa, general director of the oil division of the Fuel Administration, and Mr. Bedford, chairman of the national petroleum war service committee, guaranteed the cordial cooperation which has marked the relations between the Government and the industry from the first.

Desire for Common Good.

"I can not allow this occasion to pass without expressing the earnest hope that the spirit of cooperation thus established between the Government and the industry—I might rather say between the public, represented by Government, and the industry—should be continued in some effective way. The influences which led capital and labor to unite in a common purpose, which overcame hurtful competition, and which brought the representatives of Government and industry into cordial and effective cooperation—these influences still exist, for, except to the few who sought material gain, they are rooted in desire for the common good and appreciation of a new era in which human welfare is placed above material possessions.

"We have refused to allow one world group to dominate other world groups. Free people who are also understanding people perceive that the spirit, not the form, of autocracy excites opposition, and that this spirit exists within our borders as well as abroad, and is expressed in movements organized and supported by the extremists at each end of the social and economic scale. The national petroleum war service committee, which has so effectively and generously cooperated with the Government during the war, will unquestionably see both the wisdom and the necessity of continuing that cooperation to make safe the democracy for which we have fought."

A total of 35 locomotives were shipped to various railroads during the week ended March 8, according to a statement by the Railroad Administration.

REPRODUCTION IN WAX OF WOUNDS BEING MADE BY MEDICAL SERVICE

The War Department authorizes the following statement from the office of the Surgeon General:

An important work now being carried on by the Medical Department of the Army is the preparation of various lesions of the skin in wax showing the nature of wounds and diseases during the late war. The wax reproductions are being made in the Army Medical Museum by an expert, who has already made a number of models.

The Medical Department desires to make this collection as excellent and as representative as possible. The following types of cases can be well represented in wax: Chronic or unhealed ulcers following various types of wounds; unhealed lesions resulting from gas burns;

3. With respect to the exportation of all commodities other than those contained in the "revised free list" and in the above-mentioned "rationed list" (which commodities, for convenience, will be referred to as "nonrationed commodities"), applications for export licenses will now be considered if they are accompanied by the numbers of the import certificates issued by the Swedish Handels Kommission upon the undertakings of the individual importers, and hereafter, shipments of such commodities need not be consigned to any importing association. For the convenience, however, of shippers who have already received, or made arrangements to secure, numbers of import certificates issued by the importing associations, the War Trade Board will, until further notice, receive and consider applications for shipments of "nonrationed commodities," in accordance with the procedure heretofore applicable to shipments to Sweden.

unusual scar formations; and unusual skin diseases. Such lesions can be most naturally reproduced by wax models.

It is believed that many of the hospitals receiving cases from overseas have cases of this nature which should be reproduced for permanent record, and as it is impossible for the expert in wax models to travel from place to place to prepare these casts, it has been requested that when such cases occur at any Army hospital that they be reported to the Laboratory Division of the Surgeon General's Office, together with a brief description of the case and probable permanence of the lesion at the time, accompanied by a rough unmounted photograph.

It is the intention of the Medical Department to order especially interesting cases of this character to the Walter Reed Hospital at Washington for further treatment and for the production of the models, which will be a permanent exhibit in the Army Medical Museum.

MOVEMENT OF EXPORT FREIGHT DURING WEEK ENDING MARCH 10

While the strike among the marine workers at the port of New York hampered to some extent the movement of traffic during the week ended March 10, according to a report made public by Walker D. Hines, Director General of Railroads, there were 22,000 cars of export freight on hand there, including 3,500 cars of provisions ready for shipment abroad.

In the Allegheny region the movement of tidewater coal dumped during the week showed an increase of 18,600 tons over the previous week. In the same region 47 special trains and 60 extra cars were operated to accommodate the movement of soldiers and discharged men.

In the southern region, while the movement of citrus fruits from Florida shows a heavy increase over the week previous, ample refrigerator cars to supply the demand are on hand.

In the northwestern region during the past week 1,100 cars of export freight were cleared through Seattle, the largest number for any week during the past year. A heavy movement of cattle in the southwestern region is expected on March 20, amounting to about 16,000 cars. Ample cars are available to take care of all demands, however.

COMMISSION TO ADJUST LOSSES BY SURPLUS MINE PRODUCTION

Former Senator J. F. Shafroth, of Colorado; Philip M. Moore, of St. Louis, Mo.; and former Representative M. D. Foster, of Illinois, have been appointed by Secretary of the Interior Lane as members of the commission that will have charge of the payment of the losses incurred by mining men in the production of manganese, chrome, pyrites, and tungsten for war purposes.

During the war the Interior Department, the Emergency Fleet Corporation, and the War Industries, War Trade, and Shipping Boards insistently urged the mining men to produce these materials to supply the urgent needs of the Nation for war purposes. When the armistice came, these mineral producers, as a result of their response to the demands of the Government, had on hand ready for delivery quantities of these materials, for which there was no peace-time market.

Claims for Losses.

Congress set aside the sum of $8,500,000 to meet claims for these losses, which must be filed within three months after the passage of the act. The law states that the claims must have been incurred between April 6, 1917, when the United States went to war, and November 12, 1918, when the armistice was signed. The Secretary of the Interior is charged in the act with taking into consideration and charging to the claimant the market value of the minerals on hand November 12, 1918, and also the salvage or usable value of the machinery that was installed to produce these war minerals.

Mr. Moore is a former president of the American Institute of Mining Engineers and a well-known engineer.

Mr. Shafroth was a member of the Senate Committee on Mines and Mining of the Sixty-fifth Congress, and Mr. Foster was chairman of the House Committee on Mines and Mining.

553 FREIGHT CARS ACCEPTED.

During the week ended March 8, 1919, a total of 553 freight cars were accepted by various railroads, according to a weekly statement by the Railroad Administration.

Of this number influenza-pneumonia claimed 37 victims in the Navy and 10 in the Marine Corps, tuberculosis caused 13 deaths, while drowning and other accidents added a total of 21. The other deaths were due to various diseases.

CUBAN RESTRICTIONS MODIFIED ON TRADING IN WHEAT FLOUR

The War Trade Board announces (W. T. B. R. 651), for the information of exporters, and supplementing its previous announcements (W. T. B. R. 607, dated Feb. 20, 1919, and W. T. B. R. 640, dated Mar. 12, 1919); that it is informed that the Cuban Government will permit all shipments of wheat flour made prior to February 20, 1919, to be imported without restriction, either to importer or exporter, upon presentation of the certified bill of lading. Shipments of wheat flour made after February 20, 1919, will not be permitted to be imported unless the importer shall purchase an equal amount of wheat flour from the director of subsistence of the Cuban Government.

MAY BAR FOREIGN CEREALS TO KEEP OUT BAD DISEASES

The Department of Agriculture authorizes the following:

Prohibition or restriction of movements of wheat, rye, barley, oats, and rice to Continental United States from Australia, Japan, India, Italy, France, Germany, Belgium, Great Britain, Ireland, and Brazil is believed by the United States Department of Agriculture to be necessary on account of the prevalence in those countries of the flag smut and take-all diseases.

The former affects wheat alone, and the latter wheat, rye, barley, oats, and rice. A hearing, to determine whether or not a quarantine is necessary, will be held at 10 o'clock, March 25, in the offices of the Federal Horticultural Board, Washington, at which persons interested in the proposed quarantine may be heard, either in person or by attorney.

Both Destructive Diseases.

Both of the diseases are very destructive. Flag smut affects the leaf blades, leaf sheaths, stems, and sometimes the spikes of wheat. Usually every shoot is affected, the leaves wither, and the spike is frequently replaced by a mass of twisted leaves. The spores are carried on the seed and live over in the soil. In portions of Australia losses from this disease run from one-tenth to one-half of the crop.

The take-all disease, known also as whitehead and footrot, attacks the roots and base of the plants, rotting the roots and blackening the base of the stems. Young wheat plants speedily wither and die. Older ones may survive, but rarely produce grain. Heavy losses have been sustained in all countries where this disease occurs.

The danger to the United States lies in the possibility of importation of the cereal grains for seed purposes. Hitherto there have been no considerable commercial importations, and therefore these diseases have not been introduced. The danger from imported seed, and also the possibility of introducing the diseases through possible commercial shipments from Australia, where there has been a large accumulation of wheat, make it necessary to consider quarantine action. It is not improbable, according to the Department of Agriculture, that methods of treatment by exposing the grain to steam or dry heat may be found practicable. Such treatment would render the grain worthless for seed purposes, but probably would not decrease its value for feed or manufacturing purposes.

Completion of Studies at Army School of Nursing

The War Department authorizes the following statement from the office of the Surgeon General:

Owing to the rapid decrease in the medical service, only those students who desire to complete the course and obtain a diploma in nursing will be retained in the Army School of Nursing in Washington. Students not intending to complete the course will be issued transportation to their homes by April 1 or as soon thereafter as possible.

STATE DEPARTMENT ADVICES ON DISTURBANCES IN KOREA

Political Demonstrations Said to Be Led by Members of New Religious Society.

The Department of State has received information relative to the recent disturbances at Seoul and other parts of Korea, which resulted in the arrest of a large number of the rioters. The trouble seems to have originated through the circulation of a document signed by 32 Koreans containing attacks upon the Japanese Government and declaring the independence of Korea. A parade composed largely of students of Japanese and mission schools was broken up by the police at Seoul. Disorders occurred at other points, particularly in northern Korea, where there was reported a small loss of life.

A telegram received by the department reports that on March 12 the street demonstrations had practically ceased at Seoul and elsewhere, and that it was officially announced that only about 15 per cent of the active participants were Christians, that the principal leaders were members of a new political religious society, and that foreign missionaries were not connected with the movement. The object of the demonstrations is stated to have been to obtain freedom of speech, right of petition, and use of the Korean language in schools, and the correction of other grievances.

SECRETARY LANE CONTINUING EFFORTS FOR SOLDIER-SETTLEMENT LEGISLATION; HOMES PLANNED FOR MANY THOUSANDS

Belief Expressed That Bill Will Be Passed at Coming —Extra Session of Congress Enabling Work to Be Be- gun Reclaiming Lands. Progress of Legislation in the Various States.

The Department of the Interior authorizes the following:

Although Congress adjourned without bringing to a vote the proposed legislation, which, if enacted into law, would have made it possible for the Department of the Interior to begin work immediately on the construction of soldier settlements and provide work and homes for thousands of our returned soldiers, sailors, and marines on reclaimed land, the fact that the bill was favorably reported in both the House and Senate, and the Nation-wide approval of the plan as evidenced by the hundreds of letters of indorsement received daily at the department, have led Secretary Lane to take the stand that there is every reason to believe that a similar bill will be favorably considered at the coming special session of Congress.

Continuing Research Work.

He is accordingly continuing the preliminary work of investigation as far as the limited funds at his disposal will permit, and is also endeavoring to ascertain for the information of Congress the attitude toward the plan of as many men in the service as he is able to reach through the distribution of questionnaires at the various camps and naval stations throughout the country.

Secretary Lane is in thorough accord with Congressman Taylor, of Colorado, the author of the bill introduced at the last session of Congress for putting the soldier-settlement plan into effect, who said:

"I can only say to the House and to the country, and to the many thousands of our splendid boys who will be sorely disappointed by this failure of the House to pass this bill or act upon this subject, that I will reintroduce the bill on the opening day of the next session of Congress and push the measure with all the energy I possess, and I sincerely hope and believe that it will be speedily enacted into law. And I also hope that instead of the appropriation being for $100,000,000, it may be five times that amount; because, even then, we will not, in proportion to our wealth and resources, be doing nearly as much for our returning soldiers as is being done by Canada, Australia, and all other English-speaking countries. I am not only confident that this measure will be adopted, but I firmly believe it will go down in history as one of the great constructive policies of our country."

Many of the State legislatures have not met recently, but a large number of the States have already taken action by appropriate legislation or by the appointment of committees to cooperate with the Federal Government in connection with the soldier-settlement plan of the department. The action so far reported to the department is summarized in the following statement:

Alabama.—Bill for soldier settlement has become a law and the legislature has passed a memorial urging the State delegation in Congress to do everything possible to secure the enactment of Federal law. A committee working under the post-war council of defense, consisting of six State officials and three others, are officially in charge of the matter.

Arizona.—An appropriate bill for cooperation with the United States has been introduced.

Arkansas.—Gov. Brough has appointed a committee of 11, with himself as ex-officio member, to represent the State, and has wired President Wilson urging his active support of the congressional legislation. The legislature passed a joint resolution urging the adoption by Congress of soldier-settlement legislation.

Colorado.—A bill has been introduced carrying an appropriation of $750,000 for soldier settlements in cooperation with the Federal Government. A resolution endorsing the soldier-settlement legislation before Congress was adopted by both Houses.

McVey, president of the University of Kentucky, chairman; Harvey Chenault, of Richmond; Owsley Brown, of Louisville; W. A. Wickless, of Greenville; and W. F. Bradshaw, of Paducah, to represent the State in cooperative work, the legislature not being in session.

Louisiana.—Gov. Pleasant has wired President Wilson asking his active support of congressional legislation, and has appointed a committee of five to represent the State.

Maine.—The Governor's message to the legislature urges cooperation with the United States in soldier settlement.

Maryland.—The legislature is not in session, but the agricultural committee of the State Council of Defense is acting as a cooperating agency for the State.

Massachusetts.—A bill has been introduced providing for a commission for independent State settlement work and for cooperation with the Federal Government for soldier settlement. The bill carries an appropriation of $500,000.

Michigan.—A bill has been introduced for cooperative soldier-settlement work; also a bill for a holding corporation designed especially for cooperation with the United States.

Minnesota.—A bill has been introduced for cooperation with the United States in soldier settlement; also a bill for a land-holding corporation for action with the United States.

Mississippi.—The Mississippi Legislature does not meet until 1920, but a committee of eight has been appointed to represent the State at a State-wide meeting to formulate a policy.

Missouri.—Bills have been introduced for the creation of drainage, waterways, and conservation commissions and for the utilization of moneys derived from the sale of sand and gravel from Missouri rivers, and providing for cooperation with the United States in reclamation matters; also a bill for soldier settlement.

Cooperation With Federal Government.

Montana.—A bill for cooperation with the Federal Government on soldier settlements and carrying an appropriation of $50,000 has been passed.

New Mexico.—A bill has been introduced for cooperation with the Federal Government on soldier settlements. Another bill provides for an appropriation of $400,000. The legislature has also memorialized Congress in favor of the passage of soldier-settlement legislation.

New York.—A bill has been introduced providing for cooperation with the United States in soldier-settlement matters. This bill carries an appropriation of $250,000.

North Carolina.—A resolution is pending to memorialize Congress to pass a soldier-settlement bill. The governor has appointed a committee of three to represent the State.

North Dakota.—A bill has been introduced providing an appropriation of $200,000 as a soldier-settlement and immigration fund.

Oklahoma.—A bill has been introduced calling for cooperation with the United States for soldier settlement, and Gov. Robertson has asked for a joint resolution memorializing Congress in favor of the enactment of legislation.

Oregon.—The legislature has passed a bill creating the Oregon Land Settlement Commission, appropriating an emergency fund for immediate activities, and also referring to the people at a special election to be held June 1, an act authorizing the sale of bonds of approximately $3,000,000 for general reclamation and land settlement in cooperation with the Federal Government. Mr. William H. Crawford, secretary of the commission, says: "The Oregon commission has the most enthusiastic support of the people and much is expected from the efforts toward land

Quantico Land, Commandeered for Marine Corps Base, Valued at $456,774, in Report Of Board Just Approved by Mr. Daniels

Secretary Daniels has approved the report of the board of valuation fixing at $456,744, the total valuation of the tract of land, approximately 5,110 acres, commandeered at Quantico, Va., for a permanent Marine Corps base. This site was taken over under proclamation of the President dated November 4, 1918, and Congress appropriated $475,000 for its purchase.

The report shows that there were 63 claimants, two of them claiming title to approximately 4,973 acres. The total valuation found for the property of these two claims is $346,537. The other 61, each of whom owns only a small tract, the total being an area of 137 acres, were awarded a total of $110,207. Most of these have land located in the village of Quantico, in most cases having dwelling houses and other improvements.

Two Large Claims.

One of the two claimants to the larger area is H. B. Hutchison, who claimed title to approximately 3,163 acres, valued by the board at $77,060. The greater part of the Hutchison property was entirely unimproved. Included in the Hutchison property, however, are several small unimproved lots in the village of Quantico.

The other large claimant is the Quantico Co. that claimed title to approximately 1,810 acres. For this property the board found a valuation of $269,477. The Quantico Co. property includes a number of lots in the village of Quantico, a sewer system that was installed by the company lying mainly within the area taken over under the proclamation, and also includes the wharf at the foot of Potomac Avenue in the village of Quantico together with a two-story brick building now used as the post headquarters, a two-story brick hotel building and several frame cottages that have been erected on the property by the Quantico Co.

Made Careful Investigation.

The board has made a careful and thorough investigation of values and has given the several claimants every reasonable opportunity to submit data as to values claimed. A transcript of the statements made at the public hearings before the board was kept.

Situated 34 miles from the Capital on the Southern Railway connecting Washington and the South, lying alongside the Lincoln Highway and with the Potomac furnishing transportation by water, Quantico is an ideal site for the great Marine Corps base.

Wonderful results have been accomplished by the great drainage and sewerage systems that have made the camp an excellent one from the standpoint of sanitation.

Further extensive improvements that will include all the modern features the war has shown to be of value have been planned and some of them are now being installed. Lying on the main line of the Richmond, Fredericksburg & Potomac

Railway, the camp has excellent transportation facilities. Six trains in each direction daily stop there, and with the installation of a large training camp the railroad company has agreed to make it a stopping point for its fast through trains, which will double the number now available.

Accommodations For 10,000 Men.

Along the track are two camp sites which will give sufficient accommodation for at least 10,000 men and along the Potomac River there are about 150 acres of clear level land, an ideal aviation field. At several points along the beach hangars for seaplanes can be established.

For training purposes the site is unexcelled. The excellent rifle range for known distance firing and a combat range have been developed and sufficient land has been acquired to provide an excellent artillery range. The country surrounding the site is thinly populated so that military maneuvers of almost any extent can be conducted.

U. S. EXPORTS CONTROL COMMITTEE MAKES ITS FINAL REPORT THROUGH DIRECTOR GENERAL OF RAILROADS

The United States Railroad Administration issues the following:

The Exports Control Committee, established June 11, 1918, for war purposes to control the flow of export traffic, has just made its final report, the committee having been disbanded March 1 at its own suggestion. The report, which was for the week ended February 28 and which was made public by Walker D. Hines, Director General of Railroads, shows that in the South Atlantic and Gulf districts the permit control on all bulk grain, both export and domestic, and all sacked grain for export destined to or via the Gulf port elevators has been removed. In the future carriers will not require permits for grain moving to or via any of the Gulf ports.

Iron and Steel Embargoes.

The embargo restrictions calling for permit system on iron and steel articles when destined to South America, Central America, Mexico, Cuba, and the West Indies have also been withdrawn, so that the only movement subject to permit control will be on iron and steel articles moving overseas.

The movement of overseas traffic for the week ending February 25 shows that receipts have again exceeded the deliveries to the extent of 1,737 cars at North Atlantic ports. There are 10,823 cars of food for export on hand at North Atlantic ports, which is 1,183 cars more than last week.

The report shows that there are 28,000,000 bushels of grain at Buffalo afloat for the Food Administration and Wheat Export Co., in addition to the grain in elevators. Applications will shortly be presented covering a movement of approximately 6,000,000 bushels of grain a week via North Atlantic ports, divided according to conditions at the ports, ample shipping program being available to promptly take care of grain on arrival.

As to Gulf ports, the stock of grain at New Orleans is 4,345,000 bushels with only one ship in port and six overdue with total grain allocations of 936,000 bushels.

The report follows:

Port Situation on Overseas Traffic.

Owing to the Exports Control Committee going out of existence effective March 1, 1919, this report will be the final one of the committee.

The situation has been given from week to week showing the fluctuations in accumulations at the various ports and pointing out conditions from time to time as the reports have been made.

The deliveries for the weeks to boats and other dispositions at Atlantic ports were as follows:

	Received (in cars).	Delivered (in cars).
Export freight at North Atlantic ports (exclusive of United States Government freight, bulk grain and coal)...	8,534	6,786
United States Government freight on railroad terminals..	1,293	1,304
Total.....	9,827	8,090

The total number of cars on hand at North Atlantic ports as of the 25th instant was 34,548, while for February 18 there were 32,767, showing an accumulation of 1,781 cars during the week at North Atlantic ports, in addition to the 1,331 cars of the previous week.

FOOD ADMINISTRATION.

As of the 25th instant, reports indicate at North Atlantic ports 10,823 cars of food for export on hand, exclusive of bulk grain, divided:

New York.....	6,644
Boston.....	1,179
Philadelphia.....	1,660
Baltimore.....	1,109
Newport-News.....	7
Norfolk.....	224

This is 1,183 cars more than last week.

The Food Administration has issued a notice to the effect that all applications for railroad shipping permits for the movement of sales of coarse grain to neutral countries must represent a bona fide sale; must show steamer name, steamship line, and prospective date of sailing (this information to be inserted by the interested steamship company). Further, in no case will a permit be granted unless sailing date can be assured within a reasonable time from date of application. In line with the foregoing, applications have been received from the Food Administration covering 150,000 bushels of rye for export via Baltimore to a neutral country.

Grains at Buffalo.

Of the grain at Buffalo, approximately 8,000,000 bushels of oats are for account of the Wheat Export Co. Of this amount 1,500,000 bushels are afloat, and as the contract of the Wheat Export Co. calls for return of boats to the owners by April 1, in order to engage in the coal and ore trade on the Lakes, the Wheat Export Co. advises it will be their intention to apply for permits through the Food Administration for approximately 500,000 bushels of oats per week.

Cable advices received by the Wheat Export Co. authorize them to increase loading of flour and wheat to the United Kingdom ports, and ocean programs are being arranged accordingly.

GRAIN SITUATION.

The grain situation indicates that at North Atlantic ports, with a total of 23,025,000 bushels working capacity, there are 22,449,000 bushels of grain in the elevators and held in cars for unloading. While there has been received in the elevators 4,105,000 bushels, there has only been cleared during the week 2,765,000 bushels, or approximately 68 per cent cleared of receipts.

At Port Arthur the elevator still holds its capacity without any ship allocation.

At Galveston the stock of grain is 800,000 bushels, with only one ship allocated for grain, viz, 98,000 bushels.

Account of lack of grain movement through Mobile the elevator at that point shut down March 1.

PROVISIONS.

There are 4,031 cars of provisions in New York Harbor alone, divided: British Government, 155; French Government, 958; Italian Government, 739; Belgian Relief, 714; Food Administration, 720, and miscellaneous, 745. "Miscellaneous" covers the United States Army, Swedish commission, Belgian consul, and also the supreme council of supply and relief, the latter intended for relief of neutral countries.

The British have ample steamer space available or in sight to take care of their provisions on hand.

Provisions for account of the European relief are being watched closely, although the situation is very good. Provisions for the Swedish commission, Belgian consul, and United States Army are being handled currently.

DELINQUENT BUREAU.

The delinquent bureau reports a reduction in the old commercial export cars during the past week, although freight for River Platte points is starting to climb up, due to the strike in that section, causing delivery orders to fall off correspondingly. The French Government cleaned up 20 cars of oil which have been on hand for a long time.

COMMERCIAL EXPORTS.

From February 1 to February 25 the average number of cars of commercial export freight delivered at New York was 415 per day, against 253 for January, showing a remarkable increase in the commercial exports.

UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT.

The Army freight in cars in the New York district is largely off the regular terminals of the railroads. For instance, of 645 cars at Port Newark, Kearney, and Bay Ridge, only 280 affect the terminals. About 6,000 tons of oats have been authorized to the Sixtieth Street elevator, New York Central Railroad.

The Army expect to give up the use of their Bush Terminal space within 30 days. They are moving stored freight to South Brooklyn at the rate of 8 to 15 cars per day and sending all obsolete material to interior bases. They will release Bush Terminal piers 1, 2, and 3 within two weeks, thus giving the various steamship lines more facilities. Piers 6 and 7 will be kept until the Government piers at the South Brooklyn Army base are completed.

BRITISH MINISTRY OF SHIPPING.

Effective March 1, 1919, Mr. E. J. Karr, director, British ministry of shipping (representing the allied Governments), will no longer be connected with the traffic executive's staff.

NORTH ATLANTIC PORTS.

The general situation at North Atlantic ports is given in the foregoing, and the increased accumulations appear to affect principally New York and Philadelphia. There are no special items which stand out by themselves from the general situation.

SOUTHERN PORTS. (As of the 22d instant.)

The total cars on hand at southern ports show a decrease under previous period.

At Savannah there was the usual activity. Three ships cleared during the week with European cargoes, 10 ships are in port taking on European cargoes, with 3 additional ships overdue to take on cargoes for Europe. A recent fire destroyed more or less of the Seaboard Air Line terminals on Hutchinson Island, at Savannah, but did not interfere with export facilities to the extent of interrupting traffic already in transit under permits, except to divert a limited amount of export freight to other terminals for connection with ships.

At Jacksonville two ships cleared during the week for Great Britain with mixed cargoes of lumber, cotton, and rosin.

At Pensacola three schooners cleared during the week with lumber for Cuba and South America. Eight schooners are in port taking on lumber cargoes and two additional ships are overdue.

At Mobile four vessels cleared with cargoes for Cuba. Four vessels are in port taking on cargoes for various countries and three ships are scheduled to call during the week.

At Gulfport one vessel cleared, five are in port taking on lumber cargoes, and one is overdue.

At New Orleans the handling of export business continues active. Fourteen vessels, including seven with European cargoes, cleared during the week. Twenty-nine ships are in port taking on cargoes (exclusive of grain) for various countries and 10 additional ships are overdue. There is an unusual accumulation at this port of sacked goods for account of the Food Administration and four vessels have been allocated to call for 15,500 tons of this particular cargo between February 24 and March 15. Of the number of vessels in port taking on cargoes, comparatively few are destined to Europe, but the allocations for the present week are ample and will clear up a large quantity of European traffic.

At Texas City three steamers cleared with miscellaneous cargoes for Mexico, one vessel is in port and one overdue, both of which will take on cargoes for Mexico.

At Galveston the handling of export business continues active. Four vessels cleared during the week with European cargoes, seven are in port taking on miscellaneous cargoes (exclusive of grain) and six additional vessels are overdue.

GENERAL.

Applications are continuing to come in from the trade for storage space in carriers' facilities at the ports for export cotton seed cake for an indefinite period, but under existing conditions it is found necessary to require the exporters to make definite ocean engagements, furnishing the name of the vessel and due date at the port at which the cake is to be handled before allowing them to make shipments from the mill. Fifteen days in advance of expected arrival is allowed for assembling, assorting and sacking the cargoes on specified port terminal, which plan has enabled them to do considerable business, particularly through the ports of New Orleans and Savannah.

THROUGH EXPORT BILLS OF LADING ON COTTON.

As the result of requests of the Dallas Cotton Exchange and on the recommendation of the regional traffic assistant of the southwestern region, the Southern Export Committee will delegate a representative at Dallas, Tex., to handle through export bill of lading authorities with carriers for the convenience of the Dallas cotton shippers. The arrangement at Dallas is similar to that at Memphis, at which point a representative was

RAILROADS TRANSFERRED OR REGROUPED BY ORDER OF DIRECTOR GENERAL HINES

The United States Railroad Administration issues the following:

Walker D. Hines, Director General of Railroads, issued a circular, effective March 1, transferring the St. Louis-San Francisco Railroad (between Memphis and Birmingham) from the southern to the southwestern region.

And also transferring the Illinois Central Railroad (north of Cairo and Paducah) from the central western region to the southern region.

And also transferring the following railroads from the southwestern to the central western region:

The Chicago, Rock Island & Gulf.

(From St. Louis to Kansas City, Herington to Salina, and all lines south and east of main line between Herington and Tucumcari.)

Mr. Hale Holden, regional director of the central western region, is placing the part of the Rock Island Lines transferred from the southwestern to the central western region under the jurisdiction of the Federal manager of the Rock Island. He is also placing the Fort Worth & Denver City, the Wichita Valley, the Wichita delegated to handle bill of lading authorities effective January 28, 1919.

PACIFIC COAST SITUATION (AS OF THE 21ST INSTANT).

In the Puget Sound district there has been a net decrease of 494 cars from the previous week, the total number of cars on hand being 4,501. The deliveries exceeded arrivals by 580 cars.

In the San Francisco district there has been a net decrease in cars on hand of 170, the total on hand being 1,250 cars.

A conference was held in New York on Friday, the 21st, with exporters and ocean representatives of the Pacific coast steamship lines. Two subjects were considered: First, the discontinuance of the permit system at all ports; second, the readjustment of transcontinental export rates from Pittsburgh and other territories to Pacific coast ports to meet competition through Atlantic ports to the Orient.

It was clearly shown by Railroad Administration representatives that the continuation of the permit system was absolutely essential to the proper regulation of the export movement, and that this regulation was to the interest of the exporters and steamship lines, as well as the railroads.

The Chicago and New York representatives of the Pacific coast committees will be given some additional latitude in the matter of permits that will prove helpful. No action, however, was considered necessary in regard to transcontinental export rates at this time.

In making these reports from week to week the committee feels under many obligations to the different agencies carrying out the policies outlined by it, and making complete reports to it, enabling us to keep in touch with the situation at all points.

Railroad Car Supply and Opportunity For Extending Use By Owner Lines

The United States Railroad Administration, Division of Operations, issues the following:

CIRCULAR No. 27.

WASHINGTON, February 15, 1919.

Present conditions with respect to car supply present an opportunity for:

(a) Relocation of equipment more in accord with ownership than has been practicable during war conditions, under which each unit has been used with the sole purpose of meeting the then existing traffic demands.

(b) Providing to a greater extent for use by the owner of equipment of its accepted standards.

(c) Providing for the return to the owning road when desired for rebuilding or application of betterments cars which can be put in safe condition for movement at reasonable cost.

To accomplish the above, regional directors will direct Federal managers and all concerned in the proper handling of cars in accordance with the following, without abandoning the principle of common use of cars:

1. In general, cars should be loaded to or in the direction of the home road. This will not apply to cars handled under direction of the Refrigerator and Tank Car Department of the Car Service Section at Chicago, or those handled under direction of the Eastern Railroads Coal Car Pool at Pittsburgh.

2. The car service section will, as may be agreed upon with regional directors, relocate equipment according to ownership by regions so far as practicable.

3. The regional directors will then relocate the same cars between owners on the basis of ownership so far as practicable.

4. Any railroad will accept its own equipment empty at any junction point.

5. Any cars already placed on storage tracks because of surplus will not be moved so long as relocation orders placed as provided in paragraphs numbered 2 and 3 can be filled from other available supply; or as may be specially directed.

6. When roads desire to rebuild their cars, regional directors should make application through the mechanical department of the United States Railroad Administration, and upon its approval the car service section will authorize the owners to call upon holding roads (as determined from car records) for the return of the cars in such numbers and at such times as their shop operations require. These cars to move on billing stating the authority and that they must not be diverted.

7. In carrying out the policies here indicated caution should be observed by regional directors so as not to bring about burdensome empty car mileage.

W. T. TYLER,
Director, Division of Operation.

WALKER D. HINES,
Director General of Railroads.

Forwarding Discharge Papers with Application for $60 Bonus.

Confusion has arisen regarding the forwarding of discharge papers in making application for the $60 bonus.

Gen. Lord, Director of Finance, War Department, has explained the reasons why it is essential that the original copy of discharge papers must be forwarded with the applications for bonus and why a certified copy can not be received. He states that the notation of payment of bonus must be stamped on the original certificate. There can, of course, be only one original, while there can be several certified copies. If certified copies were received, it would be difficult to prevent duplicate payments or fraud.

Men should doubtless be advised to retain certified copies of their discharge certificate before forwarding the original to Washington. The certified copy may be of use in applying for positions or in other instances in which it is necessary to prove that they have been honorably discharged from the service. One home-service section is arranging to make a photostatic copy of all discharge papers before assisting men to forward the original with their application for bonus. Attention is called to the fact that in making application to the Bureau of War Risk Insurance for compensation, a certified copy of the discharge paper is sufficient.

In sending the original discharge paper to the zone finance officer it would seem advisable for men to use registered mail, which will give them a receipt.

Payments to Disabled Men Taking Vocational Training.

The following rules determine the amounts to be paid by the Bureau of War Risk Insurance and the Federal Board for Vocational Education to disabled men taking vocational training:

Commissioned officers.—The amount of last month's active service pay is paid monthly during period of vocational training by the Compensation and Claims Division of the Bureau of War Risk Insurance. Nothing is added by the Federal board, as the pay is invariably more than the minimum monthly income specified.

Enlisted men.—(a) Single or married, living apart from dependents during period of vocational training, receive $65 per month, exclusive of amount paid dependents.

Rule: From compensation, or last month's active service pay (whichever the greater), deduct total allotment. Deduct this difference from $65 and the result equals amount Federal board will add.

Example: Man, wife, and 1 child—Pay, $30. Compensation, $55 (greater than pay), less compulsory allotment ($15) equals $40. $65 less $40 equals $25, the amount the Federal board will add. Totals received by man and dependents are: Man, $65; dependents, compulsory allotment of $15 plus Government allowance of $25 equals $40; in all, $105 monthly.

(b) Single or married, living with dependents during period of vocational training, receive not less than $75 per month, inclusive of amount paid dependents.

Rule: To compensation, or last month's active service pay (whichever the greater), add total Government allowance. Deduct this sum from $75 and, the difference, if any, equals the amount the Federal board will add. If there is no difference, or if the sum of compensation and Government allowance is more than $75, the Federal board adds nothing.

Example: Man, wife, and 1 child—Pay, $30. Compensation, $55 (greater than pay), plus Government allowance of $25, equals $80. This sum is more than $75, therefore the Federal board adds nothing. Totals received by man and dependents are: Compensation, $55, plus Government allowance of $25, equals $80. In all, $80 per month.

Allotments and Allowances—Conditions which Determine Dependency of Class B Relatives.

On February 12, 1919, the following regulations on the above subject, rescinding all previous conflicting regulations thereon, were issued by the Bureau of War Risk Insurance:

General statement.—The purpose of the war-risk insurance act is to provide assistance to the family of any enlisted man in lieu of that previously rendered by him, which assistance is necessary to support the family.

The assistance previously rendered by the enlisted man in the nature of habitual contribution may have been either in money or service. Assistance is due from the Government in the event that the family is dependent in whole or in part thereon.

Habitual contribution.—The enlisted man, for a period not exceeding 12 months prior to entering the service, must have contributed to the allottee a monthly amount at least equal to the allotment plus the family allowance.

When the habitual contribution of an enlisted man who lived at home covered payment for board and lodging, a deduction of $10 per month may be made from such contribution in determining whether the contribution is sufficient to sustain the family allowance.

Contributions by the enlisted man for the purpose of making payments on real estate purchased by the allottee but neither used nor to be used as a home by the allottee shall not be considered as contributions because of dependency. The payment by the enlisted man of monthly payments or interest upon the indebtedness on a home purchased by the allottee shall be considered as contributions because of dependency, on the theory that it is identical with rent.

When dependency is clearly shown to exist after the enlisted man entered the service and is not due to the allottee's own act and the facts do not conclusively show that dependency existed prior to such entry into the service, it shall be presumed that dependency has arisen subsequent to entry into service, within the meaning of paragraph 3 of Treasury Decision No. 16, and the allowance is payable in the absence of an habitual contribution.

Dependency.—Dependency on the enlisted man in whole or in part does not exist when Class B relatives have an income sufficient to provide for their reasonable support and maintenance, including clothing and necessary medical treatment.

A presumption of nondependency exists when the incomes received are as follows:

When the allottee has an income of more than $50 per month or when two members of a family included in the award, living together, have an income of more than $90 per month, with $20 per month additional allowed for each additional member.

In determining the amount of income in a given case, account shall be taken of all income from property of every character owned by the allottee or other person included in the award, earnings of persons included in the award and allotment and allowance awarded them in any prior case. Account shall not be taken of contributions of other members of the family of legal age not included in the award.

A later regulation relating to previous habitual contribution by an enlisted man to his Class B relatives was issued February 28, 1919.

Proof as to habitual contributions.—The amount which an enlisted man habitually contributed to his Class B relatives is a matter of proof and the statement made by him on Form 1-B is not controlling. Evidence showing habitual contributions in excess of, or less than, the amount stated on Form 1-B by the enlisted man may be received whether Form 1-B is changed or not, and if of sufficient weight, may overcome the statement of the enlisted man.

Rewards of Allotments and Allowances on Change of Payee or Death of Allottee.

A regulation of the Bureau of War Risk Insurance issued January 6, 1919, provides that when an award made to either Class A or Class B dependents has been paid to one member of a group on behalf of all, or has been paid to the custodian named by the enlisted man, or to a custodian reported through some other apparently reliable source, and a change of payee for the same beneficiaries is authorized, the award to the new payee shall commence from the date to which the payment has already been made.

A regulation of the bureau issued February 1, 1919, provides that on the death of any person to whom is payable an allotment or an allotment and allowance on behalf of a group of two or more

Health Conditions at Army Camps Within the United States As Reported to the Surgeon General for Week Ending March 7

The War Department authorizes the following:

Herewith is a detailed report on the health conditions of troops in the United States for the week ending March 7, 1919. The report of the Division of Sanitation to the Surgeon General of the Army for that week is as follows:

1. Satisfactory health conditions continue among troops in the United States. A decided decline is noted in the number of new cases of influenza and pneumonia, compared with last week. Camps Taylor and Upton, of the cantonment group, ports of embarkation, and the Southern Department report the greater part of the total number of new cases of these diseases. Other special diseases reported are few in number and of relatively little importance.

2. The strength of troops in the United States as reported is 540,525, as compared with 551,821 last week, a net reduction of approximately 11,000. The death rate for disease (11.4) is somewhat higher than last week (9.6). The noneffective rate remains high (64). There were 126 deaths reported for the week, of which 117 were from disease. Pneumonia was reported as the cause of death in 47 cases, tuberculosis 15, and influenza 6.

3. Special diseases from camps and stations in the United States were reported as follows:

	This week.	Last week.
Influenza.....	389	607
Pneumonia.....	189	227
Measles.....	63	64
Meningitis.....	10	8
Scarlet fever.....	54	67
Veneral diseases.....	689	795

4. The admission and noneffective rates among troops in the American Expeditionary Forces, France, are higher than for the preceding week. The death rate (disease only) is 10.7.

Pneumonia continues to increase in prevalence among troops in France. The incidence of this disease is now something over three times greater in France than in the United States. There were 1,942 new cases reported against 1,560 last week. Out of a total of 516 deaths (disease only) 414 were reported as due to pneumonia.

5. Reports from Siberia indicate a continuance of excellent health conditions among our troops.

Disease conditions among troops for the week ending March 7, 1919.

¹ Sick and death rates among troops in the United States will continue to be relatively high, as the numerical strength of troops in the United States continues to decline from week to week as a result of demobilization. Well men only are eligible for discharge, while the sick and otherwise disabled are retained in service for further treatment. The continued influx of sick and wounded (properly chargeable to commands overseas) is another factor tending to increase rates in the United States and to diminish correspondingly similar rates overseas.

beneficiaries of Class A or Class B, including such person, a reward covering the period from the date of last payment may be made to the remaining beneficiaries in the group included in the award, on receipt of information indicating to whom payment properly may be made. The share of the deceased beneficiary under the apportionment rules of the bureau, unpaid at the date of death, can be paid only on a claim for reimbursement through the Accounting Division.

A regulation of the bureau issued February 4, 1919, provides:

Where an enlisted man has apportioned his allotment between two or more Class B dependents and one of such allottees dies, the statutory allotment shall be reawarded to the remaining allottee or allottees.

Where the entire allotment to a family group of Class B dependents has been made payable to one person included in the group and such allottee dies, the allotment shall be reawarded to a surviving parent, if named by the enlisted man on Form 1-B as living at the same domicile. If no surviving parent is reported, the allotment may be reawarded to a brother or sister of legal age named on Form 1-B as living at the same domicile.

If the reaward of the allotment can not be made to a member of the group, it may be made to a guardian or custodian for the benefit of the surviving members of the group.

In all cases the reaward of allotment will date from the first of the month next succeeding the month in which the death of the allottee occurred.

GREAT BRITAIN'S SEED SUPPLY SAID TO EXCEED REQUIREMENTS

The United States Department of Agriculture issues the following:

The seed survey conducted in Great Britain has revealed the fact that with but few exceptions the quantity of each of the kinds of agricultural and garden seeds available this season is greater than that available last season. Even in the case of red clover seed, Great Britain's supply seems to be in excess of its own planting requirements, and some of the French and Italian seed that had been imported to Great Britain is being exported.

Letters and cablegrams from the representatives of the United States Department of Agriculture, who have been in Europe for the past two months, do not indicate that there will be an early active demand in England for any of the seeds commonly exported by the United States, except meadow fescue seed. It is possible that Russia and a few of the other countries might need a considerable quantity of our seeds, but by the time transportation, monetary, and other difficulties clear up it is thought that European surpluses of various kinds of seeds gradually will filter into Russia and elsewhere, thereby leaving no appreciable opening for American seed.

It is understood that the acreage planted to root crop seeds in England is larger than usual, but some of these crops have suffered somewhat from unfavorable weather, which also has had its effect on delaying the thrashing of some of the important vegetable seed crops.

SMYRNA GOVERNOR HELD.

The former governor general of Smyrna, Rahmi Bey, has been imprisoned by the Turkish authorities, according to advices received at the State Department to-day. Rahmi Bey distinguished himself during his terms as governor general of Smyrna for his benevolent attitude toward American and allied interests in Smyrna, especially the protection of schools and the property of Americans.

SOLDIERS HONORED BY PERSHING FOR HEROISM

The commander in chief, in the name of the President, has awarded the distinguished-service cross to the following-named officers and soldiers for the acts of extraordinary heroism described after their names:

Pvt. WILLIAM L. GILLESPIE, Company G, 16th Infantry, A. S. No. 43221 (deceased). For extraordinary heroism in action in the forest of Argonne, France, October, 1918. While carrying a message from the support to the firing line, Pvt. Gillespie was severely wounded, but he continued on his mission and delivered his message. Home address, Mrs. W. R. Gillespie, mother, 632 Harrison Street, Fort Wayne, Ind.

Lieut. WALTER V. DIAL (deceased), 2d Machine Gun Battalion. For extraordinary heroism in action near Fleville, France, October 5, 1918. Lieut. Dial displayed exceptional courage in leading his platoon in attacking and breaking up German machine-gun nests under heavy artillery and machine-gun fire. Although he was wounded, Lieut. Dial refused to be evacuated and continued to advance until he was killed. Next of kin, A. G. Dial, father, 1676 Third Avenue, Huntington, W. Va.

Capt. ROBERT S. CAIN, 11th Infantry. For extraordinary heroism in action near Fismette, France, August 10-12, 1918. Armed with an automatic rifle, Capt. Cain personally led the advance elements of the line in driving the enemy from the forest north of the Vesle River, thereby maintaining liaison at great personal risk. Home address, Mrs. Hannah B. Cain, wife, 4063 Penn Avenue, Pittsburgh, Pa.

First Lieut. LEE C. FLETCHER (deceased), 11th Infantry. For extraordinary heroism in action at Fismette, France, August 10-13, 1918. When his battalion was attacked by a greatly superior force, Lieut. Fletcher, intelligence officer, organized a detachment and successfully defended an important position. Later, when our barrage was falling short, he voluntarily carried a message to the artillery for the purpose of correcting the fire. Home address, George Fletcher, father, Wellboro, N. Y.

Capt. EDMOND W. LYNCH (deceased), 11th Infantry. For extraordinary heroism in action at Fismette, France, August 10, 1918. Seeing two of his platoons being cut off by the enemy, Capt. Lynch alone went to their rescue and engaged the enemy with his automatic pistol, killing several. He saved his platoons, but in so doing sacrificed his own life. Home address, Mrs. Alice W. Lynch, wife, 28 Bonhall Avenue, Sharon Hill, Pa.

First Sergt. CHARLES A. ROBBINS, Company B, 81th Infantry, A. S. No. 1746061. For extraordinary heroism in action near Bois de Grand Fontaine, France, September 26, 1918. Although severely wounded, Sergt. Robbins continued to advance with the company until the objective was reached, and then returned to the rear only when ordered to do so by his commanding officer. He then assisted in the removal of the wounded to a dressing station. Home address, Mrs. Mabel Robbins, wife, 47 Chestnut Street, South Manchester, Conn.

Sergt. HOWARD C. LEHY (deceased), Company B, 31th Infantry, A. S. No. 1746071. For extraordinary heroism in action near Bois de Grand Fontaine, France, September 26, 1918. After his patrol had disposed of two sniper posts with rifle grenades, Sergt. Lehy held his group in position and covered the withdrawal of his platoon from heavy enfilading machine-gun fire of the enemy. Home address, Mrs. John Lehy, mother, Brown Place, Oakhurst, N. J.

First Lieut. GEORGE RICHARD THOMPSON, 105th Field Signal Battalion. For extraordinary heroism in action near Bellcourt, France, September 29, 1918. With another officer and 24 soldiers, Lieut. Thompson was proceeding to the front line to establish an advance message center, when the detachment was caught in the enemy's counter barrage. Although seriously wounded himself, Lieut. Thompson assisted in dressing the wounds of his men and then continued the work of establishing communication until he was forced to be evacuated two hours later. Home address, Mrs. George R. Thompson, Washington, D. C.

Sergt. GROVER C. HILLIARD, Company K, 17th Infantry, A. S. No. 1309157. For extraordinary heroism in action near Beurevoir, France, October 6, 1918. Sergt. Hilliard volunteered and crossed an open space swept by fire from enemy machine guns and snipers to rescue wounded comrades. Home address, R. A. Hilliard, father, route 4, Dover, Tenn.

Corpl. MERL DOTY, Company K, 117th Infantry, A. S. No. 2164815. For extraordinary heroism in action near Beurevoir, France, October 6, 1918. Corpl. Doty volunteered and crossed an open space swept by fire from enemy machine gun and snipers to rescue wounded comrades. Home address, M. D. Doty, father, route 1, Rockwell City, Iowa.

Pvt. PAUL L. HARTLEY, Company L, 118th Infantry, A. S. No. 1812251. For extraordinary heroism in action near Montbrehan, France, October 8, 1918. After practically all of the other members of his squad had become casualties, Pvt. Hartley maintained an effective fire with his automatic rifle from an advanced position and thereby protected his platoon. He was twice buried by exploding shells, but each time he dug himself out and resumed firing immediately. After his ammunition was exhausted he rushed forward with his empty gun and forced 20 of the enemy to surrender. Home address, George M. Hartley, father, Brownsville, S. C.

Pvt. HARVEY H. SHIVELY, 2d Battalion, Intelligence Section, 120th Infantry, A. S. No. 1820864. For repeated acts of extraordinary heroism in action near Bellcourt, France, September 29, 1918, and near Becquigny, France, October 9, 1918. Near Bellcourt Pvt. Shively, with an Australian soldier, captured 42 of the enemy, including two officers. On October 9, near Becquigny, he accompanied another soldier in penetrating the enemy's outpost line and capturing two enemy machine gunners, putting the gun out of action. Home address, Mrs. Martha Shively, mother, Spray, N. C.

Second Lieut. ALBERT E. BIRCH, (deceased), 342d Machine Gun Battalion. For extraordinary heroism in action near Bois de Bantheville, France, November 1, 1918. Although suffering from a wound received during the action of November 1, Lieut. Birch refused to go to the rear for treatment, but continued on duty with his platoon throughout a very critical period. He remained on duty until the morning of November 17, when he was killed. Next of kin, Charles E. Birch, father, Haskell Institute, Lawrence, Kans.

First Lieut. ARTHUR S. CHAMPENY, 356th Infantry. For extraordinary heroism in action near St. Mihiel, France, September 12, 1918. Assisting the battalion commander, who had been severely wounded in the early fighting, Lieut. Champeny maintained the liaison personnel, making many journeys himself through heavy shelling. When the battalion commander had been evacuated he assumed command and moved the battalion to its new position. Home address, Mrs. C. Champeny, Oxford, Kans.

Maj. GEO. W. BLACKINGTON, 353d Infantry. For extraordinary heroism in action near Xammes, France, September 12-13, 1918. Having moved his battalion to an advanced position, in accordance with orders, Maj. Blackington found himself without support on either flank and no supporting-machine guns or artillery two kilometers in advance of our main front line. In spite of his perilous situation this officer, with the utmost coolness and good judgment, set to work in trenching and consolidating the position determined to hold it at all costs, though his battalion was subjected to artillery and machine-gun fire and was threatened by counter attack by the enemy in force. Home address, Mrs. W. J. Blackington, mother, 205 Wright Street, Flint, Mich.

Pvt. JAMES T. O'NEILL, 110 Ambulance Company, A. S. No. 1261316. For extraordinary heroism in action at Fismes, France, August 10, 1918. Under heavy shell and machine-gun fire Pvt. O'Neill voluntarily made five trips to ascertain the condition of a bridge over the Vesle River to make sure that it was safe for the passages of ambulances. Later, when the bridge became impassable for vehicles this soldier crossed the bridge on foot and brought back food and medical supplies. Home address, Mrs. Rosa O'Neill, mother, Alden, Pa.
